OUR BIG EDITION. The CHRONICLE of the 10th of May will be the biggest newspaper enterprise ever undertaken in Clarksville, or any city in Tennessee.

The size of the paper will be greatly enlarged. It will contain illustrations of all the public buildings in this city and of a number of the business blocks, warehouses and churches.

Articles on the farming and stock interests of the county, our mineral lands, the tobacco trade, the public schools and numerous other subjects of interest are being prepared for the paper by capable men each of whom is well acquainted with the subject assigned to him.

We intend to give it an extensive circulation as an advertisement of the city and surrounding country. Send in your orders for advertisements and extra copies.

The Nashville races open on Thursday, May 1.

We are under obligations to Senator Harris for public documents.

Mr. Rosenplauer will sell his household furniture at his residence next Monday at 9 o'clock.

LAST Monday was about as cold and rainy a day as we have ever seen in April.

The Senate passed the Bankrupt bill Monday by a vote of 32 to 15.

The Chancery Court adjourned Thursday, the docket being very light this term.

JUDGE C. W. TYLER will open the Criminal Court next Monday morning. Jurors and witnesses are expected to be on hand promptly.

The State Probation Convention meets in Nashville, Thursday, May 22. All temperance people are invited to attend.

The Rev. Dr. Kelly (or some other minister) will fill the Methodist pulpit at the Academy next Sunday morning and night.

FROM present indications Arthur will undoubtedly have the support of a large majority of the Southern delegates at Chicago.

Contractors wishing to make bids for the addition to the jail, and repairing Govan's bridge, are referred to the advertisement of the committee in another column.

MR. J. W. HLETT, has at his garden near the city, any amount of tomato and cabbage plants for sale. He will also soon have a large quantity and variety of potato slips.

DR. HARRINGTON, convicted at Jersey City of conspiracy to defraud the American Legion of Honor, was sentenced on Monday to two years in the penitentiary.

CONFERENCE.—Quite a large delegation left here Thursday morning on the steamer Gracey, for the District Conference at Collinsville. They will return Monday morning on the same boat.

MR. JOHN B. COULTER has bought a beautiful building lot from Mr. H. C. Merritt on Greenwood avenue, near Mr. Buck's brick yard, and will probably build next year.

LITTLE Miss Sumner Campbell, step-daughter of Mr. Len Smith, was presented a volume of poems by the managers of the Easter egg-breaking, for having made the largest collection—the amount being twelve dollars.

The telephone line from this city to Guthrie was completed last Saturday and is now in operation. It is a great convenience to people at both ends of the line and the intermediate stations of Hampton and St. Bethlehem.

AN ELEGANT AFFAIR.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Duvall entertained a number of their friends at their residence on College street Wednesday with an elegant dinner. The larger portion of the guests were the agents of the Dayton Hedge Company in this section.

Mr. Duvall has given up his charge of the Company's office in this city and will remove with his family to Dayton, Ohio, where he will assume the responsible position of General Superintendent of the Company's affairs. He has been so intimately and so agreeably associated with the "hedgemen" at work in this section for so long a time, that he felt it impossible to sever so pleasant a relation without a social reunion like that of last Wednesday.

The prodigal hospitality of the genial host and his elegant lady made the occasion a most enjoyable one. Everybody present was fully imbued with the prevalent spirit of good feeling and conviviality. When the guests had all assembled in the parlor, before dinner was announced, Mr. R. L. Garner, on the part of the "hedgemen," presented Mrs. Duvall with a very handsome silver service.

Mr. Garner made the presentation in a neat and graceful manner and with such suavity of manner as to entirely relieve it of that stifled oppressiveness that frequently accompanies such an address. The service was composed of a large waiter, a pitcher, two goblets and a finger bowl. It was a beautiful collection and a fitting present. The smaller articles were lined with gold. The ornamentation was an Arctic design and the rigid aspect of the glaciers and ice bound ships was calculated to suggest the coolness of the pitcher's contents.

The dinner was served at two o'clock. The menu was elaborate and elegant, well prepared and served in good style. The tables were beautifully decorated with several baskets of rare flowers from Evergreen Lodge and every guest found at his or her plate a souvenir bouquet, from the same place.

There was served with the meal and substantial portion of the meal and champagne flowed freely with the later courses. It would be superfluous to state that such a feast was heartily partaken of and greatly enjoyed.

The only shadow that was thrown over the brightness of this gladsome occasion was the thought that it heralded the departure of Mr. Duvall and his family. It was pleasant to note the real affection that numerous gentlemen who have been working under his supervision in the hedge business, and we join in the sincere regret that he is to be taken away from them.

Mr. Duvall's residence in this city has proved him to be a most excellent citizen and a fine business man. His good qualities have endeared him to the community and it acknowledges a great loss in his removal.

Prominent among the guests on this happy occasion was Mr. J. J. Clayton, who will succeed Mr. Duvall in the management of the office located here. He is an excellent gentleman and a worthy successor of the man whose place he takes.

The entertainment was a most delightful one and will no doubt be long remembered by all who participated.

Several choruses in which a number of young ladies and gentlemen took part were well executed. The vocal solos and quartets were all very creditable and the instrumental performances showed fine training and instruction.

The concert demonstrated the fact that Mrs. Catching has fine capacity as a teacher of music. It was a very pleasant affair and was highly enjoyed by all who attended.

RETRIBUTION.

Selection and Murder.—The Old Story Repeated in Clarksville. Roy L. May, familiarly known as "Bud" May, was shot and killed by John T. Wood, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The tragedy occurred in the parlor of the boarding house kept by May's mother on the corner of Main and Second streets. The difficulty grew out of the alleged seduction of a girl named Belle Ricker, Wood's wife's sister, by May.

