Des Moines, Nov. 22.—Governor Carroll and Claude K. Porter each spent less than $300 in their fight for the governorship of Iowa, according to their sworn statements of election expenses filed with Secretary of State Hayward. Governor Carroll spent $287.09 and Mr. Porter $224.25.

The congressional candidates are the ones who spent the money in order to land or hold seats in Washington. First on the list filed is I. S. Pepper, Muscatine, democratic candidate, Second district, $1,844; Walter I. Smith, republican, Ninth district, $1,607.53; H. M. Towner, republican, Eighth district, $1,150.93; C. E. Over $10,000 was spent in the Second congressional district in an effort to elect Charles Grilk of Davenport to congress, according to election expense statements filed by him and the republican congressional committee of that district. This is the largest sum that was spent during the campaign in the interests of any one candidate.

Of this amount Mr. Grilk's sworn statement shows an expenditure of $5,699.75, while the sworn statement of the Second district republican congressional committee shows $4,300.50, a total of $10,000.25.

Judge S. F. Prouty, republican candidate for congress in the Seventh district, spent $1,042.92.

Other expense accounts filed show: Clint Price, democrat, congress, Seventh district, $811.45; Parley Sheldon, democrat, lieutenant governor, $145; Sherman De Wolf, democrat, state senator, $155.50; Colonel Palmer, republican, railroad commissioner, $201.75; Secretary of State Hayward, republican, re-election, $182, and socialist state central committee, $955.49.

The prohibition state central committee is $1,892.51 to the bad as the result of the state campaign. The committee spent $2,193.35 and received in contributions $1,300.84.

In the Polk county judicial contest, J. T. Mulvaney, democrat, spent $221.45; Hugh Brennan, republican, spent $50; L. E. Royal, democrat, spent $14.61.

The Seventh district democratic congressional committee went $285.72 in the hole. The committee spent $580.73 and took in $295. John W. Blake, democratic candidate for state auditor, spent $105, and B. W. Garrett, republican candidate for clerk of the supreme court, spent $153.83. C. E. Walters, democrat, attorney general, $489.75.

Chairman Nick Reed of the democratic state committee was left holding the bag for $479.52. He spent $6.96 and received from candidates $1,100, from county chairmen, $3,304 and from individuals $2,038.

H. R. Bradshaw of Fort Dodge, prohibition candidate for railroad commissioner itemized his statement as follows: Postage, 2c; letter paper, 1c; total, 3c. He was not elected.

PRESS SLUB HOST TO YOUNG

Des Moines Newspaper Men Felicitate Iowa's New Senator.

Des Moines, Nov. 22.—Men of all shades of political opinion united in felicitating Lafayette Young upon his appointment to the senate of the United States at a banquet given in his honor by the Des Moines Press club Saturday evening. The 100 and more guests who were present included, besides the members of the club, Judge Smith McPherson, a number of the attaches of his court, and all of the state house officials.

J. M. Pierce, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and the first toast to the new senator was given by Gov. B. F. Carroll on the subject "Realization." The governor's admonition to Senator Young to "remember now thy creator," was the hit of the evening. Harvey Ingham was next called upon, who extended the senator the glad hand from the club and from the newspaper fraternity. His subject was "Congratulations."

In his toast on "Expectation" Attorney General H. W. Byers imagined the feelings of a senator just starting out on his career. "Consolation," by Attorney James M. Parsons, and "Commendation" by Ora Williams, completed the program of toasts which were followed by Senator Young's happy response on "Anticipation."

The banquet to Senator Young was given upon the occasion of the regular monthly dinner of the Press club.

MANKATO GREET EBERHART

GOVERNOR'S ELECTION RATIFIED WITH BANDS AND ORATORY.

Throngs Attend Reception at Hotel and Meeting in the Theater.

Mankato, Nov. 23.—The election for the first time of a Mankato man to the position of governor of the state was ratified by a demonstration that ought to make any man proud. At the hands of his fellow townsmen, Gov. A. O. Eberhart was given a reception, the cordiality and warmth of heartedness of which could not be doubted. Not only did the citizens of Mankato turn out to do honor to the highest officer of the commonwealth, but surrounding towns and the countryside sent large delegations. Mankato was ablaze with electric lights, fireworks, torches, colored fire and unburdened enthusiasm appeared in spite of overcast skies and occasional sprinkles of rain.

Governor Eberhart came over the Omaha road.

When the governor arrived he was met by Mayor A. G. Meyer and other members of the reception committee and, preceded by his staff, walked rapidly down the line of school children, who filled the air with cheers and waving flags. The children closed in rapidly behind him, followed closely by others, and at the side entrance of the Saulpaugh house he spoke briefly to the children, thanking them for coming.

