

Business Cards.

NATIONAL HOTEL, S. B. GRANT, Proprietor, Clarksville, Tennessee. Having leased this well known House from Mr. C. M. Stewart, I am now renovating and refitting it for the accommodation of the public.

DR. J. M. PIRTELL, Office at his residence - corner of Main and Fourth Street, opposite Cumberland Church, Clarksville, Tenn., July 21-23-3m.

DR. H. M. ACREE, Surgeon Dentist, CLARKSVILLE, TENN. TENDERS his services to the citizens of the city and vicinity, in the different branches of his profession.

WAR CLAIM AGENCY! W. A. PEPPER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND CLAIM AGENT. DOES A GENERAL LAW BUSINESS, AND attends to the prosecution and collection of Claims against the Government for property lost and destroyed during the war.

J. C. McMULLEN, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, CLARKSVILLE, TENN. Will practice in the several Courts of the State, Courts Martial and before Military Commissions.

J. C. McMULLEN, CLAIM AGENT, CLARKSVILLE, TENN. Will collect or purchase the conditional Vouchers, or receipts given by the S. B. Ills. for horses impressed, by special Orders, No. 25d, Department Tennessee, July 14-21.

PRESLEY A. BYRNE, Forwarding and Commission MERCHANT, AND STEAMBOAT AGENT, WAREHOUSE - Lower End of Wharf, CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE, July 14-16.

R. H. WILLIAMS, DEALER IN DRY GOODS, BOOTS, SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, Groceries, Trunks, &c., Franklin-St., CLARKSVILLE, TENN., July 14-17.

W. S. POINDESTER & CO., WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS! AND DEALERS IN Iron, Salt, Cement, &c., Cor. Franklin and Market Sts., Clarksville, Tennessee, July 14-17.

CHAPMAN & CO., Produce and Commission Merchants, DEALERS IN GROCERIES, Wines and Liquors, Hardware, Saddlery, Boots and Shoes, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, HATS, CAPS, TOBACCO, CIGARS, ETC., FRANKLIN STREET, CLARKSVILLE, TENN.

LUCAS & BAGWELL, DEALERS IN BOOTS AND SHOES! HATS AND CAPS, SPUN COTTON, TRUNKS, VALISES, & C., At Wagoner & O'Brien's Old Stand, Franklin-St., Clarksville, Tenn.

HODGSON & LINDLEY, SOLE AGENTS FOR THE Kanawha Salt Company, AND DEALERS IN CROCKERY AND COUNTRY PRODUCE, WALL PAPER, Tin, Hard and Queensware, Oils, Paints, White Lead, &c., 1500 BARRELS SALT FOR SALE, Franklin St., Clarksville, July 14-17.

Clarksville Chronicle.

PRINTED WEEKLY, EVERY FRIDAY MORNING, BY NEBLETT & GRANT, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

Terms - Three Dollars per Year. No name entered on our books till the subscription is paid for.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Parties advertising by contract, for a given time, will be confined to their legitimate business; anything outside of this will be charged for separately. Advertisers, for a specified time, exceeding three months, will have the privilege of renewing their advertisements quarterly; all extra changes will be charged for.

Terms of Advertising: Twelve Lines or Less Constitute a Square.

Table with 2 columns: Description of ad (e.g., One Square, one week), Price (e.g., $1.00). Includes rates for various durations and sizes.

Tribute of Respect.

As a called meeting of Clarksville Chapter, No. 3, July 29, 1865, the acting Most Excellent High Priest announced the death of our beloved and highly esteemed companion, THOMAS W. WIZDOM.

Courting in Right Style.

"Oh, you, my natty piggy - let me alone or I will tell my Ma!" cried old Sally, to her lover Jake, who sat about ten feet from her, pulling dirt from the chimney jam.

How to Preserve a Bouquet.

When you receive a bouquet, sprinkle it lightly with fresh water; then put it in a vessel containing soap suds, which nourish the roots and keep the flowers as new.

Important from President Johnson.

Washington, July 16, 1865. To Gen. Wm. G. Brownlow: I hope, as I have no doubt, you will see that the law passed by the last Legislature are faithfully executed, and that all illegal voters in the approaching election for members of Congress be conducted fairly.

Address to the Democratic Party.

The Chairman of the Democratic Resident Committee at Washington, has issued an address to the Democracy of the United States, from which the following is an extract: "And now we stand at the commencement of a new political era. Old things have passed away. Let the dead bury their dead, while we turn our thoughts to the living, and to the future."

My First Experience in House-Keeping.

