He told us to remember that "boys make men" and that we should be "doers and not dreamers." As a final remark, he advised the boys to follow the words of Colonel Roosevelt: "Don't flinch, foul—strike straight for the line."

SERIOUS INJURY.

On Sunday morning at one of the docks of the New Orleans Dry Dock & Ship Building Company, young Jos. Zatarain, a lad of about sixteen years, was perhaps fatally injured in a fall through the hatch of the steamer Viking, which was docking there on Sunday.

Zatarain was one of the employees of the Johnson Iron Works and in that capacity he was on the ship. It is stated that Zatarain lost his balance and fell through the hatch, his skull striking a hard substance, causing a very serious fracture. At the time of going to press on Wednesday noon, Mr. Zatarain was reported in a very precarious condition.

RENE BORNE, SR., HURT.

On last Friday night Rene Borne, Sr., one of our former citizens of Algiers, met with a painful accident in his residence in Gayoso street, when he fractured three ribs by falling down a flight of stairs. Mr. Borne will be confined to his home for several weeks while they repair these injuries. His condition is not necessarily serious.

THE BOY WHO WILL BE FAMOUS.

Somewhere in the United States is a young fellow between fifteen and twenty, who is making the most of the small opportunities that come to him day by day, little thinking that he will be President of the United States thirty or forty years hence. Somewhere among us is the youth, yet obscure, who will be chief of staff of the United States army, or perhaps full admiral in our navy, or president of a great railway system or other industry. Who knows but one or more of these will get some inspiration from the series of articles on "The Making of Men," to be contributed to The Youth's Companion during 1913? There will be "The Making of a Lawyer," by Governor Harmon of Ohio; "The Making of a Minister," by Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts; "The Making of a Seaman," by Admiral A. T. Mahan, U. S. N.; "The Making of a Journalist," by Talcott Williams, director of the Pulitzer School of Journalism; "The Making of an Inventor," by Hudson Maxim; "The Making of a Doctor," by William M. Polk, M. D., clinical lecturer in three great medical colleges; "The Making of a Business Man," by Theodore N. Vail, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company. This is only a small part of the contents announced for the fifty-two issues of 1913—the equal of thirty bound volumes of the best reading, all for $2.00, or less than four cents a week.

AMERICAN FLAG TO BE SUBJECT OF PRIZE ESSAY.

Superintendent Gwinn says that the essays will be limited to 200 words, and the prize winner, besides the medal, will also have the honor of having his or her essay printed on a slip which will be inserted in the histories studied in the public schools.

INSPECTOR JAMES REYNOLDS.

Superintendent of Police Reynolds had an honor which has never been given any police leader before. He was a guest at the banquet of the Kings of Carnival, and feasted in the grand room in the Grunewald Hotel. In the remarks made the honor was shown in appreciation of the magnificent work of the police during the Carnival. In a note to the police the head of the force said he appreciated their work.

PORCH CLIMBER HERE.

The following warfing has been given about a porch climber who seems to work fast, and a general hunt is on for the fellow:

"New Orleans, Feb. 8, 1913. "To the Public: There is a dangerous porch climber, or what is commonly called a 'second-story man,' in the city. Last night he entered a residence in Audubon Place and succeeded in stealing only a few articles, no doubt having been interrupted before he had completed his robbery.

"His work is to quietly enter a house, either in the back or front, by climbing and getting into the rooms that are most usually used, and where it is likely articles of value will be left. He generally selects a time when the people in the house are at dinner.

"In this connection I would warn the public to be on their guard, and when going to dinner to leave someone upstairs, or to place their valuables in a place of security. It would be well for householders to be careful at all times, as these porch climbers are a very clever set of thieves.

"James W. Reynolds, "Superintendent of Police."

FATHER GUEYMARD RETURNS WEST.

Rev. Father Gueymard, who has been for a number of months in Louisiana, his native state, is leaving for the Middle West for a lecture course on immigration. He has been located in church work in Montana, where the Catholic diocese of Montana is starting a colony in the Smith River valley on 75,000 acres of land belonging to Ringling, the showman. Mr. Ringling agreed to provide all the buildings necessary for church, school, etc., in a full-fledged parish.

Father Gueymard was the first priest to represent a railroad as immigration agent, and now is agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound, having been released from other duties by the bishop. He will go to St. Louis and Chicago and speak and then deliver talks in Kansas and the Middle West. The aim is to provide for the overflow of the farms in those regions where lands have become too high for families to locate around their original homes.

LADS RUN AWAY TO ATTEND THE CARNIVAL.

Two boys were arrested in Algiers Friday, who had come to this city with the hope of seeing the Carnival, but owing to the "hobo express" being late, they were grievously disappointed. The boys were John Blinsky, 1518 Houston avenue, and Fred Schultz, 2503 Ringolds street, both aged fifteen years, and from Houston, Tex.

They ran away from home without reason and "hobbed" their way here with the hope of being in time to see the "Mardi Gras" parades. After their arrest they were brought to the Juvenile Court, where they were charged with being neglected children, and loitering. Superintendent Agnew of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, has communicated with the authorities in Houston to arrange for their return.

