

MESSAGE OF CHEER IS SENT TO SOUTHERN IDAHO FROM NORTH BY MARTIN

Promises That Progressive Ticket Will Come South Eight Thousand in Lead—Gipson's Forecast for Idaho

"Coeur d'Alene, Nov. 2, 1912. J. H. Gipson, Boise, Idaho.

"North Idaho sends south Idaho the assurance that the north will bring the entire Progressive ticket down to the Salmon with a plurality of 8000. Eighty per cent of our women in the north are for our ticket. Let all progressives and all who stand for clean, decent, economical government, for equal taxes, for the rights of all the people as against the rights of the privileged few, and who stand against discrimination by judicial construction, vote and work together next Tuesday for the re-election of Senator Borah and for our entire ticket.

"Let attempted assassination of precious character by the interests be rebuked; let all good citizens of Idaho pull together and we will change Idaho from the Pennsylvania of the west to the Wisconsin of the Rocky mountains. Let us redeem Idaho.

"G. H. MARTIN, Progressive Candidate for Governor." The above is the message of cheer and the appeal to the south of Mr. Martin, who practically closed his campaign in the north last night with a rally at Sandpoint, his home city.

His assurances from the north are verified by reports to State Chairman Gipson from county chairmen and county committeemen in all the northern counties. It is now certain that Martin will carry every northern Idaho county by pluralities ranging from 200 to 1500 and more.

State Chairman Gipson last night gave out his forecast of the results in the entire Progressive ticket, both state and national, in Idaho notwithstanding the names of the electors and of the congressmen, have to be written upon the ballots. Mr. Gipson said:

"It is my deliberate judgment, based upon a careful inquiry in practically every precinct of this state, that Martin and the entire Progressive state ticket will be elected, in addition to the electors pledged to Theodore Roosevelt and our candidate for congressman, the names of which must be written on the ballot.

"No one realizes better than I do the difficulties in the way of properly educating the voters to write these names on the ballot. Every precinct in the state has been flooded with instructions and sample ballots, and in addition we will have from two to five men at every voting place to instruct the voters as they come to the polls.

"My view of the situation is amply expressed in the wire sent National Chairman Dixon tonight, as follows: 'The temper of our people and their ready response to our campaign of education makes me confident that we will win in spite of the handicap we are placed under. Have distributed over fifty thousand sample instructions and good working organization in every county. Will not believe our plurality less than ten thousand votes until the last one has been counted. Win or lose I propose convention of state chairmen and national committeemen to lay plans for next two years' work to meet Nov. 15 at Chicago.'

"Without occupying space to analyze the vote county by county, we know that the greatest strength of Taft and Haines is in the southeast of Wilson and Hawley in the mountain counties of central Idaho, and Roosevelt and Martin in the southwest and north. The heavy voting agricultural counties of the south and the populous northern counties will roll up enormous pluralities for Roosevelt and Martin. Our electors will have a plurality of 10,000 and Martin will win in a canter by an enormous plurality when the size of the total vote is considered. I judge it at from 15,000 to 20,000 votes."

Votes for Roosevelt the Only Ones That Will Count, Says William Allen White

By William Allen White. Votes for Taft in this election will be the ballots of the samurai, who are nuttily and heroically committing harikari in futile tribute to "the grace of a day that is gone." These men dislike Taft; they have small use for his cause. Yet there is a touching

JUSTICE BOWER

For one of the justices of the peace in and for Boise precinct the Republican county committee nominated Justice Willis C. Bower.

Justice Bower was born in Dane county, Wisconsin, and received his education in one of the accredited high schools of his native state. Upon his graduation he located in South Dakota, taught school several years, studied law and was admitted to practice law in the courts of that state.

While pursuing his legal studies he was appointed clerk of the district court of Clay county, South Dakota, and subsequently was elected to the office of probate judge of the same county for two terms.

Desiring to locate farther west, Justice Bower went to the Black Hills, in the western part of South Dakota, and was elected principal of the public schools of Custer City, and afterwards served as county superintendent of public schools. At the close of his term as superintendent he was elected chief clerk of the house of representatives.

