

Table with columns for advertisement rates: NO. SQUARE, 1 MO, 2 MO, 3 MO, 6 MO, 12 MO. Includes rates for 1 square, 2 squares, 3 squares, 4 squares, 5 squares, 6 squares, 7 squares, 8 squares, 9 squares, 10 squares, 11 squares, 12 squares.

Announcement of marriages and deaths free—tributes of respect and obituary half price.

Louisville & Nashville Railroad. Trains leave Clarksville as follows:

Table with columns for train schedules: No. 1, Fast Mail, 8:10 P. M.; No. 2, Fast Mail, 6:50 P. M.; No. 3, Accommodation, 2:45 A. M.; No. 4, Accommodation, 11:30 A. M.; No. 5, Fast Mail, 6:50 P. M.; No. 6, Fast Mail, 6:50 P. M.; No. 7, Accommodation, 2:45 A. M.; No. 8, Accommodation, 11:30 A. M.; No. 9, Fast Mail, 6:50 P. M.; No. 10, Fast Mail, 6:50 P. M.; No. 11, Accommodation, 2:45 A. M.; No. 12, Accommodation, 11:30 A. M.

BOOK BINDERY.

Messrs. J. S. Neblett and W. P. Titus have purchased the CHRONICLE Book Bindery, formerly owned by Mrs. Susan Snow and will hereafter run it in connection with their Job Printing department under the firm name of Neblett & Titus. They will soon have on hand a full stock for carrying on the business in all its different branches. While doing any work in their line, they will make a specialty of the manufacture of Blank Books for county records, banks, warehouses, insurance agents, merchants and others giving special orders.

A competent foreman will have charge of the Bindery, and all work will be put up according to order and satisfaction guaranteed. Their Job Office is one of the most complete in the State and book, pamphlet and job work of all descriptions will receive prompt attention. The work from this office and bindery is well known in Middle and West Tennessee and southern Kentucky and it is the intention of the proprietors to keep it up to its high standard and to compete in prices with any house in the same line of business.

Pianos and Organs in stock, for rent or sale at Owen & Moore's.

The Rev. Jas. D. Barbee will preach at Idaho Springs to-morrow (Sunday) at 3 o'clock, p. m.

The Rev. Dr. Beckett, of Columbia, Tenn., will preach at Trinity church Sunday morning at 10:30 and 8:15 at night.

The Greenwood class meeting will be held at the residence of R. H. Pickering, next Thursday night.

It now turns out that Mrs. James K. Polk's bonds are railroad bonds. These are to be paid dollar for dollar.

The Circuit court meets in Dover, Stewart county, next Monday, special Judge J. W. Judd, presiding.

The Constitutional Convention was snarled under for the next ten years.

We tip our chapeau to Esquire White, of Lebanon. 187 to 77 is pretty popular.

CONGRESS adjourned on Tuesday, at 3 o'clock, p. m., after the longest session on record.

EX-SENATOR J. M. E. BAILEY will address the Democratic County Convention to-day at the Court House. Come in and hear him.

THE third quarterly meeting for Clarksville station, the current year, will be held at the Methodist church on Franklin street, to-day and to-morrow, by the presiding elder Rev. J. P. McFerrin.

THE Rev. J. P. McFerrin will conduct a song service for the benefit of the Sunday-school, at the Methodist church, on Sunday evening, at 4 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

WE are glad to note that our county officers were voted for without regard to their continuance on the "Vexed Question." It had no business in our county election and was rightfully ignored.

THE glorious conflict for the maintenance of honor, faith and public credit was begun here last Saturday. Rally to the standard, true Democrats.

COMMENCE the right right now. The large majority of the people of Tennessee do not want this debt settlement disturbed and they must elect men to the Legislature who will sustain it.

THE blind girl of Lawrence says she acquiesced in the 60-3-4-5-6 settlement and is willing and ready to forego her bond. What say you, Headjackets, who would deprive her of that privilege?

READ the letters of the "poor blind girl of Lawrence," and also that of Judge Jurley in regard to the bonds the honorless seceder left to his daughters. Do they not plead in trumpet tones for honesty and the maintenance of the settlement?

COME to the County Convention to-day and help release your State from the stain and dishonor of repudiation.

THE Women's Christian Association will meet in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., next Monday, the 14th at 5 p. m. We desire a prompt and full attendance of the members, and ask all the ladies, who are interested in the work, to come and join us.

Mrs. B. N. HERBING, Cor. Sec'y.

THE debt settlement must be sustained, is the great battle-cry of true Democracy.

A Trip to Erin.

On Monday last we made a visit to Erin, that being Circuit court day. Hon. J. C. Stark, on account of sickness, was not present, and Judge John W. Judd, of Springfield, presided in his stead by special appointment of the Governor. Judge Judd seemed altogether at home on the bench and put business right through just like he had been raised on the bench. The lawyers all spoke well of his official action.

