Death of Mrs. J. D. Champlin.

The sad intelligence was received by relatives and friends in this city on Friday evening of last week, of the death of Mrs. Nora Champlin, wife of Mr. J. D. Champlin, and sister of Capt. James J. Crumman. Her death occurred at Hot Springs, Ark., at 6 o'clock p. m. on the day named, after a long illness and great suffering from acute inflammatory rheumatism. For some months past she had been confined at her home, Evergreen Lodge, this city, with the painful disease that finally caused her death, but a few weeks ago she was taken by being relatives to the Hot Springs in the anxious hope that the wonderful curative properties of those waters might restore her to health and happiness. But despite all that the best medical attention and the tender ministrations of care relatives and friends could do, she gradually grew worse, until her gentle spirit left its mortal tenement and winged its flight to a higher life beyond. She was a lady of the noblest and rarest attributes of character and endowed with great brilliancy of intellect, traits which, owing to her quiet, retiring nature, could only be known and duly appreciated by those of her own immediate circle of friends and associates. Cultivated, refined, gentle, possessing all those tender, womanly accomplishments, which go so far to make up the sum and substance of woman's sphere, she was naturally the idol of a husband, a brother's and a mother's life, and made to them, the name of home a haven of joy, happiness and sweet contentment. Her remains were brought to this city, and after the funeral services, at her home, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. J. W. Lupton officiating, were interred at Greenwood Cemetery, followed by a large concourse of sympathetic and deeply bereaved friends.

She was fifty-two years and a few months of age, having been born in this city April 8, 1830. She was married to Mr. John D. Champlin in St. Louis, Mo., April 15, 1857.

Annual Election Officers C. C. G's. The Clarksville City Guards held their regular annual election of officers on last Monday night. It will be exceedingly gratifying to the many friends of this excellent and deserving military organization to learn that the company is now in a most prosperous condition and has started out on a new and more thoroughly organized plan than ever before. They are now entirely free from the incubus of debt, not owing a dollar in the world and have money in the treasury. This pleasing condition of affairs is largely due to the very efficient officers and particularly to their gentlemanly secretary and treasurer, Corporal E. E. Green, whose untiring energy and clever discharge of duty, has bravely brought the company from the slough of despondency and financial embarrassment.

The company anticipated having a big anniversary on the 14th inst., but is unable to have its beautiful new banner here by that date and so it will be postponed for a few weeks, when due notice will be given, in order that the generous and fair ones, who so magnanimously contributed to its purchase may be present and lend their cheering smiles to the gallant recipients.

The following is the corps of officers elected: R. N. Rhodes, Captain; Ed. S. Munford, 1st Lieut; Julien F. Gracy, 2d Lieut; Frank S. Beaumont, 1st Sgt.; Frank Hodgson, 2d Sgt.; Sam. Hodgson, 3d Sgt.; A. F. Haws, 4th Sgt.; E. E. Green, 1st Corp.; B. D. Cartwright, 2d Corp.; M. B. Boz, 3d Corp.; Geo. Patch, 4th Corp.; E. W. Cunningham, Ensign; Joe Gerhart, Quartermaster Sgt.; J. M. De. Massie, Surgeon; Rev. J. J. Spencer, Chaplain.

This is a splendid lot of officers and the C. C. G's. start their fourth year under the most favorable auspices and with a new determination to work hard.

City Board of Health. The Board of Health met at the office of Dr. J. McD. Massie, on last Saturday night, all the members present. Dr. A. M. Trawick, who was recently elected a member of the Board by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen was present and took his seat.

It was the occasion for the annual election of officers. In the absence of a President of the Board, Dr. B. N. Herring's term as President having expired, Dr. C. W. Beaumont called the Board to order and nominated Dr. J. McD. Massie as President. Dr. Massie was unanimously elected President of the Board, Mr. Ed. C. Campbell, the Aldermanic member of the Board was elected Secretary. Dr. Beaumont, Health Officer, submitted a verbal report stating that the slight epidemic of measles and croup, which had prevailed to some extent for a few months past, had about subsided. The general health of the city was good, the sanitary inspectors had again gone the rounds during the past month and reported premises generally cleaned up, and most nuisances abated. So far as present indications tend the health of the city during the coming hot season bids fair to be good.

Many other subjects, not of particular public interest, were discussed by the Board before its adjournment.

ROBERT S. MONTGOMERY, President of the Shelbyville, Tenn., Savings Bank, has been indicted by a St. Louis Grand Jury, for alleged fraudulent transactions in money matters with grain brokers in the latter city.

MR. ALBERT FRANK has declined to accept the presidency of the L. & N. R. R., because his retirement from the position he now holds would seriously embarrass other work on the road.

