The presiding elder of this district, Rev. R. K. Hargrove, will hold quarterly meeting service at New Providence, to-day (Saturday) and to-morrow service at 11 o'clock A. M., and 6:30 P. M.

The South Kentuckian has let up on the railroad racket and now advocates a first class hanging for Hopkinsville. The editor of that paper always did have high aspirations.

We are doing some excellent job work for the holidays. Let all others who want to sell their merchandise come up and have their goods advertised in advance. Now is the accepted time.

The Clarksville Reading Club will meet at the residence of Hon. C. G. Smith, on next Tuesday night. We are requested by the officers to urge upon the members to meet punctually that the exercises may begin promptly.

A Canadian clergyman was fined the other day one dollar for kissing another man's wife. What does Beecher mean by allowing his well established precedents to be trampled under foot in this ruthless manner by a blasted Canadian judge?

The "Mobile, Clarksville and Princeton Railroad Co." has filed their charter with the Secretary of the State. The following are the names of the incorporators: J. E. Bailey, C. G. Smith, O. M. Blackman, H. C. Merritt, A. Howell, D. N. Kennedy, Henry French, G. B. Wilson and James D. Neblett.

The knowing ones, the advocates of free trade into Hopkinsville by the papers of that city is a good joke. Clarksville and her capitalists, about fifteen years ago, built a first class turnpike to within four miles of that village, and it is only within the last few years that our boasting suburb finished the other four miles.

FRANCIS ALLEN, an old negro woman living near Oakwood, Dist. No. 8, this county, was found dead on the roadside near her home on Friday morning of last week. The cause of her death was unknown, but was thought to be natural as no marks or evidences of violence were discovered on her person.

On Thursday of last week, at Adams station, Robertson county, Mr. Clarence G. Covington, of Guthrie, Ky., was happily united in marriage to Miss Boyd Bell, daughter of Dr. J. T. Bell, a well known physician and farmer of that neighborhood. A reception was given them at their future home near Guthrie.

The New Railroad.

Nothing has been said for some weeks about the new railroad scheme, but our citizens must not take this silence to mean an abatement of the great interest felt in the enterprise. It is only the calm before the storm, and soon the loud hosannas will arise that the money has all been subscribed, and surveys are set to work to mark out the line of the road.

The gentlemen, in whose hands the subscription books are, have been diligently at work and a CHRONICLE reporter has been reliably informed that a greater portion of the required fund has been raised. If the balance of our citizens on whom the subscription committee have not yet called will come up without further delay and give the amounts, which we know they are all ready and willing to give rather than lose this road, they will hear the glad news in a few weeks that the subscription books have been closed and the road is under headway.

It will be a happy moment in the history of Clarksville when the first pick cleaves the sod that is to make way for the construction of this road. It will be the dawn of a new era for us all. Business will revive and new born hope will beam serenely from the countenances of every citizen of Montgomery county. We have never thought that the sensible business men and capitalists of Clarksville were going to let this grand opportunity pass. We are still of the same belief. But it still requires a few liberal donations on the part of some of our people who are fully able to give, to make assurance doubly sure. And these donations should be of young men in the city who can easily give $50 or a $100, and who, we believe, will do so. Come up gentlemen and settle this little matter. Delays are dangerous. Judge Wood will be here next week to see what we have done. Hand him the $50,000 subscription and tell him to go to work.

Another of those quiet, happy affairs that unite two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one in holy union, was celebrated on last Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents. The principals were Mr. Sam. B. Hill, of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Lena Robbins, daughter of Mrs. Dick Read, of this city. The brief, but impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. Sears, of the Baptist church, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives of the family. Ardent congratulations, the happy couple departed on the 9 o'clock train for Jackson, Tenn., where they will reside. The groom is a trusted clerk and bookkeeper for Lester Bros., of Jackson and is greatly liked at home. The fair young bride has many friends here who wish her a long married life of joy and unalloyed happiness.

A "Devil" of a Mouse Tamer.

It seems the genius of the bird charmers and rat tamers who every now and then make their appearance on our streets and give such marvelous exhibitions is soon to be rivaled. And that too by a local genius in the person of little Pauly Wyatt, the smart and enterprising "devil" of the Chronicle office, who has lately captured two young mice that were in the habit of eating the crumbs from his nonday hash and is now industriously teaching them "in the ways that are dark and tricks that are vain." They show a remarkable degree of sagacity and have already learned many tricks, one of which is to bite Pauly's finger severely every time he puts his hand on them.

Mrs. F. L. FENTRESS, the greatly beloved wife of Dr. W. B. Fentress, died at her home on the Southside on last Monday morning, after a protracted sickness of some months. Her funeral was preached at the family residence by the Rev. Wellborn Moorey, and the interment was held at the old family burying ground on Yellow Creek. Mrs. Fentress was greatly esteemed by all who knew her. She was a devout member of the Methodist church and the beautiful example of her useful life will long be remembered by all who came within her gentle influence. The Chronicle extends its sincere sympathy to her bereaved family and friends.

