A. Carlson was a visitor in Spo- kane today. Ladies' Gents' and children's rub- bers at E. B. Keller & Company. Axel Johnson has returned from Spokane where he was confined to the Washington hospital for treatment for lung trouble. His condition is very much improved. Perhaps one of the most attractive windows in the city will be found at the Coeur d'Alene Furniture com- pany's store, where Rev. W. W. Davis has on display a number of fine oil paintings which he has executed in a most creditable manner. Try a cash order at Brashear's gro- cery. We can save you money. Our goods are all fresh. E. church and special music will be rendered by the choir which is under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Norquist. We will be open every evening, except Sundays, from now until Christmas. Idaho Mercantile com- pany. The Fraternal Order of Eagles, Coeur d'Alene Aerie 486, are prepar- ing for a dance which will be given on Christmas evening. Preparations for one of the nicest dances of the season are being made and the Eagles will invite their many friends to at- tend. Santa Claus at work in the win- dow of the Norquist department store has been attracting the attention of the many children of the city. The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church will give a bazar Thursday, Dec. 13, in the lecture room of the church. Come and buy yo r Xmas presents. Lunch will be served afternoon and evening. Mrs. Mart Gloescolose, of Walla Walla, is spending a few days in the city visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tobias. She is accom- panied by Mrs. Jessie, of the same city. The piano fund of the public school was swelled to the extent of $100 by the net profits of yesterday's entertainment. The payment was made by Superintendent Barton who visited Spokane today. Mrs. D. Doneen of Oksdale, Wash., is in the city and will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver. Last Tuesday was the banner day for money orders at the Post office. A total of 82 orders were issued for the amount of $1100. Notice—With every $10 purchase in the gents furnishing or dry goods we will give a pair of Christmas sus- penders, roll silk necktie or any other article equivalent to same price, from now until Dec 25th. Idaho Mercan- tile company. Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy visited Spokane yesterday and attended the Spokane theater where Maxe Fig- man, "The Man on the Box," was presented with great success. They were highly pleased with the perfor- mance. Mr. and Mrs. Litherland and son Hugh, attended a reception in Spo- kane last evening, tendered to Rev. Dr. Hunter, who arrived recently from Vincennes, Indiana, to take charge of the Centenary church of that city. Services will be held as usual at the Presbyterian church tomorrow and Rev. Litherland has chosen as the topic for the morning sermon "Heroic Element in Christian Life." The evening theme will be "Prophecy to us. Smooth Things." Special music will be rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. O. O. Young. Last evening and today, Dr. W. W. Webb, who was formerly located in Coeur d'Alene, and who has been ill for some time, confined to a hospital in Spokane, greeted his many friends around the city. Dr. Webb has purchased a fine residence in Spokane and will make that city his home in the future. The management of the roller skating rink have arranged to have a Masquerade carnival at the rink on Dec. 28. Prizes to be awarded as fol- lows: To the neatest dressed lady, the best reentered character, lady or gentleman, also the most comical dressed gentleman. Maskers will be required to raise mask at door. Ad mittance ten cents, skates 25 cents. Dec. 28, 1906.

