MARTIN WRITES LETTER TO BOISE TRADES COUNCIL

Indicates His Attitude Toward Proposed Legislation in Which Laboring Men Are Interested.

G. H. Martin, Progressive candidate for governor, in a strong letter to the officers of Boise Trades and Labor Council, indicates in no uncertain or unmistakable terms his attitude toward one or two questions in which that council has interested itself, and in addition, asks the council to become interested in two or three other reform measures which the Progressives are advocating. Mr. Martin's letter is as follows:

Boise, Ida., Oct. 21, 1912. E. M. Huxtable, President, E. O. Atwood, Secretary-Treasurer, Box 10, Station A, Boise, Idaho. Gentlemen: I have your favor of Oct. 19, 1912, in relation to the proposed act, entitled "An act to provide safety for laborers and the traveling public," and containing sections one to six inclusive, and a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Boise Trades and Labor Council. I have read the proposed act and resolution, and have given same as careful consideration as my limited time will permit.

I have always been a protectionist because protection was originally designed to benefit the men and women of the United States who are dependent upon their labor for their maintenance and support and the maintenance and education of their children. It has been a matter of great regret to me, however, that the protective principle has been applied in practice only to the products which are sold by the employer and has never been applied to those classes from foreign lands who are used to an approximately high standard of living. I believe in the fundamental doctrine of the Progressive national platform, that is, the conservation of humanity, and I believe in throwing about the working men and the working women of this nation and of this state by proper legislation and proper administration, those conditions which will best promote their welfare. The act referred to herein and a copy of which you have enclosed me, in my judgment, is legislation of this kind. Not only will I approve such an act if passed by our legislature, if I am elected governor, but I will, in my message to the legislature urge its enactment, and I will urge any other legislation which will to any degree promote the general welfare of the men and women of this state engaged in industrial pursuits.

I wish to direct your attention to another measure which should have the support of your organization, and that is legislation compelling employers of labor to safeguard dangerous places and dangerous machinery so that industrial accidents will be reduced to a minimum.

The Progressive party of Idaho declares for this reform. It is a disgrace to our state that we have not such legislation. The Progressives purpose that such legislation shall be enacted and made effective. May I be pardoned if I direct your attention to another matter? Our constitution and laws now provide that the commissioner of immigration and labor shall investigate the conditions surrounding the laboring men and laboring women of this state and make report thereof and provide for publication of such report. This has never been done in this state, but I propose, if elected governor, that it shall be done under my administration. I assure you that if I am the next governor of this state, every effort of mine, officially, shall be directed toward creating those conditions in this state which will promote the general welfare of all of its people.

Respectfully submitted, G. H. MARTIN.

Most Dangerous of Minor Ailments.

Of the minor ailments a cold is by far the most dangerous, not in itself but the serious diseases it so often leads to. Pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold. When you have a cold you are much more likely to contract the infectious diseases such as diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. Colds are easily cured, in fact, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of this most common ailment, and is pleasant and safe to take. Why take such desperate chances when so reliable and trustworthy a medicine may be obtained for a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

BORAH RALLY HELD AT KUNA STATION

John F. MacLane Pays Eloquent Tribute to Idaho Senator.

The opening Borah rally under the auspices of the Ada County Borah club was held last night at Kuna when John F. MacLane delivered the principal address, paying tribute to Idaho's brilliant senator for his work in the United States senate and urging voters to show their indorsement by voting for the Republican legislative ticket which is pledged to the re-election of Senator Borah. D. R. Hubbard, the "Sage of Kuna" also spoke briefly in support of Senator Borah. He was followed by several of the candidates.

The meeting was well attended and the closest attention given the speakers. Judge MacLane, accompanied by State Chairman S. E. Blaine, C. F. Koelsch and H. A. Lawson, drove to Kuna in an auto, leaving here at 6:30 o'clock and arriving at Kuna at 8:30; the muddy roads delaying the trip. T. H. McDermott and S. D. Fairchild were among the other candidates present.

Shows Senator's Record. Judge MacLane launched into his eulogy of Senator Borah immediately after the rally was opened. He was introduced by D. R. Hubbard, who acted as chairman. The speaker referred to the successful fight made by Senator Borah in the passage of the constitutional amendment resolution providing for the direct election of United States senators, ratification of which will be made by the states in the Union. Judge MacLane declared that Senator Borah secured the passage of this resolution only after hard and persistent work and by his dauntless courage.

The three-year homestead law, a measure of more than vital importance to settlers in the west, especially upon arid lands, drawn, backed and after a hard fight passed through the efforts of Senator Borah, was also spoken of by Judge MacLane who showed the great benefits settlers derive through its becoming a law. He also called his audience's attention to the patent measure by which farmers can secure loans on their lands with which to make necessary improvements by receiving title, a bill that was the result of Senator Borah's efforts.

Other Measures Championed. The child labor law and many other measures of equal importance which were championed by Senator Borah were discussed by the speaker, who referred to the senator's record in the United States senate as one that had not only made him a state but a national character, and pointed out that his possible defeat at the hands of the next legislature would be a great misfortune. Instructions on how to vote for Senator Borah by voting for the Republican candidates for the legislature who are pledged to vote for him, were given after which Judge MacLane paid a fine tribute to the record of Senator Borah.

The $20,000,000 reclamation appropriation which had the backing and support of Senator Borah, resulting in giving to Idaho approximately $5,000,000 of that fund was called to the attention of the audience by D. R. Hubbard, who declared that this state had reason to feel indebted to Senator Borah for that appropriation alone, if for nothing else, and this he said, is realized by the farmers on the land which will be irrigated as the result of his efforts.