Justice Bower came to Idaho five years ago. By reason of the amputation of a limb he desired to secure a sedentary line of business, and accordingly, when Justice Brown resigned the office of justice, Justice Bower applied for and received the appointment occasioned by the said resignation.

Justice Bower has served as justice of the peace of Boise for the last three years, and it can be stated without fear of successful contradiction that he has given reasonable satisfaction to all persons competent to judge.

He devotes his entire time to the duties of his office, and can be found either at his office or residence at any hour of the day or night for the transaction of official business. This is a convenience and advantage which the general public fully appreciates.

paths in these struggles of the old guard dropping their ballots into the box in vain protest against the changing order. Many of the old guard more virile in their anger than others will vote for Wilson. He will get thousands of these spite votes. He is entitled to the votes of the old line states' rights Democrats, and Wilson will get them all. Then Wilson will get besides the spite votes of the angry Taft men, and the unthinking votes of the habitual Democrats, a number of votes from timid Progressives who, desiring to save their votes, expect to be on the winning side if they vote for Wilson. They are the band-wagon riders. A few will vote for Wilson, understanding what he is for; but most of the Wilson votes will not be for Wilson and his cause.

But the Roosevelt votes, be they few or many, will be cast for a definite purpose—for a distinct cause. The man who casts his votes for Colonel Roosevelt, will be casting it where it will count.

The Progressive vote will not be nondescript votes of dumb protest, or blind spite or votes of habit or votes of fear. Every Roosevelt vote will mean the determined purpose of the American people to do a specific thing. There is no mistaking what that thing is. It is a sincere attempt, guided by the best scientific knowledge of modern times—knowledge that satisfies an accurate mind like Edison's—to change the environment of the poor through their wages, their hours of labor, their shop conditions, and the conditions of competition among workers. More than that the Progressives have a definite purpose to change the conditions of life in America as it is related to wealth, so that the average man may have a larger share in the civilization which he creates. Conservation, control of the trusts, a scientific tariff board adjusting tariffs not as log-rollers but as economic experts, all these things will be folded up in the Progressives' ballot. It will mean something—something definite in the progress of humanity.

The Progressive ballot will count. It will not be merely one of many mixed ballots meaning spite and regularly and fear under the Democratic rooster. The Progressive ballot means human progress—and nothing else.

Moreover, no other ballot can mean that. Wilson has progressive predilections. He means to go forward. He would rather go forward than backward. But he will have to appeal to a party caucus in congress dominated by the solid south—which is reactionary by instinct, and Tammany, which is reactionary from self interest. Tammany and the solid south are shackles that bind Wilson to conservatism in spite of himself. He cannot go forward. He can only look forward with hope. He is tied to the post.

But the Progressives will move. They have no party traditions to bind them. With Roosevelt as president the Progressives will have a fighter who wins his battles. The long line of achievements of the Roosevelt administration is the guaranty bond back of the Progressive program. Roosevelt in the White House four years ago did what he did with congress against him. He dragged an unwilling party by the ears into achievement of the first order. Today Roosevelt in the White House can unite the progressives of both parties and win. For the progressives of both parties will unite under Roosevelt. Under Wilson, who must go no further than the Democratic caucus, there can be no union of progressives. Little can be done. Under Wilson the progressives in congress can go no farther than the Democratic organization, and that organization is still boss bound. Murphy, and Ryan and Taggart and the southern conservatives still control. The voter who wants to make his vote count not merely in winning election, but in helping men, will only throw it away if he puts it in the same lot with the spite votes from Taft, the organization votes from the Democrats and the timid votes from the band-wagoners.

The only vote that will count is a progressive vote—a vote for Roosevelt and the Progressives all up and down the line. It has been nearly 60 years since the country has seen such an orderly movement—a movement impelled by a great moral purpose. This movement cannot lose. It is here to stay. Until the Progressive platform is our national law, the Progressive party will be a dominant factor in American politics. It represents a great cause. It offers humanity on this continent its only political salvation. It promises to do for labor what the Republican party did for the slave, and like the Republican party it can only help labor by broadening the powers of government—by strengthening the union. States rights cannot solve the labor problem. It could not solve slavery. Wilson is as helpless as Buchanan, the Democrat who thought that slavery was a local problem. States rights cannot solve the problem of conservation, nor will a free trade policy help the national economic situation in America. A national tariff policy, a national trust policy, a national labor policy, a national conservation policy, all these are needed to remake our economic status and to give men more exact economic justice. A national party and not a group of state parties must solve our national problem.

