

LORIMER MONEY USED IN IDAHO TO DEFEAT BORAH; AN OLD THREAT CARRIED OUT

"If you do not assist in keeping Senator Lorimer in his seat, or if you speak against his right to hold his seat or vote against him, I will send money enough into Idaho to defeat you for re-election."

This threat, Senator Borah declared at Gooding in his speech on Friday night and repeated again in much stronger terms in a speech at Shoshone on Saturday morning, was made to him by one of the wealthy and influential men of Chicago who, the evidence showed in the Lorimer investigation, was connected with the spending of more of the money that bought Illinois senators than any other man.

"I have no doubt but that some of this money is being used in this state right now in preparation to accomplish my defeat if possible."

Senator Borah declared that when the threat was made, he hurled defiance at the man who made it. He did not mention the name of the man who came to him with the threat, but those familiar with the Lorimer evidence will readily recognize who it was.

The most strenuous and perhaps the most effective single day of campaigning made during his remarkable campaign of this state, was Borah's whirlwind trip through Lincoln county Friday, when he made a total of four great addresses to fully 5000 people, thus absolutely clinching the victory for the Republican legislative candidates who are pledged to vote for Borah during the session of the legislature next January.

Slush Fund to Defeat Borah.
It has been definitely learned that the interests inside and outside of Idaho who are bitterly opposed to the re-election of Senator Borah, are pouring thousands and thousands of dollars into the Democratic campaign coffers of Idaho in an effort to control the legislative candidates in this state.

A large slice of this Democratic slush fund was poured into Lincoln county a few days ago and is being freely spent in that county, in an effort to control the county's legislative candidates, but this effort will certainly prove to be ineffective.

Governor Hawley, in a speech a few days ago at Jerome, Lincoln county, advised his friends to abandon their fight for Wilson for president, and for everything else, save the United States senatorship. It is known that Hawley does not care much for the office of governor, but that he does have a burning desire to go to the United States senate. Not only does Hawley have an intense desire to occupy a seat in the upper branch of congress, but every effort of Borah's enemies is being centered in this state in one gigantic effort to defeat Borah.

Borah has thus become the one great, controlling, and all absorbing issue in the present campaign in Idaho. In his powerful address, made at Gooding Friday night, Senator Borah, during his great discussion on the passage through congress of his resolution providing for the direct election of United States senators, took occasion to refer to the fearful corruption in Illinois, where at least $20,000 were spent in purchasing the Illinois legislature which elected Lorimer to the senate. During the famous investigation by the senate of the scandalous election of Lorimer, Senator Borah stated he had been approached by one of the men of great wealth, who had spent many thousands of dollars to elect Lorimer, and had been "requested" to cast his vote for Lorimer. Borah absolutely refused to vote in favor of Lorimer, whereupon this man of great wealth warned Borah and said: "If you do not assist in keeping Senator Lorimer in his seat, I will send enough money into Idaho to defeat you for re-election." Borah voted to unseat Lorimer, and defied this wealthy man to do his worst. Senator Borah said this Lorimer corruptionist, no doubt, right now is having a great deal of his money spent in Idaho in a desperate effort to defeat Borah. It is up to the people to rally to the support of Senator Borah on election day.

gress a $20,000,000 appropriation with which to complete the unfinished reclamation projects, $7,000,000 of which are being expended in Idaho. Another Hawley Jolt.

"Governor Hawley, in an address at Halley made a statement to the effect that Borah was not entitled to much credit for this $20,000,000 appropriation, as it was merely a loan. The governor thinks much of this $20,000,000 should have been used for public buildings in Idaho. I will say that in my opinion it is better to get our lands reclaimed and have these lands first settled up, then there will be people here to use such public buildings when built. In answer to the governor's statement that this $20,000,000 is merely a loan, I will say that if Hawley continues his taxation policies, the farmers of this state will not only need a loan, but it will be necessary for the government to make a donation in order that they may be saved from bankruptcy." (Great cheers).

Borah then briefly explained his bill whereby patents now are issued to the settler on reclamation projects, at the end of the three-year residence period, instead of making the settler wait for 10 or 15 years until his water right is fully paid for.