Dear Ellen - You have often asked me to give you a history of my commencing house-keeping. Well, I really don't know as any one can be much benefited by such a common literary bit. If you can be benefited by it - I am willing to let you some of the experiences of a beginner in one of the most trying situations a poor person can be placed in.

The New Military Departments and Divisions.

WASHINGTON, July 12. - The following order, which has been in substance for some days, is ordered to positively define the geographical boundaries of the several departments, is officially promulgated to-day: "WAR DEPARTMENT, Adjutant General's Office, Washington, June 27, 1865."

Address of Mr. Saunders.

To the Voters of the Eighth Congressional District, Comprising the Counties of Tipton, Shelby, Haywood, Fayette, Madison, Hardeman, and McNairy: Follow Citizens - I am a candidate to represent you in the Congress of the United States.

This revolution has sprung upon us new issues, and imposes upon every good citizen a weighty and most important duty. The old state of things has in some instances passed away, and a new order is to be inaugurated. The nature of a great nation, and a noble race of people - the future of free Government and Constitutional Liberty is now in the hands of the American people, and most fearful is the responsibility they have to discharge.

Let us all go to work as one man to restore law and order, peace and quiet as speedily as possible. Let the past be buried with the past and remember only that we may profit by its sad but dearly bought lessons. Let us go to work in earnest, and with a determination to win, or die.

One of the results of the war is the destruction of slavery. The South must accept of that practical fact. It has no alternative; and I counsel my fellow-citizens to accept this truth as early as possible and govern themselves accordingly.

The administration of Andrew Johnson shall receive my earnest, cordial, and most hearty support. I shall favor the re-establishment of the navy yard at Memphis, and the establishment of a Court of Claims in Memphis where citizens of this State may receive compensation for their losses of property caused by the ravaging depredations of the war; and as your Representative it will ever be my pleasure, and it will be my duty, to attend to all such claims until such a court shall have been established where you can have them adjusted.

I shall favor an economical administration of the Government, such as I have occasion to know will be the policy of the President; and whatever measures that will tend to lessen the burdens of our people I will earnestly advocate and support.

All obnoxious legislation heretofore passed, creating distinctions among them, I shall constantly labor to repeal, modify, or abolish, leaving on our statute books only such laws as will tend to bind up the wounds of a bleeding country and make us one people. Let sections, sectional feelings, and party spirit all be obliterated and forgotten, and let a national brotherhood and good feeling prevail everywhere throughout the land.

I would most respectfully urge upon the voters of this district to qualify and vote. The importance of each action on your part must be apparent to every one. With many persons in this district I am personally acquainted. For several years before the war I was connected with the Memphis press. I have before the people of Tipton, Shelby, and Fayette as a candidate for the Legislature; and it is with pride and gratitude to the good people of those counties that I can proudly refer to the warm support they extended to me, giving in each of the counties a large vote over the party of which I was the representative. A Tennessee by birth, education, and interest, it will ever be my object to look vigilantly after the best interest of this district and State; and should you honor me with your suffrage, I will promise you, my fellow-citizens, to use every exertion in my power to serve you to the best of my ability, your fellow-citizen.

Very respectfully, ROBERT S. SAUNDERS.

An Act to Prevent Officers of the Army and Navy and Other Persons Engaged in Military and Naval Service of the United States, from Interfering in the Elections in the States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That it shall not be lawful for any military or naval officer of the United States, or other persons engaged in the civil, military or naval service of the United States, to interfere in any State, or to hold any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to exercise the right of suffrage in any State of the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States.

Important from the Treasury Department.

The President, in his proclamation of June 13, 1865, having declared that the insurrection, so far as it relates to the State of Tennessee, is suppressed, the Treasury Department has the honor to announce that the effect of said proclamation, viz: arms, ammunition, all articles from which ammunition is made, and gray uniforms and cloth may be permitted by the proper officers of the Customs, upon presentation to them of invoices of the articles to be shipped, and the receipt of the major-general commanding the department of the Tennessee is directed thereon.

Opinion of Stephen A. Douglas.

In the discussion before the people of Illinois, just previous to his last election to the U. S. Senate, Judge Douglas said: "I hold that a negro is not and never ought to be a citizen of the United States. I hold that this government was made upon a white basis, by the white men for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever and should be administered by white men and none others. I do not believe that the Almighty made the negro capable of self-government."

Thoughtful of James.

Thoughtful of James - An applicant for exemption on account of physical disability, informed the examining physician that he was troubled with heart disease. The doctor told him to run up and down the stairs leading to his office once or twice. The applicant did this, when the physician, after listening to the motions of the heart said: "You will pass, sir, a dollar, if you please."

