

SEES NO REASONS FOR CONCESSIONS TO PROGRESSIVES

Chairman Gipson Believes Democrats Are Entitled to More Consideration at Hands of Governor-elect.

(Capital News Special Service) Caldwell, Nov. 25.—State Chairman James H. Gipson of the Progressive party, upon reading the interview given out by Governor-elect Haines and of the announcement of the appointment of Captain Davis as private secretary to the new governor, took occasion to declare that he could see no more reason why the governor-elect should declare in connection with his administration that he should consider Democrats, many of whom, Mr. Gipson declares, are closer to the Republican party than are the Progressives. Mr. Gipson declares that the appointment of Davis through whose instrumentalities effort was made to disfranchise the Progressives does not tend to indicate any desire on the part of the governor-elect to do the right thing by the Progressives. Mr. Gipson said: "Governor-elect John M. Haines, according to an interview, has allowed his expressed intention to ignore the Progressives, and Progressive doctrine, and has opened wide his arms to welcome the erring sheep back to the fold. He announces that the members of the Progressive party will be largely consulted in his appointments, and that every effort will be made to carry out the policies advocated by them within the Republican party. His First Step. "As a preliminary step in the harmony program, he has appointed Captain E. G. Davis secretary of the Republican state central committee, his private secretary. No doubt this appointment will be especially gratifying to the Progressives, in view of the fact that Captain Davis was especially active in the supreme court action which resulted in the barring from the ballot of the Roosevelt electors. As a further step to enfold the Progressives in his loving arms, the governor-elect will probably announce within the next week that the Allshie-Budge-McDougal combine has his hearty approval, and active support. This action would be in harmony with the governor's policy in so far as it has been manifested up-to-date, and the Progressives will no doubt join in kissing the rod that smote them. "The election is over, and it is the duty of all good citizens to lend the governor-elect their assistance in giving the state the proper administration. He made a surprising campaign, and was elected in the face of what appeared to be insurmountable obstacles, and may be pardoned a natural feeling of elation at the results. He could, however, with more judgment and equal justice, invite the Democrats to share the councils of his party, and recognize them in his appointments. There is much more in common between the conservative Democrats and the Republican party today than there could possibly be between the Progressive party and the Republicans. The fundamental difference between the Progressive party and the old parties seems to me to lie in the fact that the new-born second party lays the great stress upon the rights of humanity and the old parties pin their faith to the rights of property and the rule of the dollar. "These are troublesome times politically. The masses are awakening to a consciousness of their strength, and the most astounding manifestation of the impending change is the tremendous growth of the Socialist party in a campaign where a new and vigorous element was injected, having for its aim the same principles which largely animates the Socialists—the conservation of humanity. Notwithstanding this fact the Socialists more than doubled their vote. They are moving forward to ultimate victory with seven-league boot strides. Their platform, which promises much of benefit to humanity, contains at the same time so much undigested utopianism that their preponderance in governmental affairs can not be regarded as anything but a serious menace by the thoughtful citizen. Yet I venture the prediction that unless the affairs of government and honestly carries out its contract with the people, the Socialist party will be in the saddle in 1924.

Progressive Party's Mission. Under such economic conditions the attempt of the governor-elect to call back those Republicans who have left an empty shell for a new and forceful organization becomes almost pathetic. New parties are the product of social and economic conditions, and the Progressive party has a great mission to perform both in Idaho and in the nation. "It will never recede from the advanced stand that it has taken, but as a separate and distinct and dominant force in American politics, it will move forward to victory. With the Progressives, defeat is only an incident—a slight obstacle in the forward march. They have decided upon a certain policy after full consideration and a careful weighing of the arguments pro and con. With victory assured them in two short years in the state and in 1916 in the nation, no soldier of the common good will desert the Progressive standard at this time.

Preparing for Ghent Anniversary. New York, Nov. 25.—Plans for American participation in the celebration of the approaching centennial anniversary of the treaty of Ghent were discussed today at a meeting of the committee of arrangements in this city. The anniversary, which comes on Dec. 24, 1914, will mark the rounding out of one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. Many novel suggestions for the celebration have been received by the committee. Some of the proposals call for the holding of international peace conferences, the issue of memorial postage, coins and medals, the erection of peace monuments along the Canadian border and on the principal battle sites of the war of 1812, and a great marine peace parade through the great lakes from Buffalo to Duluth.

