

FIGHT IS BEG'N ON TAWNEY

SIDNEY A. ANDERSON OUTLINES HIS CAMPAIGN.

Country Leaders Believe the Laneboro Man Has Fine Chance For Victory.

Albert Lea, Aug. 3.—Insurgent Republicans assembled here, and the first gun in the campaign against Congressman James A. Tawney has been fired.

His business and campaign manager, O. M. Levang, the "original" insurgent, accompanied him and is enthusiastic over prospects for success at the primaries.

Thomas Frazer of Rochester, one of the most radical of the insurgents stated that in Olmsted county the dissatisfied voters had been only awaiting the entry of some good candidate to express their disapproval of Tawney, and that they had taken up with Anderson at once, and would support him to the last ditch.

He is confident that Tawney will lose Olmsted. Eugene Miller of Winona, is also delighted over Anderson's entrance and believes that they now stand a good chance to make deep inroads into Tawney's vote in Winona county.

T. P. Kelley of Owatonna, who was originally urged to make the run, was present at the meeting and pledged his hardest efforts towards the success of the progressives.

There is much to attract one in the northwest," she said, when asked why she left the east.

He is confident that Tawney will lose Olmsted.

One of the first things that will be done, is to line up those papers which are opposed to Tawney and endeavor to conduct through them a liberal advertising campaign.

Levang cited a long list of papers throughout the district which were to be counted as insurgent publications.

The active campaign will begin in the latter part of the week when Anderson will sound the keynote of his fight and will make public declaration of his platform.

DICTIONARY FOR THE BLIND

Sightless Wizard is Author of Most Wonderful Book—Printed in Braille Type.

Vienna.—A notable achievement for the benefit of the blind is the first French-German dictionary printed in Braille type.

It is the well known Legenscheidt dictionary which has been put into Braille type.

Even with the use of the abbreviated type the work consists of five ponderous folio volumes.

Among the first orders for the new work was one from Helen Keller.

GIRL WINS A FARM

Philadelphian Draws 160 Acres on Indian Reservation.

Outdoor Life and Larger Freedom of Undeveloped Country Appearing Pleasing in Contrast With Environments of City.

Spokane, Wash.—Miss Mary R. Bloomer of Philadelphia, who won a homestead of 160 acres in the Flathead Indian reservation in western Montana at the government lottery, has decided to become a farmer.

Miss Bloomer did not journey from Philadelphia to the Spokane country merely for the purpose of registering in the land drawings last year at Missoula, Spokane and Coeur d'Alene.

But, while stopping on the way to visit relatives at Leavenworth, Wash., her uncle mentioned the big land opening, and then and there it was determined that she would stop at Missoula, Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, and register.

Evidently Miss Bloomer was happy in the prospect of becoming a farmer in the eastern part of the Spokane country.

He is confident that Tawney will lose Olmsted.

DOGS DRAG BOY INTO CANAL

Farm Hand Leaps into Water Just in Time to Rescue New Jersey Youngster.

New York.—Small Harry Montague came precious near being drowned at Brookdale, N. J., the other day. The team of dogs he was driving ran away and carried him and his "dog cart" in the Morris canal.

Montague, eight years, of Little Falls road, Upper Montclair, took out driving Willie Slater, six years. They started after cherries at a house on Passaic avenue, Brookdale.

Harry yanked on the reins but could not stop them. The little wagon hit a stone and Willie Slater, who was on the back seat, took a further back seat on the road.

Splash!—Into the canal went wagon, Harry, Nip and Tuck. Harry fell out of the wagon, but pluckily held on to the reins.

Garrabrant, in a field near by, heard Willie Slater's yells, and went to the rescue. As Garrabrant plunged in Harry dropped the reins and sank, but Garrabrant grabbed him; he soon revived.

Having satisfied their thirst Nip and Tuck climbed out of the canal. Willie Slater took a stick to beat them. "Let 'em alone, Willie," said Harry. "It was all my fault; I ought to have watered my horses."

