PERSONALS.

Hon. James E. Bailey and Hon. John F. House returned from Washington the past week.

Mr. Wm. Coulter has returned from New York. His new goods are arriving daily.

Mr. George V. Bryan, a well-known tobaccoist of New York, is in the city.

Gen. W. A. Quarles was in Nashville this week on professional business.

Mr. J. G. Joseph has been in the east for some weeks replenishing his large stock of clothing.

Second hand organ for rent at book and music store.

We had a pleasant call this week from Mr. G. Allison Holland, editor of "The Constitutionalist," Eminence, Ky.

Mr. W. W. Kirby, formerly of this city, now residing in New York, is spending some weeks in town.

Mr. Neill Larkin returned to the city the first of the week from Bolivar, Tenn., where he has been engaged in the dry-goods establishment of Mr. A. R. Hall.

Mrs. Lucy Smith, accompanied by her popular daughters, returned to the metropolis the past week. Their return is always welcomed by Clarksville's friends.

A young lady requests us to enquire what was the "What is it?" that was seen on the Madison street extension last Sunday. Please report.

Representative R. N. Rhodes returned home, last Monday, from his visit to Washington. He and Senator Daniel returned to their labors at the capital Tuesday last.

Mr. G. T. Baggett, a prominent distiller of Robertson county, was in the city last Thursday, talking business with the wholesale merchants.

Mr. Logan Webb, a thriving young merchant of Preston, Ky., was in town yesterday buying goods. We like to see our Kentucky friends here on such missions.

Rev. Mr. Martin, a Cumberland Presbyterian Minister from Clarksville, has been spending several days in our town. He preached two sermons while here. He is a genial, companionable gentleman.

Mrs. Tolbert M. Riley, of the Leaf, left for Kentucky and "other sports" on last Thursday. He goes to see if he cannot dispose of a few "White Burley" Leas. Treat him kindly, Todd counsils.

Mr. W. LaRue, representing the Louisville Commercial, called upon us this week. The Commercial is a republican paper, but one of the best papers published in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hodgson, who were in the city this week visiting our jobbing merchants. The Trade World has just been started at St. Louis.

Mr. A. A. Johnson, the popular grocery broker, has now accepted a situation with the wholesale grocery house of Messrs. Dority Wood & Co. as traveling salesman. He will be the first of this week on a trip to West Tennessee.

Mr. V. L. Williams has gone east to purchase a new stock of goods. We are pleased to state that he is not going to remove to Nashville as at first contemplated. He will be found at the same old stand, with a full line of boots, shoes, hats, etc.

Mr. Henry Wilson, of the enterprising shoe and hat house of Bowling Green, has been in the east some weeks, buying a spring and summer stock. Their goods are now daily arriving. Step in and see their new and nobby styles of hats and gents' furnishing goods.

Mr. E. T. Porter, who, for months past, has had charge of the express office at Humboldt, returned to this city a few days ago. We regret to learn that the recent change in the express companies threw Mr. Porter out of his place. He is an efficient officer, and the new company promises him the best vacancy.

Mr. J. J. Myers, who has lived in our city for some years, past, and is known as a first-class cabinet-maker and wood-worker, will, we regret to state, go to Little Rock, Ark., next week to locate. Mr. Myers has many friends here, who will be sorry to learn that his business interests prompt this change.

Mr. Wm. Rosenfield and wife go east to-morrow evening to purchase new goods for their millinery establishment. No house of the kind in the south keeps nicer, nobbler or more tasty adornments for the "female form divine" than Mr. Rosenfield's. Let the ladies watch for the coming of her new goods and give her a call.

Drummers are as thick on our streets as leaves in Vallambrosa. We noticed Messrs. E. B. Williams, Geo. W. Rossington and Burr Coleman, all of whom belong to the clever fraternity of itinerant salesmen, in town this week, selling "the best and cheapest goods, in my line, in the country, sir—in the country, sir?"