THE CITIZENS' Building and Loan Association will loan to its members $3,000 on Monday, June 12th. Proposals for loans must be made in writing and handed to the secretary.

MR. JAMES C. KENT, General Southern Agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. in the city this week in the interest of his road. The Chesapeake & Ohio is the new route East and is fast becoming the most attractive of travel. Its passenger accommodations are unsurpassed. It is the only running Pullman palace cars the entire route

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen was held on Monday afternoon last, at 4 o'clock, Mayor Howell and a full Board present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved after a few minor corrections.

Officers reports, accounts against the city, etc., were read, audited and disposed of in the regular manner. The principal business that came up before the Board was the election of a City Marshal to fill out the unexpired term of the late City Marshal, R. B. Walthall, deceased. This election was looked forward to with some degree of interest by the public, owing to the importance of the office, (it being the most responsible and best paying office under the city) and the number of candidates there were for the position. There were six aspirants for the position, all of whom were good men and had numerous friends who assiduously urged their claims and gave valid reasons why their favorite should be elected.

When the Board met the City Hall was comfortably filled with interested parties and on-lookers, and during the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, and a short delay caused by the late arrival of one of the members, considerable impatience was manifested by those present. The tardy member soon arrived, however, and the Mayor announced the Board ready for an election.

The following gentlemen presented themselves as candidates, Messrs. O. M. Blackman, R. H. Williams, Geo. S. Dick, John Young and E. C. Cobb. Mr. Robert H. Williams was declared elected on the second ballot, having received five votes, a majority of all the votes cast.

The result was received with general satisfaction by those present, though there was a slight sense of chagrin on the face of the boys who had not hoped for so speedy a result, but looked forward to a long ballot, and, maybe, a dead-lock.

Mr. Williams is an estimable and popular gentleman, and we have no doubt will discharge the duties of this responsible office with fidelity, promptness and efficiency. He is very acceptable to the citizens at large.

The Board then transacted a good deal of routine business, the principal part of which was the appointment of a committee to confer with the Clarksville Company in reference to lighting up the streets—a committee to investigate the claim of Mrs. Lindsey to pay for house burned during small-pox scare—an ordinance to prevent gathering of noisy crowds on sidewalks, passed final reading—an ordinance to prevent parties from damaging or interfering with the railroad's rolling stock within the city's limits, passed first reading—an ordinance fixing rate of city taxation, passed second and final reading. This included the school-tax of fifteen cents. Several resolutions in regard to fixing culverts and street crossings were passed and the Board adjourned until 4 o'clock Monday evening next to receive the bond of new City Marshal which was fixed at $25,000.

From the Rev. J. W. Cullom. After a weary round of three appointments yesterday, I am too tired for almost anything else but to write you a short and easy letter. The veteran Jo. G. Myers, spent night before last with us and, as usual, we talked much of old friends in your country. E. L. Jones, so favorably known on the Southside, and is so much improved in health that we have strong hopes of his permanent recovery. Yesterday morning, J. J. Ransom, Missionary to Brazil, walked unexpectedly into one of our congregations and we had the pleasure of hearing two good sermons from him. He is here on a visit to his many relatives and friends, and leaves to-morrow for his distant field of labor. It was our fortune to board him once for a year, and he still remembers many of the incidents of those by-gone days, and especially his experiment in burning plant-beds and making a crop of tobacco on the paragon lot.

In about two weeks, I expect to look on the faces of many dear friends in Montgomery. J. W. C. Overall, Tenn., June 5, 1882.

General Conference of the Missionary Society. The fourth annual meeting of this Society will be in this city on Thursday the 15th of June. The members of the Association will meet in the Methodist church on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Thursday and Friday nights the public are cordially invited to attend the exercises of the Society at the Methodist church. In addition to the work to be done by the elect women of the church, R. A. Young, D. D., Missionary Secretary, will deliver an address on Thursday night, and Rev. R. K. Brown, former pastor of the Methodist church in this city, one on Friday night. There will be full and interesting reports from the Conference officers, of the work done during the year.

THE CLARKVILLE SUNDAY SCHOOL meeting, which was to be held at Adam's Station June 24-25th, has been postponed till July 29-30th. The quarterly meeting for Springfield, Sta., will be held June 24-25th, and the quarterly meeting for Port Royal July 29-30th.

The Committee appointed to prepare a programme for the Sunday School meeting will publish it in due time. J. P. McFERRIN.

Clarksville National Bank. The Bank, formerly known as the Bank of Clarksville, of which Mayor Howell is cashier, has been regularly chartered by the Government and changed its name. It will hereafter be known as the Clarksville National Bank.

