THE ROANOKE AND SOUTHERN TALKED ABOUT.

PROSPECTS GROWING BRIGHTER.

The Gentlemen in Charge Still Working Earnestly—Roanoke Soon to be Second to no City in the Commonwealth.

A TIMES representative recently had a conversation with a gentleman of this city, who is deeply interested in the success of the Roanoke and Southern railroad, and was highly gratified at the prospects. Because the gentlemen in charge of the undertaking have not said much, it does not follow that they have done nothing. On the contrary, the chances for building the road were never brighter, and besides that, other roads will no doubt soon be reaching out in this direction.

AMUSEMENTS.

Frederick Warde in "The Mountebank."

Frederick Warde, the distinguished tragedian, will present this play at the opera house on Tuesday night.

Fred Warde opened his engagement at the Grand opera house last night in his new version of an old standard play, "Belphegor," which he calls "The Mountebank." It is needless to say that he was excellent in the tragic passages. He has shown his power in such work so often that he has an acknowledged place among the best tragedians of our day.

LIBERTY'S ENTERPRISE.

She is Waking Up to the Demands of the Times.

Liberty, like Salem, is waking up to the demands of the times and is making every preparation to fall into line with Roanoke in the march of progress. The Manufacturers' Record of the 2nd instant has a page advertisement setting forth its advantages for the location of manufacturing enterprises and its splendid educational facilities, all of which claims are true. Roanoke wishes the people of that city every success in their endeavors to promote their material interests and make known their advantages.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. R. Wharton, son of General Wharton, of Radford, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. W. P. Gunn, principal of the Radford academy, was in the city yesterday.

Virginia Field Sport Association.

The next annual meeting of the Virginia Field Sport association will be held at the Lynchburg fair for 1890, and will, says the Lynchburg Virginian, be an interesting feature of that occasion. Mr. Polk Miller, of Richmond, the president is succeeding fairly in securing special railroad rates for hunting parties, Richmond and Alleghany, and the Lynchburg and Durham Railroad companies having come to an agreement with him on the subject.

Sermon to the Military.

Rev. W. C. Campbell will preach a sermon to the Roanoke Light infantry this morning. The company will report at the armory at 10 o'clock and march to the church. It is hoped that each member will be present, and show to the people of Roanoke that while always they are ready to serve their state they do not forget to serve their maker.

Schedule Meeting.

A meeting of the superintendents of the several divisions of the Norfolk and Western Railroad company, at which General Manager Sands and General Passenger and Ticket Agent Bevil also were present, was held yesterday in the schedule room of the offices building. The result of the meeting will be daily announced by the company.

Crashed to Death.

Mr. R. Shugart, fireman on the Saltville Branch railroad, while attempting to uncouple cars from the engine last week was run over by the tender and crushed to death. Mr. Shugart was nearly scalded to death a few months ago by an accident to the mud cylinder of the same engine.

SHE IS ALARMED

MISS WILLARD IMAGINES THINGS ARE WRONG.

A SOMBER VIEW OF AMERICA.

The Eloquent Lady Makes a Characteristic Speech Before the National W. C. T. U. Convention at Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 8.—Batterly D. Armore was gaily decked with banners, flags, shields, and mottoes yesterday when the National Woman's Christian Temperance union met in its sixteenth annual session. Between 400 and 500 delegates were present from all parts of the union.

Last night President Francis E. Willard delivered his annual address. She began her address by saying that patriotism had always been part of her religion. She then said:

You are in Chicago; the Cronin murder trial is in full blast; the national flag was bisected and the red flag of the commune applauded not far from here but a few weeks ago. The experiment of free government in our large towns and cities is a failure loudly confessed by men themselves. Nor are the reasons for this monumental catastrophe mysterious. America has become the dumping ground of European cities. The immigration has steadily deteriorated in proportion as its quantity has grown.

Today we have 100,000 anarchists among us in this country who claim to have 25,000 drilled soldiers at their call, as many as the entire regular army of the United States. The multiplication of inventions, the enormous accumulation of capital, the corporate combinations and the octopus grip of the trusts render our wage workers uneasy. "Bread or blood" is the inscription on many a concealed red flag, and the motive of many a hidden bomb. Note the sullen look on grimy faces in mine and factory and on the streets; read the labor signs of the day and see if well-to-do Americans are not asleep on the edge of a volcano.

