RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"My daughter, eight years of age, had a bad cold and cough last spring when she had whooping cough and she recovered from the attack in a short time. Since then we have always kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and it has saved her from a bad cold and cough with each winter."

IT LOOKS LIKE A MOVIE STILL, BUT IT'S CAPTURE OF BILL CARLYSLE, THE BANDIT

William Carlisle, in prison garb, and deputies loading wounded bandit onto horse after taking him.

The capture of William Carlisle, gentleman train robber, after his escape from the penitentiary in Wyoming, rivaled any of the great movie thrillers. After his escape in a shirt box from the penitentiary he held up a train, then escaped to the mountains. Deputies trailed him to a cabin high in the mountains. He was captured after being wounded, shot through the lung. Near death from his wound, he was loaded onto a horse and helped down the mountain to Esterbrook, a mile away. Then followed a twenty-five mile ride in an auto through rough country to Douglas. The temperature was below zero.

BOISE GIRLS TAKE ACTIVE PART IN SUFFRAGE WORK

Co-eds of University of Idaho Return to Boise Determined to Bring About Special Session of Legislature.

Four Boise girls, Inez Callaway, Lucile Davis, Marion Tipton and Florence Allebaugh, now students at the University of Idaho, are leaders in the recent suffrage campaign inaugurated by the Woman's League at the University of Idaho. During the holidays these girls will present their plans before the various women's clubs of Boise.

WANT SPECIAL SESSION

"Inasmuch as the ratification of the amendment relative to nationwide woman suffrage must be complete before the primaries in March, immediate action must be taken," said Miss Callaway. "Idaho voted for woman's suffrage several years ago. Most of the states which now have woman suffrage have to date ratified the amendment. Has woman's suffrage failed in Idaho? Ratification of this amendment by our state will prove that it hasn't."

SEE SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN

"Ratification of this amendment can only be effected through a special meeting of the legislature in January. Through the efforts of the university girls and their coworkers in woman's clubs throughout the state, the campaign will undoubtedly be a success."

CHILDREN ENJOY HAPPY CHRISTMAS SERVICE THURSDAY

Christ church, corner of Fifteenth and Ridenbaugh streets, was the scene of a happy Christmas service Thursday, Christmas day. A beautiful Christmas tree attracted the children, and an impressive service was given. Captain Ayers spoke to the boys about the Christmas the American soldiers had in the trenches and Miss Orr gave an enjoyable reading. When volunteers were asked to take part in the program in addition to those regularly assigned, one child stepped forth and to the delight of the audience said in a clear, ringing voice: "Live for God and you live again."

PRICES FOR IDAHO HAY SHOW INCREASE

Winter Weather Creates Demand for Surplus Remaining Unsold—Market Ranges From $20 to $38 Per Ton.

Brisk winter weather strengthened hay prices throughout the west and Idaho growers are reaping the benefit, says the Weekly Markets Bulletin issued by the state department of agriculture. Very little of this year's crop has been sold for less than $15 in the stack, but because of nice weather and hesitancy in purchasing by stockmen, the movement has dragged. Inquiries are coming from Oregon, Montana, Utah and Wyoming for Idaho's surplus hay and, if business keeps up, there will be no surplus in ten days' time.

AMUSEMENTS

MYSTERY OFFERING TO CLOSE TONIGHT

"Revelations of a Wife," Intense Mystic Drama, Presented by Strong Cast by Unity Players.

"The Revelations of a Wife," a deep mystery drama full of heart interest which has been the attraction at the Finney since Thursday will be closed by the Unity players this evening. This exceptional mystic drama is in line with the trend of the times, is scenically well planned, a splendid production and strong cast. While intense, it is not overdrawn. It is, however, blunt, forceful and direct, striking the sentimental note with an unabashed belief in its power. In Alice Sterling, the beautiful woman with a past, the author selected a character that will win the hearts of the lovers of true romance. In Grant Sterling, the lawyer-husband, one finds the sort of man one wishes he might meet more often in everyday life. In fact all the characters are true to nature and perfectly human.