JUDGE TYLER, of the Criminal Court, has granted a new trial in the case of the State against W. J. Phillips, charged with murder.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Closing Exercises. Second to none of our educational institutions in importance and value, the Public Schools made their closing demonstrations in a much less ambitious style than is displayed by most other schools at the present season. No learned divine or gifted orators were summoned from a distance to do honor to the occasion; the attractions were only such as were interesting to those who cared for the children; their parents were invited to test the proficiency of their children in singing, reading and elocution, the only departments of instruction which can be made the subject of a public exhibition.

So little having been done to raise expectation, we were agreeably surprised by witnessing one of the most interesting school demonstrations we have ever seen. All the exercises were by the scholars now under instruction; the list was long and we were only able to be present on the second day and, even so, the pieces were too numerous to be separately noticed within the space to which we are confined; some of the more prominent efforts however must be briefly mentioned. The choral was upon the whole, more satisfactory than the solo singing, as might be expected, more attention having been properly paid to the former; Miss Wilson has happily discovered the art of getting boys and girls to sing together without raising that unearthly yell which generally attends such exercises. We must, however, notice with favorable distinction the duet, "Look me in the eye, Johnnie." This was sung not only with humor but in good time and tune by Miss Kate Wilson and Master Olive Oppenheimer.

We should also mention that Charlie Kincaid, who is the funny man, the humor bones of the Southwest, gave a very amusing recitation on the first morning made up partly of talk and partly of song. In recitation Miss Birdie Shackelford, Master Joe Rosenfield and Miss Dora Current deserve special mention for excellent training while Sublet Shelby and Morton Turnley in humorous pieces, brought down the house.

But by far the gem of the whole exhibition, was the performance of three scenes from Shakespeare's "King John." The cast being as follows: King John, Master Jeff. Herndon; Hubert, Olive Oppenheimer, and Prince Arthur by little Joe Wettstein. We have never seen anything in school exhibitions equal to this. The cruel, cowardly tyrant practicing on the nobler nature of Hubert was acted to the life, and little Arthur pleading for his father was affecting enough to draw tears from a stone, indeed, we observed some eyes among the audience not altogether dry during the recital; the boys were evidently interested in their work, and we think it no mean advantage to enlist youthful minds thus early in the study of the great masters of English literature.

Arthur Kleinman, who took a subordinate part in these scenes, gave us a spirited reading from Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" and, in the way of special notice, nothing can be prettier than a boy of little girls singing the "Rainbow Song"; they were arranged in a semicircle dressed in white, with each girl wearing a sash representing one of the hues of the prismatic arch.

We must pause here, though many pieces were as well done as some we have mentioned, but space and time forbid. Of course all this only marks the progress, and in the direction that education; the merits in other departments can only be gathered from the records of the examination, and as the report of this is not ready yet we must defer further comments till next week.

PERSONAL. Col. Bob Sealey is teaching dancing School in Union City, Tenn. Mr. S. E. Wilson made a flying business trip to Nashville, on last Wednesday.

Mr. John Pritchett, of Nashville, was in the city this week. Mr. Charles Plummer, a popular newspaper stenographer of Nashville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Frank Phillips.

Miss Mattie Bagwell left on Thursday morning last to visit her sister who lives in Hickman county. May best visit be pleasant one.

Miss Fannie Smith, Lute Calhoun and Emma Wilson, three of New Providence's fairest daughters, left for Princeton, Ky., Thursday morning to be gone several weeks.

Miss Sane Collins, our local novelist and author of "The Homecoming" was present at the Commencement Exercises, on Wednesday and heard the splendid oration of Mr. Doak.

Rev. J. P. McFerrin, the recently appointed presiding elder for this district here, was in the city this week and will enter at once on his arduous duties. He is not unknown to our Methodist friends and we predict that he will do good work in this district. They will give him a hearty welcome.

The Knoxville correspondent of the Chattanooga Times says: "Mr. T. R. Burgie, who has been for some years the active and successful manager of the Knoxville Hardware & Wilson Manufacturing Co., in East Tennessee, has accepted a position with Oats, White & Co., extensive wholesale saddle and harness dealers of this city. Mr. Burgie is a pushing, driving man, and will, no doubt, become an important factor in building up the business of this house."

Mr. R. H. Lockert was admitted as a partner with Dr. H. Hill, Jr., in the drug store on the first inst., and the firm is now H. Hill, Jr. & Co. Mr. Lockert is one of the most capable pharmacists in the country and has many friends here who will congratulate him upon his new business arrangements.

The above we clip from the Tipton Record, published at Covington, Tenn., where Dick now is, and flourishing, as the above shows. His many warm friends here at his old home will be much pleased to learn of his prosperity and wish him all good luck possible. We always knew he was made of the right kind of stuff.

via the famous White Sulphur Springs, Virginia Springs. Excursion tickets may now be purchased of all ticket agents, good until October 30th.

