FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1916

The election this week has proven a few things conclusively. One is that New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois do not necessarily indicate the way the entire nation will vote. Another is that the common people of the United States still control the country in spite of the best efforts of Wall Street and the money power to pull the wool over their eyes, and a third that we will continue to enjoy peace and prosperity under Wilson for another four years at least. The money power spent millions and did its best but the common people decided to keep Wall Street muzzled for a few years longer.

Now that election is safely over and the country is assured of four more years of peace we can go back to the work of making Cottonwood the best town on top of the hill. When that is accomplished—and it is not far distant—we can labor on to make it the best town of its size in the Pacific Northwest. This may be a little more of a job, but it can be accomplished if we all pull together and forget personal differences.

With Alexander re-elected and two state officials elected to help him out, besides a stronger percentage of democrats in the legislature this winter, we can look forward to the passage of some beneficial laws during the coming session and some material improvements in the manner of conducting state affairs during the next two years.

In 1912 when Justice Hughes was a member of the supreme court and was asked to become a candidate for president, he said: "The man who on the highest judicial tribunal would consider another office is fit neither for the one he holds nor for the one to which he aspires." The public evidently agrees with that utterance.

The act of Germany and Austria in restoring the national freedom of Poland will meet with approval of every right thinking nation on earth and it is to be hoped that these nations will back the little nation until it gets solidly established on its feet once more.

Those progressives who live by the sweat of their brow were largely in favor of the election of Mr. Wilson; those who live by the sweat of other people's brows favored the election of Mr. Hughes.

The cost of living has gone up forty-five per cent in England since the war began and the dealers in food products there have no Wilson to blame it on.

The career of Mr. Hughes as a candidate ended on November 7, but Colonel Roosevelt will continue to run until Father Time takes a fall out of him.

One sad thing about the results of the election is that the public will never know "what Hughes would have done had he been in Wilson's place."

"The Most of the Best for the Least"

Stock Market Report.

Following is a report of the Portland stock market for the week of Nov. 7.

A very light run of 600 head opened the week's trading. The keen demand from both local and outside packers and butchers advanced prices 15 to 25 cents on all kinds of cattle. The quality of Monday's run was very common, there were a few loads of good cattle here; one load of good steers brought 6.75, with a few other sales at 6.60, the balance of steers old from 3.50 to 6.00. Demand for she stuff was good, one load of prime heifers brought 6.00, which was about 35 cents over last week's market. Good cows brought 5.50 while ordinary kind brought 4.75 to 5.00. Bulls were in good demand at 25 cents higher prices, there were no prime heavy bulls offered for trade, fair to good bulls brought 4.00 to 4.25. There were a number of loads of feeders, although demand was rather light, prices in sympathy with beef cattle advanced 25 cents, with a few feeders going at 5.75.

There was a liberal supply of good hogs here Monday, one of the best runs for some time. One load of choice butchers brought 9.80, with several other loads of prime stuff to packers going at 9.75. The bulk of sales were made at 9.60. There was a good demand from all packers and butchers and offerings are sold early.

There is practically no change in the sheep trade. One load of choice east of the mountain lambs brought 8.75 today with a number of loads of valley lambs at 8.50. Valley yearlings brought 7.50; good mutton ewes at 5.55. A very good demand continues for all kind of sheep.

If you expect milk from your cows feed wheat bran and watch results.
