The Memphis Avalanche of Tuesday very sensibly said "there is no party fealty involved in a question so purely economical and local as that of the Railroad Commission." Of course not, and Democrats who don't believe in it want vote for it.

Mr. P. H. Keesee, of this city, has accepted a position with Mr. R. E. Neal in putting up tobacco at his stemmy the coming season. Mr. Keesee is an experienced tobacco man and has had several years experience in the stemmy business.

REMEMBRAL.

GOLLADEY-TURNLEY. At the Christian church, Sunday morning, Oct. 27, 1884, the marriage of Miss Mary L. Golladey to Mr. John Turnley, was solemnized by Rev. Mr. J. C. Hancock.

A large number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties were in attendance to see the ceremony performed and to offer their congratulations. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and a large marriage bell hung suspended from the ceiling, under which the happy couple stood. The ceremony was beautiful, elegant, touching, and appropriate.

The bride is one of the most beautiful and popular young ladies in this county, and is a general favorite with her numerous friends and admirers. Mr. Turnley is a prominent planter of Florida, and was, until a few years ago, a resident of Clarksville.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's mother where an elegant reception was tendered them. May the sunshine of happiness and prosperity ever be theirs.—Cadia Tele. phone.

Wednesday evening, Oct. 29th, at 7 o'clock in Meadow Brook—a beautiful Hindu church—dedicated last summer, the first marriage ceremony was performed, the Rev. R. J. Craig officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. J. C. Hancock, of Fairview, Ky., and Miss Lizzie I. Drake, daughter of Mr. F. M. Drake, of this county, and granddaughter of Mr. John Scott. After the marriage the bridal party and a few invited friends repaired to the home of the bride, and partook of the substantial and delicacies that were in readiness for them. One of the most pleasant features of the evening was the music rendered by Mr. William Jackson, the groom's best man, and Miss Fannie Scott, one of the bridesmaids.

Dr. A. A. Bland, of Clarksdale, Miss., and Miss Maggie Williams were married at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. P. Williams on Madison street in this city, Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Broadhurst, of Louisville. No cards. Only a few friends of the family were in attendance.

Mr. T. J. Farley and Miss Viola Coleman, both of this county, were married at the residence of the bride-groom's mother in the 9th district Wednesday evening. The newly married couple were given a reception at the residence of Col. Young in this city Thursday.

Mr. Jno. A. Dunn and Miss Katie Walker were married at the residence of the bride's father, Hon. George A. Walker, in Springfield this week.

Dr. Wm. Dunn, of Robertson county, was recently married to Miss Jennie Allensworth, of San Antonio, Texas. He was at one time a student of the S. W. P. University in this city.

Death of P. A. Byrne. Mr. P. A. Byrne died at the residence of his brother, Dr. Byrne, in Russellville, Ky., Sunday, Oct. 26, 1884, aged about 50 years. He was a resident of Clarksville for several years, before and after the war. He married a daughter of Mr. John Bradley of this city, who died in about two years after marriage, leaving a little girl then an infant. The child was taken by his sister Mrs. Graham and is now nearly grown. Press Byrne was a jovial, generous and warm-hearted man, and was ever ready to do a favor for a friend.

An accident. Mr. James Stafford, a carpenter, received a fall Saturday evening last while at work on the People's Warehouse, that came very near being the death of him. He mounted a scaffold to adjust some work when it gave way and precipitated him to the ground about eight feet. He fell on his stomach and wrist, no bones were broken, the muscles were terribly torn and bruised. He was taken to the office of Dr. Larkin who promptly gave him such attention as was necessary. He is improving and we hope will soon be well.

DR. T. E. CABANISS, son of the late Dr. J. W. Cabaniss, will continue the dentist business at his father's office on Third street, this city. He is a competent dentist and is a pleasant and accommodating gentleman.

Major Condon's Speech.

Major J. B. Condon, of Knoxville, Republican candidate for Railroad Commissioner, spoke at the Court-House Tuesday night. He began by saying that he was not a lawyer or a politician, but a mechanic. He served in the Confederate army and had no more apologies to make for that fact than he had for being a Republican now.

