

TURKS PLACED IN POSITION OF PERIL

Turkish Minister of War Risks All in One Attack

CAPITAL PLACED AT MERCY OF INVADERS

Hurls Himself With Four Army Corps Against the Victorious Bulgarians and Declares That He Will Repel Invaders or Perish.

London, Oct. 29.—Exclaiming that he would stem the onrush of the victorious Bulgarian army or perish in the fight, Nazim Pasha, Turkish minister of war, has hurled himself and four army corps across the path of King Ferdinand's exultant troops. His is a perilous position. Although still holding the line from Teherli to Lule Burgas, the Bulgarian invaders on the right at Eskil-Baba, have cut him off from his main army at Adrianople. The destruction of the bridge over the Teherli river prevents him from obtaining supplies and reinforcements from Constantinople.

Whereabouts of Army Unknown.

London, Oct. 29.—An interesting question at the present moment is the whereabouts of the Turkish army of which nothing definite is known. The news that Eski Baba has been taken by the Bulgarian cavalry, apparently without resistance, shows that Nazim Pasha's army is not where it was supposed to have been—on the line between Kilieli Burgas and Lule Burgas. It may be further west, in the direction of Demotica, but it is generally supposed it has retired from the line of the railway and entrenched itself in the long line from Demotica to Teherli.

Constantinople dispatches continue to speak of the readiness of the Turkish army to take the offensive. In any case, a few days must see something decisive. The victorious Bulgarian army is advancing. It has occupied Bunarhisar and is marching toward Kuleli Burgas. It is reported that the Bulgarians have blown up a bridge over the Teherli river, showing that the turning movement is making rapid progress.

Unless the Turks are able to take the offensive vigorously the present indication is that they will be driven out of Europe altogether, unless there is interference by the powers at the present stage to end the war, as happened in the Russian campaign against Turkey in 1828 and 1878, when Russia had captured Adrianople and was at the gates of Constantinople.

Talk of Intervention.

There have been renewed activities with regard to European intervention in the last few days, and great diplomatic activity in London. The Turkish ambassador had a two hours' conference Sunday at the French embassy and a conference was held today at the British foreign office between Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary; Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and Lieutenant Colonel J. E. B. Seely, minister of war. Then the Turkish, French, Russian and Italian ambassadors visited the foreign secretary, who afterward had an audience with the king at Buckingham palace.

GOVERNOR SILENT ON SENATORSHIP

Returns to Boise for Day but Refuses to Throw Any Light.

Governor James H. Hawley arrived in Boise this morning from the southern part of the state, where he has been conducting a vigorous campaign in the interest of his re-election. The governor was silent as a sphinx on the recess senatorial appointment. He had nothing to say except to repeat what he has said heretofore—that he will probably select a northern Idaho man for the position, but has not decided as to who the successful appointee will be. The governor was busy making preparations to leave this afternoon, and aside from attending to a few matters of official importance that have been awaiting his attention, as well as conferring with Democratic state headquarters, had little time to himself.

It was humorously reported around prior to the departure of the governor and a flock of Democratic candidates for Star this afternoon that in view of the royal reception given the stand-pat and reactionary Republican speakers at the rally there last night, it might be necessary to take a special bodyguard with him. However, the general feeling seemed to prevail that down at Star and surrounding that village the inhabitants are not as lawless as the Statesman would attempt to make them out to be, and although they do admit the charge of giving Colonel Roosevelt applause whenever they hear his name mentioned, and especially when he is attacked by stand-patters and reactionaries, it would be perfectly safe for the governor to go into that community with neither special bodyguards nor officers. The governor was safely escorted to and placed on the car and a delegation of Star citizens on the same car greeted him warmly. He delivered his speech immediately after his arrival there.

PRESIDENT ANXIOUS TO CARRY OWN STATE

Washington, Oct. 29.—"No man would care to have his state fall him, but wholly apart from selfish reasons, I want to see Ohio go Republican by a large majority," said President Taft in a letter to Fred A. Geier of Cincinnati, made public today at the White House. The president attacked Governor Wilson and the Democratic party on the tariff question and said Ohio would suffer particularly if the tariff protecting steel, wool and the pottery business was disturbed.

