

WEEK OF MUSIC AND PAGEANTRY PLANNED FOR BOISE IN MAY

Opens Next Sunday When Pastors Will Be Asked to Devote Part of Their Services to Subject.

SING REDEMPTION MONDAY

Soloists and Chorus Will Repeat Oratorio Tuesday—Theo Karle, Great American Tenor Will Give Recital Wednesday

Boise is going to have a music and pageantry week this year. Behind it is a committee of the Boise Commercial club working with various civic organizations of the city to make the festival of 1919 a success in a small way and to work for larger things for 1920.

On Sunday, May 11, the pastors of Boise's churches will be asked to devote a small portion of the regular morning service to emphasizing the importance of music, not alone in sacred services, but also as a factor in community life and patriotic expression.

ORATORIO MONDAY-TUESDAY

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 12 and 13, at 8:30 p. m. prominent soloists of the intermountain country, together with the Boise civic chorus, under the direction of Eugene A. Farrler, will present one of the greatest of the world's oratorios, "The Redemption," the work of Charles Gounod, a famous French composer. No admission charge will be made and each evening it is anticipated that the auditorium of the First Methodist church, which has been donated for this civic use, will be filled to capacity. The church auditorium was obtained because of the fact that a fine pipe organ and a large orchestra are indispensable to the proper rendition of this great piece of music.

FAMOUS TENOR TO SING

On Wednesday evening Theo Karle, the great American tenor, will appear in recital at the Pinney theatre. Karle is a Seattle man, who received his musical training in the great northwest, and who was received with memorable enthusiasm by the critics and music-lovers of New York City.

On Thursday evening a concert will be given for the benefit of the Society for the Friendless, whose mission is to rehabilitate in the normal activities of civic life, men who have been discharged from the state penitentiary.

SONG FESTIVAL

Friday will be the last day of the festival. Friday evening will be an evening of light and song. A general procession and promenade will form and march on Main street and Eighth street, proceeding to the eastern grounds of the state capital park. Automobiles and promenaders will carry colored lights and lanterns of varying degrees of picturesqueness. The trees on the capital grounds will be decorated by the Idaho Power company with cadmium lights and large globe lights will hang from many of the trees. The beautiful elms and maples at the eastern end of the grounds make the location a fine one for community lantern-light singing. Those who have them will carry pocket electric flash lights, which give a pretty fiery effect at night. Led by the Boise municipal band, and the Boise civic and Boise male choruses those assembled at the capital grounds will sing popular and patriotic songs. The committee of the Boise Commercial club which is developing the festivities for music and pageantry week, will be glad to receive practical suggestions from anyone in Boise or vicinity which may tend to make more successful the festival held this year.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

DISTRICT COURT.
Two informations, charging the sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes were filed in district court Saturday. The defendants named are: Charles Lowden in one complaint and Mrs. R. Moultrie in the other. The defendants recently had preliminaries and were bound over from the justice court to stand trial in district court.

Assault with intent to do great bodily harm is the charge made in an information filed against Arch Matthews and H. Matthews in the district court by E. S. Delana, prosecuting attorney. The defendants were arrested upon complaint of L. L. Folsom, whom it is alleged they assaulted and beat up on his ranch on March 23, 1919.

The divorce complaint in which Frank H. Jackson is plaintiff and Florence Evelyn Jackson, defendant was dismissed by Judge McCarthy Saturday upon motion of the plaintiff at her costs. Cruelty was the charge made.

Alta R. Dickens secured a divorce from Clarence A. Dickens on the grounds of non-support. The decree was granted Saturday afternoon by Judge Reddoch, who restored the plaintiff to her maiden name of Alta R. Strickland. The plaintiff testified she had made her living for more than a year and had ridden the range in the Bruneau country.

Martha J. Lillie was granted a divorce from John H. Lillie on the grounds of cruelty. Judge Reddoch granted the decree.

Judgment in the sum of $1950 was allowed by Judge Reddoch Saturday in the damage suit in which O. W. Alger is plaintiff and Hank Baldwin, defendant. The case was the outgrowth of the defendant driving his automobile into a rig in which the plaintiff and his children were riding Dec. 24, 1918. His son was badly injured, his back being hurt in such a way as to make him a nervous wreck.