He was a Democrat up to a recent date. He followed the Sky-bles in the last campaign and went over to the Republicans on account of his high protective tariff ideas. He devoted some time to the discussion of National politics, in which he talked to demonstrate that he was very well versed in what he was talking about. In regard to the Railroad Commission, which was the only point on which his remarks were of any pertinence, he said he never expected to serve as Commissioner if elected, reiterating the same idea expressed in the card published by the Republican candidates for Commissioners some time ago. He said it was generally known that the law would be repealed if the Republican candidates were elected and they were former friends in the contest. In this connection he made one suggestion that we will endorse. He thinks John Savage ought to be made commissioner under the gambling act in this State and general supervision of the faro banks. This is a thing that Citizen John knows all about and it is believed that he can do more towards breaking up all the faro banks in Tennessee than the most stringent law ever enacted.

Major Condon is a railroad man and is well known as a railroad builder.

Interesting Relics. Mr. E. A. Pegram, of this county, has shown us some very interesting relics of the long ago which he has in his possession. One is a grant of land on parchment. It conveys a tract of land in the county of Dinwiddie and Dominion of Virginia from George the Third by the Grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c., to Mr. John Robertson. The grant is made for "divers good causes and considerations, but more especially for and in consideration of the sum of ten shillings of good and lawful money." The date is almost illegible, but it appears to be 1774.

Another is a copy of the "Clerk County Gazette," announcing the death of Washington. It is in mourning, "the father of his country," and has a good deal of eulogistic matter concerning him. The foreign news in this paper tells of the victories of the French arms over the Austro-Russian forces. It is dated Jan. 4, 1800.

The remaining relic indicates that some men who lived in those good old times would not have been supporters of St. John if they should have survived to have taken part in the present canvass. It is a note from one Francis Meredith to Henry Thwait, who appears to have kept a grocery. The former requests the latter "please send me three pints of wine and one quart of rum, for I am in great want of something to revive my spirits." A post script seemed to show that like the man in the Bachanalian song which the boys sing about the streets, he also wanted:

"A bowl to put in it, And a spoon to stir it around." The post script says: "Please get me a stone mug about a quart size or some other kind that is strong and solid."

One of the most complete stocks of dry goods in our city is that of A. R. Hall & Son. You can find almost anything of good and at reasonable prices at their store. Their large rooms are crowded with the very latest styles of every kind of dress goods. The clerks are polite and attentive and will take pleasure in showing you their goods.

Be certain to attend the sale of the Meriwether residence on Madison street in this city, which takes place in front of the Court-House today (Saturday). This residence is one of the most desirable in Clarksville, it is handsome, located in a fashionable quarter and has all necessary conveniences.

DR. T. E. CABANISS, son of the late Dr. J. W. Cabaniss, will continue the dentist business at his father's office on Third street, this city. He is a competent dentist and is a pleasant and accommodating gentleman.

We wish to urge it on the officers holding elections at the various precincts in the county to send in their returns at the earliest possible moment. Everybody will be anxious to know the result and the returns should be sent to Clarksville as soon as they are complete.

The ladies of the Methodist church in this city will give on the three days preceding Christmas of this year entertainments of the same nature as those given at the same time last year. In addition to the elegant dinners the entertainments will have some new and interesting features.

THE DAILY CHRONICLE.

The daily issue of the CHRONICLE on the three days succeeding the election will give the returns to all readers in this city and vicinity 15 hours earlier than they can be had from any other newspaper.

Mr. W. E. Pearce, manager of the W. U. Telegraph office wishes to raise a sufficient sum to justify him in posting bulletins. He has secured some contribution for the purpose and we hope will get the full amount desired. He thinks of renting the opera house and posting the bulletins there where they can be seen more conveniently.

If this arrangement is carried out the dispatches sent the CHRONICLE by the American Press Association will also be read in the Opera House for the convenience of the public.

The CHRONICLE is not antagonizing Mr. Pierce. Its dispatches will be received up to 3 a. m., each day and the paper will afford fuller news than most people will get who watch the bulletins.

Packages of the daily paper will be sent on the early trains to clubs made up at any station on the L. & N. road or the South Eastern road. Subscription Price 25 cents, by mail or carrier.

The recent celebration of the centennial birthday of Sir Moses Montefiore, the great English-Hebrew philanthropist, recalls the fact that there is a man living not very far from Clarksville who is 100 years old. The aged gentleman is named John Hooper. He lives in Cheatham county, where he came with his father ninety years ago, when quite a small boy. He is the paternal ancestor of 13 children, 66 grand-children, 263 great-grandchildren, 99 great great grand-children and 17 great great great-grandchildren.

A point for the merchants and business men of Clarksville to especially consider is that this place would lose all the advantages afforded by the competition of river transportation should the Commission rates be put into effect. A gentleman who has studied the question very carefully, and who, by the way, has never voted anything but the straight Democratic ticket, said to us the other day that such a thing would be Clarksville's doom.