MR. CHAS. J. MERIWETHER, a young gentleman who was raised in this county, but who of late years, has been a prominent young business man of Nashville, and a member of the enterprising firm of Landon & Meriwether, of that city, died at his mother's home, near that city on Thursday last week, of typhoid fever. He possessed fine social and business attainments and the Nashville papers speak in the highest terms of the great esteem in which he was held by the citizens of that city. He had many relatives and friends in this county who deeply mourn his untimely death.

We sympathize with Col. Ed. Ligon, of Graves county, Ky., in the loss of his estimable wife, Mrs. Elvira Ligon, who died at her home after a long illness, of cancer, on November the 19th ult. Col. Ligon and wife were for many years, residents of this county, and doubtless will be remembered by many of our readers. Col. Ligon is a relative of ex-Mayor G. A. Ligon, of this city, and at one time was tax-assessor of this county.

We notice that brother Brandon in the last issue of the Leaf gave a very White Barley a small puff. We do hope he won't be led off into the support of this "wicked weed." Take warning from Riley. See what it has led him to. We knew a man couldn't long advocate White Barley without coming to some bad end.

WILLIE PITT and Sim Shelton are agents for the celebrated Duplex Bed Spring. Their office is on Third street next door to the Empire coal office. We believe it is generally acknowledged by all who have tried them, to be the best bed spring in use. Read their advertisement in another column and go and examine them.

Consecration of Trinity Church.

Our Episcopal friends have at last attained the reward of many years labor in the consecration of the noble edifice in which they worship. It is not for us now to enumerate the obstacles and disappointments which have thrown them back from time to time in despondency and discouragement, but which have always been met with renewed efforts and further sacrifices. Suffice it to say that last spring they had their church complete in all its appointments and out of debt, and the consecration would have taken place even then, but for the absence of Bishop Quintard on a visit to Europe.

On Thursday morning the long delayed ceremony took place in the presence of an immense congregation in which all Christian denominations were represented. The services commenced with the entrance of the Bishop and clergy followed by the vestry and churchwardens in procession, reciting respectively the twenty-fourth psalm. When the chancel had been reached and the clergy seated, the Hon. Judge Schley advanced to the steps of the altar and read the deed of presentation, which he then handed to the Bishop, assisted by the Rector, the Rev. P. A. Fitts, read the act of acceptance on the part of the bishop and the church at large. The consecration service of the church was then read by the bishop, the whole congregation standing. The regular morning service was then performed with the appropriate lessons, collects & interspersed with suitable strains of sacred music.

The services were here to accord our hearty commendation to the choir and organist. It is certain that as long as we have resided in Clarksville the choir of Trinity church has never reached the proficiency which it now manifests. We have had individual singers of splendid ability but there has never been a large number of trained singers capable of giving due effect to the choral works of the great masters as now, the principal pieces executed were the Festival Te Deum of Dudley Buck the Jubilate in A flat by S. N. Penfield, and as an offering Handel's sublime Hallelujah chorus, these were delivered with both expression and precision by a choir consisting of seven ladies and six gentlemen in a style which would have done credit to the best choirs of our largest cities. All this is due to the consummate musical science, tact and infallible industry of Prof. Emery whose value as a director of musical taste in this city cannot be over estimated.

Thus far the service was read by the Rev. W. C. Gray, assisted by the Rev. C. M. Gray and W. Graham. The sermon was then preached by the Right Rev. Richard Hooker Wilmer, Bishop of Alabama, it was at once practical, thoughtful and eloquent, its theme may be understood to be an answer to the question, what are we here for, and what do we want a church for? The answer was for the advancement of Christian faith and practice. Here the preacher protested against any statements of faith and practice which go beyond the original standards which are the apostles' creed and the ten commandments; recognizing the fact that the church has from time to time found it necessary to enter its protest against various forms of error in various symbols of belief, many, among which may be mentioned the thirty-nine articles as held by this branch of the church Catholic he protested against requiring as a condition of membership, the belief of any metaphysical subtleties or abstruse doctrines or of anything but the original standard ones for all established viz: the apostle's creed. In the same way he protested against demanding as conditions of membership, any standard of practice beyond the universally recognized principles of morality comprised in the Mosaic decalogue. It was, indeed, the duty of the ministers to instruct and warn their people of evil tendencies in practices, indulgences and amusements in which they are themselves, but abstinent from any of them, where actual immorality does not attend their use, can never be demanded as a condition of being received into Christ's fold. Christ established his church once for all and, in doing so, established the conditions of joining it, and to these nothing can be added without incurring the guilt of schism.

At the evening service the sermon was preached by the Rev. W. C. Gray and the choir again distinguished itself by a splendid performance of the Gloria in Excelsis, from Mozart's 12th Mass.

Friday evening confirmation was administered by the Right Rev. C. T. Quintard D. D., Bishop of the diocese, after our paper went to press.

The members of the Association will hold their next regular meeting in their own rooms, next Monday night at 7 o'clock. The rooms over the former store of Caster, Beaumont & Co., have been secured and will be made very comfortable. The young men, and the interests which they represent, are to be congratulated on this securing a home, especially as it was done without calling in any aid from the outside.

