The Woman Makes the Home

She makes it best who, looking after the culinary department, turns her back resolutely upon unhealthful, or even suspicious, food accessories. She is economical; she knows that true economy does not consist in the use of inferior meat, flour, or baking powder. She is an earnest advocate of home made, home baked food, and has proved the truth of the statements of the experts that the best cooking in the world today is done with Royal Baking Powder.

MAJOR REED HAS BEEN TENDERED PLACE BY HAINES

Understood That "Booster King" Will Accept Place of Immigration Commission From Governor-elect.

Major Fred R. Reed of Milner will probably be Idaho's next immigration commissioner, providing the next legislature does not abolish the office. It is claimed that Major Reed has been offered the appointment and he has consented to take it. As a publicity man he has a wider acquaintance than any other person in the state, due to his connection with the reclamation of southern Idaho arid lands. He has been associated with the Kuhns and their interests in the development of large irrigation projects. There may be found a peculiar situation in connection with the immigration commissioner's department if the expressions of members-elect of the next legislature are a guide, for many of them advise its abolishment or the taking away of its biennial appropriation. If steps along that line are taken and Major Reed or anyone else is appointed by Governor-elect Haines, they may find they are holding a sack. Although there is talk of "doing things" to the immigration commissioner's department, other members of the legislature declare that it will go no farther and that the department will not only be maintained in the future as it has in the past but will also be given an appropriation. Fire has been centered on the immigration commissioner's department, due to the alleged failure of the state to be represented at various land shows in different parts of the country, with exhibits. The present incumbent, Sam J. Rich, has received the greater part of this criticism.

MIDDLETON NEWS. (Capital News Special Service) Middleton, Dec. 4.—The funeral of Mrs. Henry Jaenberg, who died last Friday, was held Monday afternoon from the family home just west of town, who died last Friday, was held Monday afternoon from the family home just west of town, burial being in the Middleton cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Jaenberg came to Idaho from Cape Girardeau, Mo., last June for the benefit of her health, but they waited too long to secure relief before coming to this state. Mrs. Jaenberg died of tuberculosis at the age of 33 years. The German Lutheran pastor of Boise officiated at the funeral. Charles Stark is building a new four-room house in Middleton next door east to the home of his brother, to cost about $500. Miller & Perkins of Middleton have the building contract.

RESULT OF THE CITY ELECTION AT ONTARIO

(Capital News Special Service) Ontario, Ore., Dec. 4.—A very exciting city election here Monday for four councilmen, three to serve two years and one to serve one year, resulted in a victory for the present administration, "the Citizens' Progressive" ticket, by a majority of about two to one. This was the first time in the history of Ontario that women exercised the right of franchise, and there was some rivalry as to who should cast the first vote. Mrs. Martha Trow, wife of Mayor A. W. Trow, won the honor by being the first woman at the polls. Out of 380 votes cast there were only 11 defective ballots. The vote resulted: Citizens' Progressive—E. A. Fraser, 232; L. B. Frye, 219; A. Zimmerman, 258; J. H. Farley, 219. Citizens—G. L. King, 103; G. A. Pogue, 77; W. T. Sander, 124; S. F. Taylor, 135. Fraser, Farley and Zimmerman are at present members of the city council and were all re-elected. Frye was nominated in place of H. C. Boyers, who declined to run for another term.

Study of Housing Problems. Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—Sociologists, health officers and civic welfare workers from many cities gathered here today to attend the second National Conference on Housing in America, which concludes its session Friday. Questions relating to health and sanitation, overcrowding in lodging houses, workingmen's houses and their financing, the planning and building of garden cities, and the work of teaching the housing gospel to newly arrived immigrants are among the subjects for discussion by the members.

The Rose Funeral. The funeral of John A. Rose, who was killed on the Idaho Northern extension, was held here Monday from the Congregational church. A large concourse of friends followed the remains to the cemetery. Five of the pallbearers were fellow workmen who accompanied the body from the scene of the fatal tragedy. Improvement Operations Suspended. The Reliance Construction company of Portland, which has the contract for the cement sidewalks and street grading, has almost entirely suspended operations for the winter on account of the frozen condition of the ground. Gravel teams will be kept busy for some time, and as soon as possible in the spring the construction work will begin with largely increased forces.

HALE AT 82 AND A SUFFRAGIST STILL

Mrs. Beiva A. Lockwood, veteran champion of woman's rights, candidate of the Equal Rights party for president in 1884, and leading advocate of the bill permitting attorneys to practice in the supreme court, under the terms of which she was the first woman admitted to the bar of the country's highest tribunal, celebrated her 82nd birthday recently. She is still active and in excellent health, and is as militant a suffragist as ever.

DIRECTORS ELECTED BY BOISE Y. M. C. A.

Ninety-seven members of the Y. M. C. A. gathered about the banquet board in the association auditorium last evening, enjoyed a sumptuous turkey dinner, listened to able addresses and re-elected as directors of the institution for another year Dr. B. L. Glase, Dr. J. M. Taylor and W. J. Abbs and elected W. E. Graham as a new member of the board to take the place of Mr. Doolittle, who refused to serve a second term as he could not give the work the time he desired. The affair was one of the best annual meetings ever held at the association. Dr. B. L. Glase presided as master of ceremonies in the absence of Judge Dietrich and the following responded to toasts: Rev. Willis Martin, "The Association's Opportunity to Teach Men to Help Themselves;" Judge W. C. Duan-

"When Are You Going to Quit Marrying Them Off?"

