EVACUATION.

The President Has Not Yet Completed His Plans

FOR THE LAST DAYS OF HIS STAY IN WASHINGTON.

Apartment for himself, Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom and Colonel Lambert and Family have been secured at the Victoria Hotel, New York—Other News of National Importance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—At the White House it is said that the President and Mrs. Cleveland have completed their plans for the last days of their stay at Washington. They have received many invitations to spend several days at various homes, and it is also said they have accepted Secretary Fairchild's offer of hospitality, and will go to his house on Saturday, and they now expect to go over to New York on Tuesday, the 5th of March. Apartments have been secured at the Victoria hotel, corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, for Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom, Col. and Mrs. Lambert and children, and this party will leave town together and spend the spring under the same roof.

It is possible that the president will leave the White House on Saturday, the 24, when he can do so quietly and without attracting undue attention to himself and luggage. If he should delay his departure until Monday, the morning of the 4th, the streets being full of people for the inauguration display, he would find himself the observed of several thousand observers, which would be unpleasant for the outgoing and retiring president. There is little of personal and portable property for the Cleveland family to take from the White House, as Oak View has been made the receptacle of most of the goods accumulated since they have lived at the capital. The party may go on Monday, as there is nothing to detain them after the inauguration of Mr. Harrison.

The members of the cabinet cannot leave the city until Wednesday, or not before their successors are inducted into office and confirmed by the senate. The family of Secretary of the Interior Vilas will not get to their home in Madison, Wis., until May or later, and they will probably go to Europe for the summer. Mr. Harrison, leaving the packing to be done by the servants, and he will occupy their New York house that is in readiness for him.

The Fairchilds, too, go on to New York on Wednesday, or thereafter.

TRACKS TO BE GUARDED.

Exerting Every Precaution to Make General Harrison's Trip Safe.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 25.—Notices have been sent to the supervisors and section foremen of the Pennsylvania railroad to have their trackwalkers be doubly vigilant in their patrols during the passage of President-elect Harrison's train on this division. One man will be stationed at every mile of track between Pittsburgh and Erie, and another at every five miles between Erie and Harrisburg. The men will be on duty at all points along the line will be on duty to check up anything that may block the track.

Get Your Ball Tickets Now.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The inaugural committee has issued the following notice: "Parties proposing to attend the inaugural ball should not rely too confidently upon securing tickets upon their arrival here, as the number of tickets is limited, and there is danger that the committee may have difficulty in supplying at the last moment the 250,000 visitors expected to be present. It will be much safer for those intending to come to secure their tickets immediately by application to the chairman of the finance committee, Capt. George E. Lomon, Washington, D. C. Price of ball tickets, admitting one person, $5 each; supper tickets $1 additional."

Raising Babies by Machinery.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—Raising babies of premature birth by the aid of a mechanical incubator is the latest freak of medical science at the Woman's hospital, North College avenue and Twenty-second street. For the first time in this city this process was put to a practical test, ten days ago, when Florence Ryan, an eight month child, was wrapped in swaddling clothes and placed in the incubator. The baby is thriving under the process, and apparently enjoying the best of health. She weighed at the time of her birth about three pounds, or one-half the weight of an average newborn child. The incubator has raised the baby's weight up to five pounds within ten days. She rests in the incubator constantly, except when taken out to receive nourishment or to be changed. The former operation occurs three times a day and the latter twice.

HE PULLED HIS EAR.

A Disgraceful Scene Enacted in the Senate Committee Rooms.

New York, Feb. 25.—The World's correspondent at Washington telegraphed the following story to that paper Friday night:

Senator Chandler's right ear is much larger than the left to-night. The reason is that Senator Blackburn gave it a very vigorous pulling, in the senate committee room to-day. Senator Chandler would not fight, or there would certainly have been more than an enlargement of the ear.

The trouble arose from a discussion in the committee on Indiana transients, and ending Mr. Blackburn a slave driver. Mr. Blackburn returned that Mr. Chandler was a scoundrel and coward, and but for his dim little size would receive a thrashing. He then grabbed Mr. Chandler by the ears and shook him until Mr. Faulkner succeeded in parting the angry senators.

DEBUIQUE, Iowa, Feb. 25.—White Caps made their first appearance in Dubuque Thursday night. Six mounted men carrying lanterns and wearing white caps rode up to the residence of Michael Carney, seized him, bound him on a horse and galloped him out of the city. A word was spoken by the gang, nor any attention paid to Carney's appeals for mercy. Carney finally managed to slip off the horse and made his escape in the darkness, reaching home ferrially frightened but unhurt. He has an idea why he was thus assaulted. The police are searching for the perpetrators of this villainous attack.

The son contested the will on the ground that his father was unduly prejudiced against him on the question of his drinking and that he was mentally incapacitated at the time of making the will.

