The Democratic Executive Committee is requested to meet at the office of Polk G. Johnson, on Saturday, Sept. 2.

MR. DAN. GOLD, one of the largest and most enterprising farmers in this country, has recently lost from cholera, about three hundred head of hogs.

MR. JOHN R. MARTIN presented us last Saturday with a liberal supply of his luscious grapes. They were of the Concord and Inves Seedling varieties, and we enjoyed them hugely.

LOST—A black rat-terrier dog, who answers to the name of "Frol." Any one knowing of such a dog will confer a favor by informing Rev. S. Scott at Greenwood Cemetery, where he is interred.

THE Directors of the Fair offer a premium of $50 to the best Ball Club of Clarksville, Hopkinsville, Altonville and Russellville. No professional players will be allowed to take part in the game.

PUBLIC—Montgomery Grange will have a barbecue and basket picnic at Dunbar's Cave next Thursday, the 31st inst. The public are invited to attend. It will be gotten up in good style, and all who attend may expect to have a pleasant time.

The Springfield Fair commences Sept. 21st and will continue three days. When they get through they can come on to the Clarksville Fair which commences on the 27th and bring all of their fine stock.

We are requested to state that Mr. Hugh Bump's School, at Poplar Grove, on the Southside of the river has commenced. This is a fine neighborhood for a school and hope Mr. B. will have a full turnout of pupils.

From some cause or other the mail agent failed to put the CHRONICLE out last week off at Corlandale. Also the packages going to Shiloh, Yellow Creek and Poplar Springs, hence our subscribers failed to get their paper at the regular time. Our mails are made up every Friday evening and deposited in the office. The mail agent will confer a favor on us if he will put it off every Saturday morning, as the mail for the above points leaves at 1 o'clock, p. m. of that day.

The election of Mr. Thos. Herndon, by the Directors of the Grange Warehouse, as Manager, was a merited compliment, and one he well deserves, and it is no flattery to say he has proven himself one of our very best warehousemen. His indomitable energy, perseverance and experience are qualifications that render him admirably adapted to fill the position to which he has been elected. He is undoubtedly the "right man in the right place," and the Directors will never regret their choice.

BRITTON'S SPRING.

Barbecue and Public Speaking.

House and Harris.

We learn that a telegram has been received from Gov. Harris, announcing that he will certainly be present at the barbecue at Britton's spring today (Saturday), and our own member, the Hon. Jas. F. House, will also be there. The speeches, therefore, will be such as cannot be surpassed in the State, and a crowded meeting is a foregone conclusion. A grander opening of the campaign in this county could not be proposed, and all that love good speaking or good eating, or the company of charming ladies, and all that desire the election of Tilden and Hendricks are sure to be there; and that will not leave out many of the Clarksville people, let alone the genial and hospitable denizens of district No. 3.

Public Speaking at the Court House last Monday Night.

The Hon. C. G. Smith gave us one of his speeches which as a candidate for county representative he is delivering in the various districts of Montgomery. He discussed with much ability the issues now before the people on State policy and spared a few words for the cause of Tilden and Hendricks and reform in the Federal government. We think that the connection between these two subjects is much more intimate than our politicians seem at present to be aware of. Reform and retrenchment in the Federal government would act by reducing our enormous national burdens so as to leave in possession of the people funds, which being saved from the national expenditure would make the payment of our State Debt a comparatively light affair, and this is one of the inestimable benefits we anticipate from the election of the Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

Judge Smith gives the most cheering intelligence as to his success in canvassing the county—accession from both the Republican party and the Independent voters coming in at every station.

Ladies' Fund Society.

The ladies of the Methodist Church have entered with new zeal on the work of procuring means for the outfit of a new church. On Monday night last they reorganized their Fund Society, and as it is now complete, it is to be trusted that the entire membership will give them a cordial support. The object is worthy, and the means practicable. The money raised by this Society is to be under their control until it is turned over to the trustees to be appropriated for the purpose for which it was raised.

We call special attention to the advertisement of Dr. C. L. McCauley. It will be seen that he has made an arrangement with Mr. S. B. Stewart to take charge of the prescription department of his concern. Sam. Stewart has been known as a prescriptionist in Clarksville much too long to need our recommendation. A first class chemist, he manifests in his pharmaceutical skill that he has well used the advantages he possessed through early training in the laboratory of his father the scientific Prof. Wm. M. Stewart.

Dr. McCauley himself enjoys great popularity as a clever gentleman and upright business man, and with Sam. Stewart to assist him at the prescription desk, no establishment can put forward higher claims to public confidence.