That was the question asked the Contest Editor by one of our many fair contestants the other day. And do you know, the lady is a happy, contented married woman herself, and does not seem to have a care in the world these days except possibly the solution of the Capital News Booklovers' pictures. And from the way she carries the Catalogue with her wherever she goes we have an idea it is her one hobby. And she says she finds it worth while even if she only gets a box of candy. And it is the workers who consult the Official Catalogue and exercise their right to extra answers who are going to carry off the prizes in our delightful contest. And the others who think they are wise enough to take home a prize without the aid of the Catalogue will find themselves as far behind in this interesting race that they will be willing to pay $5.00 for a Catalogue in the next Booklovers' Contest they enter. And we will not feel a little bit sorry for them, either. For we have been preaching the gospel of that Catalogue to them ever since the first prize picture was published. And we have told them stories of our own and of the working contestants on the advisability of exercising their right to extra answers, until it seems there is little else to say on those two important subjects. And now, we are offering all of those who have not secured a Catalogue one free with an order for ten pictures and 50 cents. And we are also offering complete sets of 75 pictures at $2.00, any number, and as many of any number as you like, counting 75 to a set, with 10 extra to those who have purchased our Catalogue. And they will need extra answers if they hope to get in the gold pile, or take home that piano, the diamond ring or the Victor Victrola at Sampson's. And that is only a few of the prizes that we are spending $1500 for, in order to make the contest one worth while. And if there are any among you who have an idea you will see your name in the winners' list by holding down to one answer on each picture, then our advice given in all sincerity and kindness is, do not expect even a taste of that candy pile! For if you are as wise as Solomon was reputed to be, we do not think you can win with one answer. Of course, there are a number of pictures that we published that you might hit it with the right one. But an average of six on each picture will be more like it. Buy a complete set while we have them at $2.00 and you will see that we know what we are talking about. Besides, that will give you three weeks more time to study out the answers and mark those you will need to turn in extra answers on. That offer positively closes at midnight, Dec. 5. No more at that price after that. Now is the Right Time to Begin!

ANSWERS TO QUERIES. J. L. M., Caldwell. Q. Can I send you a check for five sets of prize pictures, taking three of them now and the other two when I decide how many of each number I will need? Ans. Yes, you can, if you are willing to take chances on being short a few of the numbers. We will set aside the two sets for you and are setting aside a number of complete sets to try and properly take care of requests like yours. J. S. R. Nampa. Q. Will you have any special offer for complete sets of pictures any lower than the one you are now running? Ans. No, we will not. That offer is more generous than is usually made in contests of this nature. With the extra answers you are entitled to you can surely win one of the prizes. R. Twin Falls. Q. I would like to ask how long after Dec. 27 we will have to get our answers in, as if we have to send them in immediately after the last picture is published it would throw us out-of-town contestants out entirely. Ans. Do not worry about that. We will give you at least three weeks after the last picture is published to get your answers in. We are mailing you the coupons desired. Do not send any in until we announce the date on which they will be received. Mrs. G. H. Allen. The free offer of coupons that you speak of was only on paid in advance subscriptions, and we are mailing you coupons for the months paid in advance. If you will look at our offer again, you will see we are right. Miss S. J., Pocatello, Idaho. Cut out this answer and send it in with your order for the ten pictures. We are mailing you the complete set today.

work among boys and men, the association was an institution of economy in the state and city. He emphasized the need of a larger home for Boise and predicted that it would be but the matter of a few years before larger quarters must be secured. The newly elected board will meet Monday for organization and to appoint the committees for the association for the ensuing year.

bar, "The Opportunity of the Association to Teach Men to Help Others;" O. W. Worthwine, "The Game and the Game of Life." A delightful solo was rendered by T. W. Zimmerman. J. P. Pope, chosen for the subject, because of his peculiar fitness, spoke on "Bachelors" in a manner which caused the benedictines some envy and anxiety. Harry W. Arnold closed the address with a talk on "Economic Causes for the Associ-

THE CAPITAL NEWS HAS ARRANGED FOR FOUR ADDITIONAL HUNTING ARTICLES

By Colonel Theodore Roosevelt
First Article Will Appear Sunday, December 8th

Dec. 8—"WITH THE COUGAR HOUNDS" tells of a five weeks' cougar hunt in northwest Colorado. Mr. Roosevelt and his party killed fourteen of these savage panthers and much other game, the ex-president alone shooting five bobcats. The narrative is full of interest, each move in the hunt being described with graphic distinctness.

Dec. 15—"A COLORADO BEAR HUNT" Colonel Roosevelt tells of his first bear hunt with hounds, his previous ventures being with rifle alone. In mid-April, with John Goff and Jake Borah as guides, and with a pack of 26 hounds, the party went in search of bears, and the author's account of what happened makes delightful reading.

Dec. 22—"WOLF COURSEING" describes a hunt for coyotes in Oklahoma with a party of ranchmen and cowboys. John Abernathy, famous hunter and father of the celebrated kids, was in the company. Several days of coyote hunting on the open prairie and an entertaining account of camp life, with cow punchers and hunters for companions. Much interesting information concerning the curious prairie wolf.

Dec. 29—"IN THE LOUISIANA CANEBRAKES" is the record of a fortnight spent in bear hunting in the swamps. For several days the party finds plenty of game—good game—but no bears. At last, however, Colonel Roosevelt gets his bear, a monstrous she-bear, and the way he tells of it makes a story worth reading.
