

Washington Women Defended

(By Sarah Waters).

Evening Capital News: There appeared in a recent issue of your paper under the caption "Quiet, Cultured and Purposeful," descriptive of the daughters of Woodrow Wilson, an article dealing chiefly with their studies and work in singing, painting and settlement life.

After lauding their advantages in Princeton, the article concludes thus: "It is safe to assume that the silly frivolities of the Washington life will have no charms for them."

The writer of this article has dodged pointing out what he means by "silly frivolities."

Washington is the capital of the nation, the "heart of the nation." Here are gathered the most brilliant statesmen and lawmakers sent by the people of all sections to represent them, and the citizens of Washington may sit in the galleries of the congress of the United States and hear these men. It is broadening to the mind even to look upon great men for in so doing we may realize that there is something larger and higher than our own little personal narrow walk in life.

None could deny that the children of a Princeton professor and governor of a state would have educational and social advantages. But as dwellers in the White House at Washington these young ladies will gain an outlook perhaps undreamed of in their Princeton and Seagriff environment. In their Washington life, at its best and other functions sneered at by the above mentioned writer, and to which he evidently has been denied access, they will enjoy the enormous advantage of direct contact not only with prominent men and women of their own country but will also meet on an equal footing the highly cultured and brilliantly educated representatives of those old countries which had mental culture and social graces centuries before our nation was born.

Perhaps the writer of that article is unaware that Washington is the home of that ancient and honorable seat of learning, the Georgetown university, beside another great university and many colleges and schools. Doubtless, also, he does not know that the public school system of the District of Columbia has been declared the finest in the world, and not many years ago a delegation of educators came from London to study this system.

When the Tuberculosis congress met in Washington a few years ago the foreign delegates were instructed by their respective governments to study the working methods of some of our great government bureaus, where the vast machinery of one of the great nations of the earth is being directed by men representing in their brains and education and experience all the recognized professions; in many entire departments of which none can enter for service unless he be a college graduate, and many things besides.

The above mentioned writer probably does not know that every inch of ground about our capital is historic, that it is almost the very cradle of American history. Perhaps he never heard of the national tribute paid recently to Major Charles T. Egan, the cultured Frenchman on General Washington's staff who planned the city declared every day by educated and traveled foreigners to be the most beautiful city in the world. He is doubtless ignorant of the fact that the schools for girls in the capital are filled largely every year with young women from every nook and corner of these United States, sent for certain educational advantage not to be had elsewhere, and to be coached in the social arts.

No intelligent person would wish to under-rate the advantages which the daughters of our president-elect have hitherto enjoyed; nor to under-value their singing, painting and sociological work. But there are great numbers of young ladies in Washington successfully pursuing similar lines of endeavor; there are great numbers of "quiet, cultured and purposeful" young women, daughters of the average Washington citizen; there are numbers of Washington women holding important desks in the great government departments, drawing equal salaries with men for their executive, professional and artistic work. There are numbers of cultured society women, there who work for humanity and suffering animals. A Washington woman may have a point of view and a certain broad outlook upon the life of her own and other countries scarcely to be realized by the women of other cities. The Washington woman does not have the suffrage, but if she so inclines she may gain a deeper insight into and a broader grasp upon American politics as a whole than women of other sections can possibly get from the outside. As for "society" in a quiet sense, every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

ate, and many things besides. The above mentioned writer probably does not know that every inch of ground about our capital is historic, that it is almost the very cradle of American history. Perhaps he never heard of the national tribute paid recently to Major Charles T. Egan, the cultured Frenchman on General Washington's staff who planned the city declared every day by educated and traveled foreigners to be the most beautiful city in the world. He is doubtless ignorant of the fact that the schools for girls in the capital are filled largely every year with young women from every nook and corner of these United States, sent for certain educational advantage not to be had elsewhere, and to be coached in the social arts.

