ON account of the rain there was no meeting of the Board of Trade on Thursday night. It will meet on next Tuesday night.

ATTENTION is called to the card of Mr. W. S. Poindecker, which he publishes as agent of the New York Life Insurance Company.

MR. J. S. LEE, County clerk of Houston county, and one of the cleverest men in that county, gave us a call on Thursday last.

H. A. CURRIE & Co. have received and keep constantly on hand frames and molding, which they offer cheap. Give them a call.

THE Tennessee Poultry Association met in Nashville last Tuesday. The display is said to have been the best that has yet been made.

AS we go to press Friday at noon, the river is rising at a rate of 8 inches per hour, with a good prospect of an overflow of the banks.

BLANK BOOKS of every description kept in stock or made to order at the Chronicle Bindery and Blank Book Manufactory.

TOBACCO seems to be looking up in price during the past week or two. We would be glad to see our farmers get more remunerative prices for their crops.

We had a terrible rain on Wednesday night, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The river is rising rapidly, and fears are entertained of an overflow.

MR. SIMON BLOCH left last Wednesday for the eastern cities to purchase goods for the house of Bloch Bros. He will be absent several weeks.

MR. JAY JACKSON has opened a meat stall in the grocery store of C. M. Barker. You can get good meat at all hours of the day at this house.

HALL and Smith, the murderers of Maj. Pugh at Murfreesboro are to be hung on the 20th inst. Nashville will be well represented on that occasion.

MR. JACK LAY has moved his meat house to the room east of Caldwell & Shelton's livery stable, where he keeps constantly on hand the best of beef, pork, &c.

J. N. BLACKFORD, Esq., of Barton's creek Grange, is the representative from this county to the State Grange, which meets at Brownsville next Tuesday.

MRS. CHARITY A. CLARK, mother of Dr. Wm. M. Clark, editor of the Nashville Banner, died in that place on Tuesday last. She was 73 years of age, and was a consistent member of the Methodist Church.

We were pleased to meet on our streets last Monday Mr. Fount-Me-Waiter, of Nashville. He was a citizen of Clarksville before the war, and was on a visit to his aged mother, who resides in this city.

ON our first page will be found another very interesting letter from our "Clarksville Girl in the North." It is well written and will be read with much interest by our many readers.

THE Ladies' Pearl, for February, a monthly magazine edited and published by Rev. S. P. Chestnut, is on our table. It has been enlarged, and is now one of the best literary magazines that we receive. Price $2.10 per annum.

REV. A. W. WILSON, D. D., missionary secretary of the M. E. Church, South, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist Church in this place to-morrow, Sunday. Dr. Wilson is one of the most distinguished preachers of the Methodist Church.

MR. MESSERS. KENDRICK, PETTUS & Co., of the Central Warehouse, sold the fine lungs of Mr. J. M. Rudolph's crop at $7.00, and rejected an offer of $9.00 and $10.00 for his lung. Mr. Rudolph lives in the famous Meadow county, and makes a success of tobacco growing.

WEDDING BELLS.

The most splendid festivities witnessed in Clarksville for many a day attended the nuptials of Mr. H. H. Burney, Attorney-General of this county, with Miss Clara, daughter of the Hon. D. N. Kennedy.

The Presbyterian Church, whose interior is a beautiful picture at any time, was rendered doubly splendid by a gorgeous array of evergreens and flowers on Tuesday night; winter was ignored, and the floral treasures lavished upon the decorations for this happy occasion would have been the subject of admiration in the height of summer.

The ceremony was appointed for eight p. m. About twenty minutes before that time, Prof. Caldwell commenced with music on the organ. As he wandered from theme to theme, we distinguished subjects from Schumann's Traumeri, Flotow's Martha and from Schubert's Serenade - just the succession of thoughts which might be supposed to occupy the musing spirit of a bride - thoughts sweet, solemn and tender, flitting half unconsciously about the imagination of a fair soul enjoying for the last time its girlish freedom, "in maiden meditation, fancy-free."

After a full in the magic music, the bridal procession appeared at the center door of the church in the following order: Mr. Chas. H. Bailey and Miss Ellen Kennedy, Capt. Ed. Howard and Miss Sallie Eist, Mr. A. V. Goodpasture and Miss Julia Safford, Mr. E. C. Campbell and Miss Olive Veech, Mr. A. H. Munford and Miss Lizzie Veech, Mr. James T. Kennedy and Miss Susie Dorch, the Bridegroom and the Bride.