Wood had given up his charge of the Company's office in this city and will remove with his family to Dayton, Ohio, where he will assume the responsible position of General Superintendent of the Company's affairs. He has been so intimately and so agreeably associated with the "hedgemen" at work in this section for so long a time, that he felt it impossible to sever so pleasant a relation without a social reunion like that of last Wednesday.

LETTER FROM MRS. SUE F. MOONEY.

The mail this afternoon brought me sweet reminders from many far away friends. The CHRONICLE and the Tobacco Leaf are popular papers in this household. Beside the excellent general reading the personal and local items keep us "posted" as to our friends and the growth of the town.

I see that the friends of the South Western Presbyterian University have a feast in store in the promised address of Dr. B. M. Palmer, of New Orleans at the Commencement in June. It has been my good fortune to hear him several times, and the remembrance is a perpetual pleasure.

On Good Friday, I had a delightful drive through the country to Murfreesboro. En route in Salem, where is pleasantly domiciled Rev. J. W. Cullom, so well known to Clarksville and the regions round about. We passed a short time very delightfully with him and his pleasant family. Charley has grown into a handsome young man. Neither his looks nor his learning has spoiled him for a busy-outdoor life.

Like the old Romans, he regards farming as the noblest occupation. By the way, even in our own country, many of those who have filled the highest political places have been raised from the field and farm. The great need of the South is educated farmers—those who understand the chemistry of the soil, and are not ashamed to make a practical test of their knowledge.

The parsonage at Salem is invested with interest to us, from the fact that it was the house in which we taught school the summer after our surrender of the South. That was the best working school I ever knew. Some of the young men had been Southern Soldiers. They knew the need of an education, and they lost no time.

At Salem, too, is another house, which I gazed upon with moistening eyes. There, at one time, lived my first teacher, a good man, long since gone to rest. Whether the old school house sits like a beggar sunning itself by the roadside, or has given place to a stately structure, or has been leveled low, I know not, but of the many who gathered within its rude walls, by far the larger part

"Have gone to that great school where God himself dwells." But a trace to tears, for the ride is over and I am in the old place once again, and yet there comes a feeling of sadness, when one must get acquainted with surroundings once so familiar.

It seems strange to be buying goods of a young man to whom it seems but yesterday I was teaching the first steps up the rugged hill of science. In the matter of the buying and selling I am greeted by another friend, who brings to mind Clarksville and a friend who here I have spent many happy hours. This is Rev. A. G. Dinwiddie, pastor of the M. E. Church in Murfreesboro. We were sorry to hear that the President of the District, Rev. Wm. G. Dorris, had been seriously sick.

While upon church matters, I would like to tell the good women of Clarksville, Col. Ed. Fort, in his Missionary meeting lately held in Nashville for the benefit of the Tennessee Conf. Wom. Missionary. Drs. Haygood and Hendrick addressed the meeting, and about five hundred dollars was raised. May all the auxiliaries emulate the example of McKendree! The women of College Grove Auxiliary are making a beautiful quilt as a Centennial Contribution. Through Miss Lovell, of your city, I have received a beautiful contribution from Miss Jane McGuire and a highly prized one from Miss Sallie Yancy.

I have just read in the Advocate Bro. Orman's report of Clarksville contribution to the cause of missions. It is highly gratifying. I hope that the Woman's Missionary Society, Clarksville Auxiliary, may be stimulated to renewed effort, and that the glorious results may be reported by their delegate at Murfreesboro, June 15-20.

Well, it is bed time. Good night and pleasant dreams. Mrs. SUE F. MOONEY. College Grove, April 15, 1884.

PERSONAL.

Miss Stella Partridge, a charming and accomplished young lady of Erin, was visiting Miss Jane Broadbent on Greenwood Avenue this week.

Mr. Ed. Neblett of Dickson, has accepted an appointment as stationer in the post office at that place, under the name of W. Wilson. We welcome him to our city.

Mr. Horace Yarborough, a popular and polite young man from the Southside, has accepted a position with R. S. Broadbent. He will be pleased to see all of his friends when in want of dry goods.

Mr. Sam T. Rhodes and bride were visiting relatives in this city, the first of the week. Mr. R. H. Owen has been in New Orleans this week attending the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias.

Mr. A. G. Buford of Water Valley, Miss., has been in the city this week on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Cullom.

MR. DANIEL SUTHER, who moved from this county to Lawrence, Kansas, six years ago, in a business letter to the CHRONICLE, takes occasion to say: "This is a beautiful country, but I would much prefer to live in Tennessee on account of the climate and the people. This is the 21st day of April, and it is snowing. The snow is about one inch deep. Wheat looks fine for a crop, and is advertising them for corn and I have been planting for corn and I have a little planted. Spring is later than usual in this section. I often think of the day I left Tennessee, and I hope there will be a day when I will live there again. Send the CHRONICLE on—I can't do without it."

MR. C. D. DONNOR, died of meningitis at his residence near Liberty Church in this county April 20th at 2 p. m., aged 34 years and 3 months. Mr. Donnor was a highly respected citizen and a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. He leaves a wife and three children, who with his many friends mourn his untimely end.

JUDGE C. W. TYLER, Chairman, has written letters to the gentlemen composing the Democratic Executive Committee of Montgomery county requesting them to meet in the Library room at the court house on the 5th of May and determine on a day for holding a county convention. He preferred this method to a published call through the newspapers. The call for the convention will be published in due time.