No intelligent person would wish to under-rate the advantages which the daughters of our president-elect have hitherto enjoyed; nor to under-value their singing, painting and sociological work. But there are great numbers of young ladies in Washington successfully pursuing similar lines of endeavor; there are great numbers of "quiet, cultured and purposeful" young women, daughters of the average Washington citizen; there are numbers of Washington women holding important desks in the great government departments, drawing equal salaries with men for their executive, professional and artistic work. There are numbers of cultured society women, there who work for humanity and suffering animals. A Washington woman may have a point of view and a certain broad outlook upon the life of her own and other countries scarcely to be realized by the women of other cities. The Washington woman does not have the suffrage, but if she so inclines she may gain a deeper insight into and a broader grasp upon American politics as a whole than women of other sections can possibly get from the outside. As for "society" in a quiet sense, every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

A Fabulous Age. (Ladies' Home Journal). Spratts—Miss Elder is much older than I thought. Every loyal American should have a wholesome pride in that feature also, that valuable asset, in the capital of his country.

There are some silly and frivolous people everywhere, but that Washington life should be cast into one lump and dubbed "silly frivolity" betrays a woeful ignorance in the writer, who evidently has been denied any first-hand knowledge of Washington life and character.

PASTOR RUSSELL GIVES AN ANSWER

Responds to the Challenge as to Who Ordained Him.

Pastor Russell has replied in a sermon to an attack recently made upon him by a Mr. W. T. Ellis, field editor of The Continent. Ellis claims that Pastor Russell's ordination as pastor is fraudulent. The address shows that Pastor Russell fully understands the situation. He fully justified his position before his vast audience and showed up the "Rambler" editor in the unenviable light of either being ignorant of the subject discussed, or attempting to deceive the public. His text was, "Not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised Him from the dead" (Gal. 1:1). He said:

"The time has come for telling the people what the Bible teaches respecting ordination to teach and preach. The doctrine of Apostolic Succession started in the second century A. D. The bishops claimed that they had the same authority that Jesus gave to the 12 apostles. Upon this claim they ordained the inferior clergy. This principle is wholly unscriptural. According to the Bible, the Church of Christ is not composed of two parts, clergy and laity. Jesus declared, 'All ye are brethren; One is your Master, Christ.' St. Paul shows that in the early church the ministers were the servants of the flock. They were of the people, chosen by them by the stretching forth of the hand."

"Many of the reformers coveted the titles accorded the Catholic clergy. They did not care to tell the congregation that its word was supreme, and that its ministers were merely its servants. Others, relating that those titles were unscriptural, declined to use them; preferring to be called pastor. My Bible student associates, knowing my objection to the title 'Reverend,' address me as Pastor. I am the elected Pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle congregation, and also of the London Tabernacle congregation, and I fall to see ground for criticism in this respect, nor do I attack Christian brethren who accept other and unscriptural titles."

Must Pastor Be Ordained? Ordination is necessary to the office of pastor. The question is, what constitutes an ordination to preach amongst the people of God?

"This question has received various answers. The Roman, Anglican and Greek churches, claiming Apostolic succession, declare that authorization to preach must come through their apostle-bishops, and have not allowed Protestant ministers to enter their pulpits—until the Episcopalians, about a year ago granted this concession. Of course, if their proposition were correct, I am just as much unordained as all other Protestant ministers—and no more so."

"Each denomination at its beginning was opposed by all others; yet each taught that the clergy were separate from the laity. Only since the organization of the Evangelical Alliance (1844) have the different sects of Christendom acknowledged each other's ordinations. Each denomination makes use of such ceremonies as it deems proper. If, therefore, the congregation of Christian believers in Brooklyn and London ordain or appoint me as their pastor, it is their own choice, what ceremonies, if any, shall accompany that ordination. Who can dispute this? No Protestant denomination, surely; for their own ordinations are on this very basis."

"The subject of ordination seems to have fallen into confusion during the Dark Ages. St. Paul particularly emphasizes the fact that he did not receive his commission as preacher and Apostle of Christ from his brother Apostles, but by divine authorization. This is the scriptural principle underlying divine ordination to the ministry of Christ."

