CAN'T AFFORD IT.

The other day a merchant said he couldn't afford to advertise in his home newspaper. If the man's views were not distorted he would see that he couldn't afford not to advertise in his home paper and that not to advertise was his most expensive extravagance. That same merchant will spend hours telling of the "unfair" competition of the mail order houses who are his most aggressive and dangerous competitors, yet the methods employed by the mail-order houses which succeed are the very ones which the merchant refuses to use. The mail-order house first of all is an advertiser. Advertising is the life of its business. Every magazine that enters the small town and rural home carries the ad of the mail-order house. Expensive catalogs are printed showing the illustrations of the actual articles. Occasionally sheets are scattered broadcast over the country as a special "come on" for the bargain hunter. Instead of doing these things in a smaller way through the columns of his local paper, the merchant who can't afford to advertise sits down and "cusses" his tough luck and wonders why he can't get the business. He never thinks he has a better opportunity to reach the people in his neighborhood than the mail-order house has. It doesn't cost him as much as it does the outsider; he can draw the people to his store and show them the actual article he is advertising, and, when they buy, they can take their purchase home with them instead of having to wait several weeks for it. Advertising is an investment. It should be charged to your selling cost. Figure what percentage you have to pay to advertise, then base a fifty-two weeks campaign on the computation. You can't lose. You can't afford not to advertise.

One-third of the fools in the country think they can beat a lawyer expounding the laws. One-half think they can beat the doctor healing the sick. Two-thirds of them think they can put the minister in the hole expounding the gospel, and all of them think they can beat the editor running a paper. They would all change their minds mighty sudden after tackling any of the above jobs.

The Oklahoma idea of putting legs on corn might be used to advantage in Idaho, with some slight changes. Instead of putting legs on corn they should be put on barley and wheat by feeding these grains to cattle and hogs. There's more money in it if followed consistently year after year.

Mrs. John Baer, Mrs. F. C. Lange and Miss Minnie Lange entertained about twenty of their lady friends at the home of the former last Friday afternoon. A dainty four-course luncheon was served and the afternoon was spent very pleasantly. The affair is said to have been one of the swell events of the summer season.

Notice

In pursuance to an order of the Probate Court of Idaho County, State of Idaho, made on the 26th day of June, 1915, I will sell for cash or on credit not exceeding one year Lots 1 and 2, and South Half of Northeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 29 North, Range 1 West B. M., in Idaho County, State of Idaho, said property now belonging to the estate of James Holt, deceased. Bids and offers must be in writing and may be delivered to me personally, or may be left at the office of B. Auger, Attorney-at-law, at Grangeville, Idaho, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the probate court of Idaho County, Idaho. Such sale will be made on or after the 6th day of September, 1915.
Dated August 14, 1915, at Cottonwood, Idaho.
WILLIAM HEHL,
Administrator of the estate of James Holt, deceased.

The Clerk Guaranteed It.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.
