

MARTIN SPEAKS AT COEUR D'ALENE TO GREAT CROWD

Very Flattering Demonstration Is Given in Honor of the Progressive Candidate for Governor.

(Capital News Special Service)
Coeur d'Alene, Nov. 3.—G. H. Martin, Progressive nominee for governor, addressed an enthusiastic crowd at Coeur d'Alene last night. Risks hall, where the meeting was held, was packed to the doors, standing room being refused to late comers. More than 500 people were present and several hundred were turned away.

The meeting was presided over by the head of the Women's Progressive organization in Kootenai county, Mrs. L. M. Keating. The meeting was opened with prayer and the rendering of campaign songs by a trained quartet, the audience joining in the singing.

Hon. Paul Clagstone was present and delivered a rousing speech in which he called upon the Progressives of the state to support the Progressive ticket from top to bottom.

H. H. Barton, committee man from Kootenai county, read a telegram from state headquarters calling upon the Progressives of Kootenai county to support the Republican legislative ticket. The reading of this telegram brought forth a demonstration which is the best evidence of the great popularity of Senator Borah in the north.

Mr. Martin, when introduced, received a flattering demonstration. During the course of his remarks, he took occasion to refer to the attack delivered upon him by the morning organ of the special interests in Boise. "You people in Coeur d'Alene can find out about me by asking Judge Dunn about these charges," said Mr. Martin. "Go to him, if he says I am a liar and unreliable, vote for the other fellow. If he says that these charges are false and malicious inventions, rebuke that kind of campaign methods by supporting me." The entire audience arose and cheered madly.

The speech of Mr. Martin at Coeur d'Alene will clinch Kootenai county for the Progressives. They will come out of that county with pluralities ranging from 500 to 1000.

Mr. Martin speaks at Clark's Fork this afternoon, Sandpoint tonight and Bonners Ferry Monday night.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Sixth Letter: On the Slim-Made Man Who Found a Harmless Fat Remedy.

Dear Sis:—I can hardly wait to write you the news. Who of all people do you suppose I have seen?—"Fatty" Hahn—you remember him—how he ragged around at the beach last summer and how mortified I was—"Fatty" together—and what a figure he cut in a bathing suit. It was his porpoise-like splashes and the faceous remarks people made about his "overflowing the ocean" kept me out of the water. Well, sis, dear, I met him last night at Sadie's musicale and didn't know him, and he didn't know me—we had to be introduced. My, how he has changed—as much as I have—and how well-set up and handsome he looks since he became slim. He has the same "beachy" complexion, only more so, and I've promised to dine with him tonight and we've agreed to make it a "spread." Not like the "diet" dinners we had at the beach, when I'd cut my crackers and he'd sip his tea and toast and we'd both envy the other diners and grow fatter and sasser on our slim diet. That was the only bond of sympathy we had then—but now we have another bond. You remember the simple, harmless, reducer I used, to reclaim my slim trim, firm figure—the Marmola Prescription—well, he used that, too, only he found it at the drug store in tablet form—Marmola Prescription Tablets at 75¢ the box—trust a man to find the easiest way. The tablets must surely be convenient—just a little disc after meals and at bedtime. It seems all druggists sell the tablets, too. They are made by the Marmola Co., Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

SHORT LINE WILL SUPPORT HAWLEY AT THE ELECTION

(Capital News Special Service)
Pocatello, Nov. 2.—The Oregon Short Line is again putting forth every effort to re-elect Governor Hawley. The officials of the road have become convinced that the fight is between Martin and Hawley and they are making every effort to throw their vote to Governor Hawley. They also have the co-operation of the P. & I. N. railroad, and E. M. Helgo is also supporting Hawley and the Democratic legislative ticket. These facts have been gathered in such a way that there can be no doubt as to the truth of them. These railroad interests are determined to defeat Martin because of Martin's attitude on the public utilities commission.

WILSON MEETING AT NAMPA IS A FIZZLE

(Capital News Special Service)
Nampa, Nov. 2.—The much advertised Democratic meeting at Nampa this afternoon proved a flat fizzle and not more than a dozen patriots were mustered out by the band to attend the meeting. General Frank Martin was killed for an address, but owing to failure to make the connections he was unable to arrive and Fred Flood, a pinch speaker, was sent over to take his place. Although there was a large crowd in town none of them appeared to want to hear the governor's private secretary discuss the issues and the meeting was declared off.