STANLEY AGAIN.

Lieutenant Baert Returns From Africa to Brussels.

MORE LETTERS MAY SOON BE EXPECTED FROM THE EXPLORER.

A Nationalist Member of Parliament Impressed for Quoting From Harrison's Speeches—Comments on the New French Cabinet—German Men-of-War Ordered to Samoa—Foreign News.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 25.—Lieut. Baert, who was at Stanley Falls when Henry M. Stanley's letter to Tippoo Tib was delivered, has arrived here. He states that the messengers were closely questioned, and they confirmed the details of the letter. Lieut. Baert believes that Stanley only reached Wadiali by strenuous efforts, and that Emin Pasha relieved Stanley instead of being relieved and revictualled by him. Stanley was enabled to return to Muremia in eighty-two days, whereas the journey from Yambungu to Wadiali occupied ten months.

Baert adds fresh letters from Stanley for England, written when Stanley departed from Muremia to rejoin Emin, arrived at Stanley Falls just as he left, and may be expected shortly. He says that Stanley will not return either via the Congo or via Zanzibar but that he intends to capture Khartoum and meet the Sudan from the north. Baert expresses confidence in Tippoo Tib's fidelity, and says that Stanley's refusal to accompany Stanley was due to his fears of risking the consequences of a prolonged absence from Stanley Falls.

He Used Harrison's Words.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—It is reported in parliament circles that the principle of the speech which Mr. James L. Carey, the Nationalist member for North Kildare, was arrested up in Scotland the other day, where he was making stump speeches for his friend, Sir John Kinloch, blasted off to Ireland sent for him by Mr. Carey, who was in the reading at various meetings of a speech made by President-elect Harrison at a Home Rule meeting held at Indianapolis in April, 1887.

After referring to the memorial to Mr. Gladstone which Gen. Harrison signed recently, Mr. Carey said: "Long before Gen. Harrison was a candidate for the presidency he had given clear and unmistakable expression to his opinions regarding Ireland."

Mr. Carey then read the following extract from the Indianapolis speech: "I am not here to discuss particular measures of relief for Ireland. I am not here to suggest that legislation should take this or that precise form, but here to at least agree that it should be progressive in the direction of a more liberal government for Ireland than she now has. We are not here to suggest to Great Britain that she shall concede Irish independence. The disintegration of nations is seldom accomplished by legislative enactment. When that comes it comes as the fruit and result of successful revolution."

"We are here simply to say that, in our opinion, as American citizens, what Ireland needs is not coercion, is not the constabulary, is not the soldier with his bayonet, and is not the liberal laws tending to emancipate her people from the results of long centuries of misgovernment, and that when this British ministry starts in the direction of coercion and repression, we are here to demand a coercion bill has been enacted by parliament it is traveling in a wrong direction."

"It is not impossible in this age of the world to govern a people as numerous and inhabiting a country so vast as Ireland, and by coercion. The period in the world's history when man might be governed by force—their inclinations coerced, their aspirations for participation in government suppressed—has passed away forever. More and more the American idea that government rests upon the consent of the governed is making its way in the world."

Mr. Carey said that upon another occasion Gen. Harrison said: "It is gratifying to see a nation, and a nation so great as Ireland, so ready to accept of a government which is not imposed upon her, but which she has chosen for herself. I would rather see William O'Brien in Tallinn, a martyr to free speech, than the lord lieutenant in Dublin castle."

The Republics, which were brought to Mr. Carey's notice a short time ago, have been printed in pamphlet form and distributed widely. They exerted no little influence upon the electors in Perthshire, where Mr. Carey's name was put up by ballot in a future parliamentary contest.

Train on the Central Pacific Held Up Near Pixley, California, and Dynamite Bombs Exploded Under the Express Car—One Passenger Instantly Killed and Another Wounded.

DELANO, Cal., Feb. 25.—As train No. 17 left Pixley Friday evening five men boarded it. Two went on the engine and covered the engineer and fireman with revolvers. Dynamite bombs were exploded under the passenger cars toward the front. Two of them were shot. E. S. Beatty, of Modesto, was probably fatally wounded, and Charles G. Bently, who was killed instantly. The train ran back to Pixley, where the news was left.

The passenger coaches were not molested. Another account states that but two men were concerned in the robbery, and that while one remained on the engine the other made his way to the express car, and by exploding bombs under it, he frightened the messengers that they speedily opened the doors. Bently, who was probably fatally wounded, is deputy constable here. The amount secured by the robbers is unknown. A posse will pursue them from here.

The latter seized the negro's coat and held on to him screaming at the top of his voice, as the negro dragged him along. Recovering his feet the lad secured another hold upon the box, and continued his cries until the negro let go of the box and ran.
