Wednesday's Shooting.

A difficulty occurred on Wednesday last about ten o'clock, between Capt. A. B. Maxey and Mr. Wm. Beavins, some words having passed that morning between Mr. Beavins and Maxey at Caldwell and Shotton's stable.

Maxey, who understood Mr. Beavins the lie, whereupon he threatened to call in the assistance of his son and whip Maxey before night. The latter soon found himself followed by the two Beavins, and stopped in front of Rice, Broadus & Co.'s dry-goods store. They advanced upon him, whereupon he drew a revolver and opened fire upon the younger man, who turned and ran into Hay's auction store and procured a shot-gun, which he snapped several times at Maxey, but which happened to be unloaded. Then, and not till then, the Capt. Maxey began shooting into the store. The fracas was soon interrupted by officers, and, fortunately, no one was hurt. All parties were arrested, and Beavins bound over to keep the peace. Maxey was acquitted on trial before Esquire Caldwell. We trust the matter has ended here.

We are sorry we were not able to be with our friends at Cumberland City last Saturday at their barbecue and Hancock ratification meeting. We learn that there were about 1500 people present, including ladies and gentlemen, and that great enthusiasm prevailed. Speeches were made by H. H. Baquo, Esq., Col. N. Brandon, Hon. C. G. Smith, A. H. Munford, Hon. Frank McMillan, Esq., Dr. J. C. Steger, Judge C. W. Tyler and Gen. W. J. Broadus. After the speaking was over, a magnificent barbecue was ready for the large crowd who enjoyed it to the fullest extent. After dinner the young people enjoyed themselves in the brand-dance. Every one complimented the managers for the perfect order and excellent arrangements in every department of this entertainment.

Barbecues and Picnics. There was a grand picnic and brand-dance gotten up by the "Oak Grove Boys" at Parrish's grove yesterday. The Oak Grove boys always make a success of their picnics.

There will be a brand-dance and barbecue at Collinsville, on the southside, on next Thursday, the 22d inst., and one at Abernathy's school-house, in district No. 16, on the 31st inst. The managers will endeavor to make everybody who attended enjoy themselves.

There will be a barbecue and neighborhood re-union at Crozier's spring and school-house to-day, Saturday, to which the public generally are invited. A number of speakers will be present and address the people.

There is also a barbecue and brand-dance at Coruhanda to-day, Saturday.

There was a barbecue near the seven-mile ferry last Monday, and we regret we were not able to attend. We learn that those who were present had a good dinner and a pleasant time.

The citizens of Freeburg, in Stewart county, four miles west of Indian Mound, have petitioned the department, through Col. House, for a post-office at that place. W. R. J. Free, an intelligent and enterprising young merchant, is recognized as a suitable person for post-master. The mail will be supplied by the contractor on the route from this place to Dover. It will lengthen the distance of the present route four miles. The mails on this route leave Clarksville on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 7 a. m., arrive at Dover at 6 p. m., returning, leave Dover on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 7 a. m., and arrive at New Providence at 6 p. m.

SARA BERNHARDT and Modjeska have both been playing in London this summer, and will probably be here in the fall. Sara, separated from the Comedie Francaise, is said not to be the equal of several English and American actresses. Modjeska fascinates every one who sees her. Ada Cavendish is an English actress who will tour splendidly here. She is announced to be already on her way across the Atlantic. Come along, ladies, you will find audiences here appreciative and not too critical.

We have been furnished the following remedy for "blind staggers" in horses or hogs, by Mr. James K. Rainey, of the southside. It is fully endorsed by Messrs. T. Rogers, Z. Batson, and S. D. Rainey:

If your horse has blind staggers, first bleed him freely, almost as much as he can bear, then with a halter raise his head as if to stretch him, then have a red-hot spindle, the size of a lead pencil, and thrust it through the poll of his neck, 11 inches from top of neck, immediately over the joint of head and neck. Feed on light diet for several days.

If a hog has staggers, thrust the red-hot spindle through the poll of his neck, immediately over joint of head and neck, and a cure is certain.

