GOTHAM'S JUBILEE.

October 12, 400 Years Ago, The New World Was Discovered.

An Event That is Being Appropriately Celebrated To-day in the Greatest City of America.

Special to the Leaf-Chronicle.]

New York, Oct. 12.—Cannonades have ushered in the great day. The bells of Trinity and Grace, the chimes of every church from the Battery to Harlem have rung out the great tidings that on October 12, four hundred years ago, the New World was discovered. At Fort Wadsworth, Fort Hamilton, at Riverside Park, from the great guns at West Point to the rifle pits on Sandy Hook there have belched forth great volumes of sounds. Flags fly to the topmasts of every ship, of every public building, at every point where the military is encamped.

The city is now fairly massed with strangers, and the prices that are being asked and paid for available windows are almost beyond belief. Fifth avenue windows are in some instances commanding $500 for the day and the night parades.

The military parade is already forming and Major-General O. O. Howard will lead with his regulars. These comprise Engineer Corps, from Willett's Point and West Point, Corps of Cadets, available companies of instruction command from David's Island recruiting department, the First and Second brigades of New York Militia, regular United States troops from the Atlantic Coast and Lake Stations, cavalry from Mt. Myer, near Washington; the Garrison from Ft. Henry, Baltimore; the Garrison from Ft. Warren, Boston; the Engineer Battalion, 200, West Point cadets; troops in New York harbor—about one thousand from Ft. Hamilton, Ft. Wadsworth and Ft. Columbus; 1,000 Marines from the war ships Miantonomoh, Philadelphia, Vesuvius, Atlanta and Dolphin; the Provisional brigade of New Jersey Militia, about two thousand strong; Gov. Abbott and staff, escorted by the Essex Troop, mounted; Pennsylvania Militia and Gov. Pattison and staff, escorted by the Philadelphia City Troop; Connecticut brigade, two thousand strong; Rhode Island Militia, 1,500 strong; the Fire Department, New York, composed of seventy companies, under Chief Bonner; visiting firemen from Brooklyn and other places; the Volunteer Exempt Veterans; Grand Army Post of New York and Brooklyn, 7,000 strong; Italian, Spanish, Swedish, Germans, Polish, Bohemian, French, Irish, Danish and other uniformed foreign societies. General McMahon will be in command, with Lieutenants R. H. Patterson and David Price and aids mounted. The lines are forming along Bowling Green, where once stood the statue of King George, along State and Whitehall streets, and on all streets south of the City Hall. The great free stand at City Hall has been jammed since the dawn of day with a vast mass of humanity, and all along the route, which is the same for afternoon and evening parades, the surging crowd is waiting the coming of the militia.

All along Broadway to Fourth street, West and Washington Square, to Fifth avenue, and past the great reviewing stand where the national authorities await to review, there is a black mass of humanity visible.

Early this afternoon the Columbus monument at Fifty-ninth street and Eighth avenue will be unveiled, and to-night, through brilliantly illuminated streets the great civic pageant will take place. The order of parade is, Platoon of Police, Bicycling Clubs carrying lanterns, Mounted Cavalry announcing the triumph of America, Twelve Mounted Grenadiers, Cappa's Seventh Regiment Band, Grand Marshal Col. John J. Garnett and staff, Float, "The Car of Fame," Group of Indians showing costumes of different tribes—Float, "Car of Prehistoric America," Group of Tollates—Float, "Homage to Columbus," Group representing members of the Court of Ferdinand and Isabella—Float, "The Santa Maria," Mounted Cavalade—Float, "The Car of Liberty," Groups of Dutch and Puritan Colonists, George Washington and his staff, The G. A. R., Naval Cadets—Float, "The Press"—Float, "Poetry and Romance"—Float, "Music"—Float, "The Car of Science"—Float, "Supremacy of the American Woman," Columbia's Car of State, The Car of Electra, The Red Men. Many characteristic groups will follow.