THE WAITING AND THE WEIGHTED

MAN HAS SLAIN 2,000 BEARS

Veteran Western Hunter Also Has Remarkable Record of Shooting 3,000 Cougars.

Spokane, Wash.—Tom Hopper, who has killed more than 2,000 bears in California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and the province of British Columbia in the last 25 years, has returned to his home in Spokane from Kingston, Idaho, with the pelts of four bears, including the largest cinnamon bear ever killed in Idaho, and two cougars, the result of three days' work with a pack of hounds.

The big bear was killed on Pine creek, south of Kingston, after a lively battle, in which several of the dogs were severely pawed. The hounds were game, however, and stood their ground all Hopper reach the scene and dispatched the big fellow with a head shot.

The veteran has killed several thousand cougars in the Pacific and northwestern states since 1890, his largest bag in one year being 739, killed in eastern Washington and Oregon and northern Idaho and southeastern British Columbia.

He Who Runs May Also Read. "When I have time," said the gray-headed man, "I mosey along and study the writing on the sidewalks. In some parts of the town they carry on quite an interesting correspondence by means of these sidewalk hieroglyphics.

"Appointments are made, the lie is cast, broken friendships are patched up. They make love, too, in those sidewalk notes.

"A boy of 12 walked just ahead of me the other day in Tenth avenue. Every few feet he stopped and wrote on the sidewalk in different colored chalk, 'Dere Aggie Greenberg.'

"It was cleaning up time on the avenue, and no sooner had the boy passed than tradesmen appeared with pails and brooms and washed all those 'Dere Aggie Greenbergs' away. Then when the sidewalk had dried again I did a very foolish thing for a man of my age.

"Blind Like Fiction Only. A New York woman who is interested in home missionary work thought it would be a good idea to place some religious literature in the various institutions for the blind, provided some one in charge would read it to them.

"We do read to them, of course," she explained, "but they want only fiction. They do not care for anything else. If we try to read to them books of any other character it is time wasted, for they do not give any attention. No, I do not know why their taste runs to fiction, but probably because it makes the strongest appeal to their imagination."

Maybe It Will Yet. "The announcement that there are $5,000,000 eggs in cold storage in New Jersey does not appear to have resulted in anything."

"What did you expect it to result in?" "Why, I thought that an announcement of that nature would start a scramble."

"I don't know what we can do to save the country."

"Wait a couple of months and the high school graduates will tell us."

WINS THROUGH GRIT

Former Deck Hand Going to United States Senate.

Napoleon Bonaparte Broward of Florida Who Has Been a Roustabout, Sailor, Fillbuster and Governor, a Fighter.

Jacksonville, Fla.—One of the most picturesque figures in the southland and a man the story of whose life reads like a novel is Napoleon Bonaparte Broward, ex-governor of Florida, who recently defeated United States Senator Taliaferro in the senatorial primaries held in Florida.

Mr. Broward's is a brilliant example of achievement rarely equaled even in this day of self-made men. He was born in abject poverty, his parents being ignorant "Florida crackers," and his schooling was practically nil, yet he rose to the highest office in the commonwealth and now he is about to enter the United States senate.

He is a big man, mentally as well as physically, and his honesty and integrity have never been questioned. He won success in politics, as he did in civil life, by sheer bulldog courage and pertinacity and by keeping his word. He stands six feet in height, weighs more than 200 pounds and is a born fighter.

Ex-Governor Broward first attracted political notice by his project to reclaim the Everglades of Florida and making them into farming lands. It was this issue which carried him into the office of governor. He has, too, demonstrated that his scheme is feasible by converting a part of the Everglades into productive farms, and this made him immensely popular.

The father of the future senator lived in a log house on the St. John's river and eked out a bare living for his wife and children. Broward's parents died when he was in his early teens. When he was under 20 he shipped on a lumber-laden schooner bound for Boston. There he was paid off and landed in the dead of winter. He had never seen a snowstorm before, he was thinly clad and suffered terribly from the cold.
