

NATION TO BE DRY AFTER NEXT JULY

WAR TIME PROHIBITION BILL RECEIVES FINAL SANCTION OF CONGRESS.

Will Stop Sale of Intoxicants During the War and Demobilization; Believed That Courts May Settle Disputed Points.

Washington.—Final legislative action was taken on November 18 by the senate on the national "war-time" prohibition bill, effective July 1 next, and continuing during mobilization.

The senate struck out the Washington rent profiteering rider, which had held up the bill, and adopted the conference report on the remainder of the provisions, which the house already had approved.

The bill would stop sales of distilled, malt or vinous beverages, June 30, 1919, and thereafter during the war and demobilization. Manufacture of distilled spirits is now prohibited under the food control law which will expire with the world peace treaty.

The prohibition bill is in the form of a legislative rider on an emergency appropriation measure providing about $12,000,000 for stimulating agricultural production.

Effect of the legislation is the subject of warm disputes which many members of congress think the courts will have to settle. The bill would make prohibition effective "after June 30, 1919, until the conclusion of the present war and thereafter until the termination of demobilization, the date of which shall be determined and proclaimed by the president."

Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the prohibition features, and other dry champions insist that prohibition will go into effect on the date fixed, to continue until demobilization is completed, regardless of when peace is proclaimed. Opponents of the legislation, however, declare that if peace is declared before July 1 the bill cannot be operative, even though demobilization will be in progress thereafter.

The prohibition legislation has important bearing upon the pending war revenue bill, whose authors estimate an annual revenue loss of more than one million dollars to the government from prohibition, including cessation of beer and wine manufacture, ordered December 1 by the food administration.

HUN SUBS SURRENDERING.

Twenty Turned Over To Allies in One Day.

London.—Twenty German submarines were surrendered to Rear Admiral Reginald W. Tyrwhitt, thirty miles off Harwich, Wednesday morning at sunrise, according to a press association dispatch. Those are the first U-boats to be turned over to the allies by Germany.

Admiral Tyrwhitt received the surrender of the German craft on board his flagship, a British cruiser.

When the submarines were met by the British squadron, all of the submarines were on the surface with their hatches open and their crews standing on deck. The vessels were flying no flags whatever and their guns were trained fore and aft, in accordance with the terms of surrender.

The leading destroyer in response to a signal from the admiral, turned and led the way toward England and the submarines were ordered to follow. They immediately did so. The surrender had been accomplished.

BRITISH LOSSES DURING WAR.

Dead, Wounded and Missing Totals Over Three Million.

London.—British casualties during the war, including all the theaters of activities, totalled 3,049,991, it was announced in the house of commons by James Ian MacPherson, parliamentary secretary for the war office. Of this number the officers killed, wounded or missing aggregated 142,634 and the men 2,907,357.

The total losses in the fighting on the Franco-Belgian front were 2,719,842.

The total of British losses in killed on all fronts during the war was 653,665. Of these 37,836 were officers and 620,829 were men.

The total British wounded in the war was more than two million, the parliamentary secretary's figures showing the aggregate to be 2,032,122. The losses in missing including prisoners totalled 359,145.

BOLSHEVIKI DRIVEN OUT BY COSSACKS

OVERTURN UKRAINIAN GOVERNMENT AND DRIVE LEADERS FROM THAT SECTION.

Opens Path Directly Into the Heart of Russia for Dispatch of Troops and Supplies to Aid Demoralized Population.

Washington.—The Ukrainian government has been overturned and Kiev has been captured by troops from Astrakhan, according to Kiev dispatches received at Copenhagen. The Ukrainian national assembly has fled and a provisional government has been established by the captors of the city, who apparently are commanded by General Denikine, leader of the anti-Bolshevik forces.

Overthrow of the Bolsheviki regime in the Ukraine and the capture of Kiev by Cossack troops friendly to the all-Russian government, as reported from Copenhagen, opens the way, in the opinion of officials here, for important developments in Russia.

While no change in policy, either political or military, has been made by the United States, it is realized here that the holding of the Ukraine by forces friendly to the associated governments and decidedly hostile to the Bolsheviki, opens a path directly into the heart of Russia either for the dispatch of troops or of supplies for the relief of the demoralized civilian population.

Recent reports from London have been taken by some observers here to indicate that Great Britain may propose the sending of additional troops into Russia to place the country on a stable footing and eliminate the Bolsheviki.

Possibilities that the Bolsheviki leaders may flee Russia after accumulating large amounts of loot have been touched upon in recent dispatches, but have been discounted here largely because no haven for them appears available. Switzerland has forcibly ejected their representatives, Holland has declared they are not wanted there, and even Germany now is not expected to tolerate them within its borders.

HORROR LIFTED FROM ANTWERP.

King and Queen Enter City to Peal of Bells and Cheering Crowds.

Antwerp.—To the pealing of bells in the great cathedral and the cheers of the massed crowds, the king of the Belgians made a state entry into the city of Antwerp on Wednesday, known as the Tete de Flangres, and with the queen, drove around the streets to the hotel de Ville in an open carriage.

Rain was falling, and Antwerp was filled with a white mist, but this did not dampen the spirit of the people.

Physically, the people of Antwerp have not suffered in this war, but their joy at liberation, the enthusiasm with which they greeted King Albert was proof enough that they suffered in a mental way severely enough to make them feel that a horror had been lifted from them by the retreat of the Germans.

Make the Hun Do It

WILSON TO ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE

PRESIDENT WILL HEAD THE AMERICAN DELEGATION TO THE VERSAILLES CONFERENCE.

Presence of Chief Executive in France Regarded as Necessary to Obviate Manifest Disadvantages of Discussion by Cable.

Washington.—President Woodrow Wilson will attend the opening sessions of the peace conference. This was announced November 13. He will go immediately after the convening of the regular session of congress on December 2.

This official statement was issued Monday night at the White House.

"The president expects to sail for France immediately after the opening of the regular session of congress, for the purpose of taking part in the discussion and settlement of the main features of the treaty of peace. It is not likely that it will be possible for him to remain throughout the sessions of the formal peace conference, but his presence at the outset is necessary in order to obviate the manifest disadvantages of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty, about which he must necessarily be consulted. He will, of course, be accompanied by delegates who will sit as the representatives of the United States throughout the conference.

"The names of the delegates will be presently announced."

How long the president will remain abroad he himself probably can not say now. The time for the convening of the peace conference has not yet been announced, but the general belief here is that it can not be assembled before late in December at the earliest. If such proves the case, the president will be absent from the country for at least a month and probably longer.

In visiting Europe the president will establish two precedents. He will be the first chief executive of the United States to participate in a peace conference for the settling of issues growing out of a war in which this country participated, and likewise he will be the first president to leave North America during his term of office.

In reaching his decision to attend the peace conference, President Wilson is understood to have been largely influenced by representations from Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain and Clemenceau of France and other statesmen of the entente countries.

SHIPOLOADS OF FOOD TO HUNGRY EUROPE

AMERICA SENDING AID TO THE COUNTRIES DEVASTATED BY THE HUN HORDES.

Vessels Laden with Foodstuffs Are Proceeding to French and Belgian, Adriatic and Mediterranean Ports to Relieve Suffering.

Washington.—Ships carrying 200,000 tons of food for the population of northern France, Belgium and Austria, now are en route to Europe. They are proceeding under sealed orders to Gibraltar and Bristol channel ports, and on arrival will await word from Food Administrator Hoover as to their final destinations. Those going to Gibraltar are expected to proceed to Adriatic and Mediterranean ports and the others to French and Belgian ports.

One of the last acts of Mr. Hoover before sailing for Europe was to appoint a special shipping committee, headed by Theodore Whitmarsh of the food administration, to co-operate with the shipping board and the commission for relief in Belgium, in facilitating the shipment of food to the demoralized civilian populations in the countries devastated by war.

