

CLARKSVILLE CHRONICLE.

VOLUME 3.

OLD SERIES, VOL. 16.

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1868.

OLD SERIES, NO. 35.

NUMBER 17.

Business Cards.

LINWOOD LANDING!

JOHN J. THOMAS & CO.
THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE FORMED a partnership under the above style, for the purpose of doing a general business.

Forwarding, Storing and Commission Business.

LINWOOD LANDING

This warehouse is situated a few hundred yards below Trice's, on Cumberland river; it is fire-proof, and entirely above high water mark. There is a good wharfe road leading to it, and it is the nearest point on the river to Christian county.

W. J. M'CORMAC,
Wholesale and Retail Grocer,
118 Third Street,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

W. J. M'CORMAC,

Wholesale and Retail Grocer,
118 Third Street,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Orders for Goods or Manufactured Articles filled with promptness and at the lowest market price. Consignments of every description carefully attended to.

DR. J. M. LARKINS

may be found at his office, 2d floor of the Chronicle building, at all hours, unless professionally absent.

DR. H. M. ACREE,

Dental Surgeon,
CLARKSVILLE, TENN.,
Office on corner of 3d and Madison streets, immediately between the Railroad Passenger Depot and the Court-house.

W. H. ARMSTRONG,

PHOTOGRAPHER.
GALLERY:
WEST SIDE PUBLIC SQUARE,
Clarksville, Tenn.

TURNBULL, KIRBY & CO.

Cotton and Tobacco Factors
—AND—
Commission Merchants
No. 9, Union Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

W. H. ARMSTRONG,

PHOTOGRAPHER.
GALLERY:
WEST SIDE PUBLIC SQUARE,
Clarksville, Tenn.

TURNBULL, KIRBY & CO.

Cotton and Tobacco Factors
—AND—
Commission Merchants
No. 9, Union Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

KINCAID & ARMSTRONG,

MANUFACTURERS
Of the most approved patterns of Wrought Iron Cooking Stoves,
TIN AND SHEET IRON WARE,
And dealers in all kinds of

Cast Iron Cooking

and Heating Stoves, Hollow-ware and Fine Castings.

REPAIRING AND CUTTING

Done in the most approved manner, on short notice.
Jan. 3, 1868-1f

E. M. THOMAS,

Attorney at Law,
Office, over Thomas, Nebitt & Co.'s
CLARKSVILLE, - TENN.
(Oct. 25, 1867-1f)

BANKRUPT LAW.

W. A. PEPPER, Esq.,
is prepared with all proper blanks and forms for any business under the Bankrupt Law. Parties wishing to avail themselves of the law will find it to their advantage to consult him. Charges very reasonable.
July 9, 1867-1f

PAINTING,

Paper Hanging, Glazing, &c., &c.

W. P. Lindley,

DEALER IN WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES,
Fire Screens, Paints of Every Description, Window Glass, Putty, &c.
Two or three good workmen wanted. Paints mixed ready for use.
Sept. 14, 1866-1f

Clarksville Planing Mill!

BARKSDALE, CLARK & CO.,
BUILDERS AND MANUFACTURERS OF
Sash, Doors, Blinds, Door and Window Frames, Mouldings, etc.

DR. J. M. LARKINS

may be found at his office, 2d floor of the Chronicle building, at all hours, unless professionally absent.

E. C. ROACH & CO.,

Cotton and Tobacco Factors,
AND GENERAL
Commission Merchants
No. 28, Carondelet Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
Nov. 9, 1867-1y

SMITH & HUTCHINGS,

TOBACCO FACTORS
—AND—
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
"CUMBERLAND WAREHOUSE,"
CLARKSVILLE, - TENNESSEE.
Nov. 8, 1867-1y.

R. T. TORIAN,

Cotton and Tobacco Factor,
—AND—
COMMISSION MERCHANT
63 CARONDOLET STREET,
NEW ORLEANS.
Liberal advances on all consignments.
Jan. 17, 1868-6m

YEATMAN & CO

COTTON AND TOBACCO FACTORS,
AND GENERAL
Commission Merchants
71 CARONDOLET ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.
Jan. 10, '68-1f.

SIM. R. ROGERS,

AUCTIONEER,
CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE.
Will attend to the Sale of Property, either on the street or in the country.
Dec. 6, 1867-6m.