An echo of the old Horseshoe Bend townsite foreclosure case was heard in district court Saturday when Blanche Spiegel, one of the trustees of the Horseshoe Bend townsite company, moved to set aside the default foreclosure granted some time ago on the ground that she was not served with a summons. It was also moved to strike the motion on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction pending the decision of appeal to the supreme court.

TONG WAR FEARED IN BOISE BECAUSE CHINESE AROUSED

Celestials Resent Acquittal of Men Accused of Assault—Police Protection Asked For.

Consternation reigns among the Chinese of Boise.

Since the acquittal Tuesday night of Billy Haug and Charles Fong, who were tried for the robbery of Wong Hong, a Chinese laundryman of Cascade, trouble among the two tong societies has been brewing.

Fear of a killing led the Chinese to appeal to the police for protection Saturday night. Several men were added to the police force to keep close watch on the Chinese colony and prevent any trouble which the frightened Mongolians fear will break out at any time.

Wong Hong, an aged Chinaman, who is a prominent member of one of the warring societies, was knocked down and robbed of $200 in Boise on January 19. He was so badly used up that it was necessary to transfuse blood into his veins to keep him alive. Later he recovered and had placed under arrest two Chinamen, whom he identified as his assailants. Maintaining that justice miscarried, members of his tong are said to have sworn vengeance and there has been an uneasy feeling in the Chinese colony since the acquittal occurred.

The police hope to keep down an uprising and a close watch will be maintained upon the Chinese for a number of days.

CABINET MEETING

Governor Issues Call for Heads of New State Government to Meet Saturday.

Governor Davis has issued a call for the initial meeting of the new state government cabinet to be held next Saturday afternoon at his office. This will be the first time that all of the cabinet members have been in conference. Affairs in connection with the future operation of the government will be discussed, reports made by cabinet members and further plans for co-operating and coordinating considered.

The members of the cabinet to whom the call was issued are: Miles Cannon, commissioner of agriculture; J. K. White, commissioner of public welfare; Secretary of State R. O. Jones, commissioner of law enforcement; Jay Gibson, commissioner of commerce and industry; William J. Hall, commissioner of public works; C. A. Elmer, commissioner of investments; Guy Bowman, commissioner of finance; O. H. Barber, commissioner of immigration, labor and statistics; W. G. Swendsen, commissioner of reclamation.

REGISTRATION FOR BOND ISSUE CLOSES; 3500 ARE LISTED

Activity of City Officials and Others Add Hundreds of Names During Late Hours—Election Next Saturday.

Registration for the bond election May 10 totaled 3500. This announcement was made Saturday night at 9:15 by Miss Phoebe Orvis, city clerk. The time limit for registering closed at that time. Her estimate was made on reports from the registrars and the number which she had registered at the city hall.

Mayor Egleson and other interested in the carrying on the bonds were busy all day Saturday and up to 9 o'clock at night looking up those who had failed to register and bringing them to the city hall or the nearest place to register. Several hundred names were added to the registration list in this way.

Next Saturday is the date of the election and efforts will be made to get out a solid vote. At the bond election machines may be used to haul voters to and from the polls. Many have already volunteered to use their automobiles and it is likely that more machines will be in use for the purpose of boosting Boise than at any previous election ever held here.

It was estimated Saturday that there are 6000 taxpayers in Boise entitled to participate in the bond election.

THE Beginners' Home Outfit

The moment the armistice was declared we began preparing for the boys who would soon return to our midst from France and the cantonments of America.

We knew hundreds of them would marry and start homes of their own.

We went into the markets to do our bit—to buy in big quantities to get the lowest cash price—so we could save every young patriot as much as possible.

The Result—A Store filled with low-priced, beautifully-designed Beginners' Suites of bed-room, living-room and dining-room furniture—of the most dependable construction, that will make a charming, comfortable home.

This is the store of service, wherein the problem of furnishing the first home is easily solved.
