

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO TO HAVE A NEW COURSE

Announcement Made That Five Months' Study in Creamery Work Will Be Taken Up.

Great Increase in Value of Dairy Products Makes it Imperative They Be Properly Handled by Trained Men.

The University of Idaho will have another new and practical course—five months training in creamery work. This announcement is authorized by the "News Letter," published by the university, a copy of which has been received by the state department of education. The announcement follows:

The opportunities for men well trained along dairy manufacturing lines are particularly numerous and inviting just now. The growing demands of the industry and the reduction in the number of available men through selective draft and enlistments have made the supply of adequately trained men unequal to the demand. During the past season this shortage of men has been a source of embarrassment to many creamery concerns. The situation promises to be much more serious next spring.

OPEN OCT. 22.

In the attempt to aid in the solution of this problem, the University of Idaho desires to call attention to the five months creamery course, the first term of which opens on Oct. 22. The instruction given in this course consists of lectures and laboratory practice in the manufacturing, handling and marketing of butter, cheese, ice cream and the other dairy products. In the university creamery, practical commercial methods are followed and the training and practice which the student receives are calculated to qualify him to fill responsible positions in the manufacturing departments of commercial concerns.

With the great increase in the value of dairy products, it is more imperative than ever that they be properly handled by trained and experienced men. The young man who desires to take a part in this great industry which furnishes 18 per cent of the human food supply of the United States should be influenced very strongly by the present exceptional opportunities for service to prepare himself for a more responsible position and at the same time he may be assured that he is doing that which will make him of greater service to his country along food conservation lines.

Inquiries regarding this course will receive prompt and careful attention. A catalog of information may be obtained by addressing a request to the department of dairying, University of Idaho, Moscow.

HOLD GOOD POSITIONS.

Regarding positions held by agricultural graduates the "News Letter" says:

Grover D. Turnbow, who completed the work of the College of Agriculture in 1915, specializing in dairying, has been selected for instructional work in dairy manufacturing at the Washington State college. This is a responsible position and a merited recognition of Mr. Turnbow's ability and training.

R. R. Groninger, of the university's 1917 class in agriculture, specializing in animal husbandry, has been selected for important work in the United States Bureau of Farm Markets. Mr. Groninger's work will be largely with the statistical and classification side of livestock and marketing.

George A. Scott, a graduate of the Agricultural college in 1914, specializing in animal husbandry, has been with the Bureau of Animal Industry for the past three years. He has just been assigned horse purchasing work for the United States army, with the rank of captain.

C. F. Johnson, 1916, and O. W. Johnson, 1917, have purchased a fine quarter section of irrigated land in the Snake river valley, two miles from Idaho Falls.

NO TEN DOLLAR BEANS.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 8.—Ten dollar beans were dealt a knockout blow in a telegram received today by W. J. Orr, federal bean chief, from Armour and company, of Chicago. The Big Chicago packing company, through Fred C. Lleyellyn, Grand Rapids, president of a bean company bearing his name, which is the bean division of Armour, offered warehouses, elevators and services to the government. This raps action of the Michigan Bean Growers' association, which decided $8.50 a bushel should be wholesale price for the Michigan crop.

DENIED RIGHT TO APPEAL.

Washington, Oct. 8.—E. T. Thurston, Galveston, Texas, was denied by the supreme court today an appeal from decisions of lower federal courts finding him guilty of violating the Harrison drug act. After Thurston had once pleaded, he sought to have his conviction and sentence overruled. The courts would not allow this.

Medical Advice on Blood Troubles Given Free by Expert Authority

Costs Nothing for Opinion of Your Own Case.

Everyone recognizes the value of expert opinion. This is the age of specialization, and when we have work of importance to be done, we go to an expert in his line.

Years ago it was realized that medicine covered too broad a field for any one man to master its every branch. Hence, the doctor who specialized in some particular branch became the most proficient and the most successful.

The wonderful success of the great blood remedy, S. S. S., is due largely to the fact that it has not been recommended as a cure-all, but strictly for those diseases having their origin in a disordered condition of the blood. For more than half a century it has been used with highly satisfactory results for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, Tetter, and other blood diseases.

Our medical director, who is an expert on blood and skin diseases, offers his services without cost to all who wish his aid. You are invited to write him fully about your own individual case, and he will gladly give you such directions for treatment as your case requires.

You can obtain S. S. S. at any drug store. Don't be persuaded to take a substitute. If you wish medical advice, address Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., 509 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

STUDENTS FINISH STATE LAND SALES WORK OF PICKING AND PACKING FRUIT IN TWO COUNTIES

Good Records Made by Boys and Girls in the 14 Days They Helped the Prune Growers.

The career of the Boise high school students in the line of picking and packing prunes has ended for the time being. The students, who were organized into teams of 10 each, with a captain appointed from that number, have earned the confidence that Harvey Allred had in them when he requested the high school to aid the farmers in preserving the fruit crop. All these teams were ordered to report at school on Monday as usual. The final report was made out Saturday night.

Fourteen days were spent in either picking or packing prunes by the students. During this time the total earnings were $2741.80. The total amount of prunes picked were 267 tons and the amount 146 tons. As many as 330 pupils were engaged at one time in this labor. However, the average number excused each day for such work was 100. Over 500 students were organized for this—300 girls and 200 boys.

