BLOODY BATTLE

ONE OF THE PARTY MAY LOSE AN EYE. FREE FIGHT ON RAILROAD AVENUE. A Lively Chase for the Aggressors by the Police. An Assault Without Provocation. The Case Will be Settled at Police Headquarters.

A big fight occurred opposite Woodland Park near the Machine Works yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. There were six or eight participants to the affair, and rocks and sticks were flying through the air promiscuously. G. G. Blankenship, James Creasy, Tom Franklin, two moulders named Skelley and three others were set severely on the head and shoulders and Blankenship may lose the use of his right eye, which was cut in a horrible manner by a rock. According to Blankenship's account the Skelley party were the aggressors. He says that Creasy and himself, together with another man, were walking along Railroad avenue and when opposite the bridge that leads into the Machine Works, were halted by the thirty minutes Blankenship and his party ran into the Machine Works and the last act in the tragedy would take place at the Police Court tomorrow morning.

Policeman Pete Bowers had a lively chase after the Skelley brothers down the Shenandoah Valley railroad yard, but captured them and they are now in jail awaiting trial.

Blankenship alleges that he had never seen any member of the assault party above the car coupler. A meeting was held at which officers and directors were chosen to fill vacancies. Dr. E. A. Parsons was chosen president in the place of Colonel D. F. Houston, deceased. Mr. J. R. Schick was chosen vice president. Thos. W. Miller, treasurer and attorney and E. T. Brinkley, secretary. The directors chosen to fill vacancies were L. L. Powell, N. I. Tubbs and E. A. Parsons. The revival of the important enterprise is attended with much promised good as a life save since cars may be coupled automatically.

Committees were appointed to confer with railroad officials regarding putting the couplers on one to use the annual meeting of stockholders occurs on June 6th, and between this time and that date much work will be done by the new board. The coupler is on exhibition in the office of L. L. Powell & Co.

Arrival of Northern Capitalists. A party of Northern capitalists arrived in the city yesterday morning in a special coach attached to the Shenandoah Valley train. No. 1. They stopped over at Hotel Roanoke and took breakfast, and after taking a look at the city left on the Norfolk and Western train. No. 15. The party is en route to Tallapoosa, Florida, where they will inspect some works in which they are interested. Among them were the following gentlemen: Henry Beale, J. H. Allen, John B. Reagan, Jr., G. R. Bede, of Boston; J. B. Ryan, William J. Markbert, George Savage, of Jersey city, and George M. Williams, of Whitton, New Hampshire. The excursion will pass through here on the return trip the latter part of this week.

Mr. Wannamaker's Life Insurance. John Wannamaker carries $1,700,000 life insurance. No man in the world (probably no two men) supports such a number of policies as he. It is quite certain that he must have policies in nearly every company in the world. Only three companies will risk as much as $100,000 in a human life, and those are in New York. This amount of life insurance must cost Mr. Wannamaker between $300,000 and $400,000 per year, but it is a good investment if a man engages in such large transactions as he, because if it enters into his business standing it gives those he deals with a certain knowledge there will be money to carry on the business.—Chatter.

Mayor's Court. Acting Mayor Evans disposed of the following cases yesterday morning: Peter Ferguson, drunk and down, fined $2. Jeff Sullender and Charles Floyd, vagrancy, fined $2, and in default of payment, sent to jail. William Goens, William Wood, John Hall and Will Jones were sent to jail for vagrancy. Booker Mitchell, disturbing the quiet and good order of the city, fined $2.

Another Wreck. A wreck occurred on the Norfolk and Western railroad early yesterday morning at Ball's Hole, near Carnegie City. Twelve cars of a freight train jumped the track and were badly damaged. A colored brakeman had his left hand considerably mangled and a man whose name could not be ascertained also received slight injuries. This is the third or fourth wreck that has occurred at or near this place this year.

Why Mr. Gladstone Uses Postals. Do you know why it is that the Honorable William E. Gladstone invariably uses the humble postal card for the purpose of correspondence? It is because he is the father of postal cards in Great Britain. He made a long and hard battle in advocacy of its adoption, and now he uses it more than any twenty other men in public life to prove his faith in its utility.

THE MARKET STALLS SALE. One of the Most Spirited for a Long Time. $2,900.20 Realized.

The annual sale of stalls took place at the market house yesterday morning and the total amount realized by the city was $2,900.20. They rented for the market stalls, a quarrel arose, and this is a good sign of the city's prosperity. There was very spirited bidding among the men and considerable excitement while the sale was in progress. The following are the names of the stalls were rented and the amounts paid: Nos. 1 and 2 to G. W. Wilkinson and Bandy & Son, $110 each; No. 3 P. F. Van Miller, $115.