FROM a special notice in another column, it will be seen that Byer's has added to his drug business, School books. Call and examine his stock when you want anything in his line.

ST. ALOYSIUS School for boys and girls, conducted by the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Ky., will open next Monday at their School room on Franklin street.

H. C. Merritt and lady left last Monday morning for the centennial.

Fred. Williams has returned from the Centennial Exhibition.

Simon Bloch has gone east to buy fall goods for Bloch Brothers.

F. G. Irwin and family left last Thursday to attend the centennial.

Mr. Jesse Ely and family, of Nashville, are visiting their relatives in this city.

Hon. John F. House and lady, reached home from Washington last Tuesday evening.

R. S. Broadus, of the firm of Rice, Broadus & Co., will leave next Monday for New York to buy new goods.

Mr. W. J. Hine, Express agent has returned from Columbia and reports his wife's health very much improved.

John J. West has returned home from Murfreesboro, where he has been visiting his parents.

D. W. Scott, of New Providence is at the Hot Springs, Ark. We return him thanks for papers.

Robt. Mainhardt, formerly of this city, but now of Brownsville, has been in our city, for several days.

B. F. Coulter left last Thursday morning for New York city, to buy his fall stock of goods.

Mr. Quarles shot at two burglars in Edgefield last Monday night. No body hurt.

Dr. C. G. Royster, formerly of this county, but now of Paducah, paid us a visit last Saturday. Paducah life seems to agree with him.

Dr. Charlie McCauley, Grand Visitor of the Sixth Congressional District, is in Dover visiting the Masonic Lodge of Stewart county.

Mrs. LUCY SMITH and her daughters have returned from Hurricane Springs where they have been sojourning for the past three weeks.

Our Senior local Mr. J. A. Grant is on a visit to Bon Aqua Springs in Hickman county. We sincerely hope that his health will improve from the use of the healing waters of these springs.

We had the pleasure of a visit this week from Mr. Minor Quarles now of South Alabama, son of our esteemed fellow citizen Gen. Wm. A. Quarles. Minor looks healthy and prosperous and gives a most flattering account of the political prospects in Alabama. We regret to learn that his stay among us will be short.

"OVER THE RIVER."

"Some to the sun their wings unfold, Born in the breeze on clouds of gold."

But in lieu of the atmospheric voyage, our citizens are refreshing themselves at the neighboring springs. Camping a la rustic, and taking life in its sunny glowing garb of lush, waving fields and cooling woodland shades, drinking in with quiet pleasure the great loveliness of these fair, shining days of August, which dawns in tumult over the city and fades when the passion and strife of men is still holding ruinous carnival.

Mr. B. K. Gold and family have been sojourning at Idaho Springs, in company with Col. Goodlett and lady, and Mr. J. B. Osburn and family. The inconvenience of moving we hope, was liquidated by the benefit reaped from the healing waters; and we sincerely regret the circumstances that compelled us to decline their kind invitation to join them in their rural retreat.

The meretricious monotony of our little village has been delightfully broken within the past few weeks, by visits from some of Kentucky's fair daughters. Miss Belle Bibb made rather a brief stay in our midst—not long enough indeed, for us to extend the courtesy of even an hour in her society. In future, Miss Belle, we promise better. Miss Hoppe Fletcher spent a fortnight in the family circle of our townsman, Mr. Asbury Johnson, as the guest of Miss Garrett, and the shades of mourning still fall fresh around the sanctuary of our hearts on the departure of our charming friends, Miss Smith and Miss Rosa Mallory.

Yes, Providence has been again with grace and bounty for the last few weeks, and I take this friendly opportunity to inform the young gentlemen of our place of the fact, as I know by their non-appearance that they are blissfully ignorant.

Last week we were fearfully agitated on the camp-meeting question; tonight, if the subject was broached we would look limp, dusty and fearfully satiated. We would start, sigh and mildly remark, "No more camp-meeting for us—at least until next year."

We regret to chronicle the serious illness of our irascible friend, Geo. A. R., but under the skillful hand of our favored physician, Dr. Bailey, we hope he will ere long be convalescent, and again in our charmed circle.

Well, Joe is again here. Joe of school-day fame. The gallant boy with stately step and broad, up-lifted brow, who in the palmy days of the past, found such jolly fun in our rude attempt to spell "r-h-i-n-o-c-e-r-o-s." Joe who upon mere inducements tossed kitty at us, the long clacking in our braided hair, making us to yell with pain, much to his amusement. All right, Joe.

