TULANE.

"THE GIRL IN THE TRAIN."
 An attraction of unusual importance to the Tulane for the week of September 17, when Charles Dillingham's production, "The Girl in the Train," will be presented. Much of the play is displayed in this engaging Viennese opera recently played in New York and is heralded as the most sensational offering. C. William Young, the noted German character actor, will be seen in the leading role and a splendid company third act takes place in a public square of Makkum, a Holland seaport. As the judge, Mr. Kolb has a character that gives him abundant opportunities to display his mirth-provoking qualities.

 In the excellent company are Violet Seaton, who has the part of the wife; and Olga Steck, who appears as the actress. The musicianly score of "The Girl in the Train" is one of its greatest features. There are a dozen beautiful waltzes that have been played all over Europe and America. The favorite numbers are "Follow Me," "I'm Fancy Free," "You Must Be Mine, Dear," and "That's Why People Marry."

Herr Von Gottfried, the stage director of "The Girl in the Train," is a man of the new Teutonic school of stage technique. He was a member of the German cast in Vienna when the musical comedy was originally produced under the title, "Die Geschiedene Frau."
 In the cast of "The Girl in the Train" will be found two of America's leading prima donnas. They are Olga Steck, who sprang into fame in one bound by her singing with the Fritz Scheff Opera Company, and Violet Seaton, who won distinction by her vocal efforts while singing the leading role in "The Goddess of Liberty."

APHIE JAMES IN "JUDY O'HARA."

Aphie James, who made such a profound impression among theatre-goers, in the support of the late Louis James, will be seen at the Tulane Theatre September 24th for one week, in a new play by Frances Hodgson Burnett and Frederic Arthur Stanley, entitled "Judy O'Hara." In the title role, Miss James presents a character similar to "Glad" in Mrs. Burnett's "The Dawn of Tomorrow." Undoubtedly Miss James will find an opportunity in such a character to bring out her greatest charms and the full glory of her amazing technique as a comedienne. James Young, Andrew Robson and Melbourne MacDowell are associated with Miss James.

Practical Inquiry.
 The town council of a thriving burg in the west of Scotland recently acquired a piano for the town hall and appointed three of its number to inspect and report on the purchase. The councilors were not musical experts, but one, a joiner, bending down and applying his eye to the several corners of the instrument, remarked, "I'm nae judge of music, but I'll wafrant ye a' the boards are plumb."

The College Damsel Explains.
 "I breathe my vows from a surcharged heart," said the young man. "Nonsense, George," said the college damsel. "You don't breathe from your heart. You breathe from your diaphragm."—Kansas City Journal.

Hogskins.
 Green salted hogskins are considered a great table delicacy in some parts of Mexico.
 tion at the Crescent, Sept. 24, for an engagement of one week with the usual matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, is from the pen of J. Hartley Manners and is an unusually fine example of how a delicate and serious theme may be made to serve the purpose of pure comedy by the unflinching exercise of tact, wit and good taste. Its subject is radical animosity—the prejudice between Gentile and Jew. It makes no pretense to an ethical significance. Its only aim is to entertain and this it accomplishes with extraordinary facility from the rise of the

"THE GIRL FROM RECTORS."

Miss Dorothy Dalton is one of the most attractive personalities of the theatre of this day. Her beauty being matchless, her deportment aristocratic, as becomes the character of "The Girl" without any suggestion of the affected, yet so in keeping with the general tone of levity that her interpretation very nearly approaches the perfection of the satirical in art. Her methods are expressive of extreme delicacy, directed by an unerring artistic intelligence to the good of their purpose, which command a respect that urges applause, tempered by a finely appreciative discernment in spite of its apparently boisterous enthusiasm.

 "The Girl from Rectors" will be at the Crescent Theatre for the week of September 17. Matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

ORPHEUM THEATER.

Resplendent in its new and artistic decorations of old gold and red, the Orpheum Theatre Monday threw open its doors for the opening vaudeville performances of the season. While the playhouse itself was attractive in appearance, the offering proved to be exceptionally good.
 As is the usual thing on the opening night, a big house was in attendance, and the regular "first nighters" were out in full force.
 The idea followed in the beautifying of the playhouse is particularly attractive, and with the lavish display of burnished gold, the interior presents what might even be termed a "gorgeous" appearance. The front of the boxes and the balconies, and also the supporting pillars are done in gold, while the walls are painted a light red. Numerous panels of roses enliven the walls, while over the front of the stage on the ceiling is painted a classic scene. Even up in the gallery the same lavish scheme of decorations has been followed out. The exterior of the building, too, has been rejuvenated with a new coat of paint. New carpets are in the aisles and a number of new drop scenes and stage settings have been added. A new and attractive curtain greets the audience, and is thoroughly in keeping with the other interior decorations.
 The theatre presents an entirely new appearance, and Manager Bistes received a number of compliments on the change that has been wrought in the playhouse since last season.