The Salls from No. 4 to 10 rented for $85 each, and were sold to J. E. Peltz, Lardron Hanes, D. E. Brady, W. T. Deering, Henry Smith, W. J. Houser and J. C. Hines; No. 11, W. C. Overy, $125; No. 12, J. H. Halcomb, $205; No. 13, H. C. Deal, $187; No. 14, W. N. Sale, $200; No. 15, E. J. Kemp, $75; No. 16, W. S. Holden, $87; No. 17, W. D. Booth, $85; No. 18, J. B. McTyree, $90; No. 19, Engley & Bro., $96; No. 20, Tinsley & Bro., $250; No. 21, J. J. Simco, $28.50; No. 22, H. C. Elder, $200; No. 23, L. Dickson, $100. The Opera House rents for $1,333.33 and so, with the curage, the city gains quite a large revenue from the market house. Possession to the stalls will be given May 1st.

THE EXCHANGE ADDITION. Desirable Property in the Southwest Part of the City. The Exchange Building and Investment company have just purchased of Colonel Thomas Lewis, forty-eight and one-half acres of land lying in the southwestern part of the city. The property is most desirably located. It is adjacent to the Lewis addition, and lies north and near the center of the city than the Jeanette property, four acres of which have been donated to the Presbyterian Church as a site for the $20,000 Female Seminary, which is to be erected at an early date. The property is also adjacent to that of the well-known Roanoke Land and Improvement Company. The addition is to be called the Exchange Addition. The land is level and well drained, and well adapted in every way for beautiful residence lots. Messrs. Gray and Boswell, who are stockholders in the company, are sole agents for the property which has just been laid into streets. Although they had not received the maps of the property, they yesterday sold $23,000 worth of lots. The property is sold with the restriction prohibiting any house to be erected there if it be less than forty-eight feet wide. The lots will be placed on the market. There is every indication that they will go with a rush.

Before the Lunacy Commission. Queen Mary Bernard, a young girl who has been considered demented for some time, was before the Lunacy Commission yesterday afternoon on a charge of insanity. The commission made only a partial examination of the case, but it is more than probable that she will be sent to the asylum. One of the young lady's peculiar habits is to wander aimlessly about the streets, and she frequently gets up at night after having retired and goes out on the street, so it is alleged.

THE DECREE FOR THE SALE OF THE S. V. R. SIGNED. THE N. & W. WILL PROBABLY BUY. The Sale to be Held at an Early Day. It Was to be Expected. The Scene in Court. To be Advertised a Month. And Then Put up at Public Auction.

The decree is at last signed and at an early date the Shenandoah Valley railroad will pass out of the hands of a receiver and into the hands of the corporation or man bidding the highest.

The work was finished late yesterday afternoon and the decree, which is comprised in fourteen pages of closely typewritten, was signed by Judge Blair in the presence of four sleepy negroes and a score of eminent lawyers, the course of the conflicting interests. The lawyers all agreed picked up their hats and left the room, but the negroes slept on entirely oblivious of the fact that a great case had been decided.

The decree as entered was not in anyway a surprise to those conversant with the history of the case. It was just as they expected, and now that the Fidelity company has been victorious there is nothing to prevent the sale taking place as soon as it can be legally advertised. The probable purchaser will be the Norfolk and Western. The system now owns a great many, if not a controlling interest in the bonds, and unless some other company puts in a bid, it will of course become the purchaser.

The sale will take place in this city, and will be made at public auction. It will be thoroughly advertised in the Roanoke, Baltimore, Hagerstown and Charleston papers twice a week, for four weeks. It is very likely that this will be commenced very soon and before the summer suns have scorched and withered the flowers that bloom in the Spring, the great railroad will have passed into other hands.

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER. And How It Elected Two Dusky Belies and a Sable Dude. Two dusky damsels sat on either side of the long table in Justice Howerton's little office yesterday afternoon and stared at each other. One of them sat at one end of the table while Everett Perkins stood at the other and lying before him was a stick, of the shilly type and a long keen blade knife.

These latter instruments were the cause of the whole trouble if we except a sable dude. He could not well be excepted, however, for he was the bone of contention. And it was for this that Justice Howerton would not hunt for Lizzie Holland and it was also for him that the latter belabored her rival over the head. Mr. Perkins tried to prove that it was in self defense that his client had done the cutting, but Justice Howerton would not have it and sent Betty to the grand jury. She was escorted to jail by an officer and Lizzie ran nimbly down the steps and joining the dude on the street, they walked away together.

A KNIFE WAS DRAWN. And a Quarrel in the Market Came Near Being Serious. Yesterday morning, during the auction sale of the market stalls, a quarrel arose between Messrs. H. C. Deal and J. H. Edwards in regard to a deal over a stall which both of them wanted. Mr. Edwards claims that he was the last and highest bidder, but this was disputed by Mr. Deal. Later, it is claimed, during the quarrel drew a knife and attempted to strike his opponent but was prevented by a bystander. A policeman arrested the gentlemen and their bones were taken to their appearance in the police court tomorrow.