Borah also briefly explained his enlarged homestead bill, which is already working to the big advantage of Idaho. Threat Against Borah.
Then Senator Borah dwelt at length upon his resolution providing for the direct election of United States senators. He stated when this resolution is made a law, there would then be no chance any longer to corruptly purchase a seat in the senate of the United States.

"If you do not assist in keeping Senator Lorimer in his seat, I will send enough money into Idaho to defeat you for re-election." This startling statement was made to Senator Borah in Chicago by the man who furnished most of the money to purchase Lorimer's seat in the senate. Senator Borah told this man that he (Borah) would refuse to vote in favor of Lorimer, and he defied this man to do his worst. Borah said there is no doubt that right now this Lorimer man is having a great deal of his money spent in Idaho in an effort to defeat Borah.

The senator then proceeded to explain his views on the tariff question. Borah's well known attitude on the tariff stamps him a true Republican, just as he claims he is.

Borah in his tariff discussion took issue with Atwood and put Atwood entirely out of business.
Borah said: "Certainly I voted to put a duty on oil. Why? Who owns the oil wells in Mexico and in Russia? The Standard Oil company does. The Standard Oil company wanted to be put on the free list. I voted to put a duty on oil. I also voted to put a duty on lead, to protect the lead interests of the United States.

"I will vote every time to put any article on the tariff for revenue list, whenever I find such article is controlled by some great combine. That is why I voted that iron ore, for instance, be put on the free list." It was plain that Borah's big audience was in full accord with him on his tariff views.
The subject of the income tax was taken up and exhaustively explained by Borah. He made very clear the difference between the income tax and the corporation tax.

Borah said that Senator Reed, the sponsor of Atwood, was opposed to taxing the incomes of the great men of wealth, but Senator Reed earnestly advocated the taxing of the poorer classes through excise taxes. "I am perfectly willing that my views on the tax question be compared with those held by Senator Reed of Missouri, who has sent Mr. Atwood to Idaho in an effort to secure my political scalp."

Borah's explanation of the child labor bureau bill, now a law, brought forth a storm of applause.
Borah Submits His Record.
Borah submitted his senate record to the people of Idaho, and asked for the people's approval at the November election, provided his course is approved by the people. There is no question but Borah's course stands approved by those who heard his great address at Gooding.
Borah then proceeded to call attention to the fact that the Democratic party in Idaho has no open candidate in opposition to him for his seat in the United States senate. The Democrats are playing a bushwhacking game. Their fight is not a square deal, nor an open fight against Borah. The Democratic leaders of Idaho are right now sacrificing everything else and are centering their fire on Borah.
Borah made a powerful appeal to the voters of Idaho to go to the polls on Nov. 5 and record their convictions, whether they be Socialist, Democrat, Republicans or Progressives.
A great wave of cheering and applause swept over the big audience as Senator Borah concluded his great address.
Every loyal friend of Borah should put his shoulder to the wheel and cast his ballot for the legislative ticket that is pledged to vote for Borah.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT

tonight, winding up his campaign.

Captain William J. McDonald, the Texas ranger and body guard of the governor, who also was shaken in the mishap and slightly bruised, was ready to accompany the governor on the trip. "Although the accident was no joke," remarked the governor, "there were some amusing things about it. When the physician examined Captain McDonald to see if he was injured internally he was astonished at the number of holes in McDonald's body. McDonald has been wounded so many times in service with the Texas rangers, that Judge Hughes, Democratic candidate for United States senator from New Jersey, believes the captain dares not go in swimming because he's so full of lead he'd sink."

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 4.—Governor Wilson last night wore a narrow strip of colloid across the top of his head, covering a scalp wound three inches long which he received early yesterday in a motor car mishap on the way home from Red Bank, N. J.

His automobile struck a mound in the road and jolted him up against a steel rib in the roof of the limousine car.

The wound is not serious and the Democratic presidential nominee will fill his speaking engagements in Princeton and Passaic, N. J., tonight.

Last night the governor was in the parlor of his home, the center of a group of friends. There was nothing in his manner to indicate that he had met with any mishap. He said he did not feel the wound in the slightest degree.

Dr. J. M. Cannon, the governor's family physician, who dressed the wound, issued the following statement last night.

"When I saw Governor Wilson this afternoon I found that he had received a laceration of the scalp about three inches in length. Otherwise he was in good condition and seemed to be suffering no ill effects."

