NIGHT BOMBING RAID DESCRIBED

By CAPT. PAUL BEWSHER.

London.—The observer settled himself beside the pilot in the big bombing machine. On either side the engines roared thunderously.

It climbed swiftly in wide circles, and below could be seen the dim countryside where a few scattered lights twinkled.

In front of the two airmen glowed the phosphorescent dials of the recording instruments. Soon they registered sufficient height for the machine to turn toward the fighting line.

The wing-lights were switched off, the lines were crossed, and friendly territory left further and further behind.

Far ahead the glare of many blast furnaces could be seen, and above them the long, white fingers of German searchlights swept restlessly to and fro.

We flew on steadily, vainly sought by the searchlights and unscathed by the fierce barrage of shells which burst thickly far below them.

Over Enemy Territory.

Soon the first barrier of defense was passed, and for a long time we flew over mile upon mile of enemy territory, over dimly lit towns and sleeping fields and villages.

When we had been flying over German territory for more than two hours we saw ahead of us on the river the lights of another big city. This was our objective, and at once the machine swept round toward it.

The observer crawled into the back and, lying face down, opened the sliding door in the floor of the machine. Below him lay a square of moonlit country on which he could see a little scattered village and the edge of a forest.

Already he had noticed the dark line of the railway running into the city. The pilot steered the machine round by the observer's directions, so that it might follow the railway, and so find surely the great railway junction that was to be the target for his bombs.

Two searchlights had now sprung up, and here and there in the sky burst a few random snails. He could see the puffs of smoke, white in the moonlight, drift beneath him.

Hit Railway Junction.

He ignored the searchlights and flew steadily on with engines roaring. The big city twinkling with hundreds of carefully shaded lights lay spread now below the observer's peephole.

The fore-and-aft bar of the bomb sight drew near the station and touched it. The observer's hand reached out to the bomb release lever at his side.

The luminous range bars crossed the edge of the junction. He pushed the lever hand over, drew it back and pushed it over again and again.

Below he could see for a moment the fat cylinders spinning down toward the railway junction.

He climbed up beside the pilot and told him to turn. The searchlights erratically swept to and fro with every suggestion of panic, fear or lack of skill.

The observer was looking down intently to the black triangular mass of

CLEARING CAMP FOR U. S. AIRMEN

Somewhere in England.—From the tip-top peak of the highest hill on the highest ground of miles around this historic village flutters the Stars and Stripes over the largest American aviation camp in England.

Stretched over an area of about a mile and a half square, the camp accommodates about 3,000 Yank airmen, mechanics and privates in the aviation service.

Every member of the American aviation service passes through this camp en route from America to France, via England. They come here immediately from the American transports, and remain a week or two, when they are dispatched to the various American and British aviation training camps.

The camp has just been officially opened. Thousands already have passed through it and preparations are being made to handle tens of thousands, a camp officer said.

Canada Gives Up Luxuries

Vancouver, B. C.—Here are a few signs showing what Canada is doing to help with the war by conservation in the civilian life.

The biggest result has been prohibition. The Dominion is dry as the Sahara.

The consumption of candy has been cut 50 per cent. Picture shows and theaters have shrunk in number to a marked degree.

You can travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific and never see a piano, a phonograph, violin or other musical instrument offered for sale.

Travel is falling off. The summer tourist is becoming rare. One of the largest resorts in the Canadian Rockies has an average of only 30 guests.

the railway junction, with its crowded sidings. A great spurt of red flames leaped up at its edge as the first bomb exploded.

Then the others burst, one after another, leaving the railway junction shrouded in moonlit smoke through which the red light of a growing fire glared dully.

HALF SALARY GOES TO WAR

Candidate for Prosecuting Attorney at Seattle Makes Unusual Promise.

Seattle, Wash.—Thomas D. Page, who is a candidate on the Republican ticket for the nomination of prosecuting attorney of this county, makes the unusual promise that if elected he will devote at least one-half of his salary to war purposes.

Page says he will give $1,000 of his salary to the Red Cross, the Young Men's Christian association, the Knights of Columbus and the Salvation army, divided equally.

Should Say Not.

"It's all right to pay as you go," observed the almost philosopher, "but if you have to pay 25 cents street car fare to get there and back, the chances are you won't go."