The commission made only a partial examination of the case, but it is more than probable that she will be sent to the asylum. One of the young lady's peculiar habits is to wander aimlessly about the streets, and she frequently gets up at night after having retired and goes out on the street, so it is alleged.

THEIR NEW SPRING TOGS.

The Roanoke Police Force Will Blossom out With the Spring Flowers in New Suits. For the past month the TIMES has been advocating the uniforming of the police force of Roanoke and has pointed out time and again what a great improvement it in its appearance of the officers of this city would make. The board of police commissioners, once their attention was called to the matter, agreed with the views of the TIMES and yesterday they gave a contract to Frank Brothers for a dozen uniforms, for a d work will be commenced on them at once. There were a number of bids and Messrs. Frank Brothers were the lowest.

The uniforms will be of blue flannel, light, durable and suitable for summer wear. They will be plentifully supplied with brass buttons and will be made in the long sack style. The officers will also be supplied with helmets and metal badges which will be kept bright.

Alter though it was an immense improvement and when the members of the force come out in their new Spring suits, their old friends will hardly know them. They will then indeed be one of the finest.

Briefs. Mr. F. B. Webber, of the Salem Times-Register, is at the City Hotel.

Mr. J. T. Boone, the second street grocer returned yesterday, from a visit to Franklin county.

Mr. E. C. Pichin, of the Virginia Development company, returned yesterday from a business trip through Southwest Virginia.

Senator Daniel has been invited to deliver an address at a grand celebration at Charlotte, N. C., on May 30th.

Mr. P. Trimmony, of Roanoke, left yesterday evening, at 7 p. m., for Hantzdale, Pa., on a visit to his friends. He will return next Wednesday.

Messrs. O'Brien and Normoyle, contractors of this city, have received the contract for the stone work of the large hotel that is to be built at Graham, West Virginia, in a short while. Messrs. Adams and Woodson, of Lynchburg, are the general contractors. The hotel will be built after the style of Bluefield Inn. Mr. Normoyle will leave tomorrow to put a force at work excavating for the foundations.

The marvelous Parisian mystery, Gaiety, has made its first appearance in Roanoke this week. It is being exhibited under the management of Mr. J. E. Tennyson, in the Smith building on Second street. This was one of the great successes of the Richmond, and is one of the most mystifying optical illusions exhibited. A stone statue is placed right in full view of the audience and while you are looking at it, it changes into a living woman, who begins talking at once, of course, in an extraordinary feature is the appearance through the Confederate flag of the bust of Jefferson Davis. The doors are open every afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock and from 7 to 10 in the evening. Go and see this wonderful woman.

BIG LAND SALE. The Roger's Fairfax and Houston Property to be Disposed of. Those of Roanoke's citizens who desire to secure a home, or to purchase lots for speculation will be given an opportunity this week to do so, and if a person gets on the ground early "his" money will be well spent. The entire property of Rogers, Fairfax and Houston remaining unsold on Wednesday, the 30th, will be put up at public auction and sold at 2 o'clock of that day. The object of selling the property is that the estate of the late David F. Houston may be settled up.

The property of this company which was the first land company organized in this city, is so well known to every resident of the city that it is almost unnecessary to describe it. It, however, lies in the Northwestern section of the town extending from Jefferson street, north to the property of the Hyde Park Land company in the West End. Among the lots in this addition are some of the most desirable in Roanoke and it offers many advantages over some other properties.

The land is just elevated enough to give good drainage, and as it is well drained, is consequently very healthy, and therefore on this account alone a residence there is to be desired. It is situated only a short distance from the central portion of the city, and as the street cars and dummy line run through it, it is very convenient for the business men. A house in this addition will give all the comforts of a suburban residence and at the same time all the advantages of city life.

The view to be obtained from this property is excellent. Surrounded on all sides by the Blue Ridge and Alleghany chains of mountain, in sight of the celebrated Peaks of Otter, and our own Peaks, Weaver's and Stuart's Knobs, only a short distance from Roanoke river, the crystal stream that tumbles and foams as it flows on to the sea, and over it all skies as bright and climate as beautiful as ever blessed primeval paradise. What more can be asked. Surely no more desirable place could be secured.

Now is the time to make money by judicious investment. Take Shakespeare's advice and "put money in thy purse." A person could not avail himself of a better opportunity of making a safe venture than by being on hand early and securing one of these bargains.

The terms of sale are one-third cash, and the residue two equal annual installments with interest. James Simmons & Co., one of the highest real estate firms in Roanoke, has charge of the sale and will give any information in regard to it, or will drive you over the property in order that you may see for yourself the many advantages it possesses. Call