Clarksville Foundry,

AND
Machine Shop,
COMMERCE STREET,
MANUFACTURE
PLANTERS PRIZE SUGARS, SHINGLE MACHINES, SUGAR MILLS, BRASS AND IRON
CASTINGS.
Prompt attention given to orders for repairs on Steam Engines,
Saw Mills,
And all kinds of Machinery, and Machine Blacksmithing neatly and promptly done.
J. A. BATES & CO.
March 8, 1867-1y.

LURTON & MAURY,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Clarksville, Tenn.
Special attention paid to practice in Courts of Jurisdiction.
Office, on Strawberry Alley opposite the Court-house.
Feb. 15, '67-1f

W. H. & D. M. DORRIS,

DEALERS IN
Stoves, Tinware, Castings,
Grates, and House Furnishing Goods.
Every description of Tinware made up in good style.
ROOFING AND GUTTERING promptly attended to.
H. P. DORRIS will superintend the work and salesmen.
Sept. 6, 1867-1f

SOMETHING NEW!

ROBINSON'S PATENT REVOLVING PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS.
Just the Thing Long Needed!
Nothing More Appropriate for a Holiday or Christmas Present.
Call and examine them at my Gallery, West Side Square, Clarksville, Tenn.
W. H. ARMSTRONG.
Nov. 29, '67-1f.

PLANTERS, ATTENTION!

Bother with Wooden Prize Screens at an End. We are now prepared to furnish Planters with a durable Iron Prize Screen of our own Manufacture, complete, at the low price of $25. These Screens are suitable for small Planters.
Extra Large Size manufactured, as usual complete, at $90.
These Screens are adapted to the use of Country Buyers and large planters.
Corn Meal.
H. B. BURNLEY is prepared to grind corn meal, in any quantity, at his mill, near the Big Pond, on Franklin Street.
J. A. BATES & CO.,
Clarksville, Tenn.

THE

Black Crook

Has not Arrived, but
C. H. MORRISON & Co's
NEW STOCK OF
GROCERIES

ELEGANT ASSORTMENT

—OF—
STAPLE AND FANCY
GROCERIES

ALL of the Choicest Brands and Superior Excellence.

First National Bank,

OF CLARKSVILLE, TENN.
Corner of Public Square, opposite National Hotel.
WILL DO A
General Banking
—AND—
EXCHANGE BUSINESS.
Issues no circulation—incurs no risks.
Special attention paid to collections and remittances made on day of payment.
DIRECTORS:
Geo. H. Warfield, Thos. F. Petus, B. W. Macrae, Jr., G. W. Hillman.
S. F. BEAUMONT, Pres't.
W. P. HUME, Cashier.
Nov. 10, '67-1y

NATIONAL HOTEL!

T. D. SCOTT, Proprietor.
CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE.
Feb. 9, '66-1f

SHORT & CO.,

Cotton and Tobacco Factors
—AND—
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
NEW ORLEANS.
Sept. 6, 1867-1f

NEW BAKERY!

WE WOULD RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Clarksville and vicinity that we have secured the services of a first class baker, and are prepared to furnish, at reasonable rates,
Bread and Cakes, of all kinds, and all times. Cakes ornamented in any style when desired.
Very Respectfully,
LIGON & ELY.
Aug. 2, 1867-1f.

R. B. TARPLEY & CO.,

HOUSE, SIGN,
—AND—
ORNAMENTAL
PAINTERS,
Clarksville, - - - Tenn.

The Chronicle.

R. W. THOMAS, EDITOR.

In the impartial history of the late war, yet to be written, the people of the North are destined to occupy a very unenviable attitude on the very points upon which they base their claims to purity of motives in originating and prosecuting that war. Those points are the maintenance of Constitution and the preservation of the Union. Under this war cry, the northern people became frantic, each vying with the other which should be the first to enlist for the crusade against that monster, the South, that was attacking the citadel of American liberty. In their phrensy, they were dead to all the instincts of humanity and regardless of all the rules of civilized warfare, and robbed the widow and the orphan, burned the roofs that sheltered them and destroyed in their march all that could not be profitably remitted to their own homes. And to-day, jewels and clothes and plate and furniture and pictures decorate the wives and parlors of those brave defenders of the constitution and Union who confounded theft with patriotism, and murder and brutality with the rights of man. After four years of enormities rarely perpetrated outside of heathendom, and the sacrifice of hundreds of thousands of fellow beings, the North was victorious, the war was at an end, and now, if it be not treason, we would ask, where are the Constitution and Union?