GENERAL ELECTION EFFECTS THE MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 2.—In spite of the suspension of business on the local board of trade on account of the funeral of Vice President Sherman today, the Chicago wheat trader paid considerable attention to market news because of the possibilities in the next few days. The effect of any unfavorable political news from abroad and the disturbing influence of the coming general election here are causes of anxiety among traders. The trade is inclined to expect bullish news from Europe Monday. Enormous yields for the year of corn and oats and fine weather for drying new corn into merchantable condition, it is said, will have a telling effect on the selling side of both markets next week. For the next month weather conditions will rule the corn market.

WILSON'S MESSAGE IS READ AT RALLIES

New York, Nov. 2.—The feature of the observance of Wilson Rally day was the reading at Democratic rallies throughout the country of Wilson's message to the voters of the United States. This message was read by Judge Alton B. Parker at the Wilson rally, Pelham Manor, and other Democrats wherever the supporters of Wilson assembled.

FITTING CURTAIN TO CAMPAIGN AT PINNEY THEATER

The Reactionary Republicans Attempt to Hold a Rally but Crowd Fails to Show Up.

The reactionary Republican state central committee closed its campaign last night with a mournful rally at the Pinney theater, when Charles W. Seale, the well known standpatter of Shoshone county, several times defeated candidate for congressman, spoke for the protection of the interests to an icy audience which by actual count did not exceed 125 people. The rally was pronounced a most fitting curtain to the campaign of abuse, character assassination and disfranchisement of honest electors in Idaho, conducted by the Republican state central committee. It was conceded in political circles last night by men prominent in Idaho politics, that no more fitting speaker could have been selected to close the campaign here, to drive away the few remaining votes that might possibly have countenanced the kind of a campaign that has been conducted.

Many Among the Missing.
It was remarkable for the non-appearance of state and county candidates on the platform, not even John M. Haines, the pronounced Taft gubernatorial candidate, was willing to brave the notoriety of appearing upon the rostrum with the state chairman, the secretary of the state committee and several other members of the Republican state organization. Mr. Haines, instead, enjoyed the luxury of reading the Capital News in his downtown office in the Idaho building with only himself as company.

If the state candidates who are in the city were invited to the last sad rally of the reactionaries, all of them failed to put in an appearance, although State Treasurer Allen, Haines, the Republican party's gubernatorial candidate and several others were in the city yesterday. The state committee completely ignored the Ada county Republican candidates so far as an invitation was concerned to attend, and the only one who happened to be in the city and was not attending meetings in the county, took a seat upon the platform after some mingling. Mr. Seale had an excellent background of empty seats. There were empty seats to the front of him, empty seats in the back of him and empty seats on both sides. Of the 50 odd seats on the platform but seven of them were occupied.

Reactionary Address.
If the audience expected to hear a political address along modern, progressive lines, they were sorely disappointed. They heard instead one of the old-time reactionary addresses, a plea for protection to Idaho interests, a tirade against the nation's greatest citizen, vice president, ex-president and candidate for president, Theodore Roosevelt, and but a repetition of the abuse that has been heaped upon the Progressive party fight for principle.

The speaker was constantly interrupted by his restless audience, who, disappointed in his remarks, insisted on leaving the opera house at intervals. The tariff was eulogized by the speaker who pleaded that the higher the tariff goes, the better it will be for those who are profiting by it, and paying big dividends on their investment. He did not point out to the consumer where he is materially benefited by revision upwards.

The Lonely Pair.
State Chairman George A. Day, Idaho's state land commissioner, who so far has failed to file an itemized accounting with the state of the $500 drawn from the Carey act fund to make a trip to Washington, although the law clearly provided that this must be done, presided. Captain E. G. Davis, secretary of the Republican state central committee, whose interviews since the campaign opened have been the cause of dry campaign humor, sat on the left of the speaker, the two making a lonely pair.