"All that's past is gone you know, The future's just a dream."

and we are just as glad to see you now, as if Kitty had never lived.

I hear in rather a round-about way that our fair belle, Miss Ella Smith, anticipates a visit to New York and Niagara this fall. I simply request of you Ella, to bring me a picture of Tilden.

Faith is on the wing, our place is now honored by the presence of Dr. Cowan, from Ottumwa, healing the sick, curing the blind and raising the fallen. He is the guest of Mrs. John Leigh, and I hope great benefits may be derived from his "tender touch," but as to personal affliction I believe we will trust to experience and bel esprit rather than these marvellous miracles.

And now in conclusion of my budget of news, I will paint a parlor scene just for the edification of our gentlemen "callers." There is only a few of us present when some gallant youth proposes music. Some youth with the fire of genius quivering in his heart, and an appropriate conversation still going on between Adonis and Mandrake to the election, the price of prints, or the next ball. Our trills quiver away, as in the dusty throat of a caged bird. We are silenced, disgusted and incensed. Do you marvel then at the thinned ranks of connoisseurs? Art, perfection and melody alike perish unnoticed.

HILDA.

Base Ball.

Our friends of the bat and ball are getting ready for the fall season. The Bailey's have selected the best nine that can raise for the fall campaign, and some of the best players outside of that club have organized a nine under the unassuming title of "The Scrubs," expressly for the purpose of beating the Bailey's. The first match of the season is to come off on Tuesday afternoon on the base ball hill. The Scrubs have some first-class players on their list, and the Bailey's must put their best foot foremost if they mean to maintain their supremacy.

The Second Anniversary of Mt. Vernon Lodge, No. 1644, of the G. U. O. of O. F., (colored) will be celebrated in this city on Thursday, Sept. 23, 1876. Some fourteen lodges from abroad have been invited to participate with them, and the indications are they will have an extensive demonstration. Several orations are to be delivered, and splendid dinner furnished. At night there will be a grand banquet at Franklin Hall.

A CARD.

To the Readers of the Chronicle.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: We hereby announce that we have the largest stock of drugs, medicines, paints, oils, varnishes, window glass, &c., that has ever been kept in this city, and will duplicate Nashville and Louisville prices. Physicians and merchants will find it to their interest to call on us.

Respectfully,

A. O. OWEN & MOORE.

New Developments in the McClish Murder Case.

Since the trial and conviction of Bill Mookbe and Jack Wilson for the murder of Wiley McClish, it is believed by many that Mookbe is not guilty. The reasoning adopted by those who believe him innocent is, that without the confessions of Jack Wilson, there is not sufficient evidence to establish his guilt. And Jack's statement as to Bill Mookbe, his co-defendant, could not be considered by the jury, it being incompetent. With that statement out of the way, we have this state of the case: Bill Mookbe had on the shoes of the murdered man, and was in possession of the metal seifer that McClish bought and started home with, and was seen in company with Mose Harding and Jack Wilson near the graveyard, going somewhat in the direction of the place where the remains of the murdered man were found. Jack Wilson, on his arrest, was found wearing McClish's hat. His own was found near the body of the dead man. He stated at three different times that Bill Mookbe struck the fatal blow, but said each time that it took place before he, Mose Harding and Jack Wilson were seen together near the graveyard. This was about 3 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Richardson, the blacksmith, who had Bill Mookbe employed that day to help him shoe mules and horses, testified that it was impossible that Bill could have gone as far as to the place where the body was found and back, up to the time when Jack Wilson came to the shop and called Bill Mookbe out and held a whispering conversation with him. And Jack's statement at different times was, that "the man was done killed before that time." Here Mose Harding was introduced, and said he went with Bill Mookbe to the graveyard and waited till Jack came, and they all three went down in a deep hollow back of Polk Brandon's, and played cards all the evening until about sunset, and all went home together, as they lived not far apart.

Taking all these circumstances together, they make out for Mookbe an alibi. If it is true that Mookbe is innocent, and Jack Wilson, since he was ironed and placed in the dungeon, says that he told a falsehood on Mookbe; that he was not along and knew nothing of the murder, some steps ought to be taken to have him pardoned.

We are authorized to announce the accession of the Rev. Wm. Flinn to a chair in the faculty of the University. Dr. Flinn is at present a citizen of New Orleans, but is a native of Georgia, in which State he lived till after the war.

Hon. J. R. UNDERWOOD, died Wednesday last, at Bowling Green, Ky.