Now that the nominations of candidates for president and vice-president have been made and ratified, the canvass ought to be pushed with activity. Let our ambitious young men organize a Hancock club and our vocalists a glebe club, and let the festive shout and lamb be fattened for the barbecues which will be held in every district, and let banners be floated on the breeze, and, in short, let's have a high old time and give to Hancock and English the biggest vote that old Montgomery has got. "Rah for Hancock and English!"

Street Improvement. The old building having been new cleaned away, Messrs. McComb, Hunt & Co. are commencing the erection of their new large iron-front store in the lower part of Franklin street. It will be upon finished one of the most imposing mercantile buildings in the city.

The sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. Rosenpater for the loss of their infant daughter, who died on Monday morning last. The remains were taken to Louisville, the place of Mrs. R.'s former residence.

Needless Alarm.

The cities and towns along the Mississippi have been alarmed by a rumor that a case of yellow fever had occurred at New Orleans. The fact is simply that the disease had broken out on board of a bark hailing from Rio Janeiro, which was placed in quarantine as soon as the fact was ascertained. The facts, as developed by the investigation of the Louisiana board of health are as follows:

A man named James Kenney, a native of Scotland, was brought to the Touro hospital from Swedish bark Excelsior on the 10th inst. (last Saturday) and examined there by a committee of the board of health, who fixed the same day with black vomit.

The bark Excelsior sailed from London Feb. 17, arrived at Rio April 13, left Rio May 10, arrived at the Mississippi quarantine station June 24, making her voyage from Rio 46 days. She was detained at the quarantine station twelve days, during which time her cargo, consisting of 3,600 sacks of coffee, was shifted, aired and fumigated with sulphurous acid gas. The bilgewater was pumped out and replaced by a solution of copperas and carbolic acid. The crew left the quarantine station July 4th in perfect health. Kenney was taken sick on the 7th and died on the 10th. The bark was immediately ordered back to quarantine, and three of her crew have since become sick.

The Tennessee board of health ordered quarantine against New Orleans on the 14th, and is anticipated that the board of Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois will follow the example.

The remarkable fact about this case is that no yellow fever was known to exist at Rio when the Excelsior sailed from that point, and that she touched at no other port from there to the Mississippi quarantine station. From May 10th, the day of her departure, to July 7th, the day of Kenney's attack, is 58 days. This looks as if the disease originated on board the ship.

POLITICAL affairs in this country are fast assuming an interesting aspect, and it is the duty of every man to keep himself posted on the events of the day. In order to do this he must read a newspaper—and we suggest THE CHRONICLE. A man can't afford to be without a paper these days, unless he chooses to be as "a knot on a log," and for the peace of his mind and that of his publishers, he should pay for it. We have recently printed a book of receipts which we think would do credit to any printing office in the country. Of course we don't wish to keep them here in the office; we want our friends to have them, and all any man has to do in order to get one is to come and pay for the CHRONICLE. The receipt itself is worth something, not only in its being a constant reminder of his having done his duty, but as something pleasing to the eye. Moreover, it has the appearance of a bank-check, and a man with one of them in his possession may imagine himself rich, and make his friends think the same.

On account of the crowded condition of our columns last week, the following report of the committee to investigate the accounts of Polk, G. Johnson, clerk and master, was omitted. Mr. Johnson is one of the most efficient clerks in the state; to Geo. E. Stacy, Chancellor, etc.

Your committee appointed to examine the financial report of the C. & M., made to the present term of the board, respectfully report that they have carefully gone over the report, and compared it with his pass-books, and find it correct in every particular. Mr. E. M. keeps an account with each case in his court where money is paid in, his pass-books showing precisely how each case stands. Respectfully submitted, H. C. HERRICK, W. M. DANIEL, Committee.