Wonderful Earrings.

Few present day earrings surpass in taste and delicate finish the earrings of Biote, the daughter of Aristotle, which were found in Chalced, where the young woman was buried. These ornaments represented doves swinging in golden hoops. The miniature birds were marvellously wrought, the feathers of granulated gold, the wings and breasts enriched with bands of color supplied by inserted gems. Precious stones gleamed like tiny sparks for the eyes. Lightest device of all, the tail feathers were so finely made and curiously adjusted as to move at the slightest motion of the pendent hoop, so that whenever the proud wearer should toss or shake her head her two attendant doves would seem to balance themselves upon their perches, as live birds do in swinging on a bough. They were found by exploring archaeologists. The daughter's trinkets have survived as long as the fame of the father's philosophy.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Cat of the Falcon.

One of the traditions of the British Royal Yacht club is of Lord Yarborough's Falcon, the crew of which, according to Mr. Ralph Neville in London Clubs, were paid extra wages on condition that they submitted to the usual rules in force on British vessels of war. These included fogging under certain circumstances, and it is said that, in consideration of the additional sum paid by Lord Yarborough, some of the crew cheerfully submitted to the occasional application of the cat-o'-nine-tails. "Indeed, before the Falcon left Plymouth sound for a cruise all hands cordially signed a paper setting forth the usefulness of a sound flogging in cases of extremity and their perfect willingness to undergo the experiment whenever it was deemed necessary for the preservation of good order."

How Clouds Are Colored.

The color of a cloud depends on the manner in which the sunlight falls upon it and the position of the observer. It will be noticed that high clouds are always white or light in color, and this is because the light by which they are seen is reflected from the under surface by the numberless drops of moisture which go to form the cloud. Heavy rain clouds, on the other hand, are found much nearer the earth, and so the light falls on them more directly from above, giving a silver lining to the cloud, though the under surface appears black, owing to the complete reflection and absorption of the light by the upper layers. Seen from above by an observer in a balloon the blackest rain clouds appear of the most dazzling brilliant white.—Dundee Advertiser.

Speed of the Teal.

Give a bluewing teal a forty mile breeze behind him, have the little rascal dropping down with it, and he comes on so fast as to be simply unhittable. Some writers have claimed a speed for him of 150 miles an hour, or 220 feet a second. The canvasback, redhead and bluebill have a way of driving before a gale, too, that will be found fast enough in all conscience. Much of the fascination of wing shooting comes from the fact that shots will always be afforded quite beyond the skill of mortal man.—Outing Magazine.

A Clever Reply.

Mme. de Maintenon once asked Lord Staff why it was that the affairs of government were so badly managed in France under a king and so well managed in England under a queen. "For that very reason," replied the English ambassador "for when a man reigns the women rule him, and when a woman reigns she is ruled by men."

OF THE McHENRY HORSE EXCHANGE.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, STATE OF LOUISIANA, PARISH OF ORLEANS, CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.

Be it known and remembered, that on this 11th day of the month of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand and nine hundred and eleven, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-sixth, before me, Abraham Goldberg, a notary public, in and for the parish of Orleans, state of Louisiana, therein residing, duly commissioned, sworn and qualified, and in the presence of the witnesses hereinafter named and appearing, personally came and appeared the several persons whose names are hereunto subscribed, who severally declared that availing themselves of the laws of the state of Louisiana, and particularly Act 78 of the Acts of 1904, they do by these presents, for themselves and for those who may hereafter become associated with them, form a corporation and body politic in law, for the objects and purposes, and under the agreements and stipulations herein set forth, to-wit:

ARTICLE I.
 The name of this corporation shall be "McHENRY HORSE EXCHANGE," by which name said corporation shall have and enjoy corporate existence and succession for the term of ninety-nine years from and after the date hereof, unless sooner dissolved, according to law. It shall have power to contract, sue and be sued, to make and use a corporate seal, and the same to break and alter at pleasure; to hold, receive, become associated with them, form a corporation and body politic in law, for the objects and purposes, and under the agreements and stipulations herein set forth, to-wit:

ARTICLE II.
 The domicile of said corporation shall be in the city of New Orleans. All citations and other legal process shall be served on the president of said corporation and in case of his absence upon the vice-president, and in case of his absence upon the secretary-treasurer thereof.

ARTICLE III.
 The objects and purposes for which this corporation is established and the nature of the business to be carried on by it are hereby declared and specified to be to carry on a general business for the purchase, sale and dealing in horses, mules and other live stock; to conduct and carry on stables for the feeding, boarding and handling of live stock, and to conduct and carry on an exchange where horses, mules and live stock may be sold at public or private sale, and generally to hold and exercise all such incidental powers and privileges as relate to the objects hereinafter set forth. All of the above corporate functions may be performed both in the state of Louisiana, and in any of the other states of this Union.