There was a large crowd of people in town attending court from all parts of the county. It was gratifying to hear from them as we did, that the crops of Houston are the best ever known in that county. The people all looked cheerful and happy at the prospect of splendid crops.

We met our friends Gen. W. J. Bradford, Hon. H. H. Bower, L. McMillan, Esq., the clerk and master of the Chancery court, J. S. Lee, Esq., clerk of the County court, J. F. McMillan, Esq., Hon. J. J. Pollard and many others whom we have known for many years, and it was a pleasure to meet them again and at their own home.

The county is building a handsome brick Court-house, which will be completed by the December court. It will add very much to the appearance of the thirty little county seat of Houston.

We found the people divided in politics like they are almost everywhere. We were told that there were about as many Fuzzell men as Bate men in the county, but they all seem to be quiet and conservative in their views.

At 4:34 we took the train for Clarksville, and in one hour we were safely at home.

The illumination of the cave with magnesia was a great success. Persons who had been in the cave twenty or more times before, said they had seen comparatively none of its beauties. The strongest lamp light will not show the tall arches, but the magnesia light is as bright as the sun and shows the most minute stalactite at the highest point, making them look like myriads of diamonds, one lady said she never expected to see any thing as pretty as that she got to heaven. These lights will be used every Thursday and at all times when a company of twenty or more go in. Brandegee every Thursday. Barbecue when called for.

We are glad to learn that A. B. Ross, Esq., was re-elected clerk of the County court of Stewart county at the recent election. He received, as we are informed, about two votes to one for his opponent, and his opponent is one of the most worthy men in Stewart county.

Mr. Ross is one of the best clerks that any county ever had, and no man ever lived a more honorable life. We are told that Stewart county was organized in 1803 and has never had but two County court clerks, viz: old uncle Billy Cook and Mr. Ross.

Read the manly, patriotic letter of Col. Nathan Brannan, Stewart county, published on our fourth page this week. It contains a clear and correct view of this great debt question and has the ring of true Democracy. Such are the sentiments of the great mass of the conservative, substantial men of the State. This settlement must be sustained.

LAST Saturday was a grand and glorious day for Clarksville and Montgomery county. The new defenders of repudiation and readjustment laid very low and kept quiet. They did not like to show up in the full, bright glare of such shining lights of honesty and patriotism as Senator Jackson, ex-Senator Cooper, Gen. Wright and others.

BOB WHITE indignantly denies the assertion of the truthful (?) man of C. J. that he had come out for Bate. Says he has not "come out" of anywhere since he came out of the Readjuster convention and he is so thoroughly satisfied with that hegin that he has no desire to attempt another exit. He considers that "come out" the grandest act of his life.

The gauntlet has been thrown down, the contest is on and Democracy is in arms and ready for the fray. Thies armed in the cause of justice and right, the State Credit Democracy fears no foe. "Lay on McDuff and damned be he who first cries, hold, enough!"

The Sixth District Congressional Convention. The Democratic Congressional Executive Committee for the Sixth District has reconsidered its action selecting Clarksville as the place of holding the convention, and it will be held at Nashville on Aug. 22, 1882, at 12 o'clock, at the Court-house.

W. H. JACKSON, Chm'n. W. E. MCKELLY, Sec'y.

THE Bate wing of the Democratic party at Erin, Houston county, last Monday, appointed delegates to the Congressional Convention, which meets in Nashville on the 22d inst., and instructed for Hon. Jas. F. House.

A LEGISLATOR elected on the Bate platform could not take his seat and vote for the readjustment of the debt settlement without thereby violating the very oath that permitted him to take his seat, and the constitution of his State.

THE Democratic Convention to-day will put two candidates in the field who will sweep the county for representatives. Come and help in the noble work of sustaining the settlement of your State debt.

THE ticket elected to fill our county offices is No. 1 in every respect. A more reliable and efficient set of officers cannot be found in any county in the State.

THE true Democracy will always be glad of an opportunity for joint discussion of the principles of the party. Let the Half-breeds trot out their invincible orators.

PERSONAL.

Joe Gerhart is at Hurricane Springs. Miss Johanna Long, of Little Rock, Ark., is in the city visiting friends.

Mrs. L. F. Griffith, of Oakwood, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Titus.

Miss Maud Drane is visiting her sister Mrs. Geo. H. Johnson.—Altenville Gazette.

Mr. Ed V. Harrison is up from Memphis, on a visit to his brothers and sisters.

Mr. Henry W. Parrish, of Montgomery, Ala., joined his family in this city during the week.

Hon. Andrew J. Caldwell, candidate for Congress, for this district, was in the city on Tuesday.