Wisconsin Suffrage Campaign.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—One week from today the voters of Wisconsin will declare themselves for or against the proposed amendment to the state constitution granting the right of suffrage to women. The campaign is being conducted with great vigor and the result is awaited with keen interest. The supporters of the proposed amendment have brought into the state many prominent speakers from other sections and have carried the battle into every county. Scarcely less active is the campaign of the anti-suffragists to defeat the amendment.

COLUMBIA BAND MUSIC Every Tuesday and Friday Evening. WHITE CITY BINK

CONSTRUCTION ON PROJECT IS BEGUN

Forty Thousand Acres of Land Near Vale to Be Reclaimed.

(Capital News Special Service) Vale, Ore., Oct. 29.—Construction work started today on the Lamberson reservoir of the Bully Creek irrigation project which is to reclaim 40,000 acres of land surrounding Vale. The construction forces of the Maney Bros. company are camped 200 yards below the reservoir site, 30 miles west of this city and within half a mile of the little interior town of Westfall. The outfit arrived in Vale Tuesday from Salt Lake City and 45 more laborers were secured in this city yesterday. There are already 75 laborers, 50 teams and some grading machinery on the job.

The supplies needed, such as cement and sand in building the enormous earthen dam which is to store 75,000-acre feet of water, will be forwarded from the local yards over the new trans-Oregon line, the Oregon Eastern railroad as far as Little valley, 21 miles west of this city, thus cutting down the long heavy freighting to about 15 miles. Had not the tracklaying been stopped a week ago the railroad would have been five miles nearer the Lamberson reservoir site by this time, but it is now expected that it will be resumed within 30 days so that supplies can be hauled as far as the big tunnel at mile post 33.

E. J. Wells of Boise is in charge of the Maney Bros. outfit here, and Surveyor J. Edwin Johnson of this city has charge of the survey work for the Vale-Oregon Irrigation company, which is promoting the project. It is the intention to build the dam 65 feet high this fall, at least before the bad winter settles in. Early next summer the dam will be constructed higher and the capacity of the reservoir doubled.

The Lamberson reservoir dam will be 300 feet long at the bottom and 500 feet at the top. The reason for rushing work at this late season of the year is for the purpose of saving between 15,000 and 20,000-acre feet of water for the irrigation next summer of about 10,000 acres of land already contracted for.

Real Estate Active. Although construction work only started today on the Bully Creek irrigation project which is to reclaim 40,000 acres tributary to Vale, an impetus has already been received here in the real estate line. Much land has changed hands in the past few days and more big deals are soon to be closed.

O. W. Porter of Welsler, who owns much business property here, has sold a business lot on Main street to John Rigby one of the promoters of the Vale irrigation project. Mr. Rigby has also purchased the newspaper plant of the Malheur Enterprise published in this city.

The Murray ranch of 160 acres, one and one-half miles south of town, was sold a few days ago to C. T. Herrett of Everett, Wash.; S. J. Hull has sold his residence and lot to James Harvey.

W. P. Davidson, who is associated with Louis W. Hill in the road land grant, reported on Saturday while here from St. Paul, Minn., the sale of 30 acres near this city to E. F. Ferris of Portland; 40 acres near Vale to B. F. Nordstrom of St. Paul and 3000 acres near Burns to B. L. Allen of Laurens, Iowa, and F. S. Weittenheller of Spokane, Wash.

The Very Reason. "So she's going to marry that old millionaire. Why, he has one foot in the grave. What is her reason?" "That foot."

National Reform Convention. Boston, Oct. 29.—The National Reform association, the membership of which includes many active workers in the suppression of vice and the improvement of public morals, held its annual convention in Boston today. Delegates from nearly all sections of the country were in attendance. Anthony Comstock of New York spoke on "The Children of the Nation versus the Moral 'Cancer-Planters' of Our Day," and Rev. G. M. Elliott of St. Augustine, Fla., discussed "The Responsibility of the Nation for the Profanation of the Sabbath by the United States Mail Service and Interstate Commerce."

ANNUAL BANQUET AND WORKERS' CONFERENCE

The annual banquet and Workers' conference of the Bible school connected with the First Presbyterian church was held last evening. Promptly at 7 o'clock the officers, teachers, pastor and wife, Rev. W. M. Case and Rev. George A. Wilber of Caldwell, Bible school choir and orchestra, to the number of 65, sat down to a splendid dinner served by a special committee of ladies from the school.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Charles L. Chalfant. Rev. W. M. Case made an excellent address upon the problems of the organized church school and the new graded system. The new ideas of modern trained workers were explained in detail. The speaker very highly complimented this school upon its thorough and systematic organization and the effective work it is doing.

An open parliament followed and many questions were asked and discussed. An adjournment was taken to the lecture room, where the program was continued. After a solo by Mrs. T. W. Zimmerman, an address was given by Rev. George A. Wilber. Mr. Wilber spoke of his work as missionary organizer of Sunday schools in the rural districts. He brought to mind many points of interest and contact in the work of these pioneer organizations compared with the more matured work of the present and made some very helpful suggestions upon the duties of evangelism in the work of the teachers and the school.

A musical number was rendered by the school quartet which was followed by a short talk from the pastor.

The conference was closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and a closing prayer by Rev. Quackenbush, who came in near the close of the conference. The school is in a very prosperous condition this fall. The attendance on Oct. 20 was 307. On Oct. 27, in spite of heavy rainfall, 260 were present.