"No denomination claims that the ordination of its ministers either made or kept them perfect. All admit that there have been sad failures amongst their ordained ministers. Neither would they claim that ordination has given their ministers superior discernment of divine truths. On the contrary, it has injured the clergy by making many of the dominating and lordly, contrary to the spirit and teachings of Christ and the Apostles; and the laity by leading them to conclude that merely secular matters should engage their attention."

The True Ordination. Finally the pastor showed the true ordination to be the impartation of the Holy Spirit. Whoever receives this has God's authority to be His ambassador and mouthpiece. Such show the work of the Holy Spirit regenerating their minds and hearts, giving them insight into the Scriptures, and enabling them to be God's mouthpiece, ministers of His Truth."

TO INSTALL PASTOR OF BETHANY CHURCH

Tuesday, Nov. 26, will be an eventful day at Bethany Presbyterian church near the Cole school house on the bench. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon Ernest F. Hall, the western representative of the board of foreign missions, will be present and speak upon missions. In the evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. M. E. Lindsay will be installed as pastor over the Bethany church. Several of the Presbyterian clergymen of Boise will be present and participate in the services. Rev. E. N. Murphy of Collierville will conduct the services and preach the sermon. Rev. McLain W. Davis of Westminster Presbyterian church will give the charge to the people and Rev. Henry Quickenden of South Boise will charge the pastor. After the in-

A Visit to the Old Folks in Germany Is This Man's Ambition

Nampa, Idaho, Nov. 22, 1912. Contract Editor, Capital News:

Dear Sir:—Your letters from the Swede, the Irishman and "brite" lady from Caldwell suggest the question to me, "What about the good, hard-working Germans in this contest? You know we are workers and you say it is the workers who will win in this contest! And that being the case all I have to say to the others is, keep both eyes on a German from Nampa who is going to put in some good, hard Hicks to capture that $500. And if I do I will take my good wife and dear little boy and go on a visit to the old folks in Germany. It is 20 years now since I saw them and I sure will work overtime and take all the chances I am entitled to in order to win. The other contestants certainly have my best wishes to win any of the other prizes, but please tell them for me that it will not be my fault if any of them get that gold pile that the "brite" lady from Caldwell has only one eye on. And say, Mr. Editor, don't you think she was only trying to get us to work at half speed when she said that, and that she has both eyes on the gold pile all the time? With best wishes for the success of the Booklovers' Contest, I remain Yours very truly,

"TRIP TO GERMANY."

Well, well, it looks as if our Great Booklovers' Contest had started a war of the many nations now represented under the glorious Stars and Stripes! But thank God, it will be a bloodless "war" and one that every contestant will enjoy. And as our German friend says, it will be the workers who will carry off the big prizes!

One of our energetic outside circulation men related a talk that he heard yesterday between two ladies who are in the contest and helping one another. They were discussing prize picture No. 41 that was published on Friday, and one of them was insisting that they hold down to one or two answers on each picture. And the other one took the point she was making to prove that was not the wise thing to do, especially when they were entitled to 10 answers on each picture. Here are the titles she said the picture suggested:

"Called Back," "Mother and Baby," "Training of Children," "The Little Runaway," "Bad Little Hannah," "The Open Door," "The Little Torment," "The Little Savage," "A Little Rebel," "A Little Minx," "Little Cares of Every Day Life" and "A Little Captive Lady." Without consulting the Official Catalogue we do not recall how many of these titles are in it, but give you the titles as this lady saw them in relation to picture No. 41. But the story shows you the advisability to extra answers and using the Catalogue in this contest. And we know without consulting the Catalogue that there is at least two of those answers not in the Catalogue at all, and only mention this fact as we notice that there are enough left for her to exercise her right to 10 answers and to show her and you that the Catalogue is the great aid in this contest. And our free offer of Catalogues and pictures will be withdrawn on Monday the 25th. No more on that offer at those terms. Our office will be open until 9 p. m. to accommodate all our Boise friends who wish to pay their subscriptions in advance and get 35 free pictures and a Catalogue, or 15 free and a Catalogue if they desire to pay only six months in advance. Read the offer under today's prize picture and get in as early in the day as possible. Out of town applications will have to show a postmark not later than Monday of Nov. 25th. Now Is The Right Time To Begin! $1500 Worth of Prizes!