Dr. J. M. Pirtle, of Little Rock, Ark., formerly of this place, is here visiting his many friends.

Messrs. Frank and Jim Cook, of Hopkinsville, were visiting relatives in the city during the week.

Dr. Geo. N. Campbell, of Hopkinsville, was in the city Thursday. We wonder if there's a female in the case.

Mr. J. C. Bunnell, of Houston county, was thrown from his horse, last Sunday and had his arm broken just above the wrist.

Mrs. Hayne Clark, nee Miss Willie Belle Taylor, of Nashville, is the guest of Mrs. Hallie W. Lawrence, at the Female Academy.

Miss Lizzie Baber, nee Smith, of Louisville, has been visiting friends and relatives in this city and vicinity, during the week.

Mr. Elisha Williams and wife, who have been visiting the family of Mr. R. E. McCulloch, left yesterday evening to visit relatives near Guthrie.

Mr. H. C. Merritt, accompanied by his aged father, left for Hot Springs, Ark., last Monday. We regret to learn that his father's health is precarious.

Dr. J. C. Steger, trustee of Woods Yeamans & Co., was in the city on Wednesday last, en route for Dover, to attend the sale of the Bellwood lands, on the 14th inst.

We regret to learn that Mr. James O. Thompson living on the Southside, was paralyzed some three or four weeks ago. He is an old and highly respected citizen, and it is thought he cannot recover.

Prof. W. A. Bell and sister, Miss Anna, of Cloverdale, Dickson county, and Miss Mary Caldwell, of Fayetteville, Tenn., were visiting Dr. J. M. Larkin the first of the week.

Miss Jennie Dixon left yesterday to take charge of the musical department at Bellwood Seminary in Middle Tennessee. Miss Neppie Dixon also returned to her home, near Clarksville.—Brownsville Star & Bee.

Judge W. P. Keese and wife, in company with Judge J. E. Rice and wife, left last Thursday morning for Arcadia Wells, Ky., where they go in search of health. We sincerely hope that the healing waters may be of substantial and permanent benefit to them.

Mr. Chas. A. Baker left yesterday morning for his future home, Lexington, Ky. Our people regret very much to lose the Messrs. Baker and their very estimable families. They are clever, agreeable and enterprising gentlemen and we commend them to the good people of Lexington.

Military Notes.

The C. C. G.'s, are now nicely encamped in their barracks, near the City Cemetery, and are drilling night and morning in order to prepare themselves for the competitive drill at Hopkinsville next October. The boys drill hard and evidently mean business. The company that beats them will have to rise mighty early in the morning.

"We are going to win the pot at Hopkinsville this fall, sonny, and don't you forget it," broke forth "fly" C. C. G., to a CHRONICLE feller slinger the other night. "You can bet open on that to win and no mistake." "It's dead to rights, as sure as you hear me shout language," and with this expressive lingo of the day, the bad soldier shouldered his gun and pulled for camp.

Ex-Lieut. W. E. Smith of the C. C. G.'s, is now Captain of the Hopkinsville company and will no doubt bring his boys up to the point where they can "kick" for a five fight for the prize.

The beautiful flag given to the C. C. G.'s by the young ladies has not yet arrived, but will in all probability be here by the first of next week. It'll be a regular daisy.

Mr. J. C. Kendrick has purchased the Tom Munford place on Greenwood Avenue and now resides there. The good people of Greenwood congratulate themselves on this welcome addition to their high social circles.

The protracted meeting at McAdow church, which commenced last Sunday, is still in progress. We learn that quite a number have professed religion and have joined the church. The meeting will continue until Sunday and probably the greater part of next week.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen met last Monday afternoon in regular monthly session. The regular routine business was transacted. It meets again in adjourned session next Monday afternoon.

THE hour has come for every true Democrat in Montgomery county to do his duty. Do not let anything keep you away from the County Convention to-day.

SELLS BROTHERS' SIX ENORMOUS Railroad Shows will be here October 4th.

THOSE wishing the best variety of strawberries and potted plants, are referred to the advertisement of Evergreen Lodge, in another column.

THE Republican county convention will be held at the Court house in this city, on Thursday, August 31st.

ATTEND the Democratic County Convention to-day at the Court-house and hear some sound Democratic doctrine.

SELLS BROTHERS' Great Shows are now on route South, and will exhibit here Oct. 4.

The Hon. W. M. Daniel.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Cloverdale Male and Female Seminary, which appears in another column. This Institution is located in Dickson county, six miles from Charlotte, in one of the healthiest, neighborhoods in the State, and has the reputation of being one of the most thorough and best regulated boarding schools in the South. It has peculiar advantages for boys and girls as they have no inducements to neglect their studies or to acquire extravagant habits; parents and guardians are assured that the strictest order will be preserved, while all possible care will be used to insure the health, happiness and advancement of the pupils. It is one of the oldest established private schools in the State and has an enviable reputation for its many excellencies.

