INDIAN VALLEY MAKES SHOWING

Distinction Comes as Result of the Adams County Exhibit.

Indian valley, beautifully located in the southern portion of Adams county, Idaho, is the latest district in this state to spring suddenly into statewide prominence, through its winning for Adams county at the Inter-Mountain fair just closed the second best prize offered in the agricultural department by the fair association. This prize carried with it $125 and is second in the county sweepstakes class. There was very keen competition in the big county sweepstakes contest, the four leading counties in this contest being Lincoln, Canyon, Washington and Adams. Lincoln won first prize, Adams county second prize, Canyon county third prize.

150 Varieties of Agricultural.

The Indian valley agricultural exhibit, which comprised practically the whole of the agricultural display from Adams county, contained 150 varieties of agricultural products and they scored 750 points in the county sweepstakes contest. This is a remarkable showing, from the fact that this is the first time Indian valley has ever made any effort to display its magnificent products at the Inter-Mountain fair.

The agricultural display made by Indian valley was mostly made up of dry farm products. This entire Indian valley exhibit is being shipped to the international dry farm congress, to be held at Lethbridge, Canada, next month, where thousands of farmers will have the opportunity of gaining a knowledge of the wonderful Indian valley district.

The Indian valley products were gathered for the Indian valley fair, held two weeks ago, and from there were shipped directly to the Inter-Mountain fair, held last week. The fact of these products having been gathered without any special exhibition effort, makes it all the more remarkable for the wonderful showing made at the Inter-Mountain fair, since these products are practically all field run.

Five-Year-Old Exhibitor.

A thing that attracted much notice in the Indian valley exhibit was a sack of beans grown by the youngest exhibitor at the Inter-Mountain fair, little Mrs. Veda Hutchinson, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hutchinson. These beans, which won a prize, and were prominently displayed with a picture of the charming little lady, in the Indian valley section of the Adams county exhibit.

Others of Indian valley who had especially fine dry farm products in the fair exhibit were: Messrs. Motley, Frazier, Ricksecker, Smith, Hancock, Preston, Babbit, Dunham, Coultis, Clair, Johnson, Woods, Stewart, Linder and others.

The noteworthy products in the Indian valley exhibit, were the extra fine quality of potatoes, onions, field corn and fine root crops such as beets, carrots, etc.

The dry farm fruits from the ranch of Mr. Motley attracted much attention. Thousands of visitors from the east, who attended the Boise fair, were astonished at the wonderful showing of products grown without irrigation in the Indian valley section of the Adams county exhibit. It kept E. W. Bowman of Council, who had charge of the Adams county exhibit, constantly busy answering questions and giving information concerning that wonderful district comprising 35,000 acres of rich grain and dry farming land directly tributary to Indian valley.

Visitors Impressed.

The Turkey Red wheat, Forty-fold and other varieties of wheat, as well as the barley, oats, beans and numerous varieties of corn, all in the Indian valley section of the Adams county exhibit, made an impression on the visitors at the fair, that will no doubt attract many farmers and settlers to that district. Mr. Bowman gave away hundreds of samples of these products to people who are traveling and who are in the west seeking locations, and are making a study of the various districts.

There were approximately 150 varieties of agricultural products in the Indian valley agricultural exhibit, and included everything from Black Prince grapes grown by Mr. Motley to mammoth squashes and mangel wurtzels grown by G. E. Stewart on his magnificent stock farm in Indian valley.

There were not many individual entries made in the agricultural products, it being impossible for Mr. Bowman to do so because of the large amount of products shown, and the great diversity of varieties in the Adams county display, he not having time to make out his entries and get them transcribed in time for the judges of awards. However, the dry farm sweepstakes, which were the important events, were properly cared for, thus bringing to Indian valley both fame and honor.

Beautiful Meadows valley in Adams county did not send down any of its splendid products such as timothy, grain, etc.

Splendid Fruit Exhibit.

The fruit display in the Adams county exhibit showed the same remarkable purity of type and wonderful color, for which the Adams county country is noted, and has been made famous by the fruit from Council valley, Hornet Creek, Fruitvale, Cottonwood, Middle Fork, and which fame has been further strengthened and enlarged by the increased showing of fruits from Indian valley and Wild Horse. The Indian valley district had fully half of the fruit shown in the splendid Adams county exhibit, and was given a special section in the Adams county display.