Someone in the audience was unkind enough to remark as he was leaving the theater after the rally, that he did not enjoy the singing of the quartet. Within three minutes after the small, staid audience had filed from the theater, it was "dark" and Idaho's reactionary Republican campaign, so far as public speaking under the auspices of the Republican state central committee in Boise is concerned, had passed into musty history to be forgotten.

BREVITIES.

Both district courts adjourned yesterday until 10 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 4.

Fred Flood, private secretary to Governor Hawley, left yesterday for Nampa, to deliver a political address. Governor Hawley is expected home this morning. He spoke at Caldwell last night at a Democratic rally held there.

Mrs. A. T. Armstrong and Miss Helen Armstrong returned last night from Iowa points, where they have been visiting for two months.

The county clerk has finished the distribution of the election supplies to all of the precincts in the county and is now ready for the big event Tuesday.

Judgment for the plaintiff was rendered by Judge Davis yesterday afternoon in the case of E. B. Aultman against P. D. Bayer for $337.35 together with $65 attorney fees.

Unity Rebekah lodge No. 8, I. O. O. F., will hold its anniversary social meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 7. An excellent program will be given at the meeting. All Rebekahs are invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary Powers and daughter, Agnes, and son, Joseph, will leave the first of the week for Iowa, where Mrs. Powers takes charge of an estate left her by a relative. She will make her home in that state, looking after the place willed to her.

A telegram received by relatives in the city yesterday announced the marriage of Millard Sebern, a former high school boy in Spokane, to Mrs. Sebern is well known in Boise and is now connected with a large electrical concern in Spokane as its engineer.

State offices closed at noon yesterday in memory of the late James S. Sherman, vice president of the United States, whose funeral was held yesterday afternoon. The state's business was at a standstill as a result. Flags on the state and other public buildings were lowered to half mast. The county commissioners will hear the proposition of the creation of an irrigation district to be known as the Hillcrest irrigation district comprising 3000 acres on the bench and to be watered by a pumping system from the New York canal. The proposition will come before the commissioners tomorrow.

Judge Davis yesterday denied the motion of the defendant, the Idaho Title & Trust company, for a new trial in the district court. The plaintiff, Charles Hillock, had been given a judgment of $500 against the company in a trial before a jury a few days ago because it was shown that the plaintiff had paid that amount to Belle S. Smith to quiet a title which the abstract company had declared perfect.

Rev. P. C. Rathert, who has charge of the Lutheran mission, leaves this afternoon for New Plymouth to preach at the mission festival of the Lutheran congregation at that place. Rev. Rathert will then go to Portland to attend a conference of the Oregon-Washington district of the Lutheran Synod, hence there will be no services at the Unity church the following two Sundays. Sunday school will be held at the regular hour.

A dispute between owners of Mac Fitzsimmons, a $5000 race horse, was settled when Judge Dunbar yesterday awarded a judgment of $500 to the plaintiff F. C. Erwin against Fred Greenbach. It developed that the trouble arose at Salem, Ore., when the defendant objected to running the horse on the track. He said he was afraid that the horse would be injured in the race and agreed to pay $500 to his partner to keep it off of the course that day.

Dr. Ed E. Maxey has returned home from Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the secretaries of the various state medical associations, at which plans were formulated for a uniform membership throughout the United States, putting all associations on a par and arranging for transfers from one society to another. The session, he says, was well attended, most of the state societies being represented. Following the meeting he attended a course of clinics at Quincy. He has entirely recovered from his recent illness, which has kept him from his practice for nearly a month.

FARM LABOR SAVING MACHINERY IS SHOWN

Labor saving machinery of all kinds on the farm is certain to be installed by southern Idaho ranchers, if the crowd which witnessed the demonstrations at the John Deere Plow company's business house yesterday can be taken as a criterion. Farmers crowded around the new department added to the business and watched heavy streams of water pumped from a well both by gasoline engines and electric power and also witnessed the grinding of chicken feed, which was done for several of them free. The visitors showed great interest in the cream separators, several of which were demonstrated, while other machinery, such as power plows, steam threshers and numerous other machines are great labor savers, were explained by the experts employed by the company.

Since the steam plow demonstrations at the fair were made by the company, several of the big power machines have been sold, and progressive ranchers are ready to investigate any labor saving machine which is shown. This section is just entering upon a machinery era which will make it one of the best farming countries in America.
