

SENATOR BORAH NOT CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

Young Teddy Roosevelt Coming to Front as Political Possibility; Harding Boom Punctured.

(Capital News Special Service.) Washington, April 24.—Senator William E. Borah has been strongly urged since his return from the recent speaking tour of the middle west to get into the race for the Republican nomination for president next year, it is learned from the most trustworthy sources.

To all these importunings, it is learned, he has replied that he does not wish to be regarded as a candidate, advancing the belief that even if he were so inclined, his candidacy, active or implied, would destroy the effectiveness of his fight against the league of nations in which his heart is set. He has been assured of much support in several of the big eastern states that will be formidable in the next national Republican convention. In New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts there is considerable demand for him to throw his hat in the ring, the theory being that his candidacy would have united support in the west which, with the support assured in these big eastern states, would give him the advantage of nationwide endorsement from the start. His candidacy, it is argued, would have none of the favorite son flavor which so far is the most that can be said of many of those whose names have been mentioned. It is doubtful, however, that the Idaho senator will consent to have himself considered as a candidate.

HUGHES MAY BE NAMED.

It is already evident that if a Republican administration is elected next year there will be a general demand that Charles Evan Hughes be put back on the supreme court bench, that is, if he will accept the place again. Mr. Hughes made a great governor and equally great justice of the supreme court and as a private citizen and practicing lawyer he has earned the respect and admiration of many who did not care for him when he was the Republican candidate for president two years ago. He never was a politician, he is not a politician now and it is the least of his ambition to be regarded as a politician. This fact all of the east knew in 1916 and that is why the big states of the east stood by him so loyally. And even his political enemies will not say that he did not conduct a candid and sincere campaign for the presidency. He has not had to reverse himself on any position taken at that time.

FORMER PRESIDENT LOOMS.

Former President Howard Taft doubtless will go to the supreme court bench also if a republican is elected president. The demand for his appointment to the bench comes now from Democrats, as well as Republicans, but there is no chance that he will receive an appointment from this administration. It is against President Wilson's policy to appoint Republicans to the supreme court, although Mr. Taft as president was generous with the Democrats in filling judicial positions, basing his appointments upon qualifications, rather than upon fealty to a political party.

ROOSEVELT IS POSSIBILITY.

Young Teddy Roosevelt is coming to the front rapidly as a political possibility. Teddy is showing much of the punch that his father possessed and he has come back from France with a war record equalling that of his famous parent at San Juan Hill. And to the veterans of the world war he appears to be the same idol that his father was to the men who fought in Cuba and the Philippines. He is in constant demand to address gatherings of the soldiers newly returned from France, and in almost every movement of the soldiers looking to their own improvement or welfare, there is a sort of a feeling that Teddy must be consulted before anything definite is done.

HARDING BOOM PUNCTURED.

The Harding presidential boom which is about the biggest thing on the political horizon just at this time has suffered a little puncture in the last ten days or two weeks by the loss of the leading political Republican influences of Pennsylvania to Senator James E. Watson of Indiana. Watson is not fully determined to be a candidate. In fact, it looks very much like he can not well afford to abandon a certain re-election to the senate, but he just can not help toying with the presidency. He is a splendid organizer and consequently the political

SEVERE TEST SHOWS HOW TO SAVE SHOES

"A molder in our foundry wore a pair of shoes with Neolin Soles every day for ten months and two weeks—both in the foundry, and to and from his work—and they are just worn out." The Sessions Foundry Company of Bristol, Connecticut, makes this report on a pair of Neolin-soled molder's shoes given them for test.

Neolin Soles have none of the shortcomings of other soles. They do not burn or crack under conditions such as these—nor do they wear out quickly under the grind of abrasive materials. They are made by Science to be especially tough and durable, will stand the roughest kind of usage and so wear longer and save money. Moreover, they are comfortable and waterproof.

You can get them on new shoes in many styles for men, women and children—or as re-soles. They are manufactured by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

game is easy for him. It is asserted by his friends that he would be assured of the support of Pennsylvania, Indiana, Connecticut and Maine the instant he would announce his candidacy. It is not believed, however, that he will take the chances, and furthermore it is doubted that he could muster any worth-while following in the west which many of the shrewder Republican leaders are anxious to please in the selection of a candidate next year.

CHAMBERLAIN BUSY

Being daddy to 3,000,000 enlisted soldiers is a big job, at least Senator Chamberlain of Oregon finds it so. And besides all of the enlisted men who look to him as their champion, there is something like two-thirds of the commissioned officers who lean on him to a great extent. Besides other responsibilities which his position carries, Senator Chamberlain finds another that takes much of his time and thought and energies. Nearly every organization of every character whatever these days has returned soldiers or soldiers' wives as members. These organizations are always looking for some person or note to address them. These soldier members can be depended upon to mention Senator Chamberlain as their first choice and what the soldiers say goes. As a consequence invitations are pouring in to Senator Chamberlain from everywhere urging him to come and make a speech. The invitations say that he can choose his subject because they will be glad to hear whatever he may have to say on any topic. The biggest task of his office therefore is to write expressing the senator's appreciation and his profound regret at being unable to be everywhere at the same time. And strangely, many of these invitations come from New Jersey and Ohio, the homes of Woodrow Wilson and Newton Baker respectively.

