MOISANT AND HOXSEY KILLED

FALL FROM AEROPLANES AT NEW ORLEANS AND LOS ANGELES.

BODIES ARE CRUSHED TO A PULP

Total Deaths From Aviation Now Thirty-five, With Five in Closing Week of the Year.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—John B. Moisant and Arch Hoxsey, aviators extraordinary, were instantly killed. Both fell out of the air with their machines—neither from a great height—and Moisant's remaining minutes of life were so few as to count as naught. Hoxsey was killed instantly.

Moisant met his death at 9:55 a. m. attempting to alight in a field a few miles from New Orleans. Hoxsey, who went into the air early in the afternoon at Los Angeles, lay, at 2:12 p. m., a crushed, lifeless mass in plain view of the thousands who were watching the aviation tournament.

Moisant, a Chicagoan by birth, after an adventurous life in Central America, became interested in aviation in France less than a year ago. He soared into public recognition by his plucky flight from Paris across the English channel to London, with a passenger, and later, finding himself without a machine, by buying one from a friend and within ten minutes starting on his winning flight from Belmont Park, New York, around the Statue of Liberty, for a prize of $10,000.

Hoxsey Falls 500 Feet.

Arch Hoxsey, after a year of uniform success with the Wright aeroplane in which he had come to have a name for fearlessness and competence in the air, and in which, only within a week, he had set a new world's altitude record of 11,474 feet, and then to show his contempt for the earth, had called majestically over Mt. Wilson, an awful of the same kind of shifty sailing, treacherous wind when a matter of some 500 feet in the air, and a minute later a horrid crowd, aroused from its shock, realized that a broken mass of humanity lay beneath a torn bit of canvas and some broken spars.

Thus the last day of 1910, in bringing the total number of deaths of those who have sought to fly, to 35, capped the list with two of the most illustrious of those aviators who have been writing the history of aviation in the sky of two continents.

Golden Opportunities in the Northwest.

The Dakotas, Montana, Idaho and Washington offer golden opportunities for the farmer, the business and the professional man. Towns recently established along the new Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway in these states have had a phenomenal growth. These new towns offer good openings in many lines of business. Adjacent to this new line are thousands of acres of good agricultural land awaiting development and in Montana a 160-acre or 320-acre government homestead can still be secured. THE MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL RAILWAY during 1911 will offer very low round-trip fares to points in the Northwest, affording the homeseeker an excellent opportunity to visit and investigate this new and undeveloped country. For descriptive literature, fares and dates on which reduced fare tickets will be on sale, write F. A. MILLER, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

GOOD NEWS

Many Cresco Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Cresco are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Arthur Sinderon, E. Prospect St., New Hampton, Iowa, says: "For many years I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint and my bladder was also affected. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and a dull pain in the small of my back kept me in misery. Doctors failed to relieve me and I tried various other remedies without being helped. Finally I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. This preparation strengthened my back and kidneys and made me feel better in every way. At times since then, when I have had backache as the result of over work, I have immediately taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have disposed of the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Was a Musical Treat.

A Fon du Lac paper of Nov. 29, 1910, has the following to say of the Mountain Ash Chorus that appears in Cresco on Wednesday Jan. 11th.

"That the entertainment given at the Henry Boyd theatre Monday evening by the Mountain Ash Male Chorus, was one of the choicest musical offerings of the year and an artistic treat in every sense of that term, was the consensus of opinion of those whose good fortune it was to be present. That an attract on of such merit was entitled to a capacity house was the general verdict. The audience was appreciative throughout and indicated its appreciation by hearty applause at the end of each number, in not a few instances insisting on a double encore.

"The singing was impressively beautiful, the variety of tone of the chimes of bells, the pipe organ and the stringed orchestra being imitated with an ease and grace that bespoke the highest art, coupled with the native musical talent for which the Welsh people are famous.

"The songs of their native land were sung with a peculiar sweetness that made them favorite numbers of the program. But these were only a part of the choice offering. "Old Black Joe" and other numbers were sung with a relish and brought storms of applause.

"The soloists are especially entitled to mention. Mr. Godfrey Price making a tremendous hit in his solo "Beware." In one of the selections the roll of thunder was cleverly imitated in musical tones, flashes of lightning adding to the impressiveness of the piece."

Accidentally Shot.

Francis Kane, son of Mike Kane of Elma, accidentally received a charge of shot through his back and abdomen Christmas afternoon, from which he died three hours later.

The young man in company with two brothers had been out hunting and was returning home. The three were walking in single file with the older boy in the lead carrying a gun under his arm pointing straight ahead. About a half mile out from town the boy Francis stepped ahead and had gone but a short distance when the gun in the hands of the other boy was accidentally discharged, the full charge striking Francis in the back.

The boy who was shot was 14 or 15 years old and the one who had the gun about 18. They are cousins of the Roche boys.

It is a sad cutting off of a young man who was highly thought of and who showed all the promise of becoming a useful man.—Riceville Recorder.

Opera House Tomorrow Evening.

Of the attraction to appear at Cresco Opera House Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th, the Springfield, Ohio Times has the following to say: "Bright catchy music, clean comedy with pretty girls who have both singing and dancing ability, compose the 'Girls of 1910' which opened at the Grand Opera House last night for a weeks run. In placing this musical revue as Messrs. Young and Selby call it, they have hit the public just right. It is many a day since an audience left the Grand so well pleased as they were last night and the business for the week should be capacity at every performance.

"The Girls with the Black Eyes," Kitty Faye and Agnes Tennien were easily the hit of the show and were surrounded by a very clever company of singers, dancers and comedians." Seats will be on sale Tuesday.

What makes the concert of the Mountain Ash Chorus so popular is that they sing choruses and songs that are understood and appreciated by the common people and the musical critics alike. Manager Lomas announces that he has secured the latest musical comedy revue, "The Girls of 1910" for Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th. The company is headed by two sprightly girls, Kitty Faye and Agnes Tennien who last season made such a pronounced hit in vaudeville. This promise to be the real musical treat of the season.