A Little Girl's Experience in A Lighthouse. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich. and are blessed with a daughter four years old. Last April she was taken down with the Measles, followed by a dreadful Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Owen & Moore's.

CHURCH MISSION HOUSE

Will be Occupied by National Officials of the Episcopal Church.

Special to the Leaf-Chronicle.

New York, Oct. 12.—To-morrow the corner-stone of the Church Mission's House, which is to be occupied by the national officials of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, is to be laid at the corner of Fourth avenue and Twenty-second street. The building will occupy a plot of ground measuring eighty feet on Fourth avenue and seventy feet on Twenty-second street, and will be over one hundred feet high.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look, if your kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures Pimples, Blisters, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Owen & Moore's Drug Store, 50c per bottle.

Dr. Denny's Last Sermon.

Rev. Collins Denny will preach his last sermon as pastor of the Methodist church Sunday. It will be remembered that Dr. Denny was appointed pastor of the Methodist church here to fill out the unexpired term of Dr. J. B. West, deceased, and that the appointment was only made until Conference could meet and name a preacher for the station. Dr. Denny has a chair in the Vanderbilt University and will be occupied there after Conference. His preaching has been very fine, and the church regrets that his time has drawn to a close.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Owen & Moore Druggists.

$2.00 for the Round Trip.

The colored people have arranged for an excursion from Clarksville to Memphis, Oct. 15 to witness the Fall Display in that city. The fare for the round trip will be $2.00, returning to Clarksville on the morning of the 17th. Two coaches will be attached for the accommodation of white people. For tickets and further information apply to G. T. Osborne, ticket agent. Oct 12d3t

Too Much of a Risk.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. For sale by Owen & Moore, Druggists.

Something About Cloaks.

Mrs. Wm. Rosenfield has an advertisement in this issue of the LEAF-CHRONICLE calling attention to her fine stock of cloaks. She has a large assortment and can fit anybody. Her prices are such as to suit all. Read her advertisement and then examine her cloaks.

A Cure for Rheumatism.

Dr. P. A. Skinner, of Texarkana, Ark., is an enthusiast in the praise of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He used it for rheumatism, and says: "I found it to be a most excellent local remedy." For sale by Owen & Moore, Druggists.

A CELEBRATED CASE.

Edward Parker Deacon Again Before the Public.

The Beginning of the End of a Very Sensational Law Suit at Paris.

Special to the Leaf-Chronicle.]

PARIS, Oct. 12.—To-morrow is the day set for the trial of the case of Edward Parker Deacon against his wife, Mrs. Deacon. It is the beginning of the end of a case which has attracted international interest, as both Mr. and Mrs. Deacon are members of the very best families of the United States.

The charge against Mrs. Deacon is that of adultery, and the correspondent in the case is Mr. Abelle, the man killed by Mr. Deacon. For this crime the latter has just ended almost a year's imprisonment. If the charge of adultery is proven the penalty to be paid by Mrs. Deacon will be imprisonment for a period of between three months and three years. If extenuating circumstances be shown, a fine may be substituted for imprisonment.

Mr. Deacon is confident, however, that the charge will be proved true in its full significance, as he has new and abundant evidence against his wife. Should Mrs. Deacon be condemned to imprisonment, Mr. Deacon may exercise his legal right under the French law and suspend the execution of the penalty. The case will be tried before judges. No jury will be called. Mrs. Deacon is expected to be present during the trial. If she is absent, however, the court will have no power to hear her defence.

Owing to the practice of the French courts as regards imposing obligations in the matters of residence and education of the children, Mr. Deacon will not sue in France for divorce. What proceedings he may take upon his return to the United States has not been positively determined, or, if determined, has not been made known. His intention, however, is that should the decision of the Grasse court establish beyond legal question the adultery of his wife with M. Abelle, he will obtain a divorce and a right to care for his children from the American courts. This he expects he will be able to do without opposition. Although she obtained the care of the children during Mr. Deacon's term of imprisonment, he has through an order of the Paris Tribunal obtained control of two of the children. The baby, which Mr. Deacon claims is the child of M. Abelle, he has not asked for. All the efforts of Mrs. Deacon to see her husband have thus far proven fruitless.

