VOL. 1.

SPOUTSPRING, KY., OCT. 31, 1896.

NO. 41.

The following is the way two young men of Paris, Ky., have made bet on the election: If McKinley is elected, the Democrat is to walk up and down Main street dressed in a suit made of newspapers and sing a Republican campaign song. If Bryan is elected, the Republican is to stick an oak board, 12 feet long and 3 feet wide, full of pins the pins to be placed in an equal distance apart. These pins are to be taken out again, counted and replaced in the same spot in a given length of time.

New Insurance Company.

A new insurance company has been organized at Paris and Lexington by prominent local capitalist. The Bourbon News says articles of incorporation have been filed, and the idea of this company is to compete with the present combine companies which have put the rates so high as to prevent a great many people from insuring at all. —Winchester Democrat.

A number of toll gates were recently torn down in Franklin county by toll-gate raiders. Every gate in the county is threatened.
