Nation Turns Again to Wilson

ALEXANDER CARRIES IDAHO AND THREE MORE DEMOCRATS ON THE STATE TICKET GO IN WITH HIM

Many Democratic Legislators Also Elected to Help Governor Carry on Good Work. County Goes Democratic on All But Three Offices.

Woodrow Wilson is again president of the United States.

This welcome news was flashed broadcast over the land last evening when the final election returns came in from California, giving that state to Wilson by a majority of 4400 votes. Arizona, another doubtful state, also went into the Wilson column and New Hampshire, which has been a solid republican state from time immemorial, is reported to have made a complete reversal and slid into the democratic ranks by a small majority of a hundred odd votes.

The election has been a peculiar one in that its result has remained in doubt from the time the polls closed until the final returns were at hand last night. The first returns from the large eastern states Tuesday night indicated that Hughes would be elected but by morning the tide had turned to Wilson and, as state after state came in, the result wavered between the two until the last state had made its report.

While Hughes carried the large eastern states his majorities there were cut down enormously and in several states he barely pulled through with enough votes to give him the electoral vote of the state. The surprise of the election, however, came from the western states which had been claimed by the republicans from the start and were conceded by the democrats but which went almost entirely for Wilson.

Wilson carried Idaho and Governor Alexander was again successful, carrying the state by about 1500 votes. E. L. Parker, of Cottonwood, was elected lieutenant governor over Holt, and Walters won out for attorney-general and Dougherty for secretary of state. This will give the democratic party control of the state boards and county returns also show that a larger number of democratic senators and representatives than usual were successful this year.

Idaho county swung over into the democratic column again this year and elected all but three of the candidates on the democratic county ticket. Those who lost were Tinker, candidate for commissioner from the first district; Schroeder, from the second district, and Atwood for assessor. The sympathy vote is held responsible for the latter result.

While several of the smaller mountain precincts are still to be heard from, the vote there is naturally light and will not change the result materially, although it is believed they will return slight democratic majorities in most cases.

Nationally the county went for Wilson but Alexander failed to hold his own against Davis for governor, while Parker, for lieutenant governor, carried the county over Holt by more than 300 votes.

Following is the vote in the county as we have been able to secure the totals up to the time of going to press.

Presidential electors—Democrat, 2058. Republican, 1633.

Prosecuting Attorney—Griffith, 1838. Auger, 1792.

In spite of the stormy weather and the soft condition of the roads the vote cast in Cottonwood precinct Tuesday was a strong average vote, a total of 420 ballots having been cast. Considerable interest was manifested, especially on the national ticket, and quite a bit of money was wagered during the day and evening on the result of the election, state and national.

Quite a slump from the usual democratic majority was realized in this precinct on the national ticket and this also affected the state and county ticket to some extent.

Following is the vote cast here, democratic candidates being given first in each instance:

Presidential electors—Harry L. Day, 221; David L. Evans, 218; Frank Martin, 217; John E. Pincock, 218. D. W. Church, 159; W. H. Estabrook, 156; Ed. A. Walters, 157; Ignatz Weil, 156.

Mrs. H. Terhaar Called Home

The sad news was received here by members of the family early Wednesday morning of the death of Mrs. Henry Terhaar that night at the St. Joseph hospital in Lewiston, where she had undergone an operation a few days before. Grandma Terhaar, as she was familiarly known, had been in poor health for some time and a couple of weeks ago it was decided to take her to Lewiston for treatment and later an operation was found necessary. The operation disclosed that she was afflicted with cancer of the liver and other complications and that her recovery was an impossibility. She rallied nicely from the operation, however, and seemed to be improving day by day but on Tuesday night began to sink and slept her life away a few minutes after the midnight hour.

Mary Rieland was born in Germany on April 7th, 1850, and came to this country when a child eleven years of age. She was later united in marriage to Henry Terhaar in the state of Minnesota and resided there for several years, later coming to Idaho and settling near this place some thirty years ago. To this union thirteen children were born, nine of whom are still living, they being Frank and George, of this place; Mrs. Chris. Waldmann and Mrs. Fred Mertes, of Alberta; Mrs. E. T. Stolz and Mrs. A. J. Hoffman of Greencreek; Mrs. George Lange, Anton and Ben Terhaar, of this place.

Grandma Terhaar, as she was lovingly called, was 66 years, 7 months and 1 day of age at the time of her death. She was a loving wife and mother, a true christian and stood high in the esteem of all who knew her. As a pioneer resident of this county she braved the hardships of early pioneer life, maintained her home and reared her family and yet found time to assist those about her in acts of neighborly kindness and charity on countless occasions. No one was ever turned away hungry from the Terhaar home and many can look back to happy days spent there and motherly care given them in early days when far from their own homes.