WILL TRY SOLDIERS IN MILITARY COURTS

Washington, Oct. 29.—Newton W. Gilbert, acting governor general of the Philippines, has ordered the municipal and police authorities of the islands to turn over to the military at once soldiers arrested on any charge. There have been many enlisted men, in the opinion of the authorities, who have been unduly punished under penalties of the civil courts.

Defense Continues Case.

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 29.—The defense counsel in the trial of timber workers of the brotherhood charged with murder in connection with the Grabow riot, resumed his efforts today to break down the state's contention that union men conspired to bring about the battle.

FOUND GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR IN ROOMING HOUSE

Rhoda Dutton was found guilty in municipal court this afternoon of illegally selling liquor at her rooming house, 1516 1/2 Main street and was fined $50 and costs, which she paid. The woman entered a plea of not guilty and taking the stand in her own behalf emphatically denied that she sold any beer or took any money for it, but declared that a job had been put up on her and while she admitted that she had treated the two men employed by the city as detectives, she had not sold them beer or taken any money from them. Upon being fined she waxed warm and hurled a few epithets at the special detectives, but was silenced in short order by the court. The city employed two special detectives for the job of finding out whether or not beer was being sold in the rooming house. One of the men was a Greek and consequently no suspicion was attached to his visit and asking for beer, which he testified he bought and which testimony was corroborated by a man named Wilson, who accompanied him.

POSITION OF MISS SHEPHERD ON INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL PROBE MADE CLEAR

So plain an effort has been made in certain quarters to make Miss Grace M. Shepherd, state superintendent of public instruction, the political scapegoat for the industrial school scandal at St. Anthony, that many of her friends are insisting that a statement of the facts be made. The Capital News is authorized to make the following statement of those facts which are stated as briefly as possible: The trustees of the institution are O. O. Haga of Boise, George E. Hill of Rigby, now secretary of the Democratic state central committee; Mrs. Pugmire of St. Anthony, and Mrs. Worthman of Emmett, now a candidate for presidential elector on the Republican ticket. Governor Hawley and Miss Shepherd are ex-officio members of the board, but neither has ever participated in the active control of the institution, considering that this was the duty and privilege of the board appointed by the governor.

When the trouble at St. Anthony arose through the complaints of the young Greer boy, Miss Shepherd was sick in Chicago, to which city she had gone shortly before to attend the meeting of the National Educational association. Contrary to the advice of her physician, Miss Shepherd, upon receipt of telegraphic information of the nature of the charges and that an investigation had been ordered, arose from her sick bed and immediately came to Idaho. She accompanied Governor Hawley and Attorney General McDougall to St. Anthony, where they joined Mr. Hill and Mrs. Pugmire. Mr. Haga was out of the state, having gone to the coast for his summer vacation, and Mrs. Worthman was sick at her home near Emmett.

Evidence was taken for several days when the governor and attorney general announced that they must leave. By arrangement made by Governor Hawley, Mr. Hill was appointed to referee to hear further testimony and a stenographer was engaged to take it down with instructions to write it out and serve a typewritten copy upon each member of the board.

Called Back to Boise.

Miss Shepherd remained at the hearing for about 10 days when she was called back to Boise by her deputies upon imperative duties connected with her office. She remained, however, until Mrs. Worthman had announced that she could be present.

The typewritten evidence consists of five volumes of a total of 2694 pages. Two of these volumes were served on Miss Shepherd, comprising that portion of the evidence she had heard while present personally at the hearing. This arrived just before the state fair. Miss Shepherd, nearly a year ago, had arranged to have the boys and girls who had won first prizes in the Potato club contests in each of the counties, to attend the state fair. She had made arrangements for a chaperone for these children, who were to be cared for on the fair grounds, but at the last moment she was notified that this chaperone could not serve. Miss Shepherd's chief assistant, Miss McCoy, was sick in the hospital and Miss Shepherd could not and would not leave these children unprotected in a proper manner, so she had personally to take charge of them. This, together with the office duties which could not be neglected took her time, day and night, during the fair.

