CHANGE MADE AT FIRST NATIONAL

Annual Election Results in E. L. Parker Becoming Vice President and W. W. Flint Assistant Cashier.

The stockholders of the First National Bank met this week and elected O. M. Collins, E. L. Parker, J. P. Manning, Walter W. Flint and Geo. M. Robertson as directors for the coming year. Mr. Collins was re-elected president, Mr. Parker was chosen vice president, Geo. M. Robertson, cashier, and Walter W. Flint, assistant cashier. Mr. H. C. Matthiesen retires from the active force in the bank and will take up other lines of business.

The bank wishes us to announce that the new face in the bank is that of an experienced business man and, while regretting the loss of Mr. Matthiesen, they will follow the same broad business principles as of the past, making courtesy in intercourse and honesty in business transactions of paramount importance.

Christian Lange Called Beyond

Christian Lange, who was reported quite ill last week, passed away at nine o'clock Saturday morning from bronchial pneumonia, from which he had been suffering only a few days. At the last he refused nourishment and medicine and it was impossible to stay the ravages of his illness.

The deceased was born in Germany and came to this country in early manhood. He was married near Chicago and lived there for several years, later removing to Iowa where he resided until in March, 1906, when he moved to Idaho and settled on a farm south of this place. Two years later he sold the farm and moved into town and has resided here continuously since that time. Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lange, two of whom died in infancy. The deceased is survived by a widow, one daughter and two sons. He was 71 years, 10 months and 8 days old at the time of his death.

Mr. Lange was an industrious, frugal citizen, a kind and loving husband and father and a thorough Christian. He was a member of the Lutheran church and lived up strictly to the teachings of his faith during his entire lifetime. He made a large number of friends since coming to Idaho, all of whom sincerely mourn his death.

The funeral was held from the residence Monday afternoon, Rev. Probst, of Gifford, preaching the sermon, and the remains were laid to rest in the local cemetery, a large number of family friends attending the last rites despite the inclemency of the weather.

The Chronicle joins with the many friends in extending sincere sympathy to them in their bereavement.

We desire to extend deepest thanks to the friends and neighbors who rendered us aid during the last illness and death of our dear husband and father and to assure them that the kindness will be long remembered.

MRS. C. LANGE,
MISS MINNIE LANGE,
MR. AND MRS. F. C. LANGE,
MR. AND MRS. GEO. LANGE.

Chester Thompson returned last night from a visit to his old home in Roseburg, Ore.

Making a Little Farm Pay

In the last issue of the Orofino Tribune is published a statement from Mrs. M. L. George, who conducts a small farm in the Fraser neighborhood, largely devoted to dairying. This statement is illuminative of what can be done with small investment anywhere in central Idaho, and probably is being done in many unsuspected places. Mrs. George in her letter under date of Jan. 1, 1916, writes:

"While closing our little farm account for the past year it occurred to me that you might like to have a little statement of interest to your readers from a Clearwater county farmer. Our income from five cows and three two-year-old heifers has been as follows for the past year:

Butter sold.....1509 pounds	$511.95
Home consumption 104 pounds	34.66
Total.....1613 pounds
Calves.....	$200.00
Buttermilk.....150 gal.	15.00
	$761.61

"None of these cows are pure-bred stock, but some are part Jersey.

"Each cow has averaged an income of $95.20, the price of a good cow.

"Average per month, $63.47.

"Forty-three head of hogs were sold off the stubble and were fed on a part of the separated milk. They brought $258."

Don't Be Over Critical

It is mighty easy to form the critical habit, and it is a habit that has practically nothing to recommend it. No one can find everything in the world to their liking, and the great thing is to accept the world as you find it.

Life is spoiled by constant carping and criticising, and to be surrounded with an atmosphere of fault-finding is as depressive as a fog. No one on earth enjoys being told that he is in the wrong all the time. He may believe it, but he would rather think that you didn't.

When you feel a disposition to criticise, just remember that you were not born to set the world right. Say to yourself, 'after all, it is of no consequence,' and keep the critical faculty for your own use; it will have all the exercise it needs.