CONTRIBUTION.

Mr. Editor.—I am an old friend of yours, (though not an old man,) albeit you do not know me under my assumed name, and which is more to the purpose, I am a paying subscriber to your paper. I write you Dear Sir, to congratulate you on the stand you have taken in favor of the Democracy, knowing that you were an Old Line Whig, and being well acquainted with your life-long opposition to the Democratic party. I could not but feel that in your leading editorial of the 10th inst, you had given another evidence, and one which none but a man of strong and lasting convictions could appreciate, of patriotism of the purest kind, of the most exalted character. I congratulate you Sir, on the stand you have taken and on the advice you gave your readers in the article referred to. To conserve or preserve the present order of things in the State of Tennessee is what but few of the thinking men of the State desire. So much for the Conservatives (so-called). And as to the Independents I have been running "out of line" too much all my life, and will just say to my Brother Independents (if there ever was any Brotherhood among Independents) that I find it very difficult "to fight it out on this line," and to remind them of the motto, "United we stand, divided we fall." Let us then, Americans! Freeman! not of an hour, but home-reared and practiced Freeman, arise from our slumbers, our slough of despond, and grapple this mighty error, this progressive absurdity that is about to take the already half civilized negro back into the jungles of Africa, and the white race along with them. What would the mighty wrong, "so-called," of bringing barbarians here and half civilizing them, even if we did make them work for an honest livelihood, be, compared with now sinking the negro to his former status and dragging the white man down with him, down from his lofty pedestal of moral, social and political worth. And this we are told by Puritanical New England is our sacred duty: we are to Africanize, brutalize, miscegenate our land for the sake of these sweet scented sons and daughters of Ham, and at the expense of the "Please God Barabooes Cod Fish Aristocracy" of New England. But this, Mr. Editor, is all balderdash. They know better than this; they know there is no sacred duty in the matter at all, at all. It is the leaves and fishes, sir, the control of the government, it is getting to be a big thing, and it pays handsomely to run the machine and Quashee Sambo's vote counts as much as yours. If this Government is not saved by the Democracy, and that speedily, it will become a stench in the nostrils of all Christendom. A political cesspool such as the world never saw before, corruption without and corruption within, in high places and low places, from Gen. Butler to Hancock. But let us all put our hands to the oars, as you say, and sail the old Democratic ship will ride safely at anchor in the Capitol and then I trust all will be well again.

THE NEW WHISKY BILL.

The following is a copy of the bill which has been passed by Congress relative to the collection of the tax on distilled spirits:

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TO MISS E. S. OF KENTUCKY.

The God of Love hath set his seal Upon this open brow,
And noble spirits only kneel To such an one as thou.
I pray you will not deem it wrong That I should sing of thee,
Or think, in words of living song, And untaught minstrelsy.
May all that's bright and beautiful Around thy pathway shine,
May Love and Beauty, e'er for thee, There loveless wreaths entwine.
Would I had been the "Knight" of that "Love Star,"
Who crowned thee Queen—Too happy "Knight" For where, beneath the azure dome afar,
A Queen so fair? A star so bright? Too happy "Knight"—to touch thy shining hair—
To win one glance, or smile from eyes like thine,
To gaze, one moment, on a face so fair;
To lay one offering on so pure a shrine.
All beautiful Queen! Lo! at thy feet I kneel,
And crown thee Queen of all, forevermore,
Oh, violet eyes, I still have power to feel,
Though Hope's enchantments come to me no more.
C. V. Cress.

THE RADICALS AND THEIR DUNNY.

The New York World forcibly argues that the longing for Grant as their candidate, by certain of the Radical leaders, is a confession of the weakness of that cause, as demonstrated by recent events; that they dare not choose a man with positive and pronounced Radical views, but seek, under false and feigning, to delude the people. It thus dissects the great epauletted dunny:

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TO MISS E. S. OF KENTUCKY.