ONE ROUND FIGHT IN WHICH MACK GILLUM GETS THE DECISION

With police headquarters as an arena and Sergeant James O'Connor as time-keeper and referee, Mack Gillum, city poundmaster, and Robert Lansdon, former secretary of state, fought one fast and furious round late yesterday afternoon in which Gillum was given a decision, having had all the best of the fight from the tap of the gong. Lansdon led off in the fight with a left jab to the face. Gillum feinted with his left, sidestepped a vicious swing for the jaw and landed a hard right to Lansdon's face in which his ring scraped off the skin causing the gore to flow. Both fought cautiously the remainder of the round, Gillum landing on his man frequently and cleverly sidestepping some hard swings. Referee O'Connor separated the men who were in a clinch at the end of the round and escorted Lansdon to the emergency ward, where he washed up and left the building. The dispute between the men arose over an automobile running down a cow during the morning. Mr. Lansdon having been a passenger in the automobile and interested in its ownership. He resented some of the remarks made about the affair by Gillum and going to police headquarters to see him got into an argument which ended in a fight. It has developed that a man named Cox owned the cow which was injured and it is likely that he will bring suit either against the city or the automobile company to secure the value of the animal, which will likely have to be killed.

Contents for Water Rights. Washington, Nov. 25.—The Hetch Hetchy valley case, which the city of San Francisco has been pushing for years, came up for a final hearing today before Secretary Fisher of the department of the interior. The case involves San Francisco's rights to the Hetch Hetchy valley in Yosemite national park for use in connection with a great municipal aqueduct scheme. The project has been vigorously opposed by John Muir, the noted naturalist, and other persons interested in the scenic preservation of the Yosemite.

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When It Is Ill Don't Become Alarmed but Give This Fine Laxative.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts." The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mr. D. C. Head, Mgr. Head Drug Co., Ft. Worth, Tex., father of Clarence Carroll Head, and Mr. L. Sutton, 163 Alaska Place, Denver, Colo. They and others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly, when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment. It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 415 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

THE BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST AT THE BREAKFAST TABLE

The Contest Editor had just taken a seat at the breakfast table and the obliging waitress had taken his order for "Idaho" eggs and a "man's size" stack of wheat cakes when he heard the words "Booklovers' Contest" spoken at the next table. With us that means "Attention" these days! And for your benefit we will give you the substance of the conversation overheard at the breakfast table. The two people talking were evidently man and wife and the subject was picture No. 42 published on Saturday and the answers as outlined by them were: "The Servant In The House," "A Lonely Maid," "Maiden All Forlorn," "Servitude," "A Fair Maid," "Work And Win," "Women As They Are" and "Womanhood." And while we cannot tell them or you whether the correct answer is there or not, it brings out the advisability of exercising your right to extra answers very strongly, and also using the Official Catalogue as a guide in this Contest. Consult your Catalogue if you have one and you will see why that is true in the case of picture No. 42, and a good many others of those published so far. And to you who think he can go through the contest and win without the aid of the Catalogue we would say in a kindness and sincerity, "Do not try to do it." For we honestly believe that without the aid of the Catalogue you cannot even land in the "candy pile," to say nothing of your chances of landing in the "Gold Pile." And for your benefit we wish to call your attention to our offer of 10 free pictures with the Catalogue for 50 cents. That is the cost of the pictures and makes the Catalogue to you free of all cost. We are doing this so that no contestant will have an excuse to go through this Contest without the valuable aid the Catalogue will be to them in order to get their share of the $1500 we will give away in this delightful contest. Surely we are making it worth while for you to enter a contest in which you do not have to solicit or advertise, or beg your friends to vote for you in order to win a prize. This is a contest in which every member of the family can take a hand and all of them will enjoy the work. Of course only one member of a family can win a prize, but each member can submit a complete set of 10 answers to each picture if they desire to do so. That increases the chances of your family to take home that pile of Gold! And if you do not win, no one except yourself need know. But if you do win, we have some brand new type laid away, ready to herald the glad tidings broadcast! But why not win? All that Gold looks mighty good! Now Is The Right Time To Begin!

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save Your Hair! Danderine Destroys Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair at Once—Grows Hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair. Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fash, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you. Adv.