We spend $1,500,000,000 a year for liquor and tobacco. Ten times as much for education and religion. We have 250,000 saloons, enough to form a line from Chicago to New York; and in making alcoholic beverages we waste enough grain annually to pave a street 1,000 miles long with loaves of bread.

Let it never be forgotten that we, who are here in convention assembled, present a national movement, that it is our special prerogative to note the political signs of promise along the national horizon, and yonder we see two great old war ships battering each other on high seas of the presidential campaign; we see that high tariff and free trade, the spoils office, the glittering pride of personal ambition, engorge them altogether.

He of brave heart, Neal Dow, father of prohibition, and you St. John, its Martyr, still alive; and you Clinton B. Fisk, its standard bearer, valiant as you are gracious; the white ribbon women were never more in earnest for the cause you love than they are now.

Miss Willard said that the thanks of the convention were due President Harrison for directing that no liquor shall be sold on the government reservation at Fort Washington, to Secretary Wanamaker for his pronounced declarations in favor of prohibition and Sabbath observance; and then continued: "Our protest should be sent to Vice President Morton for permitting a saloon under his new hotel."

CHURCH SERVICES.

There will be preaching in the Baptist church today at 11 a. m. The pastor, Rev. O. F. Flippo, will preach at 11 o'clock, and Rev. M. A. Wilson at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. O. F. Flippo will preach in the Bonsecrat Baptist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will be baptisms after the sermon.

Rev. J. E. Bushnell, the pastor, will preach at St. Mark's Lutheran church this morning, commencing at 11 o'clock. Sunday school begins at 9:30. Mr. H. S. Trout, superintendent. The Second Lutheran church Sunday school, Mr. E. H. Kohn, superintendent, begins at 3 p. m. Rev. Dr. F. W. Conrad, of Philadelphia, as already announced, will preach at St. Mark's church tomorrow evening.

NOTICES OF ADVERTISEMENTS.

We direct the attention of our readers to the trustee's sale of real estate advertised by B. L. Greider. The sale will take place on the premises, December 9th.

The Ladies' Union Benevolent society will meet in the Young Men's Christian association hall Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Winter is coming and everybody should prepare for it. Clare & Read, corner Church and Roanoke streets, can supply you.

Attention is called to the card of Mr. G. W. Lambert, published elsewhere, is now Lambert was a contractor in Richmond for several years, and comes here with the best recommendations. He has erected some of the handsomest buildings to be seen in the capital city, and those who patronize him here are certain to be satisfied.

Good News from Salem.

Prof. William Graybill returned yesterday afternoon from a visit to Salem, where he sold a portion of his farm near that city to a syndicate for $4,000. The sale was effected through the instrumentality of Messrs. Denit, Webster & Frier, real estate agents. Professor Graybill is much pleased with the outlook at Salem and is very hopeful of the future of the city.

The Norfolk and Western railroad company is now running a road with material over the new track leading to the proposed furnace, and there are evidences of energy and enterprise in all directions.

A FLOW ON THE MOUNTAINS.

An Important Witness in the Cronin Case Said Engaged.

CHICAGO, November 10.—Mrs. Martha Morgan, who is said to be an important witness for the prosecution in the Cronin case, was said to have been engaged to a man in Chicago last night by an unknown person and as a result of the blow is now in a dangerous condition. Mrs. Morgan was returning from a visit about 8:30 last night. To shorten the distance she walked through an alley in the rear of the house. She had just entered the alley when a person closely wrapped in a heavy shawl stepped from the shadow of a building and dealt her a severe blow on the head. Had it not been for the roll of hair the blow would probably have killed her. For nearly an hour Mrs. Morgan was unconscious. Upon recovering she described her assailant as a man disguised as a woman.

Some of Sam Jones' Recent Sayings. God never called me to preach like other men, nor other men to preach as I do, though some have tried it and got badly left.

God Almighty made me just as I am, and I have never interfered with the job one particle.

I'll promise you one thing, to tell the truth so it will hurt you, and I'll be there when you need me.

I don't mean by an honest man one who pays his debts. That's the meanest sort of honesty. Any man of sense or decency will do that if he can.

Some church people, however, are afraid to walk along some streets in Lynchburg for fear of meetings near they owe and won't pay. They do business as "agents" and board well with their wives in order to successfully rob their creditors.

I'd go to the chain gang and stay there, before I'd ever write my name, "Sam P. Jones, agent," for my wife. God Almighty never bestowed a greater blessing on any community than in giving it a good game preacher who doesn't fear man or devil.