MRS. J. D. RICHARD.

The death of Mrs. J. D. Richard, which occurred at the Hotel Dieu Monday morning at 5 o'clock, was indeed a shock to her many friends on this side of the river. Mrs. Richard, who was one of Nature's truest and most perfect types of women, was known to all for her unselfishness and for her thoughtfulness of others. A true Christian and a devoted wife and mother, her death is indeed an irreparable loss.

She was born fifty-nine years ago and for many years resided in our district. About two years ago, she and her family removed to the city where they have since resided.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Geo. Leber, Misses Rosa Richard and Callie Marks, and one grandson. Two brothers, George and Major Bloomfield, and two sisters, Mrs. McElroy of New York and Mrs. Anderson of Opelousas, La., also survive her.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from her late residence, 4505 Camp street. Funeral services were held at St. Stephens Church. Interment was in Metairie cemetery.

CATTLE ROAMING.

Charges of violating act 60, of 1890, relative to cattle roaming on the levees during high water, have been preferred by Patrolman Joseph O. Meyers against Joseph Yatter and Mrs. John E. Grand, it being alleged that they are the owners of animals found roaming on lower coast levees last Wednesday. These are the first charges growing out of the orders given by Inspector Reynolds a few days ago to his men to enforce this law strictly, in view of the danger of such practice.

ALGIERS IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Algiers Improvement Association was held at the rooms of the Alhambra Gymnastic Club on Monday night, President Jos. Lennox presiding. The following members were present: J. P. Vozien, Albert Twickler, C. W. Botnick, J. E. DeCherry, Wm. H. Ward, Geo. Koppel, Adolph Spitzfaden, Charles Cieutat and Dr. C. V. Kraft.

The committee on playgrounds who were investigating the Olivier cemetery property, asked for further time for their report, and after some discussion it was decided that Mr. Botnick be added to the committee to take up the matter again with J. G. Olivier.

The Canal street ferry matter in reference to the violation of the franchise of the company, was again taken up and again thoroughly discussed. At the last meeting, which was held a month ago, it was decided that the members of the association call upon Mayor Behrman for the purpose of taking up the matter with the mayor relative to bringing about a settlement of the difficulties existing between the Algiers people and the ferry company, but no action was taken during the past thirty days, and another resolution was introduced, asking that the matter be taken up this month.

In the matter of the Third District ferry, the secretary was directed to communicate with the Southern Improvement & Ferry Company, the Grand Isle Railroad Company, and the Union Ferry Company asking them to return the proposed franchise for this ferry, which was drawn up by the association. The prospectus for this franchise was mailed to the three companies above mentioned, but the association received acknowledgment only from the Union Ferry Company regarding the receipt of the proposed franchise.

The Cumberland Telephone Company also came in for its share of criticism, when it was shown by the members that the Algiers people were using telephone directories published in last July. The secretary was notified to communicate with the telephone company regarding this matter.

The levee along our side of the river were also given some consideration last Monday night. It was pointed out that the new levee board had made no provisions this year in Algiers for drainage at the base of the levee, which has been done every year heretofore. It was pointed out by several of the members that this drainage brought about better conditions at the base of the levee and that quite a difference could be seen this year since no drainage had been put in. Attention was also called to a big hole in the batture of the levee at the head of Olivier street. Several members stated that if this condition was left without some attention it might cause a severe cave. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the levee board calling their attention to these defects.

It was proposed at the meeting that the association give a smoker for the purpose of inviting new members into the association, but the suggestion did not receive any support and it was not carried.

The treasurer, Jules Bodenger, made his report to the association, showing that the treasury has a balance of over $50. The meeting adjourned until the first Monday in March.

TECHE STREET PLANTED.

The New Orleans Parking Commission made its debut in our district when they planted elm trees in Teche street from Opelousas avenue to the parish line. These trees, which are from twenty to thirty feet in height, having a trunk about six to seven inches in circumference, are set out thirty feet apart, but the commission does not provide free boxes, and it will be necessary for the residents along this street to give the protection that will necessarily be required to assure their growth. It will only require a few years now until Teche street will be a beautiful thoroughfare, as the elm grows moderately fast, and are very graceful trees.

It has been pointed out that there is but one tree box in Teche street, this being in front of the residence of Ben. Hintz. We cannot too strongly impress upon the residents along Teche street the necessity of giving protection to these trees. Even though the small boys may not maliciously destroy them, the young saplings hold out enticements to be used as a merry-go-round, and without tree boxes they will certainly be used for this purpose, thus loosening the roots, and it will be only a short time until they will be dead. These tree boxes can be built for about 50 cents apiece, and no doubt if a collection were taken up along the street on both sides, the entire planting could be protected for a price less than 40 cents to each residence. This is a subject that should receive the consideration of the residents along Teche street. The investment of a little sum of money will only add many dollars to the value of their property within the next few years.
