HERZOG TO THE BRAVES; DOYLE TO THE GIANTS

Baseball Trade That Gives Little Promise to Either Side to the Transaction, in Opinion of Expert.

By H. C. HAMILTON.
New York, Jan. 9.—The Giants again have been David Harmed.
Charley Herzog today is a Brave once more. Larry Doyle again is a Giant. Larry brings with him a young right-handed pitcher—Jess Barnes—who, if he gets along as other good right-handers have in the last 12 months at the Polo grounds, will have the opportunity of saying at the end of next season that the signs on the fence are fine.
Larry Doyle cannot give the Giants any assistance. His acquisition might be said to be practically a liability if he is assigned to the regular task of covering second base. Unless John McGraw is equal to the job of digging up a young infielder to take the place of Herzog at second, there isn't a chance for the Giants to finish out in front in 1918, unless something happens to their stronger competitors.
Doyle is practically through as a star. His arm isn't good any more. His batting eye is dimmed and he never was a whale as a fielder.
On the other hand, Herzog will not benefit the Braves so much as may be suspected. He will supply a need in Boston, but he won't make the Braves pennant contenders by several feet.
It may be that the trade was consented to by McGraw because he wanted a man of Doyle's temperament on his club. Larry's personality, his irresistible good nature, will keep the Braves away and McGraw may need that kind of a man.

BARRIEAU-M'KAY BOXING BOUT TO TAKE PLACE HERE

Promoter Collins Has Agreement With Welterweights to Stage Battle for Pacific Northwest Championship.

The two clever welterweights, Frank Barrieau, Canadian champion and Gordon McKay, of Portland, will probably definitely settle the mooted question as to which is entitled to the welter-weight championship of the Pacific northwest for Promoter Nick Collins has secured their consent to meet here the latter part of the present month. There is just one condition attached to the match but it is important. Promoter Collins must have a guarantee of several hundred dollars from fans on the advance sale of tickets. He started soliciting among the faithful today and so far has met with excellent success.
AGREE TO FIGHT.
Barrieau is now down in California and wants a guarantee to make the trip to Boise. His next bout is on Jan. 19. McKay is at Salt Lake where he boxes Monday. Telegrams received from both give assurance they will come here if their guarantees are met. The total expense to the match will be between $500 and $600, Promoter Collins states. He is confident that fans will back him in his plans.
Salt Lake and other promoters have been trying to bring Barrieau and McKay together but have never succeeded in doing so. After McKay appeared here several times, fans were so pleased with the showing he made they insisted that every effort be made to get a match for him with Barrieau, whose ring ability is widely known throughout this section of the state. Collins opened negotiations. Last night he received word that both boys would come here under stiff guarantees. It is to make good these guarantees that Collins is now hustling among the fans.
WILL BE REAL CLASS.
Barrieau needs no introduction to the faithful. He is recognized as one of the cleverest boxers in any class who has stepped into the ring in this city. The best boys in the country that could be found were matched against him and he was always able to take care of them.
McKay, while not as well known as Barrieau, has proven that he is as clever and that when they meet, two of the best welterweights in the country will be pitted against one another. Both boys follow very similar tactics in the ring and are not only clever with their heads, but their hands and feet. The match should attract a packed house for, from a class standpoint, none better has ever been promised for Boise.

THE PERKINS FAMILY ALBUM.

SAMUEL PERKINS, ESQ., Father of "Polly" of "Polly and Her Pals."

It is a long cry from Birch, Minn., to New York City, but this is the route Mr. Samuel Perkins followed to his present important position as assistant manager of a large cheese factory. As an evidence of Sam's acumen and business ability, it may be stated that he and his boss are sworn pals, and therefore his job is assured indefinitely.
Sam is a typical pater familias—henpecked, relative-ridden, daughter-dominated. But, like a typical American dad, he endures all this, eats fifteen-cent lunches to save for a fur coat for Polly, eschews the pool and poker club (occasionally), bows to the yoke of Mrs. Samuel's domestic ideas—and likes it. In fact, as is the case with his thousandfold counterpart in this land of liberty, he wouldn't be thoroughly happy otherwise.

STUPID BASEBALL MEETING IS OVER

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 9.—The dearest baseball meeting of the winter season was just as good as over today.
Before coming here for the national commission's session, baseball magnates made considerable talk about trades they were going to make. Then they came here and made more talk, but no trades.
Most of them have gone home. Ban Johnson, John Heydler and Barney Dreyfuss, the big league schedule makers, are still here, working on the playing dates, while John Farrell and a few other minor leaguers, are hanging around hoping to get Johnson and Garry Herrmann to do something for the benefit of the small leagues.
The commission re-elected Herrmann chairman and John Bruce secretary and smoothed over the troubles that remained from the federal league settlement. But they aren't telling how this settlement was made.
Division of the world's series players' money, as announced in a statement by Herrmann to the United Press last week, was decided upon by the commission.