The remains of the deceased were brought to this place Wednesday evening and the funeral will be held from the local Catholic church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The sorrowing family has the deep sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

NEWS AROUND THE STATE

Items From Various Places Reproduced for the Benefit of our Readers—Stories Refreshed from Exchanges.

The Lewiston Orchards fruit district near Lewiston has packed and shipped 150 cars of apples this season.

The Orofino high school football team defeated a similar team from Lewiston last Friday by a score of 6 to 0.

The Juliaetta cannery put up 7000 cases of canned fruits and vegetables this season, as follows: 1000 cases of pears, 50 cases of plums and prunes, 1200 cases of cherries, 600 cases of beans and 3700 cases of tomatoes.

Remie DeReuve, a prominent sheep man of the Walla Walla country, purchased 500 head of high grade Rambouillet ewes from Steve Hepton at Vollmer the first of the week for $10 a head. The price is considered quite high but the owner said he knew of no better investment than sheep.

The preliminary steps for the organization of the Lewis county farm bureau were taken Saturday at Ilo at a meeting which was attended by more than 400 Lewis county farmers. The purpose of the bureau is to advance the interests of the farmers along the lines of better methods of farming, stock raising and fruit growing and to work out problems of legislation in which the farmers are interested.

Chet. Thompson Marries

Chester Thompson stole a march on his friends and slipped over to Grangeville Wednesday evening where he secured a license and was married to Miss Matilda VonBargen that evening. The happy couple left the next morning for Roseburg, Ore., where they will spend their honeymoon visiting with relatives of the groom. They will return to this place about Dec. 15th and will make their home in this city.

The bride is the daughter of Herman VonBargen, of Penn, and is a young lady of many fine qualities and has many friends in that locality.

The groom has resided here for the past couple of years and has become one of the solid young business men of our city and has friends galore. The Chronicle hopes their journey through life may be made on high gear, with plenty of spark, and no lack of gas.

Dr. Salsberg Returning

Dr. Salsberg, the Lewiston eye specialist who was in our city several weeks ago, announces a return visit for the week of Nov. 14 to 21. During his former visit Dr. Salsberg was unable to finish all work here on account of lack of time but will complete the work this time and handle all new work that may develop. He is highly recommended by those he has treated in our community.

E. L. Parker and son, Jack, left this morning for Iowa to visit the former's father, who is in poor health. They go by way of Boise.

Public School Notes

It was hard to keep politics out of school this week.

The 2d month's reports are made up and there were 124 enrolled in the whole school, 5 more than for the 2d month last year. 44 are enrolled in the high school and the second month's work is a big improvement on the first.

The highest average gain on grade cards was made by George Rogers for the 3d, Frank Stevenson for the 5th, Roy Rogers for the 6th, Will Rogers for the 7th, and Dean Waters and Helen Byam for the 8th.

The 5th and 6th grades are selling button hole flags to get money to buy a nice large flag for their room.

The first and second grades are working up a Hiawatha program that will be very interesting.

The high school plays their first match game of basket ball with Ferdinand on Friday night, the 17th.

A pie social is scheduled for Tuesday night, the 14th, by the basket ball teams to raise money for expenses.

The literary and debates on Friday afternoons are a pleasant feature and worthy of the attendance of parents.

Coming—Barnum & Bailey circus—big and famous. Everybody come and get humbugged. Featuring, Professor Doolittle and his famous dog, the world champion boxers (Jess Willard and Jack Johnson), the famous Lady Fatima performing on horses, wild west show. Watch for the side shows as you enter. Don't fail to see this as it is your last chance to attend this famous circus. Show begins promptly at 7:45 Tuesday, Nov. 14. Pie social follows. Circus and pie social—gentlemen 50 cents, ladies bring pie. No humbug about the pies.

Will Organize Brass Band

Cottonwood is at last to have a brass band. This decision was reached at a meeting held last week when some twenty of the young men of this town and vicinity got together and talked over the proposition and decided that a town as good as Cottonwood must needs have some music. The plans have not yet progressed far enough to perfect an organization but the boys have decided to furnish their own instruments and figure on being able to secure sufficient support around town and by giving concerts and dances to meet the expense of an instructor and to buy the necessary music. Prof. Shattuck, of Ferdinand, has agreed to come over twice a week and put them through their paces and it is hoped that they will be able in the course of a few weeks to make an occasional appearance in public.

A band has long been needed here and we sincerely hope the present move will result in a permanent organization being maintained. There are plenty of boys and young men hereabouts who can take part in the work to make the band a success and at the same time they will be securing much valuable musical instruction while members of the band. The town should give the boys loyal support, for it is much better to have a band of our own than to pay out large sums each year for outside organizations and often go without music on occasions when it is almost indispensable.