To vote with Wilson, and have one's ballot confused with spite, fear and habit ballots will not count. It may elect Wilson—but what then? What will his election mean? It will mean partly state's rights; partly southern conservatism; partly Tammany domination; partly Republican spite and partly an academic yearning for progress. Why should not a man vote all for progress? Why should a man waste his vote? Why not cast it where it will count, not in one little election, but in the formation of a great party, that must be the redemption of a great nation?

Only the Progressive vote will count this year. No matter who gets the majority—only a Progressive majority will be really and unmistakably decisive.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE PRESENT WEEK Washington, Nov. 2.—What has been the most eventful political campaign the United States has seen in years will terminate Tuesday, when the vote of the people will decide whether the Republican administration of William H. Taft is to have a renewal of its lease of power, or whether the Democrats, under Woodrow Wilson, or the new third party, under Theodore Roosevelt, will assume the reins of office.

On the same day the representatives who will sit in the Sixty-third congress will be elected, also state legislatures that will have the selection of many United States senator. Twenty-nine states will elect governors, and the most of the others will choose minor state officers.

Wisconsin, Michigan, Kansas, Oregon and Arizona will vote on proposed constitutional amendments granting the right of suffrage to women. Numerous other states will vote on proposed amendments or laws of less general interest and importance. A proposal for state-wide prohibition is included in the 30 or more measures to be passed upon by the voters of Colorado. In Oklahoma the fight between Guthrie and Oklahoma City for the state capital will be determined by the voters.

Judge Staples of Roanoke, who is to complete the trial of the men connected with the shooting up of the Carroll county court house and the killing of six persons at Hillsville last March, will call the cases of Sidney Allen and Wesley Edwards, the two remaining outlaws, in Wytheville, Va., next Thursday. Wesley Edwards will be tried first. Then will come the hearing of the cases against Sidney Allen, who is regarded as the leader of the band of outlaws.

What promises to be another noted criminal case is to come up in the United States court at Chicago Wednesday, when George W. Fitzgerald, former teller of the federal sub-treasury in Chicago, will be placed on trial on a charge of embezzling $173,000. This amount disappeared from the Chicago sub-treasury more than five years ago and never has been accounted for.

Saturday will see the annual celebration of Lord Mayor's day in London when Sir David Burnett, the lord mayor-elect, will be installed in office with all of the pagantry and quaint ceremonial that has attended similar occasions in the British metropolis for several centuries.

The week will be observed in New York City as "Suffrage week." Each day and evening public meetings in the cause of equal suffrage will be held and the celebration will wind up with a great parade on Saturday. It is expected that more men and women converts to the cause will be in line than ever marched before in the interests of woman's suffrage in this city.

Several large conventions are scheduled for the week. Those of most importance will be the National Farm congress in New Orleans, the annual meeting of the American Prison association in Baltimore, and the annual conference of the Association of American Universities, in Philadelphia.

MISS KEOGH HAS LONG EXPERIENCE

Candidate for County Superintendent of Schools on Democratic Ticket.

Miss Anna Keogh, candidate for superintendent of schools, bearing the endorsement of the Democratic party and the Taxpayers league, is a woman of long experience in rural school work. She was raised in Illinois, where her mother was left a widow with a family to rear and educate. The family moved to Kansas, where Miss Keogh completed her education in the normal school of that state. In that state she established the remarkable record of teaching 11 years in one district and left her position only to move west.

Settling in Ada county 13 years ago, she has taught constantly in the rural schools and has been employed in all that time in but three school districts of the county, the last five of which has been in Union district, where she is held in the highest esteem and where she enjoys the confidence of trustees, parents and children.

The sentiment for Miss Keogh is strong in the country precincts, the people of that section feeling that they are entitled to have the superintendent, inasmuch as her duties relate exclusively to the country, or rural schools.

In order to emphasize their desire for the election of Miss Keogh, petitions have been circulated throughout the country precincts and very generally signed by taxpayers and voters, irrespective of party affiliations. These petitions are as follows:
