"Ideas Are the Precious Jewels of Business"

Back in the Spring of 1902, at Kemmerer, Wyoming, an idea was born! It was strong, healthy, courageous! It was destined to grow; to become nation-wide in all the things that combined, go to make the shoppers' store superior.

It was the idea—the precious jewel of business—from which was to develop the long line of 312 J. C. Penney Company busy stores, located here and there in 26 States.

That idea of nearly 20 years ago introduced a merchandising and selling policy of quality, service, economy—a policy that has weathered the storms and attracted hundreds of thousands of admirers. It is the policy that is carrying on to even greater, more remarkable achievements!

Through this great system of stores—a purchasing power of tremendous proportions—savings created and given to the public—store service that really serves—is afforded buying advantages every man, woman and child regards both a profit and a pleasure.

ALLEN TO RETURN TO HORROR SCENE

Relief and Mission Field Hero Wants to Rebuild Wreck After Moslem Raids.

In the hope of restoring his old mission buildings and resuming his former work, from which he was forced to flee over the bodies of his murdered friends at the height of the Mohammedans' orgy of massacre, pillage and burning, Dr. E. T. Allen, professor of Biblical history at Whitman College, Walla Walla, may endeavor to return to the Near East during the coming summer. For the last four years or so he has been aiding as a speaker in the constructive program of the Near East Relief.

Dr. Allen, one of the foremost American authorities and speakers on the Near East situation, and as such, much sought after and widely known throughout the Northwest, was, with his wife, for 13 years a foremost figure in the Presbyterian missionary field of Persia.

During the last several months of his stay in that country, he was almost daily face to face with death, once being rescued after the Turks had built a gallows upon which to hang him.

As the pioneer representative of Near East Relief in that district, he clung to his task of sheltering and protecting Christians fleeing before the hordes of Islam; reviving the starving and dying, saving the wounded from fields of battle and massacre, and rescuing Christian women and girls from the lustful clutches of the Moslems, until finally deported with 80,000 others. Less than half these people survived the forced marches through hundreds of miles of desert heat, practically without food and with little water.

His old mission buildings were systematically looted and wrecked, and he and Mrs. Allen, now residing with him at Walla Walla, lost nearly all their possessions and prized personal effects along with them. All forces and factions in the Near East, the Turks included, are now protecting supplies and workers of Near East Relief.

BIDDY LAYING SHARE FOR HUNGRY KIDDIES

Many an ode has been written to the "little brown hen," but according to Miss Z. Fay Fowler, of Boise, Idaho, director of Near East Relief, it remains for the kiddies of Armenia to sing a new praise to South Idaho's "Biddy," so patriotic in war and productive in peace, for South Idaho's "Biddy" is playing an up-to-the-minute role as "Lady Bountiful" to Armenia's orphans in their crisis of peril and need.

In the Nampa section and other districts, contribution boxes in the form of empty egg cases have been placed in some schools. To "Biddy" has been assigned the job of filling these with her eggs. These offerings are brought to the schools by the pupils and when a case has been filled it is turned over to Near East Relief.

Five dollars will pay for the care of one of the Bible land's needy orphans for an entire month in an orphanage of Near East Relief.