SOUTH IDAHO SWEET POTATOES FOR XMAS

Supply This Season Grown in Boise Valley by Thomas F. Edwards—Southern Shipments Failed to Arrive.

Sweet potatoes grown in the Boise valley, less than three miles from Boise, furnished the supply used by southern Idaho people for their Christmas dinners.

Few people who bought sweet potatoes this year knew they were eating an Idaho product, but thought they were being supplied as usual from the south land, but such was not the case as shipments due failed to arrive and Thomas F. Edwards, one of the most successful gardeners in this section, sold 67 crates in Boise in three days and shipped a goodly number to other points.

Five years ago when Mr. Edwards raised the first sweet potatoes in this section, he experienced difficulty in marketing them, but he has since built up quite a market and this season planted a full two acres to sweet spuds. They yielded heavily and while the demand at the first of the season did not indicate that his supply would be sold, the Christmas scarcity caused a heavy demand and he sold practically all he raised.

ROOSEVELT AND THE RAT-KILLER.

It wasn't often that anyone succeeded in deceiving President Roosevelt, least of all a "nature-faker," but one man, William Atherton DuPuy, did and he tells about the incident in an interesting article in Hearst's magazine for December. DuPuy was a newspaper reporter in Washington at the time and seized a chance to inspect the White House by impersonating the brother of a rat-killer, who was on his way to the White House with four rat-terriers and three boxes of English ferrets in an effort to rid the executive mansion of the rodents. To the reporter's dismay, Roosevelt appeared on the scene while Barclay, the rat expert, was busy elsewhere, and began asking the trembling DuPuy all sorts of embarrassing questions regarding the life, business methods and social, moral and domestic habits of English ferrets and domestic cats. Four DuPuy worked his wits overtime thinking up plausible answers to the great naturalist's questions, but when Teddy finally asked him how he recalled the ferrets from the chase he was at a loss for an answer and it was only the opportune return of Barclay at this moment that saved him from discovery as an impostor.

DISCRIMINATING.

New York, Dec. 27.—Thomas Mulhern, bartender, was fined $25 for selling highballs to two women. He explained that he thought "prohibition was for men only." A Baptist church in Los Angeles, Calif., has constructed a 60x160 ft. playground, with free accommodations and five volunteer instructors, for the city newsboys. The playground is supported by freewill offerings and a donation from the Young People's society of the church. Bathing in the snow is a common custom in Russia.

STAND TO PRESENT BRISK FILM COMEDY

Olive Thomas Featured as "Baby Vamp" in "Upstairs and Down," Which Opens at Local Theatre Sunday.

Olive Thomas will play a "baby vamp" role in a comedy photoplay, "Upstairs and Down," opening at the Strand for four days. The comedy reveals the experiences of the vamp; and others both "upstairs and down" at a fashionable house party. Miss Thomas will be supported by a cast of the classiest society role players in filmdom, such as David Butler, Mary Charleson, Bertram Grassby, Kathleen Kirkham, Mildred Reardon and Andrew Robson.

"The Perfect Lover," featuring Eugene O'Brien, the "lady's man of the screen," and an animal comedy entitled "Monkey Stuff" will be shown the last times this afternoon and evening at the Strand. The animal comedy is receiving praise as the best ever shown in Boise. A trained chimpanzee, an elephant, a lion and a camel all take part in the little story, which carries a unique plot. The chimpanzee is the star of the story. He rescues a baby from a lion in a most thrilling fashion, with the aid of an elephant who gives the lion a bath while the chimpanzee is rescuing the little tot. "The Perfect Lover," a romantic tale with an optimistic turn, features O'Brien as the man who assayed 100 per cent lovable in Cupid's scales. As Brian Lazar, O'Brien is made love to by four beautiful women. His personality is irresistible. Through his fame as an artist Lazar is raised into circles of society splendor. Here he is placed on a pedestal and worshipped by every woman in the city. His fidelity to his first love, a little country girl, is told in a beautiful way in the final incidents of the story.