The girls who, on the whole, gave greater satisfaction to the fruit growers, received an average wage of $1.30 per diem. A few of the girls picked, but the majority packed. They are given credit for being more careful in their work and more easily managed than the boys. The average earning of the boys per diem was $1.70, or 20 cents per hour, although some of the more skillful earned from 40 to 50 cents an hour. The average price paid for packing was 5 1/2 cents per crate, and for picking 17 1/2 cents per box.

THE BEST RECORDS.

The teams which made the best records in attendance and income were No. 15, Rolla Long, captain; No. 9, Elmer Davidson, captain; No. 29, Charles Rodds, captain; No. 7, Harvey Laughlin, captain; No. 12, Inez Callaway, captain; No. 13, Florence Allebaugh, captain; No. 64, Rubie Smith, captain; and No. 50, Evelyn Mattress, captain. The star pickers were Elmer Swendsen, George Morrow, Rolla Long, Stanley McBirney and Wayne Empey. The champion packers were Maude Hunter, Rubie Smith, Cathrine Becker, Carolyn Paffie and Walter Hicks.

The students have proved highly satisfactory to the growers and many expressions of appreciation for their work have been received by Mr. Young.

PRaises CONDUCT OF TROOPS ABROAD

Lieut. Col. Samuel T. Ansell.

Lieut. Col. Samuel T. Ansell, acting judge advocate general in the army, in a recent interview declared that only seventeen trials by court-martial had been held among the thousands of American troops in France. For the most part these were for trivialities. "Were it fully advised, the country would take great pride in the ever-decreasing necessity for resort to punitive measures in the maintenance of the highest military standards in our army," says Colonel Ansell.

BOOKKEEPING SYSTEM WILL BE THE BEST

State Auditor Returns From Inspection Trip of Books in Five States and Likes Own Plan the Best.

Idaho's Land Will Eventually Bring Into Coffers of State Grand Total of $125,000,000—Does Not Show on Books Now.

State Auditor Clarence Van Deusen returned Sunday from a trip to the capitals of five states where he investigated the bookkeeping systems used. He is satisfied that the one he plans to inaugurate for Idaho is a decided improvement over them all and will be greatly superior to any state he visited, offering as it does a complete check so that all leaks will be stopped and it will be made practically impossible to embezzle funds. The state auditor believes that the endowment funds of Idaho will eventually reach a grand total of $125,000,000, none of which shows on the books at the present time.

The purpose of Auditor Van Deusen's trip was to investigate bookkeeping systems used in other states and to gather such valuable suggestions as he could to improve the bookkeeping system he will install for Idaho under legislative authority. Speaking of his trip he said:

NOTHING ON BOISE CLIMATE.
"I returned yesterday afternoon from a two weeks' trip to the capitals of Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington. This trip was made for the purpose of investigating the various methods of bookkeeping used by our sister states. I was treated with the greatest consideration by the officials of these states whom I had occasion to meet. I have had all kinds of climate thrust upon me, and have seen some very fine cities, but I am very frank to say that I would rather live in Boise than any city I have seen."

"I have seen only one state; namely: Washington, in which the bookkeeping method would satisfy me at all, and I am frank to state that the set of books which Idaho will have after we get our new books installed, will be superior to any state that I have visited. This statement is based upon my 34 years as a bookkeeper, and 17 years as an expert accountant. I investigated the state auditors' offices in five states; the Industrial Insurance bookkeeping method in the state of Washington, and several other departments of minor nature."

ENDOWMENT FUNDS.
"The most interesting thing I found on the trip was the amount of endowment funds which these various states will have when their state land has all been sold. In Utah, Nevada, California and Oregon combined, the total endowment will not be above $30,000,000 for the four states. This is due to the fact that most of their land has been sold from $1.50 to $2 per acre. In the state of Washington, however, the minimum price is the same as in the state of Idaho, $10 per acre. Their fund amounts to nearly $15,000,000 at the present time, and will eventually reach $100,000,000. The state of Idaho has about 16,000 more square miles within its boundaries than Washington, and naturally has more school sections to sell, and our endowment funds. I know, should eventually reach $125,000,000. This enormous sum does not show, in any way, shape, or manner, on the books of the state of Idaho at the present time, but I expect that next year it will show, and it is my intention to install such a set of books that no one in the future will dare to tamper with them."

TO SEND REPRESENTATIVE.

"I might state that I spent two days in San Francisco while on this trip, but that I paid the expenses out of my own pocket. The state of Utah has promised to send two men to Boise next year to look over our new books; the state of Nevada two men, and the state of Washington one man. These visits have been promised because these state officers agreed with me that the set of books we are going to install would be worth seeing. I found in the state of Washington that they have a bureau of inspection which audits the books of every state institution, every state department, every county, every city, every village, and all school districts, where they are employing 30 people. In Idaho there is simply myself and one deputy. If the state of Idaho would employ 10 people, under my direction, the amount of money which would be saved through the elimination of carelessness, negligence and criminal work, would be such an amount as to be almost staggering. The trouble in this state is that the voters still look upon bookkeeping as a political instead of a business proposition."

BLOW SAFE TO GET BALL GAME TICKETS

Chicago, Oct. 8.—SI Mayer, secretary of the police department, and Fred Anderson, manager of a local semi-pro team, blew a safe to get tickets for yesterday's world series game, it was learned today.

The tickets belonged to Mayer. He left them with "Blind Gus," a cigar store proprietor, for safe keeping. Gus locked them in his safe.

When time for the game approached, Mayer and Anderson discovered Gus had gone to the park himself, and none of his employees knew the combination to the safe.

They dashed to police headquarters, "borrowed" an expert crackman, dashed back to Gus' and sicked the crackman on the safe.
