ALIEN ENEMIES IN UNITED STATES MUST REGISTER

The regulations for the registration of German enemies in the United States during the first week of January are the following:

Male persons of the age of 14 years and upward are required to register. Notice of time and place of registration is given by publication in newspapers.

Each registrant must be accompanied by two passport photographs, signed across the face so as to secure the features, and the finger prints of each shall be taken.

Within 10 and 15 days after registration each alien must again appear before his registration officer for a registration card, which will bear his name and thumb print. This card must be carried by the registrant for future identification.

An enemy who changes his place of residence to another place within the same registration district must report the change to the registration officer. No person shall move out of the district without a permit for a permit must be made upon a form furnished by the Department of Justice, giving full particulars of date, reason for change, and intended place of

BILLY SUNDAYISMS

Here are some of Sunday's best punches:

"The hell the kaiser has raised on earth makes the hell below look like a side-show.

"Turn hell upside down and you'll find 'Made in Germany' stamped on the bottom.

"When Uncle Sam gets ready to strike, the kaiser and the rest of the hot-dog bunch will know General Sherman was right.

"The kaiser says he and God are partners. He's a liar."

RECRUITING STATION AT POSTOFFICE

Every postmaster in the country is a recruiting officer. The enlisting age is 18 to 21 and 31 to 40 years. Any man who registered cannot be accepted. Those who have attained the draft age since registration on June 5th and married men can be enlisted on the same basis as single men. All branches of the service are in need of men and the pay ranges from $30 to $91 per month. Positive bars to enlistment are flat feet, hernia, broken bones, heart, lung or rheumatic trouble. Ample provisions have been made for the protection of dependents by the Insurance and Allotment law. If you wish to enlist and think you can qualify apply at your local postoffice.

HOOVERIZING

The Herald is obliged to R. W. White for salvaging this poetic gem from the remote seclusion of a Kansas paper:

My Tuesdays are meatless,
My Wednesdays are wheatless,

I'm getting more eatless each day;

My home it is heatless,
My bed it is sheetless—
They're all sent to the Y. M. C. A.

The barrooms are treatless,

My coffee is sweetless,
Each day I get poorer and wiser.

My stockings are feetless,
My trousers are seatless—
My God, how I do hate the kaiser.

—Salmon Herald.

Wilkinson-Bradbury

Mr. Frank A. Bradbury and Miss Millie Wilkinson both of Challis, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bradbury last Wednesday evening, January 9th, Rev. H. G. Adams, officiating. After the nuptial vows, wedding refreshments were served by Mrs. Floyd Bradbury.

Both of the young people grew up in this neighborhood and are well and favorably known. The bride has for some months been "hello" girl at the telephone office here. They will make their home on the Bradbury farm a few miles north of this place. The Messenger joins with their many friends in wishing them much joy and prosperity in their wedded life.

Mary Ann Fagan Laid to Rest

The funeral service of Mrs. Mary Ann Fagan, who died last Friday, January 11th, was held at the Congregational Church last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The church was filled with friends and neighbors to honor her memory and express their sympathy to the bereaved husband, sons and other relatives.

Mrs. Fagan, whose maiden name was Casto, was born in Hancock county, Illinois, Aug. 5 1844, coming west with her parents in childhood. Since 1880 she has been a resident of Idaho, and in 1882 married Charles Fagan, who was then residing at Custer. For a long time they have been living on their ranch about seven miles northwest of Challis on the creek by that name.

Having seen much of frontier life and being a part of it she was imbued with the true and generous hospitality which marked the great West when it was young—the Fagan latch string was always hanging out to the weary traveller and neither man nor beast ever left the Fagan home hungry or cold.

The beautiful life just ended is a great blow to her aged husband, Charles Fagan, her two sons, Horace and Wm. Wells of Pahsamaroi, and other relatives.

Interment was made in the Challis cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We desire in this manner to thank all those friends and neighbors who assisted us in any way during the illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and aunt.—Chas. Fagan, Horace and W. M. Wells and Elmer Casto.

GERMAN PAPER TELLS OF HARDSHIPS OF SOLDIER'S FAMILY

The Committee on Public Information has made the following translation of a story appearing in the October 15, 1917, issue of the Leipziger Volkszeitung:

"A sample of the fashion after which bloated landlords treat the wives of soldiers has been brought to our attention from Upper Langenau in Silesia. One of the hired men of Dr. Mueller's agricultural estate has been for a long time at the front. His wife, who had worked alongside her husband before the war after the usual custom, remained in the ranks of the field hands and accordingly retained her farm cottage. October 1 this woman got the following letter:

"The undersigned bailiff of the estate hereby gives you notice as of this date to the field service for January 1, 1918. On that day you are to give up your house. The work which you are doing on the farm does not compensate the farm for the loss which accrues to through the continued support of your family. Look out for yourself away from this farm, your house is needed for other use."

"The woman communicated the notice to her husband with these words: 'I must tell you my distress, soon I shall not be able to see the paper for my tears. What shall I do? Winter is at the door and the cottage is full of little children.'

"Thus the bailiff of the estate of a bloated landlord turns a family with eight children out of doors in mid-winter while the man is at the front. Comment takes care of itself."