The governor's family was kept busy answering the telephone last night alleviating the worry of friends who had heard alarming reports about the accident.

The mishap occurred in the early hours of the morning. The governor had spoken Saturday night at Red Bank and left for Princeton, a distance of 45 miles, shortly before 11 o'clock. He rode in the limousine car of Abram J. Elkes, a New York lawyer, who lives at Red Bank, accompanied by Captain William J. McDonald, his personal bodyguard, who was shaken up and bruised.

"The machine was running about 15 miles an hour," said the governor, "and we were going very smoothly near Hightstown when the car jolted. As we struck, Captain McDonald and I were thrown against the roof of the car. I felt my head and found that it was bleeding. I knew I was not seriously hurt but we stopped some passers-by and within a few minutes found the home of Dr. Titus, at Hightstown. He dressed the wound carefully and cleansed it and we went on to Princeton."

ALLIES WILL DECLINE

Beyond the declaration that the Turkish army is retreating to Constantinople, little news was received from the seat of war last night. Fighting was reported along the line from Tchorlu to Serai which was the outcome of the effort of the defeated Turks to retire within the Tchalaia lines, which the Bulgarians are doing their utmost to prevent.

"We heartily recommend Mr. Martin and advise all those who are for good government to vote for him.

"We have been interviewed by Statesmen reporters regarding the slanderous attack made on Mr. Martin, and we condemn the system used by that paper and its representatives in misrepresenting those of whom they have interviewed, which has been done in every instance."

Wallace Makes Statement.
In addition to the above D. C. Wallace also issued a separate statement in which he speaks of the high character of Mr. Martin and calls attention to the absurdity of these men of Iowa being interested for the real good of Idaho. Mr. Wallace says:

"Without desire for newspaper publicity but having been drawn into the controversy over the interference of Mayor Bender and others of Spencer, Iowa, in Idaho politics, I wish to say that I consider it an insult for any ten or more men residing in another state who never were in Idaho—to presume to dictate and tell the voters of Idaho who they should nominate and elect for their state officers—as if the intelligence here was at so low an ebb as to need their assistance.

"I have known Mr. G. H. Martin, the candidate for governor on the Progressive ticket, over 12 years, lived nearly six years as his next door neighbor in Spencer, Iowa, have had close relations with him in a professional and also in a business way and never in that time have I found him anything but a clean, honest and strictly reliable man or recognized ability, both in his profession and in a general way—with all the blare, noise and indefinite insinuations made by these peculiarly interested gentlemen from Iowa I would like them to show me if they can, one single specific thing derogatory to the character or ability of Mr. Martin.

"Unless the voters of Idaho put their stamp of disapproval on such tactics it will not be long before it will be impossible to find a decent citizen to accept a nomination for any public office.

"Very truly,
"DAVID C. WALLACE.

HEAVY VOTE IS INDICATED ALL OVER COUNTRY

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Reports from several western headquarters of the political parties today indicate that the leaders are making a tremendous effort to get out the vote tomorrow. Joseph E. Davis, manager of the western Democratic headquarters, said, "I have received direct reports from nearly all of the 29 state chairmen in my division, and will keep in touch with them by telephone throughout the day and touch with the county chairmen of his state by telephone. From reports already at hand, it is apparent that there never was greater co-operation among the Democrats. The vote will be out in full everywhere.

David Mulvane, director of the Republican campaign, asserted that there was an eleven hour trend toward the Taft standard.

Medill McCormick, Progressive national committeeman, said he had received satisfactory reports from 24 states.

In New York State.
New York, Nov. 4.—The last word in the presidential and gubernatorial campaigns in this state are being spoken today and the eve of the election finds the three candidates for head of the state ticket winding up canvasses with speeches in and about this city. Colonel Roosevelt planned to spend the forenoon at his home at Oyster Bay and later in the day to go to Mineola to address a meeting. Tonight he will talk to his Oyster Bay neighbors and close his campaign.

First Returns From Massachusetts.
Boston, Nov. 4.—It is expected that Massachusetts will be among the first states to give definite results on tomorrow's vote in the national election, precinct returns coming from some little towns in Barnstable, Norfolk or Plymouth counties. Five counties hold afternoon and early evening elections, closing the polls at 8 p. m. Two others, New Bedford and Fall River stop voting at 2 and 3 p. m., while others close at 4 p. m., or soon after.