MR. B. F. BURGESS, of New Providence, has taken the position of traveling salesman for the well known woolen department of Peacher's Mills. Ben is one of the youngest drummers we know, but he has plenty of energy and push to carry him through. We are glad to see Peacher's Mill, under the efficient management of Mr. H. O. Hamburg, taking means to build up a large trade, and hope to see yet one of the most flourishing industries in the State.

Don't be alarmed about electing Republican Railroad Commissioners. A vote for Savage & Co. means a vote for the Commission in all of its most objectionable features and their defeat will demand the laws repealed. That's all there is in it. Nobody apprehends that the Republican commissioners will be allowed to serve if they are elected.

Is there a business man or farmer in this county who would trust the management of his business to Savage, Gordon and Turley, especially if he was aware of the fact that these worthies were hostile to both him and his business?

W. H. Parsons, chairman of the executive committee of the greenback labor party, has issued a circular accusing Butler of selling out to Blaine. He says the wily edged clerk is running in Blaine's interest and that his expenses are paid by the Republicans.

Messrs. L. Well & Co., have their bread wagon running in all parts of the city and will deliver bread wherever desired. They also have on hand a large stock of choice and fresh family groceries which they invite the public to inspect and sample.

Accident to Mr. C. Kidd.

We clip the following particulars of the accident to Mr. C. Kidd of this city, from the Cadiz Telephone: Mr. C. Kidd, of Clarksville, Tenn., met with a serious accident on the Rock Creek bridge, on Tuesday. He traveled in the interest of Brown & Farrel, who locate hardware stores in Nashville, Tenn. He drove into Rock Creek on Tuesday afternoon, in a cab, and on turning his team to drive up to the hotel the hind wheel of the cab captured and threw him down between the front wheels and the horse. As he fell it seems that one of his best horses was thrown against his head and face to a horrible extent. He was immediately carried to a room and medical aid was summoned. It is thought by his physician that he will probably recover, though his condition is not a safe one. His wife, at Clarksville, was relieved as soon as an office could be reached.

Presley A. Byrne. Russellville Herald-Enterprise. At the residence of his brother, Dr. W. W. Byrne, on Sunday, Sunday morning, about four o'clock, Sunday morning, Mr. Presley A. Byrne died of consumption after an illness which began last April.

Mr. Byrne was about fifty years old, was born and raised in this town, and when about twenty years of age left here for Clarksville, afterwards going into the steamboat business. As clerk and captain he continued in the business for thirty years, and was one of the owners of the Cumberland, Ohio and Mississippi rivers. He married Miss Bradley, daughter of John Bradley of Clarksville, and his wife has been dead for about fifteen years. He leaves a daughter, his only child, who lives with his sister in this city.

Mr. Byrne came here from Cairo, Ill., just a month ago and had been confined to bed ever since until his death. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Monday morning by Rev. V. O. Geo. of the Episcopal church, and interment was made in Maple Grove Cemetery.

A meeting of the stockholders of the L. A. & T. railroad is called for Nov. 15th in Florence, Ala. Business of importance is to be transacted, which is stated in the call published elsewhere.

Corbando's Items. A big crop of tobacco has been housed, the first last week got some suckers that had been topped. Mr. J. W. Powers had a barn containing about 3,000 pounds of tobacco burned two weeks ago. The corn and potato crop are less than an average.

The sale at Mr. Alex. Outlaw's on the 16th inst. drew a large crowd and the bidding was lively. Mr. Outlaw has since moved to Clarksville and will be missed in this neighborhood.

The speaking and barbecue at Nolen's Mill last Saturday was a success. About three hundred people were present and heard interesting speeches from Judge Tyler, W. M. Daniel, A. H. Munford and C. P. Warfield. I think a good vote will be polled next Tuesday, as the interest is growing.

Dr. Wm. H. Anderson, the new preacher, preached at Tarsus last Sunday. He will preach at the same place next Sunday, when it will be decided whether or not he will move his family to this city. "Possum hunting is popular now. Several of the boys were out all night last night, caught two 'possums and—a bad cold.

PERSONAL. Mr. Jack Cronch and his lovely bride were in the city Tuesday.

Mr. Ed. Drane has gone to Hurricane Springs to recuperate his health.

Mr. Ed. Turnley, and wife left Tuesday for their future home in Lake W. Florida.