The Howell Guards, consisting chiefly of young men studying at the public schools, have received the cadet guns lately furnished by the governor to the University Grays. This is now the only cadet company in Clarksville and is rapidly filling its ranks. The officers, as at present organized, are: Walter Kinnaman, Captain. Charles Averett, First Lieut. Eugene Dibble, Second Lieut. Gus. Blackman, second Serg't.

The other non-commissioned officers will be elected at the next meeting of the company.

Reckless Shooting. It is becoming a serious question whether two men who may have a private quarrel have a right to endanger the lives of persons not engaged in it by firing at one another in the streets. It is not long ago that a gentleman was severely wounded at New Providence through no fault of his own, but in consequence of having been within pistol range when two other men were firing at one another. Shooting in the streets ought to be an offense severely punishable, independent of the manslaughter or murder which may ensue.

The Nashville Christian Advocate, one of the ablest and purest papers in the whole country, pays Senator Bailey the following deserved compliment:

Senator Bailey, of Tennessee, is at home among his people, who honor him as a man whose private life is pure, and whose public record is unimpaired by any taint of suspicion or dishonesty.

THE NEW YORK World points out that Hancock's initials are those of the sentence "will succeed Hayes," which is true but not apt. Hancock will succeed not Hayes, but Tilden, who, until March 4, 1881, is and will be the true president of the United States.

HON. W. C. WHITTHORNE of the 7th, and Hon. J. D. C. Atkins of the 8th congressional districts, have been nominated for reelection from their respective districts. This is as it should be. Send our ablest and experienced men back to the next congress.

Declared for Hancock. Col. A. S. Fuller, a leading Republican politician of Fayette county, has declared for Hancock. He served as Captain of an artillery company during the late war, is an able lawyer, and has been nominated by the Republicans of Fayette county for Congress in 1878. He has avowed his intention of taking the stump for Hancock. —Pittsburg Post.

A Jeffersonian Democrat.

Mr. Jefferson, eighty years ago, defined a democrat, one who maintains "equal and exact justice to all men; the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor; a jealous care of the right of election by the people; abstention from the office of patronage; economy in the public expense; the honest payment of our debts, and sacred preservation of the public faith; and freedom of the person under the protection of the laws, and trial by jury impartially selected."

This is the very portrait of Hancock in the incarnation of the supremacy of the civil over the military authority. He is the embodiment of the definitions of civil liberty. —Geo. H. Pendleton.

The Conkling, Father and Son Portland Advertiser. During the latter part of the life of Alfred Conkling, whose son is the present Senator, father and son scarcely spoke to each other. The father, a Democrat, and the son a Republican, were bitter enemies.

OUR friend W. J. McCormac the artist, is turning out some of the finest work we have ever seen anywhere. And in order to keep up with all the improvements in his profession, he will attend the annual meeting of the National Photographic Association of America, which meets in Chicago on the 24th day of August.

We are glad to make mention of the fact that John D. Bailey, our colored press-man, who has been in our employ nearly ever since the war, was elected on Sunday last superintendent of the Sunday-school of St. Peter's chapel, in this city. John will make a good superintendent, and we congratulate the church in securing his services.

PROF. MEININGER has already got over thirty names on the list for his mannequin, and will commence operations as soon as the thermometer sinks below the nineties.

THE county election begins to warm up a little. Candidates should have their tickets printed at once. We are prepared to fill their orders on short notice.

THE work of widening and re-metaling Madison street near the bridge is nearly completed. Mr. Pat. Sullivan had the contract and has made a good job of it.

An Earthquake. Clarksville was given rather an abrupt "shake" about 8 o'clock on Tuesday night last. A number of families felt it very distinctly.

SENATOR McDONALD is in New York, and is endeavoring to concentrate the energy and capacity of English, and thinks there is no more doubt that the Democrats will carry the vote. The members of the Legislature will carry Massachusetts.

Wanted. A situation as teacher in a family, or in a school, by a lady fully competent to teach English, French, elementary Latin and the Piano. Best references from the Clergy and merchants of New Orleans. Address: J. W. McCall, No. 84 Enterprise street, New Orleans, La. Jy17-2.