The God of Love hath set his seal Upon this open brow,
And noble spirits only kneel To such an one as thou.
I pray you will not deem it wrong That I should sing of thee,
Or think, in words of living song, And untaught minstrelsy.
May all that's bright and beautiful Around thy pathway shine,
May Love and Beauty, e'er for thee, There loveless wreaths entwine.
Would I had been the "Knight" of that "Love Star,"
Who crowned thee Queen—Too happy "Knight" For where, beneath the azure dome afar,
A Queen so fair? A star so bright? Too happy "Knight"—to touch thy shining hair—
To win one glance, or smile from eyes like thine,
To gaze, one moment, on a face so fair;
To lay one offering on so pure a shrine.
All beautiful Queen! Lo! at thy feet I kneel,
And crown thee Queen of all, forevermore,
Oh, violet eyes, I still have power to feel,
Though Hope's enchantments come to me no more.
C. V. Cress.

THE RADICALS AND THEIR DUNNY.

The New York World forcibly argues that the longing for Grant as their candidate, by certain of the Radical leaders, is a confession of the weakness of that cause, as demonstrated by recent events; that they dare not choose a man with positive and pronounced Radical views, but seek, under false and feigning, to delude the people. It thus dissects the great epauletted dunny:

CONTRIBUTION.

Mr. Editor.—I am an old friend of yours, (though not an old man,) albeit you do not know me under my assumed name, and which is more to the purpose, I am a paying subscriber to your paper. I write you Dear Sir, to congratulate you on the stand you have taken in favor of the Democracy, knowing that you were an Old Line Whig, and being well acquainted with your life-long opposition to the Democratic party. I could not but feel that in your leading editorial of the 10th inst, you had given another evidence, and one which none but a man of strong and lasting convictions could appreciate, of patriotism of the purest kind, of the most exalted character. I congratulate you Sir, on the stand you have taken and on the advice you gave your readers in the article referred to. To conserve or preserve the present order of things in the State of Tennessee is what but few of the thinking men of the State desire. So much for the Conservatives (so-called). And as to the Independents I have been running "out of line" too much all my life, and will just say to my Brother Independents (if there ever was any Brotherhood among Independents) that I find it very difficult "to fight it out on this line," and to remind them of the motto, "United we stand, divided we fall." Let us then, Americans! Freeman! not of an hour, but home-reared and practiced Freeman, arise from our slumbers, our slough of despond, and grapple this mighty error, this progressive absurdity that is about to take the already half civilized negro back into the jungles of Africa, and the white race along with them. What would the mighty wrong, "so-called," of bringing barbarians here and half civilizing them, even if we did make them work for an honest livelihood, be, compared with now sinking the negro to his former status and dragging the white man down with him, down from his lofty pedestal of moral, social and political worth. And this we are told by Puritanical New England is our sacred duty: we are to Africanize, brutalize, miscegenate our land for the sake of these sweet scented sons and daughters of Ham, and at the expense of the "Please God Barabooes Cod Fish Aristocracy" of New England. But this, Mr. Editor, is all balderdash. They know better than this; they know there is no sacred duty in the matter at all, at all. It is the leaves and fishes, sir, the control of the government, it is getting to be a big thing, and it pays handsomely to run the machine and Quashee Sambo's vote counts as much as yours. If this Government is not saved by the Democracy, and that speedily, it will become a stench in the nostrils of all Christendom. A political cesspool such as the world never saw before, corruption without and corruption within, in high places and low places, from Gen. Butler to Hancock. But let us all put our hands to the oars, as you say, and sail the old Democratic ship will ride safely at anchor in the Capitol and then I trust all will be well again.

THE NEW WHISKY BILL.

The following is a copy of the bill which has been passed by Congress relative to the collection of the tax on distilled spirits:

TOUCHING THE PURITANS.