Club Women Active.
Salt Lake, Nov. 4.—Rain and mud today cut the attendance at the eleventh hour political meetings throughout the state. Salt Lake club women are canvassing this afternoon the replies of candidates to questions propounded to them. Campaign managers have made no changes in their earlier claims.

Opposition to Women's Suffrage.
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Eleventh hour opposition to woman's suffrage has developed in Arizona, according to well informed political leaders. It is said that a movement against the constitutional amendment has been conducted secretly in the thickly populated parts of the state and its defeat tomorrow is practically assured.

Rain for Washington.
Seattle, Nov. 4.—Rain is forecast for all parts of the state tomorrow. Every band and every large hall in Seattle has been engaged for tonight's political rallies, closing a campaign that is featureless. The Democrats have concentrated their efforts on the candidate for governor, Ernest Lister, and on Charles G. Heifner, candidate for congress in the First district. Progressive, Republican and Democratic leaders claim victory for their presidential tickets.

Situation in Montana.
Helena, Nov. 4.—Party leaders completed preparations today for getting out a record vote in Montana. Each admits that the contest for state officers is close. Stout, Democrat, and Pray, Republican, are expected to lead their tickets. Lewis J. Duncan Socialist, candidate for governor, will probably run far ahead of his ticket.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The death of Representative Utter of Rhode Island, breaks the deadlock in which the house will be thrown if called upon to elect a president. The Democrats control the Rhode Island delegation to congress, which previously was tied.

LEADERS IN NORTH ABANDON HAINES FOR GOV. HAWLEY

Word Goes Out by the Reactionaries to Throw Support to the Democratic State Ticket.

State Chairman James H. Gipson has received positive assurances from north Idaho that the Republican leaders of south Idaho have abandoned Haines and are trying to throw their support to Hawley in an effort to defeat Martin. Their scheme, however, is not having the desired effect, according to these reports, but is throwing to Martin votes of both Haines and Hawley in that section.

A committeeman from Shoshone county declares that he has in his possession a letter written for the purpose of throwing this vote from Haines to Hawley.

Chairman Gipson has also assurances from another committeeman to the same effect. The telegrams conveying this information are as follows:
Kellogg, Idaho, Nov. 3, 1912.
J. H. Gipson, Boise, Idaho.

Standpat Republicans are receiving written instructions from Boise to support Hawley. I have a letter as evidence. This move is driving them to Martin by the hundreds. The Republican county candidates are falling in line for Martin.

Colonel Hammer was busy vilifying Borah and French on his visit in this county and several county candidates stayed away from his meetings. Martin will carry Shoshone county easy. You may give this to the Capital News for publication, if you like.
S. S. KYLOR, Committeeman.

Another to Same Effect.
Kellogg, Idaho, Nov. 3, 1912.
J. H. Gipson, Boise, Idaho.
Standpatters of Boise and of southern Idaho concede Haines' defeat and are urging their northern friends to throw support to Hawley.

The outlook is good in Shoshone county for Roosevelt and Martin. I will be in Wallace tomorrow.
CHARLES F. GLOYSTEIN.

VERY FEW CASES OF IRREGULARITY ARE DISCLOSED

National Chairman Dixon wires State Chairman Gipson that everything indicates the triumphant election of Roosevelt tomorrow. His message is as follows:
New York, Nov. 3, 1912.
J. H. Gipson, Boise, Idaho.

Reports tonight from New Jersey, Michigan, New York, Illinois, Oregon and other states undoubtedly show a big drift to Roosevelt everywhere. He will be elected president Tuesday of the precinct leaders do their duty and are properly impressed with the tremendous importance of getting out the individual voters election day. Five votes to the precinct will mark the difference between victory and defeat. If precinct committeemen see to it that those five votes do not stay at home or that they vote properly, the victory is won.
JOSEPH M. DIXON, Chairman National Committee.

No Decisions Are Announced.
Washington, Nov. 4.—The supreme court adjourned again today without giving decisions in the hard coal trust, Union Pacific merged or state rate cases.

American Balloonist Won Third Flight.
Kansas City, Nov. 4.—A California balloonist from Captain Honeywell, who piloted the balloon "Uncle Sam" in the Bennett cup race, says, "Won third prize."