There were 75 varieties of fruit shown in the Indian valley exhibit, and consisted of grapes, pears, peaches, apples, plums, prunes, etc.

The largest display of fruit by any individual grower in Indian valley was made by O. L. Byers, which included box exhibits of Rome Beauties, Jonathans, White Winter Pearmain, Winter Bananas, Baldwins, Ben Davis, as well as numerous plate varieties. Mr. Byers has a fine 20-acre young orchard, one-fourth mile from the thriving town of Indian Valley, which is located in the heart of this beautiful district, and only 12 miles from the county seat.

Indian Valley Oranards Fine.

There were plates of luscious apples, juicy pears, elegant peaches, as well as plums and prunes from the orchards in Indian valley of Mrs. A. Lindsay, Mrs. C. Bailey, Cy Dunham, Robert Dunham, Mrs. Ann Hutchinson, Thomas Hutchinson, Fred Anderson, George Ware, J. D. Brown, Mrs. Durran, Robert Coultis, Ellis B. Snow, J. E. Stewart, W. R. Rhodes, Arthur Francis, Messrs. Frazier, Lemon and others.

It is proposed to make the Adams county fair a permanent institution, and to make the permanent location at Indian Valley. This fair is to be incorporated immediately.

71 Awards on Fruit.

Adams county won 71 premiums out of a possible 92 entries. This is a great showing, and speaks volumes for Adams county being a first class fruit district.

JOCKEY IS FINED FOR PULLING AND HORSE SUSPENDED

Good Sized Crowd Sees the Day's Races—The Track Rules Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

With one jockey fined $25 for pulling a horse and his pony suspended from the track for two days, the Boise Driving association yesterday took the first steps to quell any attempt at illegal work on the course. The officers and judges in charge declare that they propose to enforce the track rules as stringently as they were enforced during fair week and that any effort to "fix" a race will be met with harsh measures from those in authority.

Quite a large crowd saw five good races yesterday afternoon. Several of the horses that made good time during the fair again entered the track and sped around it at a lively gait to the wire in front of the grand stand. Another good program is planned for tomorrow.

Jace Wilson pulled down first money in the first race yesterday in a three-furlong event for a $75 purse. La Taranta was the winner of the second event, five furlongs, while Chenowee and Mona Lake pointed in close behind. Beau Man, the favorite before, crossed under the wire ahead of Alconin and Saddle L in a 1:09 time for five furlongs. Laura Clay and Mike Donlon each took a race yesterday before a large crowd of fans.

The following is the result of yesterday's races:

DESPONDENT WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE BY TAKING POISON

Despondent because of illness, Mrs. Carrie Duane ended her life last night at 9 o'clock at her home, 430 Main street, by drinking nearly all the contents of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, which had been in the house for some time and was purchased for medical purposes. Immediately after taking the poison, the frantic woman opened the door of the apartment adjoining and told her neighbor, Mrs. Nelson, that she had taken poison and then swooned. Dr. Holverson, who had been treating the woman, was summoned and although he arrived within 10 minutes after receiving the call, Mrs. Duane breathed her last just as he reached her.

The woman was the wife of Daniel Duane, a barber. They were married last December and had lived in this city since that time. While the husband realized that his wife was in poor health and was not mentally as sound as usual, he had no thought of her ending her life, and the blow came as a great shock to him last night. Mrs. Duane is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neilson of Salt Lake, and a nine-year-old daughter by a former husband, who is living with her grandparents at Salt Lake.

BREVITIES.

Frank Langer and family, who live on the bench, will leave Monday for Eldret, Ill., where they will visit relatives for several weeks.

The county recorder yesterday issued a marriage license to Samuel Henry Richardson and Lella Lee, both of Boise. As the girl is but 16 years of age, the consent of her mother, Mrs. L. Rosenberg, was filed at the time of the application for the license.

The Ada county Sunday school convention will hold its regular meeting at Ustick, Nov. 14 and 15. All of the schools of the county are expected to send at least two delegates and are given the right to send another one for every 50 names on their membership list. Robert Adams is president of the organization and he, with others, is preparing an interesting program for the two-day session.

question that the standard by which we will value the large properties of this state are valued, to-wit: the full cash value.