Who was the first Puritan? Satan. Undoubtedly that illustrious malignant was the real original historically, as he is metaphysically the true type of the Puritanic character. He set up the banner of revolt in heaven because of his puritan notions. Things were not as he thought they should be, and he determined to force his principles on the majority—just as if he had been in Massachusetts—He "ragged" and got himself thrown out of the window. Satan's quarrel with God was about Adam. He had no doubt a very good thing of it before that; but he hated Adam from the moment of the creation, and that hatred to our ancestor, which he bedeviled and expressed in his Puritanic terms, brought on the difficulty. He was, according to the report made by a distinguished Puritan, tumbled from the crystal battlements of heaven at a point directly over Bel, and fell into the fire. As soon as he recovered from the initial shock he had a bottle of Volcanic Pain Paint in his pocket) he went to Paradise and began his operations against Adam as the original cause of his troubles, determined that the good old garden should never have comfort and peace again. Could there be more absolute Puritanism? In the history that recounts the miseries of Job we see the first Puritan following out the same plan; wretched, morbid, quarrelling, complaining, sulky headed, because there was some one happy; going to and fro in the earth and traveling up and down in it—not to enjoy the sunshine and the scenery, nor to gaze with wonder on Mont Blanc or dine at Versailles, as any respectable fellow would if he had the chance; but simply to secrete black bile and vent spleen and kick up a world of trouble because poor old Job was an honest man and happy, fearing God, and having plenty of the true clay of Adam. Even to this day "the old Adam" is what the Puritans most hate, what they are most desirous to burn and whip out of the world; and in the very phrase we use about the negro issues, "True to the very ends of the very Devil and worthy of their father"—N. Y. Herald.

TO MISS E. S. OF KENTUCKY.

The God of Love hath set his seal Upon this open brow,
And noble spirits only kneel To such an one as thou.
I pray you will not deem it wrong That I should sing of thee,
Or think, in words of living song, And untaught minstrelsy.
May all that's bright and beautiful Around thy pathway shine,
May Love and Beauty, e'er for thee, There loveless wreaths entwine.
Would I had been the "Knight" of that "Love Star,"
Who crowned thee Queen—Too happy "Knight" For where, beneath the azure dome afar,
A Queen so fair? A star so bright? Too happy "Knight"—to touch thy shining hair—
To win one glance, or smile from eyes like thine,
To gaze, one moment, on a face so fair;
To lay one offering on so pure a shrine.
All beautiful Queen! Lo! at thy feet I kneel,
And crown thee Queen of all, forevermore,
Oh, violet eyes, I still have power to feel,
Though Hope's enchantments come to me no more.
C. V. Cress.

THE RADICALS AND THEIR DUNNY.

The New York World forcibly argues that the longing for Grant as their candidate, by certain of the Radical leaders, is a confession of the weakness of that cause, as demonstrated by recent events; that they dare not choose a man with positive and pronounced Radical views, but seek, under false and feigning, to delude the people. It thus dissects the great epauletted dunny:

CONTRIBUTION.

Mr. Editor.—I am an old friend of yours, (though not an old man,) albeit you do not know me under my assumed name, and which is more to the purpose, I am a paying subscriber to your paper. I write you Dear Sir, to congratulate you on the stand you have taken in favor of the Democracy, knowing that you were an Old Line Whig, and being well acquainted with your life-long opposition to the Democratic party. I could not but feel that in your leading editorial of the 10th inst, you had given another evidence, and one which none but a man of strong and lasting convictions could appreciate, of patriotism of the purest kind, of the most exalted character. I congratulate you Sir, on the stand you have taken and on the advice you gave your readers in the article referred to. To conserve or preserve the present order of things in the State of Tennessee is what but few of the thinking men of the State desire. So much for the Conservatives (so-called). And as to the Independents I have been running "out of line" too much all my life, and will just say to my Brother Independents (if there ever was any Brotherhood among Independents) that I find it very difficult "to fight it out on this line," and to remind them of the motto, "United we stand, divided we fall." Let us then, Americans! Freeman! not of an hour, but home-reared and practiced Freeman, arise from our slumbers, our slough of despond, and grapple this mighty error, this progressive absurdity that is about to take the already half civilized negro back into the jungles of Africa, and the white race along with them. What would the mighty wrong, "so-called," of bringing barbarians here and half civilizing them, even if we did make them work for an honest livelihood, be, compared with now sinking the negro to his former status and dragging the white man down with him, down from his lofty pedestal of moral, social and political worth. And this we are told by Puritanical New England is our sacred duty: we are to Africanize, brutalize, miscegenate our land for the sake of these sweet scented sons and daughters of Ham, and at the expense of the "Please God Barabooes Cod Fish Aristocracy" of New England. But this, Mr. Editor, is all balderdash. They know better than this; they know there is no sacred duty in the matter at all, at all. It is the leaves and fishes, sir, the control of the government, it is getting to be a big thing, and it pays handsomely to run