BIG CENTRAL IDAHO FAIR STARTS AT MACKAY TODAY

another aerial act has been added to the program and one that is sure to bring the great crowd expected to be here during the fair to its feet; Cap. R. C. Thurman with his big gas bag will do a death-defying aerial act each day, ascending from the fair grounds and performing feats on trapeze and rings during his ascension and finally winding up with a parachute drop from the dizzy heights. The auto races at the end of each day's program is creating much interest and excitement already and enough entries have already been made to assure this feature of the program a great success.

The winning auto in the three days' auto races is to run against Hugh Barker in his flying machine the last day of the fair.

With cowboys and cowgirls, buckaroos, gaily clad jockeys, thoroughbred horses, chariot races, Roman stam and wagon races, relay races, auto races, stunt flying and ascensions there is promised the visitor a program without one dull moment, and one that is sure to interest and thrill the spectator.

Not only have the directors arranged for this magnificent program at the grounds but they have already seen to it that the crowd will be royally entertained each night. A long list of attractions has been engaged and numerous concessions let, including the ride shows, etc., which when all assembled will make the biggest and best carnival ever brought to Mackay, winding up on the last night with a big carnival dance, and of course, dances each night during the fair in the dance halls of the city, with excellent music.

The slogan of the association is: "Meet me at the Mackay Fair."

ANNOUNCEMENT

I wish to let the voters of the County know that I was nominated as a candidate for the office of Assessor on the Republican ticket. I am aware of the fact that candidates frequently make pre-election promises that they find are hard to keep, and the voter, generally, does not put a great amount of confidence in such promises.

Nevertheless, I want the people of Custer County to know that if I am elected to the office of Assessor I intend to and will do everything I possibly can to lower the expenses of the office so far as efficient service will permit. I ask your support in the general election and thank all those who supported me at the primary.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN W. STEPHENS
Republican Candidate for Assessor.

THREE SIMPLE RULES FOR BATTERY CARE

1. Keep the solution a half-inch above the top of the plates to each cell as needed.

2. Keep the battery fully charged. A hydrometer reading of each cell at intervals of two weeks will definitely determine the state of charge. If a partially charged condition is shown, have the battery charged from an outside source.

3. Keep the terminal connections clean and tight. A thin coat of vaselin will keep them clean. Inspect your battery regularly and care for it as faithfully as you do the motor—then battery trouble will never trouble you.—KEYSTONE GARAGE. Agents for Universal Battery.

Controlling Temper.

A good old man once gave this advice to a young person who had a pretty lofty idea of himself: "Remember, a gentleman should never let his temper get the better of him. When the angry word rises to your lips, stop to count seven; if still inclined to give way to your anger, count twenty, and by that time you will have come to your senses—will have won a victory over yourself and most likely over the person who provokes you."

Sensitive Conscience.

"Conscience Money" was recently received by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh, from an American citizen to ease his guilty conscience for having stolen an apple over 40 years ago in Scotland!

Spiritual Triumph.

The guest who insists on the host that his allotment of beefsteak was delightfully tender, but that the knife was a trifle dull, provides an illustration of the often used expression, a triumph of the meat over the flesh.

Add an "S," Mr. Keeper.

"A chiel" among us" while visiting the zoo at Franklin park the other day criticized one of the placards which began: "This species of ostrich." We had to admit that it was not up to Boston's usual grammatical standard.—Boston Evening Transcript.

City of Storks.

In Angora, the capital of Nationalist Turkey, storks may be seen everywhere. One pair nest on the top of the column reared by the Romans in honor of Augustus. Anatolia is a birds' paradise, for the Turks never shoot them.

Point to Remember.

All you have really to do is to keep your back as straight as you can, and not think about what is upon it. The real and essential meaning of virtue is that straightness of back.—John Ruskin.

Some Difference.

When brother was three years old he was sitting very quiet on the back porch. So one of the young ladies next door called over and said: "What's the matter, Westie, have you a grouch on?" He answered her right back and said, "No! I've got a dwess (dress) on."

Bible Widely Distributed.

Within a hundred years more than a hundred million copies of the Bible have been distributed.

"Father of English Poetry."

Geoffrey Chaucer is usually given this title. He was the first to use the seven-line stanza and ten-syllable couplet in English verse.

Yaquis Fond of Music.

A noteworthy characteristic of the Yaquis is their fondness and talent for music. They have retained many of their primitive dances, but the custom of tattooing the chin and arms is no longer practiced to any general extent.

Machine-Made Sea Air.

A machine has been invented by means of which it is possible to produce sea air in the heart of a great city. It is being used in the treatment of various diseases.

Eloquence.

Eloquence is the child of knowledge. When a mind is full, like a wholesome river, it is also clear.—Disraeli.

British Widow Unprotected.

Under British law, unlike the law of the United States, France and some other countries, a husband is not even bound to leave any portion of his income to his wife after death.

In Perfect Faith.

Grandma and granddaughter of four were watching grandpa cover their faithful old friend Jack with sod. Little May looked up and saw grandma crying. It moved her so that she thought she would say something to comfort her, so she waited a little while until the task was completed, and then looked up at the aged pair and said: "Well, don't cry, grandma. Poor old Jat has gone to dog heaven."

Music of Living.

All one's life is music if one touches the notes rightly and in time. But there must be no hurry. There is no music in a rest, but there's the making of music in it. And people are always missing that part of the life melody and scrambling on without counting. Not that it's easy to count, but nothing on which so much depends ever is easy.—John Ruskin.

Tears and Laughter.

God made both tears and laughter, and both for kind purposes; for as laughter enables mirth and surprise to breathe freely, so tears enable sorrow to vent itself patiently.—Leigh Hunt.

Usefulness Better Than Display.

"Speakin' of de uplift," said Uncle Eben, "an elevator dat keeps runnin' reg'lar 'bout makin' no fuss does a heap more service dan a skyrocket!"

Unfair Advantage.

Giving way to anger is certainly taking a most unfair advantage of the person who is compelled to listen. Heaven knows we all have failings, but why be taken unkindly and sarcastically to task for them?

Life's Supreme Happiness.

The supreme happiness of life is the conviction of being loved for yourself, or, more correctly, being loved in spite of yourself.—Hugo.

Uncle Eben.

"Some people gits to kickin' fob one thing or 'nuther," said Uncle Eben, "an'oo force of habit, same as a parrot don't say nuffin but 'Polly wants a cracker.'"—Washington Star.

This Bird is Fat.

Young albatrosses are so laden with their own fat that one of them may go five months without taking any nourishment, says the American Forestry Magazine. This is likewise true of young pigeons and of other sea fowl.

No Eyes for Them.

The golfer must keep his eye on the ball. Perhaps that is why pretty girls don't go in much for golf.—Boston Transcript.

A Test.

When boiled and unboiled eggs get mixed, spin them and the boiled ones will spin around quite fast, while those which have not been cooked will hardly spin around once.

Cabbage in the British Isles.

The Romans are credited with introducing cabbage into England, and the soldiers of Cromwell carried it to Scotland, and made it popular there, as they did also in Ireland, according to tradition.

It Frequently is a Sad World.

A suspicious woman never feels quite convinced that all is right after she has found a pink ribbon in the car her husband had out the night before.

Shifting the Responsibility.

Another sign that the modern men are improving is that some now blame the federal reserve banks instead of their wives.—Boston News.

Insurance Will Cover It.

An inheritance tax is a mortgage that matures at death.—Exchange.