A Texas Paper states that the following Confederate officers left San Antonio for Mexico, via Eagle Pass, on the 20th ult. Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Major-General Price and Shelby, and the following civilians: Gen. Allen and Ex-Gov. Moore, of La. They were escorted by about three hundred men well armed and provisioned for six months.

Address of Mr. Saunders.

To the Voters of the Eighth Congressional District, Comprising the Counties of Tipton, Shelby, Haywood, Fayette, Madison, Hardeman, and McNairy: Follow Citizens - I am a candidate to represent you in the Congress of the United States.

This revolution has sprung upon us new issues, and imposes upon every good citizen a weighty and most important duty. The old state of things has in some instances passed away, and a new order is to be inaugurated. The nature of a great nation, and a noble race of people - the future of free Government and Constitutional Liberty is now in the hands of the American people, and most fearful is the responsibility they have to discharge.

Let us all go to work as one man to restore law and order, peace and quiet as speedily as possible. Let the past be buried with the past and remember only that we may profit by its sad but dearly bought lessons. Let us go to work in earnest, and with a determination to win, or die.

One of the results of the war is the destruction of slavery. The South must accept of that practical fact. It has no alternative; and I counsel my fellow-citizens to accept this truth as early as possible and govern themselves accordingly.

The administration of Andrew Johnson shall receive my earnest, cordial, and most hearty support. I shall favor the re-establishment of the navy yard at Memphis, and the establishment of a Court of Claims in Memphis where citizens of this State may receive compensation for their losses of property caused by the ravaging depredations of the war; and as your Representative it will ever be my pleasure, and it will be my duty, to attend to all such claims until such a court shall have been established where you can have them adjusted.

I shall favor an economical administration of the Government, such as I have occasion to know will be the policy of the President; and whatever measures that will tend to lessen the burdens of our people I will earnestly advocate and support.

All obnoxious legislation heretofore passed, creating distinctions among them, I shall constantly labor to repeal, modify, or abolish, leaving on our statute books only such laws as will tend to bind up the wounds of a bleeding country and make us one people. Let sections, sectional feelings, and party spirit all be obliterated and forgotten, and let a national brotherhood and good feeling prevail everywhere throughout the land.

I would most respectfully urge upon the voters of this district to qualify and vote. The importance of each action on your part must be apparent to every one. With many persons in this district I am personally acquainted. For several years before the war I was connected with the Memphis press. I have before the people of Tipton, Shelby, and Fayette as a candidate for the Legislature; and it is with pride and gratitude to the good people of those counties that I can proudly refer to the warm support they extended to me, giving in each of the counties a large vote over the party of which I was the representative. A Tennessee by birth, education, and interest, it will ever be my object to look vigilantly after the best interest of this district and State; and should you honor me with your suffrage, I will promise you, my fellow-citizens, to use every exertion in my power to serve you to the best of my ability, your fellow-citizen.

Very respectfully, ROBERT S. SAUNDERS.

An Act to Prevent Officers of the Army and Navy and Other Persons Engaged in Military and Naval Service of the United States, from Interfering in the Elections in the States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That it shall not be lawful for any military or naval officer of the United States, or other persons engaged in the civil, military or naval service of the United States, to interfere in any State, or to hold any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to exercise the right of suffrage in any State of the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States.

Important from the Treasury Department.

The President, in his proclamation of June 13, 1865, having declared that the insurrection, so far as it relates to the State of Tennessee, is suppressed, the Treasury Department has the honor to announce that the effect of said proclamation, viz: arms, ammunition, all articles from which ammunition is made, and gray uniforms and cloth may be permitted by the proper officers of the Customs, upon presentation to them of invoices of the articles to be shipped, and the receipt of the major-general commanding the department of the Tennessee is directed thereon.

Opinion of Stephen A. Douglas.

In the discussion before the people of Illinois, just previous to his last election to the U. S. Senate, Judge Douglas said: "I hold that a negro is not and never ought to be a citizen of the United States. I hold that this government was made upon a white basis, by the white men for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever and should be administered by white men and none others. I do not believe that the Almighty made the negro capable of self-government."

Thoughtful of James.

Thoughtful of James - An applicant for exemption on account of physical disability, informed the examining physician that he was troubled with heart disease. The doctor told him to run up and down the stairs leading to his office once or twice. The applicant did this, when the physician, after listening to the motions of the heart said: "You will pass, sir, a dollar, if you please."

