Diving Venus to Lecture.

A lecture on physical culture, by Miss Annette Kellermann, the "Diving Venus," will be given at the Orpheum Theatre this morning at 11 o'clock. Miss Kellermann will explain her own health theories, and will give a personal demonstration of the truth of her statements. She will tell how she attained and maintains her physical condition. She is a firm believer in athletic exercises and plenty of fresh air. Her idea of beauty is not mere facial charm, but a strong, well developed body.

"If a woman systematically increases her muscle and builds up tissue, the effect will be noticeable in her face as well as her body. The color will improve and the lines will disappear," says the "perfect woman." The lecture will be free and only women will be admitted. Husbands will be checked in the lobby.

Roofs That Must Not Leak

Large roofs, of wide span, covering valuable merchandise, are costly to construct and should be permanently waterproof.

Corrugated galvanized iron is an excellent covering material, if it be of good quality, properly lapped, riveted and fastened.

When the roof is high, and it is troublesome to erect scaffolding around or under it, the cost of laying the covering becomes larger than it would be in the case of more accessible roofs, unless the contractor can devise some system for doing the work which will keep the cost within reasonable limits.

The Southern Pacific Company's large Shed No. 4, in New Orleans, is about to be roofed according to the most approved methods and the contract was secured by the Algiers Corncorn and Plumbing Works, in competition with the largest roofing contractors in the city, their success being due in large measure to an improved system of applying the roofing devised by Mr. J. Bodenger, which avoids the necessity of building expensive scaffolding.—Adv.

NEW J. S.

The steamer Sydney, recently purchased by Captain John Streckfus from the Diamond Jo Line, is to be entirely rebuilt except the hull, which was practically rebuilt last season, and will take the place of the excursion steamer J. S. She will be remodeled after the style of the J. S., the main cabin will be one large dance floor, with offices and refreshment stands, and the only staterooms on her will be in the texts for the accommodation of her crew. She will be renamed the J. S., it is said.

CUT HIS THROAT.

At noon yesterday, while waiting for his dinner, Richard Keen, a fireman of Engine Company No. 16, Opelousas avenue, cut his throat with a razor.

The act was committed at his home in Thayer and Elmira avenue, and according to reports no one witnessed the act. His wife, who was in the adjoining room, first found that there was something wrong when she went to call him for his dinner. She could get no response to her calls and finding the door locked, she discovered the awful condition of her husband by looking through the blinds. Sergeant Wheatley was soon on the scene and had the unfortunate man taken to the hospital, where his condition is reported extremely serious, as the wound extends from ear to ear and it is thought that some of the vital arteries were severed. Keen was attended by Drs. Manent and Babin, who at once pronounced the wound serious.

It is stated that the cause for the rash act was ill health, as he had been despondent for some time past. Keep is about 40 years old and has two sons.

IMMIGRANT STATION WILL BE FINER THAN FIRST PLANNED.

Captain E. S. Redfern, United States immigration agent in New Orleans, announced Monday that the contract for the demolishing of the several old buildings on the site of the proposed new station had been awarded to Mr. Peter S. Lawton.

Mr. Lawton is given thirty days in which to complete the job. In a day or two Captain Redfern will hold a consultation with the architects, DeBuis, Churchill & Labouisse, who drew the original plans for the station, when the matter of the additions in consequence of the extra appropriation provided for the building will be talked over.

The original plans will be altered so that a substantial annex can be added to the west wing of the main building and in the rear of this the erection of a power-house is contemplated. With the additional appropriation of $50,000 the plans will now provide for stone effects instead of galvanized iron, and will also allow the use of stone columns where it was originally intended to place plain wood.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

IN OLD ALGIERS

The Hibernians will celebrate the feast of St. Patrick Friday in grand style. Division No. 9 will proceed to the ferry at 8:30 a. m. to welcome brothers and sisters from away. Solemn high mass will be sung at the Holy Name of Mary Church by the state chaplain, Rev. H. M. Murtagh, C. M., with Rev. W. J. B. Heffernan of St. Francis de Sales Church, as deacon, and Rev. Father Walsh of St. Michael's church, as subdeacon.

The panegyric of the saint will be preached by the Very Rev. Thomas J. Larkin, S. M., the devoted rector of the Church of the Holy Name of Mary.

Father Larkin is a popular and eloquent speaker, his splendid flow of language, joined with the lofty train of thought, make him a true orator, and when the theme is Ireland's patron saint, a treat is to be expected. After the mass refreshments will be served in St. Mary's Hall to the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Ladies' Auxiliary and their patriotic friends from the city.

A programme of exceptional merit will be presented at night in St. Mary's Hall. The subject will be "Father Ryan, the Poet-Priest of the South."

The choice of a theme is most appropriate, for never did heart beat more truly towards the old mother country of Ireland than the heart of the immortal author of "The Conquered Banner" and "Erin's Flag."

The entertainment will be enriched by beautiful tableaux, and will be for the benefit of those indefatigable leaders, the Sisters Marianites of the Holy Cross, who are in charge of the convent school of the Holy Name of Mary.