If anybody asks you to take a drink he thinks you're a hypocrite, and if you take it he thinks right.

I've more respect for a faro dealer than a progressive euchre player, because the faro dealer plays for money to support his wife and children with, while the progressive euchre player plays for nothing but a booby prize, for which the risks damnation.

The church member who rents his house for a saloon is like the confederate who fought on our side, but ran a powder mill for the Yankees. He didn't kill any Yankees, but supplied the powder with which they shot down thousands of rebels. The preacher that will house such a member ain't any better than he is.

I wouldn't give ten cents to hear Ingersoll on "The Mistakes of Moses," but I'd give $10 to hear Moses on the mistakes of Ingersoll.—Lynchburg News.

Served Him Right.

VINCENNES, Ind., November 9. James Ritchey, a commercial traveler, is lying at the point of death at a hotel in Shoals, as the result of injuries received at the hand of Miss Sallie Utterback, a domestic at the hotel. Ritchey had circulated stories derogatory to the girl's character, and when he was coming into the hotel last night she saw him and hurled a smothering iron at his head, which struck him over the right eye and cracked the skull. Miss Utterback followed the attack, and in her fury would probably have killed him if the hotel clerk had not forcibly removed her.

Political Quarrel in an Almshouse.

TROY, N. Y., November 9.—Two inmates of the Rensselaer county almshouse named Scully and O'Brien engaged in a political quarrel on Wednesday and today it was made public that Scully on Wednesday night was found lying unconscious on the floor with his throat cut from ear to ear. O'Brien was found in the same room almost paralyzed with liquor. Scully will probably recover. It is thought the wound was inflicted with a pruning knife which O'Brien had in his possession.

Mishap at a Theatre Building.

NEW YORK, November 9.—There is a theatre in course of construction at Blackwell's Island. For the past week the plasterers have been at work on the ceiling of the auditorium. This morning all hands were on the scaffold when, without warning, the scaffold gave away and plunged the workmen twenty feet to the floor amidst a mass of debris. Patrick Dwyer and Martin Tynan, plasterers, and a convict named Walsh, were badly hurt but will recover.

The Street Railway.

The track of the extension of the street railway has been laid to the property of the West End Land company, a distance of one mile, and will be extended half a mile further through this property. As laid, the extension begins at the corner of Welch street; thence to Roanoke, thence to Patterson avenue, and along Patterson avenue to the west end boulevard.

That's Right.

The Bedford Democrat says: Liberty has a reputation that crosses the Atlantic. A gentleman recently returning from Europe met a lady and on telling her he lived in Liberty she responded, "Yes, Liberty is a college town." Now that the election is over, let us give our energies to pushing our home enterprises.

Trains Blocked by Snow.

CLARENDON, Texas, November 9. The deepest snow that has fallen here in twelve years is on the ground now. It is six inches deep. All trains on the Fort Worth and Denver road are blocked a north of here, and there are eight engines in a snow drift 75 miles northwest of this place. The drifts are nine feet deep. This is the worst snow storm that has ever visited the Pan Handle.

Fierce Snow Storm.

KANSAS CITY, November 9. Dispatches from Aberrant and West Kansas, give details of a fierce snow storm that raged there yesterday. Snow hail and sleet fell thick and was driven so fiercely by the wind that in many places people did not even dare to venture out of doors. Trains were somewhat delayed, though none had been abandoned.

CATHOLIC'S DAY.

MEETING OF THE CONGRESS IN BALTIMORE.

THE POPE.

A GREAT CATHOLIC CONCILIANCE.

An important and interesting case, said to be the most important since the case of the Snow Storm—Roanoke, Va., is being tried in a Baltimore court.

Baltimore, November 9.—Baltimore was in full blast today for the great Catholic celebration to be held here tomorrow. The one hundred birthday of Catholic hierarchy will be the first event and according to the arrangements, a grand and important meeting of the preliminary committee this morning will convene at the city hall, to be inaugurated with a magnificent procession of clergy and lay societies.

The arrival of a large number of immigrants are already well up in the city and today it was with a very cheering countenance mentioned the name of the Pope. Instantly there was heard a shout of joy, and a tumult of applause. The scene was a notable one, the delegates to the convention, who had just arrived, were greeted with a shout of joy. Mr. O'Connell, who had just arrived, was greeted with a shout of joy.