Neither the number of ships involved in the present movement, nor the proportion that would be diverted at Gibraltar for relief of southern Europe and the near east could be learned at the food administration. It was stated that final arrangements for feeding the peoples freed from the yoke of German militarism is awaiting the arrival of Mr. Hoover in Europe and the result of his survey of the situation there.

PRESIDENT SMITH ANSWERS SUMMONS

SIXTH PRESIDENT OF CHURCH CLOSES REMARKABLE CAREER AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

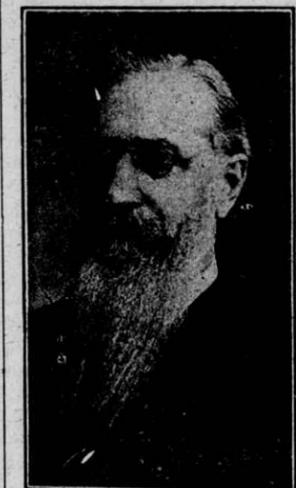

Leader in Church and Civic Affairs, Broad in His Sympathies, His Passing Will Be Sincerely Mourned by All Creeds.

Salt Lake City.—Joseph Fielding Smith, sixth president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, died at 4:50 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 19, following an illness of several months' duration, against which he had made a determined fight and had on several occasions rallied sufficiently to permit his appearance in public. The end came peacefully as he lay at the official residence of the church president, surrounded by members of his family and church dignitaries.

In the death of President Smith the state loses one of its best known and most constructive leaders. Broad in his sympathies, far-sighted in his judgments and tolerant to a marked degree, his passing will be mourned by men of all creeds in Utah and in the far-flung missions of the church to which he had been a frequent visitor. The church loses in his death the last of her leaders whose birth occurred prior to the settlement of the church in Utah. President Smith had just passed his eightieth birthday when the end came.

For 17 years and 16 days President Smith had been the supreme head of the Mormon church, to which he had devoted the greater part of his life, and for which he had endured in his earlier days hardships almost beyond the belief of the effete generation of today.

During his term the church has witnessed the greatest prosperity of its history. More meeting houses have been constructed in the course of his regime than were built during the entire previous history of the organization.

While President Smith is known principally as the churchman that he was, he leaves behind him an enviable record as a public citizen. He served several terms in the territorial and early state legislatures, was president of the constitutional assembly, and served several terms in the Salt Lake city council, as well as one term in the city of Provo.

Joseph Fielding Smith was born in Far West, Caldwell county, Mo., November 13, 1838. He was the son of Hyrum Smith and Mary Fielding Smith. His childhood days were spent amid scenes of persecution and hardship, which resulted in the death of his father and his uncle, the prophet, Joseph Smith, June 27, 1844. With his widowed mother, who left Nauvoo as an exile in 1846; he drove an ox team for her across the state of Iowa to Winter Quarters, where the family spent the winter of 1846-7. He was then only 8 years of age, but while at Winter Quarters was employed as a herd boy, and it is said that during the time that he was herding cattle at Winter Quarters and after his arrival in Salt Lake "he never lost a hoof."

On the death of George Q. Cannon in April, 1901, in California, Joseph F. Smith acted as first counselor to President Snow. The latter died October 10, 1901.

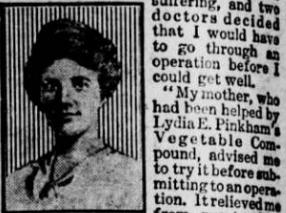

When the first presidency of the church and the twelve apostles met on October 17, 1901, the first presidency was reorganized with Joseph F. Smith as president, John R. Winder as first counselor, and Anthon H. Lund as second counselor.

Boy Hunter Killed.

Brigham City.—Foster Hunsaker, aged 15, while returning from hunting, stopped to rest. After placing the butt end of his shotgun on the ground, he put both hands over the top of the barrels. Then he rested his chin on his hands. The shotgun, which was automatic was evidently discharged by the weight of the boy's body while the safety catch was unlocked. The load of shot tore away Hunsaker's chin and lodged in the top of his head. Death was almost instantaneous.
