Gen. Grant's remains were kept in the depot at Mt. Vernon, where he died, until Tuesday, when they were brought to Albany and laid in state in the Capitol building. From thence the remains were removed to the City Hall in New York, and will be interred in Riverside Park in that city to-day.

The obsequies have been attended with a great show of ceremony and funeral pomp. A salute of thirty cannon was fired at sunrise at Mt. Vernon, Monday, and another every half hour during the day and thirty again at sunset. A detachment of soldiers kept guard over the remains while they were at Mt. McGreggor. Rev. Dr. Newman, of New York, delivered the funeral oration from the cottage balcony Tuesday morning before the cortege left the Mountain. The funeral train was heavily draped in mourning. At Albany the remains were conveyed from the depot, to the Capitol on a splendid funeral coach drawn by six black horses in black trappings. Gen. Hancock has supervised all arrangements. The remains have been viewed by over 100,000 people.

Tuesday at 10 o'clock a grand parade of all the stock around the ring. At 11 o'clock speeches by Hon. J. A. McKenna of Kentucky and Col. Robert Gates of Jackson, Tenn.

The first part of the afternoon will be occupied by a tournament, or tilt for rings, twelve gentlemen being allowed to enter the contest.

After this will come the special display of Holstein and Shorthorn cattle. The second day will be devoted to the display of Jersey cattle and other interesting features.

Among other things to take place that day will be a tournament on the horse, vehicle and its occupants, a lady and gentleman will be considered in awarding the prize.

The Tobacco Leaf in speaking of the tournament to be given at the Stock Show says the gallant knights on that occasion will carry "spears." Shades of the chivalrous past defend us! Think of the naughty Driscoll Bois Gilbert carrying a spear! It was "with lance in rest" that the knight of old sang:

"Their chargers' foamy speed"
The kind of fellows who used the other implement may be judged by the following couplet from McCully's "Battle of Ivory":

Not for charity thy Meek- am pistol,
Thy Meek- am may see a mass
for thy poor equipment's sake.

In the same poem another stanza gives an illustration of the weapon used by knights:

"Now by those yore,
Fair gentlemen of France,
Charge for the golden lilies now,
Upon the shield of the knight."

Mr. W. D. Moore makes the best hammers ever sold in the Clarksville market. They are strong and durable, and quite ornamental. They have rings on the ends so that they can be put up and taken down at pleasure. The prices of the hammers are from one to two dollars, according to size and material used. If you want one telephone Mr. Morton at the county jail and your order will be promptly attended to. These hammers make excellent swings for children and are nice things for linguist ladies and lazy folks generally.

A tolerably good shower of rain fell here last Sunday afternoon, but not enough to do the crops any good. The corn is suffering badly and a great deal of it is past redemption, while tobacco is beginning to need rain. Up to four weeks ago the crop prospect was very fine, but it is now seriously impaired in this immediate section. There have been good local rains in different portions of the Clarksville district.

A brandance and "barbecue" is to be given at Pruitt's Spring, one mile and a quarter west of Seg, Wednesday, Aug. 12. The managers mentioned in the printed invitations are J. C. Lisenbee, W. S. Smith, Chas. B. Lisenbee, John W. Lisenbee, R. F. Pruitt, J. B. Barte, Wm. Pruitt, L. S. Barnes, H. C. Cavanar. The place selected is very suitable for such an occasion and it will no doubt prove a delightful affair.

Thursday the Central warehouse sold for J. H. Dunning, of Trigg county, Ky., four hogheads of 99 bushels—some of 100 and 100, and three of 100 and 100, at $11.40 round; the same house also sold this week for T. S. Dunning, also of Trigg county, six hogheads—two lugs at $7.95 and $8.40, and four lugs at $8.00, 7.75, 10.75, 12.25, the average being $9.90.

Mr. C. W. Crozier, deputy Clerk and Master of the Circuit Court, resigned that position on the first inst., and Mr. Alex. Gholsom has been appointed in his place. Mr. Gholsom is a polite and promising young attorney, and no doubt will fill the position satisfactorily to all concerned. He will not abandon his practice in the Criminal and Circuit Courts.

Gen. J. D. C. Atkins paid a visit to his home in Paris, Tenn., this week. He was serenaded Monday night and made a speech in which he reviewed the course of the administration and characterized Cleveland as competent, honest and undiluting in the discharge of his duties.

A son of negroes attacked the house of Rev. R. N. Conroy, colored, in Memphis, Tuesday morning. The cause of the attack was a speech made by Conroy against secret societies. The mob shot at him several times, and he narrowly escaped with his life.

A Mrs. Ash, living at Cabot, Ark., gave birth to four well developed boys the other day. At last accounts the mother and babies were doing as well as could be expected, and the father had survived the trying ordeal.

Todd County Progress: "Until very recently we have had favorable prospects for a tobacco crop, but the dry weather has continued so long, that this crop has been considerably injured."

Dr. W. K. Bowling, an old and well-known physician of Nashville, who has for many years ranked high in the profession in that city, died suddenly at Montague Wednesday.

That noble little craft, the Julien Gracy, came from up the river Wednesday night with 111 hogheads of tobacco on board. She is heavily loaded with tobacco every trip now.

The aging young people of Clarksville are expecting a nice time to a German to be given at Idaho Springs one night next week.

Mr. Clifton Crabb died in Hopkinsville Monday. He was only 20 years old and a very exemplary young man. He was the son of Mr. V. W. Crabb.

Kentucky editors continue to have good luck. Mr. A. T. Wimberly, of the Telephone, has been appointed postmaster at Cadiz.

The proposed constitutional convention was opened Monday in the Kentucky election Monday.

Preparations for the coming Stock Show at the depot on the 25th and 26th are progressing satisfactorily. There is every indication that it will be all that the projectors wish to make it and the biggest thing of the kind the county has ever known. The stock exhibit promises to be full and first class in every particular. The following is substantially the programme agreed upon:

Tuesday at 10 o'clock a grand parade of all the stock around the ring. At 11 o'clock speeches by Hon. J. A. McKenna of Kentucky and Col. Robert Gates of Jackson, Tenn.

Clarksville Female Academy. Having secured the services of Miss C. K. Moore, of Florida, a true Christian woman of rare culture, we confidently recommend her to the educating public as a successful teacher, thoroughly prepared to give instruction in Vocal and Instrumental Music, Modern Languages and Callisthenics. She was for seven years in Germany and France, pursuing these branches, and, since her return to the U. S., has taught them with marked success in the first schools of Memphis and Nashville. She has for two terms filled the Chair of German and French at Montague, where she is now engaged. She teaches the languages after the Saurier method, as living tongues, spoken by the respective nationalities. Of engaging address and unusual accomplishments, we cannot too highly recommend her, and we bespeak for her a liberal patronage. While the number of pupils in the literary department is limited to twenty, the classes taught by Miss Moore will be open to all wishing to attend.

Terms: Vocal and Instrumental Music, each $2.00 per month; Callisthenics, 50 cents per month. School opens Monday, August 31, 1885.