Reception at Hotel.

Turning into the Saulpaugh, an informal reception followed for an hour. Governor Eberhart was the guest of Mayor Meyer at dinner at the Saulpaugh. At 8 o'clock one of the best parades ever seen in the city took place.

Every principal street was brilliantly illuminated with red, white and blue. In the parade were decorated autos, the fire department with newly painted apparatus, a battalion of state troops from the city and New Ulm with the regimental band, and marching clubs from all wards.

Torches and rockets were carried by the marchers and during the parade fire works were set off.

Six bands were in line and helped swell the volume of sounds, and scores of transparencies and banners were carried. The scene was picturesque and lively in the extreme and for once Mankato, noted as a conservative town, broke loose.

Governor Eberhart was obliged to address the people in several localities aside from his principal address at the opera house.

Many prominent men from various parts of the state were in the assembly, including state officials, members of the legislature, and district judges, etc.

Opera House Crowded.

The opera house filled up in a few moments after the parade was completed. Two thousand persons were assembled. Prominent men from all over the state occupied seats on the stage, the staff in uniform having a prominent place. The house was attractively decorated with bunting, flags and pictures of Eberhart.

Governor Eberhart was introduced and was received with prolonged applause and cheers.

Governor Eberhart spoke very feelingly in expressing his deepest gratitude for the demonstration and hearty greeting by his fellow townsmen. He could say with pleasure that he could look all squarely in the eye with nothing to regret except that he might have served his townspeople better while living among them. "The only return I can make is to give you the best service of which I am capable," he said.

Congressman Davis, Ralph Wheelock, S. G. Iverson and Dar F. Reese also spoke.

25 LIVES LOST, MANY INJURED

WOMEN EMPLOYEES LOSE LIVES AS FLAMES SWEEP NEWARK FACTORY.

PRIEST ADMINISTERS LAST RITES

Many Leap From the Upper Floors and Are Crushed.—Several of the Injured May Die.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 28.—Twenty-five persons were killed and many injured in a fire which destroyed a factory building on High street.

Twenty-four bodies have been taken out and one employe of the factory is missing. Practically all of the victims were young women, employes of the manufacturing concerns which occupied the building. Some were saved by jumping into life nets.

Fifty girls were trapped in the fourth floor of the four-story building, occupied by Louis Wolf, manufacturer of underwear, and many were killed or injured by jumping.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an explosion in the plant of the Anchor Lamp company, on the third floor. It spread with great rapidity throughout the building.

Spectator Saw 15 Jump.

One of the spectators said that at least fifteen girls had jumped from the fourth floor. They stood at the window until, frenzied by the flames behind them and nearly suffocated by the smoke, they leaped to the street.

Two girls employed by the Aetna Company were burned. Sadie Hansen and Mrs. Margaret Molanuth. Each sustained burns about the head and face.

Eugene McHugh, a foreman in the employ of the Aetna company, proved himself a hero. He guided several scores of girls to safety down a fire escape. Nearly all escaped injury.

Priest Gives Last Rites.

Less than twenty minutes after the arrival of the firemen the interior of the building was flame-swept. The floors of the upper part of the building fell shortly afterward. It is believed a search of the ruins will reveal other bodies.

Among those who were early at the scene was Rev. Father E. F. Quirk, assistant rector of St. Joseph's church. He gave last rites of the church to seven of the victims. The priest worked nobly helping the firemen to reach parts of the building where others of the injured were thought to be.

Father Quirk said he counted twenty-three prostrated forms on the side walk. All were young women who had leaped from windows. Three of the injured, it is believed, cannot recover.

MORE MONEY FOR HIGH DAM.

Appropriation of $250,000 Recommended for Twin City Project.

Washington, Nov. 28.—An appropriation of $250,000 for the high dam between Minneapolis and St. Paul is recommended by Chief Engineer Bix by in his annual report. This is in addition to the unexpended balance of $303,407 which remained in the treasury in January, 1910, to the credit of the project.

In commenting on the benefits of the project and the traffic now handled on this part of the Mississippi river the chief engineer said:

"At the present time the principal commerce is the passage of logs, loose and rafted. During the calendar year 1909, 88,000,000 feet of logs, approximately 440,000 short tons, of an estimated value of $1,936,600 were floated down the river. The excursion business amounts to about $15,000 per annum. The construction of the lock and dam will develop a passenger traffic between St. Paul and Minneapolis and it is expected to reduce the freight rate on flour and grain shipped from Minneapolis."

Among the appropriations recommended for the river and harbor bill this winter are for the St. Croix river $3,600; the Minnesota river, $2,000; the Red river, $7,500; the harbor of Agate bay, Minn., for maintenance and improvements, $2,000.
