DEHYDRATION PLANT FOR NAMPA ASSURED; WORK STARTS SOON

Nampa, Jan. 1.—A big dehydration plant is now assured for this city and its construction is to be commenced early in the spring that it may be in full operation for the next fruit crop. The new industry is to have a daily capacity of 60 tons. S. W. Ogden, one of its promoters, announced today that sufficient stock has been subscribed for to insure the installation of the plant with a daily capacity of 30 tons, but that he felt certain that the necessary stock for the operation of the industry at its proposed capacity will be subscribed. A very large amount of fruit has already been contracted for by those back of the industry.

NAMPA FLOUR MILL RAPIDLY NEARING ITS COMPLETION

Nampa, Jan. 1.—The 50-barrel flouring mill which is being installed in the city by the Farmers' Society of Equity is now rapidly nearing completion and it is expected that it will commence operations during the present month. Canyon county is one of the great wheat producing belts in the west and it is estimated that approximately 2,000,000 bushels were harvested in the county last year. The average yield per acre was about 50 bushels, while in a number of communities it went as high as 75 bushels.

1,300,000 POUNDS DRIED PRUNES PUT UP MERIDIAN PLANT

Meridian, Jan. 1.—One million three hundred thousand pounds of dried prunes is the season's total output at the plant here of the Southern Idaho Dried Fruit company of which W. S. McBirney is the general manager, and W. H. Peiper is foreman.
It requires three pounds of green prunes to make a pound of dried fruit. According to this, 3,900,000 pounds of green prunes were run through the plant the past season. The drying operations were started last September with a force of 50 employees. The last of the processing was completed two weeks ago with a force of 25.

$3000 DAIRY BARN.
One of the finest dairy barns in the valley was recently completed for George Brewer whose fine farm is situated half a mile south of town. The barn is 32x60 feet in area, is equipped for 30 cows, has a milk room on one side and a 100-ton silo at the other, all connected together. The barn cost about $3000, and the silo $700. Mr. Brewer has a fine herd of purebred Holsteins. H. C. Johnson and Ed Hartman built the barn.

POST CONVENTION CONFERENCE HELD
State Educational Officials Spend New Year's Day Talking Up Individual Problems Visiting Teachers.

State educational officials—Dr. E. A. Bryan, commissioner, and Miss Elsie E. Redfield, superintendent—spent practically all of New Year's day in their offices receiving individual calls and holding individual conferences with the teachers, principals and superintendents of the state, who remained over from the annual convention, which closed Wednesday.

At conferences held in the state department of education offices Wednesday evening the publication of a high school manual was discussed, and assignments of work on the syllabi of various subjects were made.
Practically all of the remaining teachers will leave this evening on the 5:35 train for their homes, including President E. H. Lindley of the University of Idaho, Moscow.

The Capital News telephone numbers are 24 and 25.

EVIL PRINCIPLE OF THE STATE

LOOKING FOR ONE BODY.
Burke—The Ajax team recently struck in that property in the Clear Fork of the Boise river, and the Clear Fork is said to be about eight feet wide, showing iron and quartz. Wallace mining men who have visited the property recently, believe an ore body will soon be encountered. The man who is making about seven feet a day and has followed the drift about 35 feet along the hanging wall.

STEAMER TO RESUME RUN.
Lewiston—Owing to the rapid breaking up of the ice in the Snake river and the rise in volume of water following the week of warm weather, the steamer Spokane will resume its run to Portland Monday. The steamer Lewiston was injured when the river froze two weeks ago and the leak which developed from the contraction of the ice surrounding the hull has been repaired by workmen sent from Portland. This boat will soon go into commission, joining the Spokane on the river run.

FOREMAN HELD UP.
Bozivil—Robert Friar, section foreman at Sherwin for the C. & N. Ry., was held up and beaten by two section men who got away with $40 and a gold watch. They left him unconscious near the section house and cut the telephone line so he could not call any one. He walked to Clarkia and summoned Sheriff Pat Malone of Bozivil who went immediately to the scene of the holdup.

ELK KILLING COSTLY.
Pudlatch—C. F. Sawyer, who killed an elk on his farm near Wallace yesterday, was brought here by Deputy Game Warden D. J. Brooks of Moscow and given a trial before Justice L. N. He was fined $50 and costs, amounting altogether to $175.