The unpleasant news was received in this city on Thursday morning of the serious illness of Mr. Henry F. Beaumont, at Fort Worth, Texas. He was very low with typhoid fever and a telegram was received summoning his father, Dr. C. W. Beaumont, to his bedside. Dr. Beaumont left on Friday morning. His many warm friends here earnestly hope for his recovery. A telegram was received yesterday, at 11 o'clock, reporting him better.

Professor Fletcher Anderson died of paralysis at Grand Junction last night while on his way home to Holly Springs from this city. Professor Anderson was a fine scholar and for many years principal of the High School in this city and recently received the Holly Springs school and charge of a prosperous school—Memphis Appeal.

Prof. Anderson was a brother of Mrs. S. J. Coffman, of this city and well-known to many of our citizens, having spent the summer of '79 here.

Alumni Banquet to Mr. Doak. As a fitting finale to the very enjoyable and interesting closing exercises of the S. W. P. University, the members of the Alumni Association gave a complimentary dinner at the Peanukh yesterday, at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, at their orator, Mr. H. M. Doak, of Nashville.

The tables were spread in the highest style of the caterer's art by mine host Bringhurst, and about fifty persons, consisting of members of the Alumni, the Board of Directors and distinguished visiting friends of the University, sat down. The elegantly prepared dinner was greatly enjoyed by all present, and the affair was one of much relish, winding up with happy and felicitous sentiments, washed down with the best brand of "Mrs. Lacy Hayes' aqua pura champagne."

THE Board of Directors of the Southwest Presbyterian University, have elected Professor in the School of History, English Literature and Rhetoric, Rev. Thomas R. Welch, D. D., of Little Rock. This chair was endowed this week by a gentleman from New York City.

Mr. J. B. Shearer, principal of the School of Biblical Instruction, G. F. Nicholas, A. M., teacher of Latin and Greek of the John Hopkins University, Baltimore, was elected Professor in the School of Ancient Languages, in place of Rev. C. R. Hemphill, who has been elected to a professorship in the Columbia, S. C., Seminary.

MR. JOHN F. SHELTON sent to our office this week, from his Cumberland River farm, about fifteen miles up the river, a bunch of wheat five feet, five inches high, with eighteen heads of fully matured grain on it. It is a new kind and is certainly one of the finest specimens of what we have ever seen. He says it will yield over twenty bushels to the acre. He also has 100 tons of the finest timothy ever grown, if the sample, of which the heads are over a foot long, is a fair exhibit. Our friend Shelton is a farmer as is a farmer.

Public School Teachers. At a meeting of the Board of Education for the city on Thursday evening, the following teachers were elected for the ten months beginning September 1: C. W. Yager, Superintendent; Howell School—Misses Alice Wilson, Ada Butler, Lou Lovell, Kate Rogers, Jennie Keese, Mrs. Shackelford and Mrs. Rhodes. Colored School—H. S. Merry, principal. P. A. Northington, M. R. Jackson, Mary Blackman, and Mrs. Arty.

LIUT. HEWITT, of the U. S. Army, was married on his detached, at San Antonio, Texas, last Saturday, to Miss Kate Duncan, oldest daughter of Col. Blanton Duncan, formerly of Louisville, Ky. Lieut. Hewitt died only a few hours after the marriage ceremony was performed and at last accounts his young widow was very ill and not expected to live.

THE closing exercises of the Clarksville Female Academy will take place as follows: Sermon, at the Methodist church, to-morrow, (Sunday), at 10:30 by Rev. Warner Moore, of Memphis. Elocution and Literary Societies, Monday night, Graduating exercises and concert, Tuesday night. Art exhibition on Monday and Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m.

THE farmers have been busy this week harvesting their wheat crop. So far as we have heard the wheat is remarkably good. Now let the crop be prepared for market as soon as possible and thereby save the risk of losing a portion of it.

THE C. C. G's., will have a competitive drill on Wednesday night for the beautiful gold badge which is to be presented to the best drilled soldier. The public is invited to witness this drill, and the ladies in particular.

A PARTY of young ladies and gentlemen had a very pleasant evening at Mr. Dibble's on Wednesday evening. The ladies band discoursed sweet music and all went merry until "the wee sma' hours ayeant the twal."

AESTHETIC POTPOURRI. BY A MODERN "TOM MOORE." An aesthetic young miss of Terre Haute, Indiana, friends thought her quite too tall. Showed her modernized taste, By running to water, And walked with an Oscar Wilde strut, Which was something her didn't expect.