A Cure for Cholera.

There is no use of any one suffering with cholera when Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know.—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This remedy is used there with great success. For sale by Owen & Moore, Druggists.

Billing the Circus.

There was much bustle about Shelton & Sons' stable this morning getting wagons and teams ready to go to the country for the purpose of billing Sands & Rentfrow's circus, which exhibits here Oct. 28. These popular livery men secured all orders for this work, and have also closed a contract to furnish all the feed that will be necessary to run the show while here. This is a rather small circus but it is said to be a good one.

Quincy troubled me for twenty years. Since I started using Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil I have not had an attack. The oil cures sore throat at once. Mrs. Letta Conrad, Standish, Mich., Oct. 24, '83. Sold by T. H. Hodge Drug Co.

Blue Wing Meeting.

The Blue Wing Hunting Club will meet to night at 8 o'clock at the Tobacco Exchange. Business of importance. J. C. KENDRICK, President.

Would you ride on a railroad that uses no danger signals? That cough is a signal of danger. The safest cure is Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Sold by all dealers on a guarantee of satisfaction. For sale by T. H. Hodge Drug Co.

A DEADLY FEUD.

Blood May Flow at Riverside, Kentucky.

A Deadly Combat Sure to Result When the Rone and Norris Meet—They Are Mad.

Special to the Leaf-Chronicle.

BOWLING GREEN, KY., Oct. 12.—In the vicinity of the little village of Riverside, in this county, a feud has sprung up between two families which is likely to become as deadly as some of those known to Eastern Kentucky.

A year ago enmity was engendered between James L. Rone and H. C. Norris. Several weeks ago they met at a merry-making in this vicinity, and when they started home a shooting match occurred, with the result that Norris was shot in the head. He was taken home by friends and finally recovered.

Since that he and Rone have each gone armed. They have not met since the first encounter, but they have had a shooting skirmish at long range. A few days ago Rone, in company with his friend, Charley Meredith, who is the constable of the Riverside district, was going through Riverside. Rone had with him his gun.

The Norris family lives in Riverside, and when Rone and Meredith were passing the Norris homestead, the Norrises, as Rone and Meredith claim, opened fire on them from the house; Rone returned the fire while Meredith was trying to keep the mule from running away. More than twenty shots in all were exchanged, but nobody was hurt. Each side claims that the other was the attacking party. A deadly combat is sure to result whenever the parties meet.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

A Merchant Who Advertises Talks to a Reporter.

The man who does judicious advertising is the man who should know whether or not it pays. This thought was given to a reporter this morning by J. Rosenfield, who has been doing some good advertising for the past year. He does the major part of this advertising in the LEAF-CHRONICLE and he says it pays handsomely. He sent out a half page supplement in the LEAF-CHRONICLE a few days ago. This cost him a good round sum, but it has paid him. Three customers came to his house yesterday whom he had never sold before and each purchased more goods than the advertisement cost him. They told him they saw his bargains enumerated in the LEAF-CHRONICLE.

In conversation with a reporter this morning Mr. Rosenfield said he was well pleased with all the advertising he had done with the LEAF-CHRONICLE, and he was also pleased to notice that other merchants were advertising pretty freely. "Every merchant in town," said he, "ought to advertise more than they do. It not only benefits them, but it benefits the city. The advertisements that go out through the papers show to the trade of the surrounding country that Clarksville is bustling, and that the merchants can and will sell goods as cheap as they can be bought elsewhere."

There is good logic in this. The merchants of a city are its guardians, so to speak. Enterprise on their part brings in trade that might go elsewhere if let alone. A merchant to be successful must let the people know where he stays. No city can be successful without successful merchants. The merchant who advertises draws people to the city, and he not only benefits himself in a financial way, but he brings the city into notice.