From the Southside.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:—Our meeting at Chapel Hill closed Saturday night with six conversions, a goodly number of seekers at the altar, and the church greatly revived.

The last day of the meeting, at 12 o'clock, we preached the funeral and buried old Uncle Peter Harris, the oldest member of Chapel Hill church, who has been a member 45 years, he was 77 years old at his recent birthday. His life was one of a Christian soldier's; he was loved by everyone. May his long line of relatives follow his example.

THE ORIGIN OF CHAPEL HILL.

In 1822, just 50 years ago, Elijah Trotter, Michael Trotter, James Lynch and James Moore, a cousin to Jordan Moore, of the Tennessee Conference, these young men organized a Sabbath-school in the old Baptist church on Harriane, near where Chapel Hill now stands. The old Baptist preachers—George and Howard Turner were opposed to Sunday-schools and turned the young men out of their church with the school. They then went to the woods and commenced cutting timber for Chapel Hill church and other seeing their determination, came to their help, and soon they had the church built and their S. S. under way, and it has been the birth-place of many happy souls from that time to this.

Though the old Baptists as a church are not for S. S., much, yet they are a good people, and make clever citizens.

Little Grigsby Mathis, son of our near neighbor John Mathis, accidentally shot himself through the hand by hand yesterday. The doctors think his middle finger will have to be amputated. The sick are all getting better. Yours, B. M. STEPHENS, August 8, 1882.

Don't forget the sale of the Bellwood lands in Stewart county, which takes place at Dover, August the 14th. Parties wishing information concerning these lands, can call on Mr. E. Shelton, or Dr. J. C. Steger, at Dover.

THE faculty of the Clarksville Female Academy for the next school year will be as follows: Collegiate and Grammar Grades—Prof. Jno. S. Collins, Miss M. E. Ford, Miss Henrietta Adams. Primary Grade—Mrs. H. W. Lawrence. Art Department—Mrs. Wm. Emery. Music Department—Prof. Wm. Emery.

Under the present arrangement the charge for instruction in music will be thirty dollars per session.

LET Howard, Dugan & Co. make you a buggy if you want a good one. They do the best work in the city.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.

The number for September abounds with news, interesting reading, and is, as usual, profusely illustrated. The editor, Rev. Dr. Talbot, has an admirable editorial. "The Home and the Rider," finely illustrated; and the home pulp contains one of his eloquent and characteristic sermons. "What are our Duties as Citizens?" "California Big Trees," "The Disciples of Memoirs Series," will read with great interest. Fiction: "The Heroic and the Heroic," "A Good Fellow," and besides the other admirable serial, "Weighted and Wandling," there are short stories, sketches, essays, etc., by popular writers. Some very excellent poems, several of them beautifully illustrated; and a large interesting and instructive miscellany. There are also Editorial Comments, Personal Notes and Comments, The Collection Basket, The Debt of Religious Companies, etc. The price is only 25 cents a number; or $1 a year, sent postpaid. A specimen number will be sent on the receipt of 25 cents, addressed to Frank Leslie's Publisher, 85 and 87, Park Place, New York.

Mrs. Elizabeth Loftland.

Mrs. Loftland was born in North Carolina, June 1, 1807, and was the oldest child of Amos Hatcher, Esq., who came to this country in 1802, and was a member of the old church. She was the last of a family of eight children who lived to reach man and womanhood, and her family connection extended to a large number of children in adjoining counties. Early in life she made a profession of religion and joined the Methodist church, and was a member of the same up to the day of her death. She was married to Mr. James S. Loftland about the year 1828, with whom she lived happily and contentedly until her death.

She was the mother of three children, one son and two daughters, her son Henry died in 1861 just as he was passing from youth to manhood. Her eldest daughter, Miss who married Mr. Frank Phillips in 1861 died in 1862, leaving only one, her youngest daughter, Mrs. John D. Robinson, who survives her. Mrs. Loftland's life has been peculiarly a sad one, having lived to bury her father and mother, her two daughters, a husband and two children. These afflictions necessarily had a softening effect on her heart, and she was a kind and generous hearted woman, and was ever ready to aid in any good cause. She was a Christian in the true sense of the word, and was a true and devoted wife and mother. She was a good woman in every sense of the word and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 12th inst. She was a true and devoted wife and mother, and her death leaves a void in her family circle which can never be filled.

For many years she had been subject to rheumatism, and her health was becoming more and more precarious, she was fully conscious of her condition and looked upon death, not as a terror but as a happy release from the trials and troubles of this world, and died in full faith of an eternity of bliss with loved ones in the great hereafter. Her death occurred on the 10th inst. and she was buried in the family grave on the 1