The mass meeting expected to be held next Sunday, has been postponed on account of other church interests claiming the attention of the community at that time. Suitable announcement will be made when the time and program has been decided on. Meanwhile a very full attendance is earnestly desired. There are some important amendments to the constitution under discussion. Every member should make himself acquainted with the nature of the amendments and claim a vote in the decision.

The Duplex Bed Spring "takes the cake." See advertisement. See non-resident notice on another page. Delinquent tax-payers had better read the notice of John S. Neblett, trustee, and come up and settle. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast" and if you want to see advertisement of the World Magazine, Co., New York.

Messrs. Rice Broadbent & Co., spread before the public a splendid line of new goods for the Holidays. See their advertisement. Mr. Ike H. Shelby, the old reliable warehouseman, comes before the public with a new house, and opens up for the coming tobacco season.

Personals.

Dr. W. M. Finley and wife, of Lebanon, are visiting relatives in this city. Dr. W. G. Wheeler and wife, of Hopkinsville, are visiting Mr. John W. Faxon, this week. Mrs. A. S. Golliday, of Allensville, Ky., accompanied by her son, Bowling, is visiting Mrs. Joshua Elder.

Mr. Thos. L. Adams of Beverly, Ky., was in our city on Tuesday, and spoke very encouragingly of our new railroad. Judge W. B. Wood, our railroad "Messiah," is expected here next week. A Chronicle reporter has already engaged a death-head ticket for the first train out on the Princeton railroad.

Mr. F. N. Neblett, son of the late Frank Neblett of Austin, Miss., has been visiting his relative, J. S. Neblett, this week. He left on Wednesday morning for Beverly, Ky., to visit friends.

We are glad to note the return to town of Mr. S. R. P. Faxon, who has been absent for nearly a year past visiting relatives in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Mrs. Johns will laud at the Academy.

Miss Laura M. Ensey a charming young lady, daughter of the Hon. Enoch Ensey of Memphis, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Joshua Elder of this city. Miss Ensey has many friends here who welcome her advent among us.

The Banners say: "We are pleased to note the arrival of W. H. Dorris, better known here as the agent of the Gazette in ante-bellum times, now stock clerk of the popular firm of Q. C. DeForest of New York. He tells us, he thought a flying trip to his native State, might catch the market on our fish loving people. We noticed at his stall the other day three remarkably large cat fish brought fresh from White river, near Duvalis Bluff, Ark. One of these mammoth fish was four feet, two inches long and weighed fifty-six pounds, the others weighed respectively, thirty-nine and thirty-six pounds. He keeps a large variety of fresh fish.

Large Fish. J. H. Roberts, the energetic and clever fish merchant on Strawberry Alley is daily keeping our market supplied with the choicest catch of fine table fish, and for his enterprise in this direction deserves the patronage of our fish loving people. We noticed at his stall the other day three remarkably large cat fish brought fresh from White river, near Duvalis Bluff, Ark. One of these mammoth fish was four feet, two inches long and weighed fifty-six pounds, the others weighed respectively, thirty-nine and thirty-six pounds. He keeps a large variety of fresh fish.

Tribute to the Memory of George W. Brown. The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted by the first Quarterly Conference, for Asbury Circuit, Clarksville District, Tennessee Conference, for conference year, 1881-82 held at Olive, Nov. 19th, 1881.

Resolved, That in the death of George W. Brown, we have lost a true man, a useful minister, a kind and loving father, and a devoted husband. We are sorely grieved at the death of our brother, and we are deeply affected by the loss of one so true and so good. We are confident that his soul is in heaven, and we are confident that his name will be remembered in the Kingdom of God forever.

Resolved, That the members of this conference, and the members of the Asbury Circuit, Clarksville District, Tennessee Conference, for conference year, 1881-82, do hereby express their sympathy to the bereaved family, and do hereby resolve to pray for the souls of the departed.

Grange Warehouse Association Dividends and Rebates.

The Executive Committee for the Directors of Grange Warehouse Association met last Friday and after a careful investigation of the books and business of the association, were enabled to declare a dividend of 10 per cent. on the capital stock, and a rebate of 75c on each hind of grange's tobacco received during the past year, which dividends and rebates the secretary will be ready to pay out on and after the 15th of January next.

THOMAS M. ATKINS, Sec'y.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. James Emery, an old, well-known and much respected citizen of South Clarksville, which occurred at his home on last Monday night, after a somewhat protracted sickness. Mr. Emery was upwards of sixty years of age, and had lived in this city for many years, where by an upright, correct and quiet life, he had won many friends who mourn his loss. In this sad bereavement of his relatives and friends the CHRONICLE extends its hearty sympathy. His interment was had at the old city cemetery.

J. J. CRUSSMAN is daily receiving a large and well assorted stock of Christmas goods in the grocery line. Country merchants ought to call on him and see his stock. He will set forth what he has in our next issue.