Cougar and Lynx Numerous

Several lynx have been killed in this vicinity recently. Walter Snyder killed one a few days ago that measured six feet, while Omer Snyder brought in one shortly afterwards that was not quite as long. Their hides are valuable for furs and rugs and there is a bounty of $2.50 on each animal.

Walter and Doc Bonner, who live over on Orofino creek, report that they recently killed four big cougar in their neighborhood in one day. This is a record for one day for cougar hunting. The bounties amounted to $100 and the hides are worth from $15 to $25 each.—Weippe Herald.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoene was quite ill the first of the week with pneumonia but is progressing nicely under the care of Dr. Orr.

Word comes from Boise that the state pardon board on Saturday placed the indeterminate sentence of Allan McKinnon at a definite period of one year and, with continued good conduct, McKinnon will be released within a short time. His friends here will be very glad of his good fortune.

Pocatello records show the collection of over $9,000 in fines during the seven months of the city administration. In spite of that being a dry town most of the fines were collected from liquor violations. The amount is nearly double the total fines of Salt Lake for the year 1915.

The suit against the paper was for $95 due the foreman for wages and $164.25 due M. A. Means for rent. The Journal started only a few months ago and its early difficulties do not speak well for its financial success.

SHOULD BE SILOS ON EVERY FARM

Orofino Paper Tells Why the Farmers Should Produce Cheap Feed—The Silo is a Logical Solution.

George Cook, residing on the Fohl place two miles up Orofino creek from Orofino, says that the more his stock eat ensilage the better they like it, and he is more than satisfied with the result of his experiment. Mr. Cook says his hens have laid all winter, and credits this to the fact that the chickens are very fond of the ensilage, which they pick up, watching for any that is scattered by the cattle. The green feed seems to be just what the hens need. It is certain many silos will go up throughout this section the coming year, since those who have tried them can't say enough for them. In this connection let the reader stop and figure on the element of cost in the production of a pound of pork or beef, and it will not take a wise man to see at a glance that the profit depends entirely on the cost of production; that there is profit in hogs at five cents if the cost of production is two or three or four cents. But if high cost of feed brings the cost of producing a pound of pork up to six cents, there isn't much profit if the farmer sells at five. The cheaper the feed the greater the profit, so the farmer must wake up and play the game. If a silo will solve the problem, or if corn and alfalfa is the crop, find out and get busy.

If success lays in combining cattle, hogs and hens, feeding the crops on the farm, do it. If dairying is necessary to the success of our farmers do that, because the test of any crop or any system is the profit it will return for honest effort and the money invested.—Clearwater Republican.

Some Treats Are Coming

During January and February the local public is destined to see some of the highest class motion picture attractions ever shown on top of the hill. This was made possible when the management of the local play house closed a contract with the Fox Film Corporation for several of its best feature films. The first of these features will be shown at the Orpheum next Sunday, January 16th, when that well known story of St. Elmo, known to almost everyone of our readers, will be depicted in motion pictures. St. Elmo is a great story and the dramatization of it has improved on the original story. More than a hundred thousand dollars was spent in producing this great play for the motion picture company and our readers will miss something really worth while if they fail to see St. Elmo next Sunday.

The features booked for future dates are as follows: Jan. 30, Princess Romanoff; Feb. 13, The Nigger; Feb. 27, A Woman's Resurrection.

Because of the high cost of these productions and the additional cost of securing same an admission price of 15c and 25c will be charged for each production. Mark down the dates for future reference and do not miss a single one of these gaily superb attractions.

Clem Hussman was a county seat visitor the latter part of the week.

Stock Market Report.

Following is a report of the stock market at Portland for the week of Jan. 12:

In the face of a large run of 1350 head, the market began on an upward trend and choice grain fed steers sold at $7.90. Hay fed sold a dime over last week, making the top $7.60. One feature of the market was that the bulk of the stuff was the best seen for some time. Cows are going at good strong prices, with all other lines in proportion.

A good feeling with excellent quality and the market a nickel higher than the closing of last week's market, bringing the top to the $6.90 mark, is a very good way to express the situation at the North Portland yards. Bulk of swine went at $6.85. North Portland is but a nickel under the Chicago market today.

A good run of sheep came forward over Sunday and lambs sold at $8.25. Ewes sold at $6.50 with all lines steady to stronger.