Capt. Frank Phillips is in the city, after a very successful trip into West Tennessee. He reports book-binding, flourishing, and Milliken's Digest going off like hot cakes. He leaves Monday for other sections of the state. We commend him to the favorable treatment of the citizens and the press in our neighboring towns.

Pianos for rent. Owen & Moore have two pianos for rent; one, an up-right, has been in use less than one year, and is in fine condition. The other, a square—has been in use about fifty years, and is not in such fine condition. Go and see them.

Mr. John S. Elder returned from a trip south the first of the week. There seems to have been some uneasiness in regard to his return, as Martin is said to have gone to the depot last Saturday morning and did not leave it until Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Mr. W. P. Piper, of Memphis, Tenn., was in town Thursday making contracts to quarry stone on some of the granite bluffs surrounding our city, for the streets of Memphis. We understand he made a contract with Mr. Conroy.

Mr. H. Bruton, the sleek snuff man, one of the cleverest and most genial fellows in the world, is again in "the heart of the city." As a proof of his vivid imagination, he was telling us the history of a "rich country editor."

Messrs. Rice, Broadbent & Co. have a special advertisement of new spring goods, also a large lot of canvas for covering plant beds. Call and see them when in town.

Notice the special advertisement of the ornate birds for sale at G. A. Ligon's confectionery. These pretty warblers are well worth the price charged.

We would bring the attention of the public to the new card in this issue of V. L. Williams, the popular boot and shoe merchant, who has decided not to move his business to Nashville as formerly contemplated. He has gone East, where he will buy a full stock of boots, shoes, hats, caps, etc., which will be entirely new and fresh and bought, and sold at the very lowest cash price. He has still on hand a few goods of his old stock which he will sell below cost. It will be to your advantage to go and see him.

We call the careful attention of the public to the new advertisement of Messrs. Kincaid, Wood & Co., who are now daily receiving their new goods, and offer special new attractions to those wanting goods in their line. They carry a large and carefully selected stock of all grades of hardware, silverware, cutlery, china, tinware, etc. These gentlemen are clever merchants and will give you special inducements to buy if you will give them a call. They keep on hand an efficient corps of workmen and will pay particular attention to roofing and guttering houses.

The "Hunt dramatic company's" three-nights engagement here last week was not as successful as they deserved. The bad weather was against them. It is one of the very best troupes we have had this season, and deserved better success.

The "Old Folks' Concert." We spoke some time ago of the contemplated "old folks' concert," to be given by the ladies of the Methodist church for the benefit of the new church fund. It now gives us pleasure to state that the affair has assumed definite shape, and will come off about the middle of next month. The ladies are already at work in the matter, and as they know no such word as "fail," we predict a very pleasant and successful concert. We have been requested to state that all those who are to take part in this concert will please meet at the residence of Mr. A. Howell, Madison street, next Monday at 7 o'clock p. m. Any person having a copy of Father Kemp's "Old Folks' Songs" will please leave it at the store of Mr. John F. Couss.

The body of the wife of Ananias White, colored, whose mysterious disappearance from her home at Nashville last week among the negroes there, and led to the arrest of her husband on the charge of murdering her and concealing her body, was found on last Sunday afternoon, buried about 2 1/2 feet under ground, in the suburbs of South Nashville. The news that the body had been discovered spread like wild-fire, and caused great excitement among the negroes again, who looked to the jail with threat of lynching White. If a man could have been found to lead the mob, they would undoubtedly have made the attempt, and in all probability consummated it. It would have been a fearful thing to chronicle this overriding of the law right under the walls of our state capital. We are glad that the promptness and decision of the officers in this case prevented another outrage upon our laws. Such crimes must be stopped at any cost.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that she came to her death at the hands of her husband.