"We do not believe that any property should be unfairly valued, but we do know that the great properties of this state which our state board of equalization has been valuing for the past two years are not bearing their fair share of the burden of taxation, but that an undue proportion of such burden has been shifted to the small property owner, and we propose that these great properties shall be assessed at such sum as will equal their full cash value and such as will force them to bear their proportion of the cost of government."

SHRANK INSANE

of the usual surface indications of insanity.

Mr. Zabel said he believed Schrank had no accomplice or advisers in the crime and that the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt was the outgrowth of individual plans.

When the case is called it will be heard by Judge August B. Backus of the municipal court, unless Schrank should ask for a change of venue. The public prosecutor said that after election he would consult with Judge Backus and that these two would call the case to trial formally at their discretion.

The plea of guilty filed by Schrank at his preliminary hearing before Judge N. B. Neelen in the district court looked upon as merely perfunctory.

"I shall permit Schrank to withdraw that plea of guilty when he goes to trial if he so desires," said Mr. Zabel. "In other words, this case will be tried in exactly the same manner as any other case of similar gravity. But there will be no persecution of the defendant. He will be tried fairly and can expect the punishment merited by the crime."

Schrank spent a quiet afternoon and evening in his cell at the county jail, where he had been taken after his arraignment this morning. At the prisoner's request, Sheriff William A. Arnold of Milwaukee county refused to let anyone in to the cellhouse to see Schrank.

In response to repeated questions from State's Attorney Zabel and Sheriff Arnold, Schrank said that at no time had he been a Socialist or a follower of Socialist theories.

The prisoner said, according to the sheriff and state's attorney, that he had voted the Democratic and Republican tickets at various times.

"Never have I been a particular friend of any one political party," said Schrank. "I have switched from one to the other as my inclination led me. Always I have been an independent in politics. No, sir, I don't belong to any particular party. I'm independent; that's all I am."

Last night State's Attorney Zabel made a statement in which he said there existed no grounds for reports that Schrank was or had been a Socialist, or a reader of Socialist literature.

"The man is uninformed on Socialism, as I have ascertained in my examinations of him," said the public prosecutor. "I am afraid that because this shooting happened in Milwaukee, many persons will jump to the conclusion that it was the outgrowth or indirect result of the Socialistic propaganda. Nothing would be further from the truth. This man knew no one in Milwaukee, and as far as we can ascertain, is unfamiliar with any of the active or leading Socialists in New York. This unfortunate crime justly cannot be laid at the doors of the Socialists, or of any one political party."

Robert Haukohl, secretary of the Milwaukee police department, last night sent copies of Schrank's Bertillon measurements and the prisoner's finger prints to the police bureau of identification at Chicago, San Francisco and Washington, in an effort to open up a possible new channel of information regarding the man.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT'S APPEAL TO MEN AND WOMEN OF IDAHO.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12, 1912.

"J. H. Gipson, Chairman, and Paul Davis, Secretary of the Progressive State Central Committee:

"Through you I desire to appeal to the men and women of Idaho not to permit themselves to be disfranchised as the court has sought to disfranchise them. It is impossible to protest too strongly against what is literally the infamy of this decision.

"Every upholder of law and order and every sincere well wisher of the cause should take the lead in condemning such utterly reactionary conduct by a reactionary court.

"Absolutely without warrant of law and in the interest only of the great apostles of special privileges in politics and industry, the reactionaries wish to disfranchise the people whom they recognize in the Progressive party as the only party which really and in good faith stands for the people.

"It is an attempt to beat the cause by trickery and chicanery because those who inspired the attempt know that they have no chance of success in a fair and open fight before the people themselves.

"This action by the court has shifted the issue in Idaho to a square issue as to whether or not the people are to be allowed to express their deliberate judgment. It is an attempt to stifle such expression of deliberate judgment by the people.

"It was an infamous thing for the Republican state central committee to bring such an action and the decision by the reactionary, partisan court before which it was brought was against the law, against equity, against justice and against the whole course of decisions in all our American courts.

"I have a right to ask now that not only every progressive but every honest man and every honest woman in the state stand with us. The Republican state central committee and the reactionary court are counting upon the hope that individually men and women will not take the trouble to write in the names of the Progressive candidates on the ballot.

"I appeal to the men and women of Idaho to disappoint this hope and frustrate the outrageous conduct of the reactionaries.