Next Wednesday, the Press will jus- tify a twelve or sixteen page daily, the largest ever issued in Kootenai county. It will contain choice bits of local news and the announcement of the Christmas bargains of the city, in addition to some good Christmas reading. Fearing a visit from the safe blow- ers who have been infesting this section of the country, Postmaster J. M. Elder has invented a way of keep- ing his safe intact. All stamps and coin are placed in one of the local banks and the safe is left open with a note pinned to it, reading, "Pleasee do not blow open safe. It is unlock- ed." Last evening the Woodmen of the World held a meeting at the old San- der hall. It was largely attended and Mrs. Closterman organizing a cir- cle of the Women of the Woodcraft was present, accompanied by a num- ber of the ladies of the city. Mrs. Closterman will organize a circle in the near future with a membership of 50. Applications for membership to the Woodmen are being received at every meeting and the lodge prom- ises to be a large one. Last evening a large audience gather- ed at the Auditorium to witness the evening performance of the enter- tainment given by the school chil- dren of the city for the purpose of raising funds for making payment on the piano which the school has pur- chased. The program was rendered much better than at at the afternoon performance and the work of the children reflects much credit on the corps of teachers. The numbers by the younger children were especially entertaining, and "Dixie Land", by the Eighth grade of the high school building, which closed the entertain- ment for the evening, was above the average. NEST OF OWLS Organizes by Election of Off- cers. Last evening the Owls held a meet- ing at Sander hall which was attend- ed by about 50 persons, all of whom have signed the charter list. The affairs of the nest were discussed in general and officers were elected as follows: A. Reilly, executive; M. M. Lewis, vice executive; E. C. Rauch, vicar; E. E. Reeson, secre- tary; Fred Wood, treasurer; Gus Blenz, master of nest; Ed. J. Field, warder; Ed. Kau-man, sentinel; Dr. John Hunt Shephard, nest physician. Great success is being met with in securing signers, and as soon as 100 are secured the charter will be grant- ed by the Grand Nest, whose officers will visit the city and institute the local nest. At the meeting last even- ing it was decided to give a smoker in the near future which will be at- tended by the Owls and their friends. H. H. Woods, official organizer, re- turned to Spokane today to attend a meeting of the Owls of that city, and from there he will go to Baker City, Oregon, where he will take the neces- sary steps for the building of a nest. Opera at Baptist Church. The fourth of the series of enter- tainments to be given under the aus- pices of the Baptist church will be given in that institution on January 9 and promises to be as entertaining if not more so than have been those given in the past. This entertainment will be given by the Midland Opera Quintette which is famous for its work in this line throughout the country. The program is highly interesting and from reports is exceedingly good. The personnel of the company is Miss Blanche Freman, sajrano; Miss Hil- dred Hanson, alto and violinist; FREE! FREE! Miss Harriet Delano, alto and piano- list; Mr. J. Redman Saylor, tenor, manager; Mr. Tolbert McRae, basso and reader. The program is as fol- lows: Quartette, Haymaking, The Mid- land club; Piano solo, Variation on popular theme, Miss Delano; Quar- tette, Favoreti Waltz, The Midland Club; tenor solo, Answer, Mr. Saylor; soprano solo, Arleen Mireen, Fremman; trio, Praise Ye, Mr. Saylor, Miss Freman, Mr. Mace Rae; quartette, Spring Song, The Mid- land Club; bass solo, The Soldier Song, Mr. Mac Rae; quartette, From Rigoletto, The Midland Club. violin solo, Miss Hanson, duett, Love and War, Miss Ferman, Mr. Mace Rae; quartette, Lead Kindly Light, The Midland Club. Books at Library. Among the new books in the library that bear mentioning will be found, "Nicanor Teller of Tales" by C. Bry- son Taylor, published by A. C. Mc- Clurg & Company, illustrated by Trof and Margaret West Kinny. The story is told exceptionally well and bears the trade mark of Taylor style. It is that of a Roman youth born in slavery, gifted with a silver tongue, with which he talks himself into popu- larity after leaving home and reach- ing Great Britain, which is at that time under the Roman rule. Love plays an important part and finally costs Nicanor the freedom which his parents have bought for him at a high price. Aside from being an in- teresting story the book is excellently bound and illustrated with colored loose leaf reproductions of good paintings. "Pigs is Pigs" by Ellis Parker Butler is a pleasing comedy in which an Irish expressman, an irate subur- banite and a pair of guinea pigs play the leading parts. Refusal to pay what he thought was an exorbitant charge, the suburbanite leaves the guinea pigs at the express office. With the customary delay over ad- justment, the guinea pigs increase in number until they overflow the office. Ralph C. Conners, "The Doctor," being a story of the Rockies is a new acquisition as is "Rose of Old St. Louis, by Mary Dillon. Ben Blair has also been added to the list. FREE! FREE!
