The Southern Magazine. I desire through your columns to say to the friends who have subscribed for "The Southern Magazine" that there will be some delay in getting out the first number, which it was hoped would be ready this month.

The publisher writes that he has just returned from the north and east, where he has spent six weeks of hard work in gathering material for the new Journal. His trip cost him, in time and money combined, a very large sum; but it will be worth to the future readers of the magazine many times that amount.

It has been decided however, that the issue of the first number must be postponed till autumn. The recent rise in the price of paper (being no less than fifty per cent. on former prices) together with the unprecedented demand, and the difficulty of getting so large a quantity manufactured expressly for the magazine have been the main cause.

It has been agreed by both editors and publisher, that it will be wise to defer the matter until September, when the first number will be issued, bearing date of November, thus corresponding exactly with the eastern months in beginning the year.

I have a good list of subscribers from Clarksville, some of whom have paid the amount of subscription. It is on deposit in the Northern Bank of Tennessee. We hope that the interest in the enterprise will increase, and that our city, so famous as a lover of learning, will send us more subscribers.

All the preparations are on a lavish scale. "The Battle of Franklin," by Dr. W. M. Clark, with five engravings, will possess a peculiar interest, not only to Tennesseans, but to thousands beyond her borders. "The Social Changes in New Orleans and the Gulf States," by Rev. J. Wm. Flinn, handsomely illustrated by Mr. Balthusier, will we dare say, provoke the mirth and merriment of all.

It is our notice of the exposition at Nashville last week, we omitted to mention the exhibit of school exercises from the various public schools in the state. We examined many of these with interest, comparing the papers of our Clarksville pupils with those of other schools of the same grade, and can state with perfect sincerity that our pupils are behind the rest in no department.

Mark Twain has written a new book, and it is again a book of travels in the old world. This is enough for any reader of the "Innocents Abroad," and who that has any sense of humor has not been a reader of it? Let the jovial traveler select what route he will, everyone willing to travel with him, almost convinced that he can see things better through Mark's eyes than by the use of his own.

Thursday, June 3, at 10 o'clock a. m., the graduating exercises begin. Rev. Dr. Pitts will address the class. Thursday night the alumni have invited their friends to a collation at the Academy.

We sympathize with the Rev. S. Scott in the loss of his little child which occurred at his residence on Greenwood avenue on Sunday night last. Lillian Bailey, infant daughter of B. A. and Lella G. Spier, died on Wednesday night last, aged about four months.

Mrs. Hettie Grant, wife of David Grant, Jr., died at her residence in district No. 5, on Tuesday night. Mary Ethel Brown, daughter of Dr. G. W. Brown, died at the residence of her father in this county, on Thursday night of last week. She was about seven years old and suffered much during her illness.

From our Cordele correspondent we get the following item: Diphtheria has broken out in Dr. Wilson's neighborhood in district No. 19. In Mr. Garland's family of four children, two have died this week and the other two have, in a serious way. It is thought the disease was brought there by a family coming from Tennessee river.

Clarksville Tobacco Market. OFFICE OF THE CHRONICLE, CLARKSVILLE, TENN. Our sales are smaller, but we suppose will amount to full 600 hds. for the week. The market is very active, and low grades were smartly higher this week, in fact, the quality of the breaks was very common, with no tobacco above medium level offering.

Explanation. I yielded to the suggestion of a friend and concluded to limit the attendance at our concert next Wednesday night by invitation. On reflection I find we must either extend the invitations beyond the capacity of our hall or give occasion for hard feelings which we are unwilling to do.