The organ was struck up the soul-inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, while the crowd dispersed and the ceremony was over. But an hour afterwards a large number of the friends of the family began gathering by invitation at the residence of the bride's father, the Hon. D. N. Kennedy, to render their congratulations to the bride and bridegroom. Here indeed was a brilliant spectacle. Mr. Kennedy's handsome residence was filled with an assemblage of all that is good, noble and lovely in the city; the quintessence of her beauty with her Japanese done in delighted attendance; nor were those of maturer age absent; our most highly esteemed citizens, with the dignified matrons who make their homes happy, all blended in one festive throng, bent upon giving the new united couple a cheerful send-off at the commencement of their wedded life.

Next to the array of female beauty in every form was the wonderful variety of toilet; every form was fitted with exactly the style of costume best adapted to harmonize with its peculiar beauties. We doubt if there were any worth dresses there. Happily our girls have their costumes made according to their own taste and under their own directions. When this is the case the garment is, as it were, an emanation from the person of the wearer and expressive of her character, the woman and the dress are one. Alas, lady reader, we cannot give you the details of these fairy trappings, being unacquainted in the language in which those details are expressed; perhaps we may induce one of your own sex to undertake the description. Let us speak, then, of the charms of conversation, the wit, the pleasantry, the sentiment which flashed and glittered like mental pyrotechnics.

Of the innumerable delicacies which covered the supper-tables, a somewhat dyspeptic editor had to partake sparingly, and can only speak in part. We can only say that what we did taste tempted us sorely to a gastronomic indiscretion which would have exacted retribution on the morrow.

All these delightful attractions were rendered doubly attractive by the kindly and genial reception accorded by Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy in business in promoting that of their guests.

Well, we might go on forever, but here we close with our heartfelt congratulations to the happy couple; Robert, you have married one of the very sweetest girls in Clarksville, and you deserve your luck.

Through the intervention of Senator Bailey, a well-earned tribute has been paid to Dr. John W. Ross, well known and highly esteemed in this county. Dr. Ross has been promoted from the rank of assistant surgeon in the United States Navy to that of full surgeon. This honor has been conferred upon him in recognition of his heroic services to the sick and dying at Holly Springs, Miss., during the yellow fever epidemic of 1878. He went to that city while under leave of absence for the express purpose of giving his afflicted patients the benefit of his skill, and was struck down with the epidemic himself, and after a very narrow escape with his life, took a short time to recruit and resumed his labors of love among the victims of the pestilence. Last year he resumed his efforts in Memphis, procuring special leave of absence for the purpose. Never has promotion been as best deserved.

OUR old friend Zopher Smith, Esq., clerk at the Southern Hotel, was married on Monday evening last to Miss Sallie A. Ralston, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Lupton at the residence of Mr. McKay, on Main street. The happy couple have our hearty congratulations.

The Weather.

Much of the snow which fell so abundantly last week remained on the ground till Tuesday. On the night of that day, however, instead of persevering rain, lasting till day, washed it all into the river, very much to the advantage of our streets. The rain has continued at intervals ever since, and on Thursday night was even more copious than before.

The river has risen very rapidly, gaining six inches in fifteen feet in twenty-four hours. There is a great probability now of the river overflowing its banks, for which confounding the farmers will do well to prepare by removing their movable aboves high water-mark.

LATER - The river is very near its brink and a heavy rise is reported above, which will not certainly bring with it an overflow.

We notice in the Memphis Ledger that the Masons of that city have nearly finished their new Masonic Temple, and that on the 6th inst. about three hundred met in the hall to confer a degree upon one of its oldest members. At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that it would take about $600 more to complete the building, whereupon Dr. D. T. Porter, at one time a citizen of this county, arose and said that he had not done as much in the past for the order as he desired, and therefore ordered the Secretary to put his name on the whole amount. By this liberal donation he has endeavored himself not only to the order in Memphis but throughout the whole country.

A dramatic company under the management of Mr. H. L. Seymour is to play here on Monday and Tuesday next. On Monday a Southern version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is to be the entertainment, with all the Jubilee Songs and Negro Chorus, etc., which are now given as a part of it. On Tuesday they play "Fanchon," a piece which has been founded upon a tale of George Sands of the same title. It was one of Maggie Mitchell's plays in her early days, and has been treated by Verdi as the subject of an opera entitled "Le Jardin de Plaisance." The company is spoken of highly by our contemporaries, and we believe them a favorable consideration.

MRS. ASKEW of Mississippi, who resided here for some years while her son Lauren was attending as a student at the University has returned with the view of making her permanent abode in Clarksville; this will be welcome news to her numerous friends who will look upon her residence here as a great social acquisition. Lauren, her son, takes a situation with Owen and Moore, we know him for an intelligent and well-bred youth and feel confident of his doing well.

CHANCERY COURT. This court has been in session since Monday morning, Chancellor Seay presiding. A great deal of business has been done. We will publish action in the cases next week. The Clerk & Master presented his financial report on the first day of the term, which was reported correct by a committee, and a read upon the minutes. The cases known as the Seay suits are set for argument Feb. 18.