IDAHO NEWS IN BRIEF

BURLEY

A man named Gaulco is at the Burley hospital, in a serious condition, as the result of a wound five inches deep in his back, caused by a broken piece of windshield being driven into his back when a car in which he was riding turned turtle.

RUPERT

Edward Wold, owner of the Project pool hall, was held up and snugged by a masked robber at 12:30 a. m. while on his way home. Mrs. Wold was with him. Using his gun as a club, the bandit struck Mr. Wold over the head, stunning him and inflicting an ugly wound.

TWIN FALLS

Robert Peavey, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peavey, was instantly killed when he was struck down by a truck driven by Leonard Bradley as he was trying to cross the street.

BONNERS FERRY

E. F. Ward, track watchman for the Great Northern railroad at Leonia, was found dead by the side of the Great Northern tracks, about a mile and a half west of Leonia. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that Ward had come to his death from heart failure.

JEROME

A heating stove at the Jerome hotel "blew up," according to the popular acceptance, although technically it was something within the stove that exploded. While the damage is considerable, it is fortunate that none of the McKenzie family or guests of the house were hurt.

WALLACE

Walter Healy, a lumberjack, was brought to a Wallace hospital suffering from injuries received when a log rolled over him while he was working on Latour creek near Cataldo.

WEISER

Thomas Pappis, a Green-section hand working on the Pacific & Idaho Northern railway, was killed near Council last Friday when he fell from a handcar upon which he was riding. It is believed that the car ran over Pappis after he had fallen.

WEISER

Another motor sales and service station for Weiser, second to none in the state, is announced by W. A. Fulkerson. The location of the new building will be announced next week.

WEISER

John C. Neeley was painfully injured when he accidentally stumbled and fell on a harrow, the jagged tongs striking him in two or three places in the face. Four stitches.

RUPERT

The farm bureau has appointed a temporary board of directors who will have arrangements in hand for organizing a co-operative cheese factory for Rupert.

IDAHO FALLS

A. A. Bramwell, Jr., of the Gates Half Sole Service station, is suffering from a badly burned hand. Vulcanizing a tire, gasoline ignited.

JEROME

J. M. Fine had an accident while plowing that resulted in two broken ribs. He fell over backwards from a gang plow, striking on a wheel.

MACKAY

Lorane Phelan, of the Middle Fork of the Salmon, suffered a broken leg last week, the result of a bad fall.

"The sovereign drink of pleasure and of health"

COFFEE

Whether or not prohibition prevail, we shall always want—coffee

Coffee has become the most popular beverage in the world, simply because it appeals to a natural taste rather than to an acquired appetite. It serves both as food and drink.

Public opinion is now, ever was, and ever shall be strongly and emphatically in favor of coffee. It is approved by men and women everywhere—by all classes—by all America.

Coffee is the comfort and solace of the millions. It is cheering, soothing, sustaining and satisfying. Who will deny its rare charm and rich flavor? Who can resist the aroma, the "bouquet" of a fragrant cup of good coffee?

Coffee is a man's drink. A comfy, chummy, clubby drink—a social, convivial, "good-fellow" drink. Wherever men meet to dine or deliberate—there is coffee.

So, naturally, coffee is enthroned. The good old-fashioned coffee-houses are already being revived, the meeting place of the millions; where men and women, too, may find rest, refreshment, relaxation and good company.

NAME PRESENT WEEK TO TEST MACHINERY

Farmers Over State Busily Engaged Making Repairs and Necessary Improvements—Tractors Paying Investment.

Farmers in all parts of Idaho are carefully inspecting their farm machinery, for the present week—April 20 to 26—is "Power Farming Week" and was so officially designated by Governor Davis. Power farming in Idaho has come to stay, machinery doing the hard work horses were required to perform.

The agricultural experiment station of the University of Idaho announces a survey in this state has brought out the following facts about power farming.

About 69.8 per cent of the owners in Idaho declared their tractor a paying investment.

Those purchasing machines and using them in 1917, reported about 85 per cent profitable.

Those machines which did not pay their own way failed for the following reasons:

Unskilled operators resulting in cut out cylinders, broken parts, delay in the busy season and disappointment with the machine.

Wrong selection of machine. Too small a machine resulting in its being overloaded. A small machine does not materially increase the amount of work which one man can do and so some of the advantage is lost.

Idaho farms of less than 360 acres favor the three plow size. 351 to 800 farms have proven the 30-60 to be a profitable size. On the larger ranches, the larger machines have been successful.