Classie. (From Judge's Library.) "And are your daughters musical?" we ask. "I guess so," he replies rather sadly. "One of 'em can sing things at the top of her voice so you can't understand a word, and the other can play the piano with her hands crossed."

For dental work, Dr. Buttner, 403 Idaho Bldg. Phone 720. D11

SEEDS and FEED HAY and GRAIN Rock Springs and Hiawatha Coal COAL and WOOD WESTERN SEED AND GRAIN CO. 210 N. 4th St., Idaho Bldg. Phones 798 DRY MOUNTAIN WOOD POULTRY SUPPLIES

Now We Have Something That is better than the other fellow has and we don't care a d— who he is—COMMUNITY Silverware, guaranteed for 50 YEARS. See it and be convinced. It is the best that has been made up to date and it will surely last 50 years. I have tried it twice. You have seen it advertised in the magazines for the past 100 years. Loree & Son Hardware Co. Phone 66. 37 Feet. 909 Main St.

CHAS. B. CALLARD, M.D. SPECIALIST—DISEASES OF MEN Varicocele, Weakness, Contracted Diseases, Prostatic Trouble, Blood Poison, Stricture, Functional Disturbances, Hydrocele, Kidney or Bladder Trouble, etc. SALVARSAN, OR "606," FOR BLOOD DISORDERS. I use Prof. Ehrlich's wonderful new discovery, "606," in case of blood disorders. It is the greatest marvel of medical science. This new remedy has been used in thousands of cases. Let me explain it to you. VARIOCELE Impairs vitality. I daily demonstrate that Varicocele can be cured in nearly all cases by one treatment, in such a satisfactory way that the vital parts are preserved and strengthened, pain ceases, swelling subsides, a healthy circulation is rapidly re-established, instead of the depressing condition I guarantee you a cure to stay cured. Rooms 201-2-3-4 McCarty Bldg., Boise, Idaho. Office Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sunday 10 a. m. to 12 m.

150 high grade Duroc Jersey Gilts and Sows for sale in numbers from 2 to 50. At from $15 up. Unpedigreed. Due to farrow in from 30 days to March and April. Let us know what you want. Hubbard Farms D. R. HUBBARD, Manager, Boise Idaho.

Evening Capital News Booklovers' Contest

CUT THIS OUT AND SAVE IT

Capital News' Great Booklovers' Contest

PICTURE NO. 43

WHAT BOOK DOES THIS PICTURE REPRESENT? Write title and name of author in form below:

Title Author Your Name Street and Number City and State R. F. D.

The Capital News. No. 43—NOV. 24, 1912—No. 43 Wait until you have all the answers to the pictures before sending them in, for no partial lists will be considered.

In order to give old and new contestants a chance to get extra coupons, and a catalogue for those who have not already secured an Official Booklovers' Catalogue, we will make the following offer.

This offer will be withdrawn Monday, Nov. 25, so if you want to increase your chances of winning one of the prizes in our great $1500 Booklovers' Contest now is the time to act.

Use the coupon in sending in your remittance and mark the number of the coupons you want.

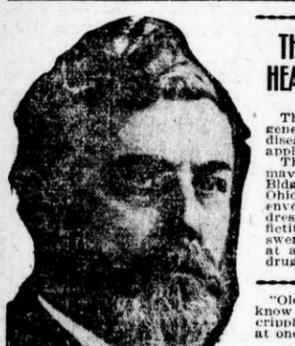

You can select the numbers you need and as many as you need of each number according to the offer.

