To the Public

The Press will deem it a special favor if patrons who fail to receive their paper regularly will report the same to the office. As it is our only means of knowing how the carriers are doing their work.

We will pay a reward of $25 for evidence that will convict any one of stealing papers after they are delivered to residences.

George Parker was buried yesterday from the Frank Lemmer Undertaking parlors. He was killed by a moving freight train several days ago at Athol where he had been a laborer for years. His body was held at the local undertaking parlors while the authorities investigated the whereabouts of his relatives. It is claimed he formerly resided at Jefferson, Wisconsin, where, it is claimed, he became involved in debt, causing him to come to Athol. It is also held, that to remove all trace of his identity, he assumed the name of Parker but that his right name was Henry Knist. The county buried him.

One Advantage. "What do you think of this idea of having dogs for caddies?" asked the old golfer.

"It's a good idea," replied the beginner. "The dogs can't laugh at you!"—London Standard.

An Old Timer. "I guess that Tom over there is pretty old," remarked the young Tomcat. "I should say," replied the other. "Why, he claims that once in his youth he actually saw a bootjack."—Philadelphia Press.

What They Wanted. "You fellows don't know exactly what you want," said a politician to a committee that called on him. "You remind me of a schoolteacher who once had a mutinous class of pupils on his hands."

"That portion of the school who attempted this miniature rebellion sent a committee to state their grievance in the name of the rest."

"But the principal would have no words with them. He simply locked them in his room and went down to parley with the rank and file."

"Well," said he, "and what is it you want?"

"We want the same as the other boys upstairs."

"What is that?"

"We don't know."—Success Magazine.

Entertains Friends.