A Texas Paper states that the following Confederate officers left San Antonio for Mexico, via Eagle Pass, on the 20th ult. Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Major-General Price and Shelby, and the following civilians: Gen. Allen and Ex-Gov. Moore, of La. They were escorted by about three hundred men well armed and provisioned for six months.

Address of Mr. Saunders.

To the Voters of the Eighth Congressional District, Comprising the Counties of Tipton, Shelby, Haywood, Fayette, Madison, Hardeman, and McNairy: Follow Citizens - I am a candidate to represent you in the Congress of the United States.

This revolution has sprung upon us new issues, and imposes upon every good citizen a weighty and most important duty. The old state of things has in some instances passed away, and a new order is to be inaugurated. The nature of a great nation, and a noble race of people - the future of free Government and Constitutional Liberty is now in the hands of the American people, and most fearful is the responsibility they have to discharge.

Let us all go to work as one man to restore law and order, peace and quiet as speedily as possible. Let the past be buried with the past and remember only that we may profit by its sad but dearly bought lessons. Let us go to work in earnest, and with a determination to win, or die.

One of the results of the war is the destruction of slavery. The South must accept of that practical fact. It has no alternative; and I counsel my fellow-citizens to accept this truth as early as possible and govern themselves accordingly.

The administration of Andrew Johnson shall receive my earnest, cordial, and most hearty support. I shall favor the re-establishment of the navy yard at Memphis, and the establishment of a Court of Claims in Memphis where citizens of this State may receive compensation for their losses of property caused by the ravaging depredations of the war; and as your Representative it will ever be my pleasure, and it will be my duty, to attend to all such claims until such a court shall have been established where you can have them adjusted.

I shall favor an economical administration of the Government, such as I have occasion to know will be the policy of the President; and whatever measures that will tend to lessen the burdens of our people I will earnestly advocate and support.

All obnoxious legislation heretofore passed, creating distinctions among them, I shall constantly labor to repeal, modify, or abolish, leaving on our statute books only such laws as will tend to bind up the wounds of a bleeding country and make us one people. Let sections, sectional feelings, and party spirit all be obliterated and forgotten, and let a national brotherhood and good feeling prevail everywhere throughout the land.

I would most respectfully urge upon the voters of this district to qualify and vote. The importance of each action on your part must be apparent to every one. With many persons in this district I am personally acquainted. For several years before the war I was connected with the Memphis press. I have before the people of Tipton, Shelby, and Fayette as a candidate for the Legislature; and it is with pride and gratitude to the good people of those counties that I can proudly refer to the warm support they extended to me, giving in each of the counties a large vote over the party of which I was the representative. A Tennessee by birth, education, and interest, it will ever be my object to look vigilantly after the best interest of this district and State; and should you honor me with your suffrage, I will promise you, my fellow-citizens, to use every exertion in my power to serve you to the best of my ability, your fellow-citizen.

Very respectfully, ROBERT S. SAUNDERS.

An Act to Prevent Officers of the Army and Navy and Other Persons Engaged in Military and Naval Service of the United States, from Interfering in the Elections in the States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That it shall not be lawful for any military or naval officer of the United States, or other persons engaged in the civil, military or naval service of the United States, to interfere in any State, or to hold any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to exercise the right of suffrage in any State of the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States.

Important from the Treasury Department.

The President, in his proclamation of June 13, 1865, having declared that the insurrection, so far as it relates to the State of Tennessee, is suppressed, the Treasury Department has the honor to announce that the effect of said proclamation, viz: arms, ammunition, all articles from which ammunition is made, and gray uniforms and cloth may be permitted by the proper officers of the Customs, upon presentation to them of invoices of the articles to be shipped, and the receipt of the major-general commanding the department of the Tennessee is directed thereon.

Opinion of Stephen A. Douglas.

In the discussion before the people of Illinois, just previous to his last election to the U. S. Senate, Judge Douglas said: "I hold that a negro is not and never ought to be a citizen of the United States. I hold that this government was made upon a white basis, by the white men for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever and should be administered by white men and none others. I do not believe that the Almighty made the negro capable of self-government."

Thoughtful of James.

Thoughtful of James - An applicant for exemption on account of physical disability, informed the examining physician that he was troubled with heart disease. The doctor told him to run up and down the stairs leading to his office once or twice. The applicant did this, when the physician, after listening to the motions of the heart said: "You will pass, sir, a dollar, if you please."

A Texas Paper states that the following Confederate officers left San Antonio for Mexico, via Eagle Pass, on the 20th ult. Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Major-General Price and Shelby, and the following civilians: Gen. Allen and Ex-Gov. Moore, of La. They were escorted by about three hundred men well armed and provisioned for six months.