Table with columns for Rebate On Paid in Advance, Old or New Subscriptions, $1.10. 6 months' subscription $3.00, 1 Booklovers' Catalogue .35, 15 Coupons at 5c. Total $4.10. Special offer 3.00. Rebate $1.10. To those who have catalogue we will give 22 coupons. Not good after Nov. 25, 1912. Rebate On Paid in Advance, Old or New Subscriptions, $2.10. 12 months' subscription $6.00, 1 Booklovers' Catalogue .35, 35 Coupons at 5c. Total $8.10. Special offer 6.00. Rebate $2.10. To those who have catalogue we will give 42 coupons. Not good after Nov. 25, 1912.

Enclosed please find $..... for which credit me months' subscription and send me Booklovers' Coupons and Booklovers' Catalogue. Fill in number of coupons of each picture desired.

Name Street and No. City and State THIS COUPON NOT GOOD AFTER NOV. 25, 1912.

Use this Order Blank for Catalogue. Book Lovers Contest Editor, The Capital News, Boise, Idaho. Inclosed find 37 cents, for which mail me a Book Lovers Contest Catalogue. Name Street and No. City and State

THE DOCTOR'S ANSWERS ON HEALTH AND BEAUTY QUESTIONS

By DR. LEWIS BAKER. The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any drug store. No money is required; a druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Old Soldier" writes: "I would like to know what to do for rheumatism, as I am so crippled that I cannot walk. Please answer at once."

Answer: "Here is the best remedy for rheumatism that is known, and if taken according to directions will cure you on again and be strong and well. Get 2 drams of iodide of potassium; 4 drams sodium salicylate; one-half oz. wine of colchicum; 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol; 1 oz. comp. fluid balm; and herb medicines which act directly on the blood, purifying it, thus causing the elimination of colic, and the skin to become fresh and healthy looking. These sulphur tablets are packed in small boxes and can be bought at any drug store. They will also cure your kidney trouble and indigestion."

"Mrs. O."—The best remedy for bed-wetting in children is to give them 10 to 15 drops in water before meals of the following: Tincture cubeb, 1 dram; tincture thus aromatic, 2 drams; and comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.

"Audrey" writes: "For the past year I have suffered greatly with catarrh, which has affected my blood, stomach and bowels to such an extent that I suffer constantly. Can you tell me a cure?"

Answer: I heartily recommend the use of antiseptic vilane powder for the cure of catarrh. First ask your druggist for a 2 oz. package of vilane powder; then thoroughly cleanse your nostrils with the following wash: One pint of tepid water to which add several times a day by sniffing the water from the palm of the hand through the nostrils, after which make a balm by mixing a teaspoonful of vilane powder with one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply to the nostrils daily. Internal treatment for the stomach, bowels and blood should be used. Syrup sarsaparilla comp. 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; fluid ext. buchu, 1 oz. Mix and shake well and take a teaspoonful four times a day.

"Sorrowful May" says: "My scalp is covered with dandruff, my hair is oily and straggling. Please help me, so that I may look like other girls."

Answer: You can very easily "look like other girls" if you will get at the drug store a 4 oz. jar of yellow minoy and use it regularly according to the directions. However, it will cure your dandruff and make your hair soft and fluffy and make it grow. This treatment differs from all others and I have actually seen the most wonderful transformations when people have used this only two or three times.

"Ann" writes: "Could you prescribe something to increase my weight? I am tall and thin to such an embarrassing degree that I am frequently subjected to slighting remarks."

Answer: Hypo-Nucaine tablets have been prescribed with great success as indicated by gratifying letters from hundreds of girls who suffer as you do. These tablets can be purchased in sealed packages from any well-stocked drug store and full directions are given inside. These should be taken regularly for about two months, and you will be surprised to note the color in your cheeks and lips and your weight will increase from 15 to 30 pounds.—Adv.