MR. DEMPSEY WEAVEL, an old and highly honored citizen of Nashville, died at Nassau, one of the Bahama Islands, last week, where he had gone to recruit his failing health. For a long time he was cashier of the old Planters' Bank of Tennessee, and at the time of his death was Vice-President of the Third National Bank of Nashville. He was about sixty-four years of age.

NASHVILLE is already making arrangements for a great exposition, at which is to be celebrated the centennial of the first settlement of that city. The history of the early settlement of Nashville is among the most romantic in the pioneer legends of the United States. The ceremony opens next April, when all parts of the State will, we think, be largely represented, Clarksville, at least, will have a large delegation there.

We learn from an old merchant who resides in one of our towns in Southern Kentucky, that he has tried nearly all the markets convenient to his place of business, and that whenever he leaves Clarksville he loses money. In other words, he makes more money when he buys his groceries particularly in Clarksville, than when he buys elsewhere.

THE Cumberland Gold Mining Company of Clarksville has been chartered. The charter members are F. P. Gracey, G. W. Hillman, M. B. Tapscott, G. S. Dick, and Matt Gracey. We suppose their operations will be chiefly in Colorado. We wish them abundant success.

J. W. F., the Clarksville correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, falls in with the prevailing fashion and fills his letter with railroad talk. Some of his ideas coincide very closely with our own, and we gladly clip the following from his paper:

But it is a piece of shoddy gentility for the people of Clarksville to talk of building a railroad when there is scarcely a dirt road leading into the place over which a hog-head of tobacco can be hauled without the wagon becoming mired to the hubs of the wheels. Public-spiritiveness should begin right here and not rest until every avenue of trade leading into Clarksville is put in a good and passable condition. The county is now spending a large amount of money - $200,000 - in building a new Court House to be occupied by the County Court and its attendants. It would be a good move on the part of our justices to vote an appropriation to building roads and bridges in order that the "sovereigns" who are paying the taxes of that city have the justice may come to town occasionally and see how the work is progressing. We have no business with a railroad until we have a dirt road on Half-Pon - almost within a stone's throw of the city - cannot come to town at this season without swamping through a quagmire.

If we have good country roads we can get plenty of produce, and if we have plenty of produce to ship, we will find other railroads competing to build new railroads to compete for the freight. If there is any money to be made by another line of railroads to Clarksville, the road men will soon discover it, and they generally go for the lure, and will build it if they can receive encouragement, even though it be in a moderate way, from the people. Since the Barren Plains route was scooped up, the railroad-makers of Clarksville have been looking around for other routes. When the new route is discovered, we may look for a regular Commissionaire. The Princeton route is the one now talked of, except by some visionaries, who talk of running a line directly into St. Louis, but that would be a very long haul. There are chances to one, so soon as the road was built to Princeton - on paper, mind you - the L. & N. road would connect with it at Clarksville, and between and Paducah, Paducah and leave Clarksville with another empty bag to hold. If a road is built to Nashville, it will be a profit to us. Nashville's worse than Clarksville is. It would only furnish a larger wholesale market for our country products, and thus drive away trade from here.

We had the pleasure, this week, of making the acquaintance of Mr. John P. Copeage, a sprightly young man from Stanton, West Tennessee. He visited our city on business, and seemed to be favorably impressed with our people and the city generally.

MR. JAS. L. LOCKERT, one of the cleverest men in the city, can be found in the mammoth establishment of C. L. Cooke, on Franklin street. Give him a call when you want anything in his line of business.

READ the memorial of the Nashville tobacco merchants to Government in relation to the monopolies of European Governments and their depressing operation on our tobacco market. It is a matter which concerns all tobacco districts and none more nearly than Clarksville.

JAMES W. WEBB, of District No. 8, is a great champion of poultry, and in their defense has put to death within the last year eighteen turkeys and ten hawks. The turkeys and chickens out there are going to hold a mass meeting, at which complimentary resolutions will be passed in recognition of his valued services.

DR. WILSON was with us last Sunday. The laudable verdict of the people is that two better sermons were never preached in the Methodist church than his - Springfield Record.

OUR people will have the privilege of hearing the Doctor to-morrow (Sunday) at the Methodist church in this city.

POLK G. JOHNSON & Co. M. will receive bids on the tract of land known as the W. M. Organ tract in this city, at 12 o'clock, on Saturday the 21st inst. at 12 o'clock. Bidding to commence at $75.00. See advertisement in another column for particulars.

GREAT improvements have been made in the express office; the counter has been enclosed by a railing, and the whole of the back part of the establishment is masked by a trellis work which conceals everything except the good looking faces Millet and Towley Porter.