The next week, Governor Hawley and Mr. Hill, secretary of the Democratic state central committee, set the final hearing of the industrial school case for Oct. 14, over the protest of Miss Shepherd, who explained that all the evidence had not been submitted and who furthermore protested because Oct. 14 was the date that had been set last July in Chicago, long before this matter came up, for the meeting here of the National State Superintendent's association. Miss Shepherd explained that she had invited these state superintendents to meet in Boise and that it was considered a great honor, sharply contested for at the National Educational association, to secure this meeting, and she felt that she could not be so discourteous to these men of national reputation who had accepted the hospitality of Boise, as not to meet with them. She asked that a later date be fixed. She was asked if she could not attend a night meeting, but she explained that the superintendents could hold one night session and the other had been left open for entertainment of the state superintendents by the people of Boise through the Commercial club.

Governor's Political Itinerary.

During this conversation Governor Hawley and Secretary Hill, a member of the industrial school board, continued making up the governor's political itinerary and Miss Shepherd was informed that Oct. 14 was the only date the governor would have open and accordingly these two fixed that date for the hearing.

This meeting was called for 10 o'clock on that morning. It was not until 9 o'clock of the same morning that Miss Shepherd was served with a copy of the balance of the evidence. This consisted of three volumes, containing 1557 typewritten pages of manuscript. Mrs. Worthman was served with a copy at the same time. It would be a physical impossibility to read this evidence, much less to consider it, in an hour's time. In fact, it is doubtful if one could even so much as read it within a week's time, doing nothing else. Miss Shepherd, on account of the meeting of the state superintendents of the country, could not be present more than a little of the time when the board met, but she sent her assistant, Miss McCoy. However, before final action was taken, Miss Shepherd was present. Four of the members of the board, Mr. Haga, Mr.

Hill, Mrs. Pugmire and Governor Hawley, announced that they were ready to proceed to determine the matter. Miss Shepherd and Mrs. Worthman asked to be excused from voting at that time on the ground that they had not been given time to consider the evidence taken and transcribed. They, however, indicated their willingness to have the majority of the board proceed to a determination of the case, which the majority refused to do, without a dissenting voice. Mrs. Pugmire finally moved to postpone determination of the case to about Nov. 18 on the ground that it would be unfair to expect Mrs. Worthman and Miss Shepherd to pass upon the case without having been given opportunity to read and consider the evidence. This motion met the express approval of all members of the board, although when the vote was taken on Mrs. Pugmire's motion, Governor Hawley voted "No," stating that he was ready to act at that time.

Miss Shepherd has sought at no time to delay a determination of the case and has done all in her power to bring out the facts and to leave nothing concealed, and had a time, a very few days later than Oct. 14, when she felt under obligation to receive and entertain the state superintendents of the country, been fixed, she would have been prepared to vote upon the question and had Governor Hawley been able to have so arranged his political campaign schedule to enable him to take the matter up at any later date than Oct. 14, Miss Shepherd and all other members of the board would have been prepared to vote.

The bill of the stenographer for transcribing the evidence was $8193.60. Witness fees and expenses have been added to this, bringing the total cost of the examination and investigation to date to about $8900.

TAFT COMMUTES THE SENTENCE OF NEW YORK BANKER

Washington, Oct. 29.—President Taft today commuted to expire Dec. 23, the five-year sentence of J. Otis Wilson, who pleaded guilty June 14, to making false entry in the books of the People's National bank of Salem, N. Y., where he was cashier. Wilson went to the penitentiary for an act to oblige a woman friend of his wife, committed with no intention to defraud. This fact led President Taft to order his release in time to be home for Christmas, although he will have served only a little more than six months of his sentence.

Mrs. Wilson's friend was a business woman of Salem who had overdrawn her account. To give her opportunity to replenish her deposit and prevent the officials of the bank from knowing of the overdraft, Cashier Wilson made a false entry on the books.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—Paying no attention to the report of a revolver which came from a room he had just left after a quarrel with his wife, W. P. The police found Mrs. McComas dead behind a door in the apartment with a bullet wound in her temple. Her condition is critical and surgeons expressed doubt that the wound could be self-inflicted and an investigation was begun.