We are sorry to hear of the death of the infant son of Mr. Clarence Smith, which occurred on last Sunday. The funeral was preached by the Rev. A. D. Sears, on last Monday, and the remains were deposited in the city cemetery. They have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

One day last week, as "Squire S. A. Caldwell and Mr. Sim. Shelton were driving home to supper, the coupling of the buggy came out and they were being headed into the street. Fortunately they were not driving very fast, but as it was, the "Squire" was considerably bruised about the face and had one of his fingers knocked out of joint. Mr. Shelton escaped unharmed. We are glad to see the "Squire" up and about again.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Chas. Downer, the celebrated nurse-ryman, who has for years been located near Fairview, Ky., has bought the old Graysville farm, just on the boundary line between this county and Todd county, Ky., about twelve miles from our city, and proposes to move his green-house to this point. He is celebrated as a raiser of fine fruit plants, and will be quite an addition to the business interests of our section and very convenient to our citizens who may want such goods.

Now that the "moral Mentor" sweep the way can no longer sing sweet songs about the beautiful Burley, and the ralling rumpus is sadly subdued, this time it wanders far away from home in search of a boomerang and attacks the Nebraska legislature for passing a bill making it a penalty for a man to ask another to take a drink with him. We are truly surprised that such a censor of the public morals should be opposed to such a bill. Oh! Consistency, thou art a jewel!

Mr. G. W. Gossett Finds a Watery Grave.

On last Tuesday morning, about 3 o'clock A. M., Mr. G. W. Gossett, a prominent farmer and well-to-do merchant of district No. 14, this county, fell from the C. W. Anderson, near Hogwood landing, on the Cumberland river, some twenty miles above the city, and was drowned. Mr. Gossett was returning from Nashville, where he had been to purchase goods, and as the steamer stopped at the above named place to get wood, it is supposed that Gossett thought the boat had landed at the point where he was accustomed to get off for his home, and being suddenly aroused, attempted to get off, missed his footing and fell overboard. None of the officers of the boat saw the occurrence, nor did any one seem to know exactly how it happened. A deck hand reported having seen him going towards the side of the boat, heard the splash in the water and raised the alarm, but he had sunk out of sight and was seen no more. Parties have been dragging the river at that point and for miles below, but at last reports, his body had not been found. His hat was picked up, floating in the river, several miles below. This is a sad accident, and greatly to be regretted. Mr. Gossett had many warm friends in his neighborhood and will be missed.

A Delightful Dance. Another one of those very pleasant little impromptu dancing parties, that have gone so far towards breaking the monotony of our social world this long, severe winter, took place at the elegant residence of Mrs. Lucy Smith on last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Smith and her accomplished and popular daughters had just returned from Memphis on Monday, and a few of the young gentlemen of the city conceived the happy idea of celebrating this welcome event by getting up a little informal dance in their honor. They were fortunate enough to secure the orchestra of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" combination, which in our opinion, is the best of the kind in this city. The evening was one of unalloyed pleasure, and they departed at night's meridian with thanks and a silent blessing upon the charming hostesses of "Riverside."

EPITAPH.

I have just been thinking of the home of my infancy and the graves of my parents, in Maury county, twenty-four miles south of my present abode, and which I purpose visiting ere long. It is often good for our spirits to "dwell among the tombs." I was so young when my parents died that I cannot call either of them distinctly to mind. My grandfather took the orphan children, my elder brother and myself, to his home in Tusculum, Ala. When nearing manhood I returned to Maury on a visit, and for the first time read the inscriptions on the tombstones of my father and mother. Then most sensibly did I realize my orphanage, and in the sadness of the moment, a vision heaved with earnest desire to see them again. I have never outlived a sense of orphanage, and only expect to do so when I shall embrace my parents in Heaven.

A very interesting incident occurred at Bethlehem, on Livingston circuit, during my pastorate there. We were holding a protracted meeting of one thousand dollars upon the life of Tyler Bryan, the same being promptly paid when due. And also to extend my thanks to its agents, Messrs. J. E. Warner and W. H. Morrow, for prompt attention to same.

Polk G. Johnson, Adm'r of Tyler Bryan.