HIT BY TRAIN.
Sandpoint—James Lacey of Walla Walla, Wash., a member of the Northern Pacific steel laying crew at work here, was struck by train No. 42 at that station, and escaped with a broken arm. He was brought to the hospital here.

FRENCH REPLIES TO CLUB.
Lewiston.—In response to a letter sent by the Lewiston Commercial club asking Representative Burton L. French to support the movement for taxation of Indian lands on the Nez Perce reservation, after the 25-year trust period expires in 1920, Mr. French replies as follows:
"In reply to your communication, in the matter of working out legislation under which all Indian lands, whether held by the government in trust for the Indians or patented in fee shall be taxed, I have the honor to advise you that the Indian office, going over to me personally and also submitting at the request of the office a letter covering the subject.
I do not have a written reply, but the Indian office is antagonistic to the whole program. I cited the case of the law touching the Omaha Indians, and am advised that the law worked wretchedly, that it has been quite impossible to collect moneys from the Indians, that many of the Indians do not have means of earning the money, etc. In fact, the Indian commissioner's office is absolutely opposed to any further extension of the principles that were embodied in the law to which you referred."

INDORE PARK PLAN.
Lewiston.—The Commercial club has endorsed the move of the city council looking toward the creation of an automobile camp site at Deloit park, east of the city.

PURCHASES WRIGHT ESTATE.
Coeur d'Alene.—Ed. McBride of Gardiner, Wash., has purchased the Wright estate at Hayden, Idaho. The Wright estate embraces 540 acres, several modern buildings, a lake 80 acres in area, which is one of the beauty spots of Hayden. The sale price is said to be $18,000.

BUY BIG BLOCK.
Sandpoint.—The Jennestad and Larson company, for 11 years in the clothing business in this city, have purchased the Northern Mercantile block for $20,000, with the intention of occupying it in the spring.

WANT SPECIAL RATES.
Lewiston.—The following resolution has been drafted and mailed to northwestern railroad officials by the Lewiston Commercial club:
"Whereas, the winter season has brought to the region comprising central Idaho and in fact the entire inland Empire, unprecedented severe weather with deep snowfall, and temperatures ranging for many days below zero and resulting in a country that denies range to thousands of head of livestock and necessitating that stockmen at large expense hurriedly move their herds to other districts or ship in at large expense hay from other districts.
"Whereas, these conditions impose a burden on the livestock interests that approach the force of a calamity in some instances, and
"Whereas, the livestock industry is of vital interest to the prosperity of this region, in its influence encouraging diversity of agricultural activities that promotes industry in all other lines also, and
"Whereas, the success of the livestock industry and its allied lines is of outstanding benefit to transportation lines in assurance of a steady flow of traffic throughout the year.
"Therefore, be it resolved that the Lewiston Commercial club hereby earnestly petitions you to immediately grant the stockmen special reduced rates in this emergency, applying both to shipments of hay and feed to this district."
Beth B. Jones, a prominent stockman of the Salmon river country, has been in the city endeavoring to secure the cooperation of local interests in obtaining a reduction of freight rates on livestock which must be shipped out of Idaho because of the scarcity of feed for the stock. He was in Tappanish, Wash., recently and reports that the country surrounding Tappanish is filled with stock which has been sent from Montana and Central Idaho for the remainder of the winter. He says that hay is fairly plentiful and that Tappanish dealers are very fair in their prices.

WOODS AGAINST USE OF WOOD ALCOHOL DRINK

Public Welfare Commissioner Says Persons Drinking Doctored Concoctions Take Serious Chances.
While there is no evidence whatsoever of a flood of "coroner's cocktails" being sold in Boise, contrary to rumors spread by irresponsible sources, J. E. White, public welfare commissioner, today issued a warning against the use of a beverage of any concoction containing wood alcohol.
A sample bottle of liquor left at the public welfare office by some unknown individual for a test has been made the basis of exaggerated reports that state officials are all agog over whose duty it is to launch a prosecution, but since there is no evidence that the liquor was used as a beverage, and since the name of the man who left it is not even known no such grave questions of jurisdiction have arisen, said Mr. White.
"All the public welfare department can do is to warn people against attempting to use wood alcohol concoctions as beverages," said Mr. White. "If some one doctors up wood alcohol and drinks it that is no violation of the pure food laws. It's all a question of the common sense of the individual experimenting with the mixture."
"It's enough to say that wood alcohol is a dangerous poison. That should be sufficient warning to everyone to leave it alone the same as they would any other deadly poison."