ARTICLE IV.
 The capital stock of this corporation is hereby fixed at the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), to be represented by fifty (50) shares of stock of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each, of which said stock shall be subscribed for at the time of the organization of this corporation, and the balance thereof before any of the said stock is issued.

ARTICLE V.
 Transfers of stock shall be made only on the books of the company, subject to such regulations and formalities as the board of directors may prescribe.
 It is hereby declared to be a fundamental condition attached to the stock of this corporation, that every holder of the same shall be deemed to have accepted and agreed to be bound by the terms of the charter of the company, and to transfer of stock shall be made on the books of the company until proof is administered that this condition has been complied with.

ARTICLE VI.
 All the corporate powers of said corporation shall be vested in, and all its business and affairs managed and directed by a board of directors, who shall be elected annually at a stockholders' meeting to be held on the first Monday of September in each year, commencing with the first Monday of September, 1911. Each subscriber shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock standing in his name, to be cast in person or by proxy, and a majority of the directors shall elect. The directors shall hold office for the term of one year, and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified. The directors shall elect a president, a vice-president, who shall be general manager, and a secretary-treasurer, from among their number. In case of a vacancy occurring on the board from death, resignation or otherwise, the remaining directors shall fill the vacancy until the next meeting. The board of directors shall have power to make and establish all necessary rules and by-laws for the government of said corporation; to regulate the transfer of stock, and enforce the payment of unpaid installments of the stock subscription; to appoint and employ other employees, clerks, agents, overseers and representatives, as in their judgment may be necessary for the conduct of the business of the corporation, and to fix their compensation. They shall have the right to discharge or release any employee at pleasure. The duties of the various officers shall be fixed by the by-laws of the company.

This done and passed at my office, in the city of New Orleans, on the day, month and year first above written, in the presence of Messrs. E. H. Farrar, Jr. and S. E. Gallier, competent witnesses, who have hereunto signed their names, together with said signers and me, notary, after due reading of the whole.
 (Original signed): H. H. McGee, 23 shares, $2300.00; Frank McHenry, 25 shares, $2500.00; Clarence McC. Hopkins, 2 shares, $200.00. (Witnesses): E. H. Farrar, Jr., S. E. Gallier.
 ABRABHAM GOLDBERG, Notary Public.

ARTICLE "FIVE."
 All powers of this corporation shall be vested in a board of directors, composed of three stockholders, said directors shall be elected annually by the stockholders on the first day of February, of each year, commencing February 1, 1913. At such election each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote on each share of stock held by him.
 In case of any vacancy on the board, said vacancy shall be filled by the remaining directors. The board of directors shall continue in office until their successors shall have been elected and qualified, and their failure to hold meetings shall not have the effect of rendering this charter null. Meetings of stockholders shall be held only after ten days' notice of such meeting shall have been given by the secretary-treasurer in writing either in person or by mail, to each stockholder ten days prior to said meeting.
 Any member of the board absent from the city or unable to attend a meeting may give his proxy to another director to represent him at such meeting. The board of directors shall immediately after their election appoint out of their number a president, vice-president, and a secretary-treasurer. The first board shall hold office until February 1, 1913, or until their successors are elected and said first board of directors shall be composed of James S. Gautreaux, Jr., Henry E. Gautreaux, and Mrs. Mary Scallen Gautreaux, with James S. Gautreaux as president, Dr. Henry E. Gautreaux vice-president, and Mrs. Mary Scallen Gautreaux secretary-treasurer.

ARTICLE "SIX."
 This charter may be amended or the corporation dissolved or ordered liquidated by three-fourths of the stock present and voting at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, after the notice is given as above provided for.
ARTICLE "SEVEN."
 Whenever this company shall be dissolved, either by liquidation or expiration of charter or otherwise, three liquidators shall be appointed by the stockholders at a general meeting held after the notice above shall have been given. The liquidators shall remain in office until the full liquidation of the company, and in case of death or resignation or inability to act of one of the liquidators, the stockholders shall elect a successor as above provided for, and until such appointment, the surviving liquidators shall act.
ARTICLE "EIGHT."
 No stockholder shall ever be held responsible or liable for the faults or obligations of the company beyond the unpaid balance that may be due by them on the stock subscribed by them; and no informality in organization shall have the effect of rendering this charter null or of exposing the stockholders to any liability beyond the said unpaid balance that may be due on their stock subscription.
 Thus done and passed, in my office, 317 Carondelet street, this city, on the day, month and year herein first above written, in the presence of Messrs. William Christian Hanson and John J. McCloskey, competent witnesses, who hereunto signed their names with the said signers and me, notary, the said signers writing opposite their names the number of shares of stock subscribed by them, which shall act as the stock subscription list.