Address of Mr. Saunders.

To the Voters of the Eighth Congressional District, Comprising the Counties of Tipton, Shelby, Haywood, Fayette, Madison, Hardeman, and McNairy: Follow Citizens - I am a candidate to represent you in the Congress of the United States.

This revolution has sprung upon us new issues, and imposes upon every good citizen a weighty and most important duty. The old state of things has in some instances passed away, and a new order is to be inaugurated. The nature of a great nation, and a noble race of people - the future of free Government and Constitutional Liberty is now in the hands of the American people, and most fearful is the responsibility they have to discharge.

Let us all go to work as one man to restore law and order, peace and quiet as speedily as possible. Let the past be buried with the past and remember only that we may profit by its sad but dearly bought lessons. Let us go to work in earnest, and with a determination to win, or die.

One of the results of the war is the destruction of slavery. The South must accept of that practical fact. It has no alternative; and I counsel my fellow-citizens to accept this truth as early as possible and govern themselves accordingly.

The administration of Andrew Johnson shall receive my earnest, cordial, and most hearty support. I shall favor the re-establishment of the navy yard at Memphis, and the establishment of a Court of Claims in Memphis where citizens of this State may receive compensation for their losses of property caused by the ravaging depredations of the war; and as your Representative it will ever be my pleasure, and it will be my duty, to attend to all such claims until such a court shall have been established where you can have them adjusted.

I shall favor an economical administration of the Government, such as I have occasion to know will be the policy of the President; and whatever measures that will tend to lessen the burdens of our people I will earnestly advocate and support.

All obnoxious legislation heretofore passed, creating distinctions among them, I shall constantly labor to repeal, modify, or abolish, leaving on our statute books only such laws as will tend to bind up the wounds of a bleeding country and make us one people. Let sections, sectional feelings, and party spirit all be obliterated and forgotten, and let a national brotherhood and good feeling prevail everywhere throughout the land.

I would most respectfully urge upon the voters of this district to qualify and vote. The importance of each action on your part must be apparent to every one. With many persons in this district I am personally acquainted. For several years before the war I was connected with the Memphis press. I have before the people of Tipton, Shelby, and Fayette as a candidate for the Legislature; and it is with pride and gratitude to the good people of those counties that I can proudly refer to the warm support they extended to me, giving in each of the counties a large vote over the party of which I was the representative. A Tennessee by birth, education, and interest, it will ever be my object to look vigilantly after the best interest of this district and State; and should you honor me with your suffrage, I will promise you, my fellow-citizens, to use every exertion in my power to serve you to the best of my ability, your fellow-citizen.

Very respectfully, ROBERT S. SAUNDERS.

An Act to Prevent Officers of the Army and Navy and Other Persons Engaged in Military and Naval Service of the United States, from Interfering in the Elections in the States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That it shall not be lawful for any military or naval officer of the United States, or other persons engaged in the civil, military or naval service of the United States, to interfere in any State, or to hold any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to exercise the right of suffrage in any State of the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States, or to be a candidate for any office of honor, profit or trust, under the United States.

Important from the Treasury Department.

The President, in his proclamation of June 13, 1865, having declared that the insurrection, so far as it relates to the State of Tennessee, is suppressed, the Treasury Department has the honor to announce that the effect of said proclamation, viz: arms, ammunition, all articles from which ammunition is made, and gray uniforms and cloth may be permitted by the proper officers of the Customs, upon presentation to them of invoices of the articles to be shipped, and the receipt of the major-general commanding the department of the Tennessee is directed thereon.

Opinion of Stephen A. Douglas.

In the discussion before the people of Illinois, just previous to his last election to the U. S. Senate, Judge Douglas said: "I hold that a negro is not and never ought to be a citizen of the United States. I hold that this government was made upon a white basis, by the white men for the benefit of white men and their posterity forever and should be administered by white men and none others. I do not believe that the Almighty made the negro capable of self-government."

Thoughtful of James.

Thoughtful of James - An applicant for exemption on account of physical disability, informed the examining physician that he was troubled with heart disease. The doctor told him to run up and down the stairs leading to his office once or twice. The applicant did this, when the physician, after listening to the motions of the heart said: "You will pass, sir, a dollar, if you please."

A Texas Paper states that the following Confederate officers left San Antonio for Mexico, via Eagle Pass, on the 20th ult. Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Major-General Price and Shelby, and the following civilians: Gen. Allen and Ex-Gov. Moore, of La. They were escorted by about three hundred men well armed and provisioned for six months.